TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE

[T. D. 4864]

COLLECTION OF INTERNAL REVENUE TAX ON IMPORTED DISTILLED SPIRITS AND BRANDY

To Collectors of Internal Revenue, Collectors of Customs, and Others Concerned:

Section 710 of the Revenue Act of 1938 (Public No. 554, 75th Congress) is as follows:

(a) Section 600 (a) (4) of the Revenue Act of 1918, as amended, is amended to read as follows:

"(4) On and after January 12, 1934, and until July 1, 1938, $2.00, and on and after July 1, 1938, $2.25, on each proof gallon or wine gallon when below proof and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof or wine gallon."

(b) Section 600 (c) of such Act, as amended, is amended by striking out "$2.00 per wine gallon" and inserting in lieu thereof "$2.25 per wine gallon."

(c) Section 4 of the Liquor Taxing Act of 1934 is amended by striking out "$2.00" and inserting in lieu thereof "$2.25."

(d) The amendments made by this section shall not apply to brandy and the rates of tax applicable to such brandy shall be the rates applicable without regard to such amendments."

[1] 3 F. R. 1833 DI.

Section 600 (a) (5) of the Revenue Act of 1918, as amended (Sec. 1150 (6) (f), Title 26, U. S. Code), is as follows:

The internal revenue tax imposed by this subdivision upon distilled spirits heretofore or hereafter imported into the United States shall under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, be collected and deposited in the same manner as other internal revenue taxes, except that such collection and depositing shall be by the collector of customs instead of by the collector of internal revenue. Such tax shall be in addition to any customs duty imposed under the Tariff Act of 1922 or any subsequent act.

Pursuant to the above provisions of law, the following regulations relative to the collection of tax on imported distilled spirits are hereby promulgated:

(1) Distilled spirits, except brandy, in customs bonded warehouse or imported into the United States on and after July 1, 1938, are subject to an internal revenue tax, when withdrawn, at the rate of $2.25 per proof gallon, or wine gallon when below proof, and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof or wine gallon.

(2) Brandy in customs bonded warehouse or imported into the United States on and after July 1, 1938, is subject to an internal revenue tax, when withdrawn, at the rate of $2.00 per proof gallon, or wine gallon when below proof, and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof or wine gallon.

(3) Imported perfumes containing distilled spirits are subject to an internal revenue tax, when withdrawn, at the rate of $2.25 per wine gallon and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such wine gallon.

(4) Champagne and other sparkling wines, still wines, artificially carbonated wines, and vermouth, if containing over 24 per centum of alcohol by volume, are subject to an internal revenue tax, when withdrawn, at the rate of $2.25 per proof gallon, or wine gallon when below proof, and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof or wine gallon, unless fortified with brandy exclusively, in which event the same are subject to an internal revenue tax, when withdrawn, at the rate of $2.00 per proof gallon, or wine gallon when below proof, and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof or wine gallon.

(5) Cordials, liqueurs, and similar compounds, except as stated below, whether they contain more or less than 24 per centum of alcohol by volume, if brandy is the only distilled spirit used in their production, are subject to an internal revenue tax, when withdrawn, at the rate of $2.00 per proof gallon, or wine gallon when below proof, and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof or wine gallon, but where brandy and other distilled spirits or other distilled spirits alone, are used in their production, such products are subject to an internal revenue tax, when withdrawn, at the rate of $2.25 per proof gallon, or wine gallon when below proof, and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof or wine gallon. The exception is as to such liquors made with a wine (fortified or unfortified) base, without distilled spirits, other than brandy, and containing not over 24 per cent of alcohol by volume. Such liquors made with a wine base fortified with brandy and not containing over 24 per centum of alcohol by volume are subject to an internal revenue tax, on each bottle or other container, at the rate of 1¼ cents on each one-half pint or fraction thereof. Such liquors made with an unfortified wine base and not containing over 24 per centum of alcohol are subject to internal revenue tax at the rates applicable to wines.

(6) Compounds and preparations containing distilled spirits, which are beverages or are fit for beverage purposes, are subject to internal revenue tax at the rate of $2.25 per proof gallon, or wine gallon when below proof, and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof or wine gallon, except where brandy is the only distilled spirit used in the manufacture thereof, in which event such products are subject to internal revenue tax at the rate of $2.00 per proof gallon, or wine gallon when below proof, and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof or wine gallon.

(7) Except as hereinafter provided, champagne or other sparkling wine, still wines, artificially carbonated wines, vermouth, cordials, liqueurs or similar compounds, and compounds or preparations, subject to the internal revenue tax as distilled spirits, containing no distilled spirits other than brandy, which are held in customs bonded warehouse or imported into the United States on and after July 1, 1938, may be withdrawn upon payment of the internal revenue tax at the rate of $2.00 per proof gallon, or wine gallon when below proof, if there has been filed with the Collector of Customs of the port at which the liquors are to be withdrawn, a sworn statement signed by the foreign producer, containing the following information:

(1) The name and address of the importer
(2) The name and address of the foreign producer
(3) The kind and brand of the liquor
(4) That no distilled spirits other than brandy are used in the manufacture of the product
(5) That the statement applies to a specific lot or applies generally to all importations of the same kind and brand of liquor
(6) A serial number assigned by the importer

Such statements shall be in the English language or accompanied by a certified translation, if in a foreign language.

Where the liquor covered by such statement is to be withdrawn from various ports, the importer, in lieu of filing an original statement from the foreign producer at each port, may file with Collectors of Customs of such ports a duly sworn and attested copy of the original statement. The copies so filed shall bear the serial number and date of the original statement regardless of the number of ports at which same are filed. The Collector of Customs shall stamp the date of receipt on all statements or copies of statements received by him.

Such products may be entered for consumption or withdrawn from customs bonded warehouse prior to January 1, 1939, upon payment of the internal revenue tax at the $2.00 rate without filing a statement from the foreign producer, provided a sworn statement signed by the importer is filed with the Collector of Customs of each port at which the liquors are to be withdrawn. Such statement, when signed by the importer, shall contain all the information required in the statement of the foreign producer.

(8) If in any case in which a statement intended generally for all importations of the same kind and brand of liquor is on file, the formula for the production of the liquor is changed and other spirits are used in its manufacture, or brandy is eliminated therefrom, the importer shall notify the Collector of Customs at each port where such general statement is on file to that effect, giving adequate information from which the statement may be identified. Notwithstanding a sworn statement, or statements, has already been submitted, the Collector of Customs may require the submission of an additional sworn statement, or statements, at any time such action is deemed necessary.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Commissioner of Customs.

Session; 52 Stat. 67), as amended by Section 12 of Public Law No. 470, 75th Congress, approved April 7, 1938 (52 Stat. 202), and by the next to the last proviso to the item entitled "Conservation and Use of Agricultural Land Resources, Department of Agriculture," contained in the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1939, approved June 16, 1938 (Public Law No. 644, 75th Congress, 3rd Session; 52 Stat. 744), I, Harry L. Brown, Acting Secretary of Agriculture, do make, prescribe, publish, and give public notice that subsections D, E, and F of Section 41 of the Regulations Pertaining to 1937 Cotton Price Adjustment Payment Plan (CAP–105)[1] are hereby amended to read as follows and said Section 41 is hereby further amended by adding thereto subsection G which reads as set forth below:

D. Where, subsequent to harvest of the 1937 cotton crop, any producer dies before receiving the payment which otherwise would have been received by him, payment shall be made in accordance with the following order of precedence without regard to claims of creditors other than the United States:

1. To the administrator or executor of the deceased producer's estate;
2. If there is no administrator or executor, to the surviving spouse;
3. If there is no surviving spouse, to the sons and daughters in equal shares. If any child is a minor, payment of his share shall be made to his legal guardian, but if no legal guardian has been appointed payment shall be made to his natural guardian for his benefit, unless the minor's share of the payment exceeds $500, in which event payment shall be made only to his legal guardian. Children of a deceased son or daughter of a deceased producer shall be entitled to their ancestor's share of the payment, share and share alike;
4. If there is no surviving direct descendant of a deceased son or daughter of such deceased producer, the share of the payment which otherwise would have been made to such son or daughter shall be divided equally among the surviving sons and daughters of such deceased producer;
5. If there is no surviving spouse and no direct descendant, payment shall be made to the father and mother of the deceased producer in equal shares or the whole thereof to the surviving father or mother;
6. If there is no surviving spouse, no direct descendant, and no surviving parent, payment shall be made to the brothers and sisters of the deceased producer, share and share alike. If there are surviving descendants of a deceased brother or sister, payment of the share of such deceased brother or sister shall be made to such descendants in the same manner as specified for sons and daughters of the deceased producer and their descendants;
7. If no spouse, direct descendant, parent, brother, or sister, or their descendants survive the deceased producer, the payments shall be made to the heirs-at-law.

Legally adopted children shall be entitled to share in any payment in the same manner and to the same extent as other children. Any payment which the deceased producer could have received may be made jointly to the person(s), or his representative(s) or trustee(s), found to be entitled to such payment or share thereof under this subsection, or, pursuant to instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, a separate check may be issued to each person entitled to share in such payment.

E. Where, subsequent to harvest of the 1937 cotton crop, any producer becomes incompetent before receiving the payment which otherwise would be received by him, such payment shall be made to the guardian or committee legally appointed for such incompetent producer. In case no guardian or committee has been appointed, payment, if not more than $500, may be made, without regard to claims of creditors other than the United States, to the following in the order mentioned for the benefit of the incompetent producer:

1. The spouse;
2. An adult son or daughter;
3. The mother or father;
4. An adult brother or sister;
5. Such person as may be authorized under State law to receive payment for him (See standard procedure prescribed for the respective region).

In case payment is more than $500, payment shall be made only to such person as may be authorized under State law to receive payment for him.

F. No payment shall be made to any person(s) pursuant to subsections D and E of this section, and, if made, the person(s) receiving the same shall refund such payment, if:

1. It is found that the producer, now deceased or incompetent, knowingly planted, or caused or permitted the planting of, cotton in 1938 in excess of the cotton acreage allotment established for 1938 for any farm in which he had an interest as a cotton producer in 1938; or
2. One or more persons who would be entitled to receive payment under subsections D or E of this section took over the 1938 farming operations begun by the producer now deceased or incompetent on any farm in which he had an interest as a cotton producer in 1938 and it is found that such person or persons knowingly planted, or caused or permitted the planting of, cotton in 1938 in excess of the cotton acreage allotment established for 1938 for any farm in which such deceased or incompetent had an interest as a cotton producer in 1938.

G. Where any producer dies or becomes incompetent subsequent to the time application for payment is made by or for him but before the payment is received by such producer, the payment shall be made to the person or persons entitled thereto pursuant to subsections D, E, and F of this section 41 and for purposes of making such payment the use of Form CAP–111 "Application for Payment of Amounts Due Deceased or Incompetent Cotton Producers under the 1937 Cotton Price Adjustment Payment Plan" will be adequate.

1938 AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION PROGRAM, TAMA COUNTY, IOWA

SUPPLEMENT NO. 1

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under Sections 7 to 17, inclusive, of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program Bulletin for Tama County, Iowa[1] is hereby amended as follows:

1. Section V, subsection C is amended to read as follows:

C. Use of noncropland as cropland.—The deductions for use of noncropland as cropland shall be the sum of the following:

1. $5.00 per acre for that acreage of native sod or other land classified as noncropland which is broken out during the period November 1, 1937, to October 31, 1938, inclusive, which was not approved by the county committee as a good farming practice, and
2. $5.00 per acre for that acreage of native sod or other land classified as noncropland which is broken out during the period November 1, 1937, to October 31, 1938, inclusive, which was approved by the county committee as a good farming practice, provided, however, that in the event the soil-conserving acreage on the farm in 1938 exceeds the acreage in the soil-conserving goal, such deduction shall be applicable to the acreage obtained by adding to the acreage broken out and approved by the county committee, the acreage in the soil-conserving goal, and by subtracting from the total thus obtained the soil-conserving acreage on the farm in 1938.

2. Section VI, subsection A is amended to read as follows:

A. Payments and deductions in connection with corn acreage allotments.—Net payments or net deductions computed for any farm with respect to the corn acreage allotment shall be divided among the landlords and tenants in the same proportion (as indicated by their acreage shares expressed in terms of either proportionate acreages or percentages) that such persons are entitled at the time the crop is harvested to share in the proceeds (other than fixed commodity payment) of the corn grown on the farm in 1938.

3. Section VI, subsection B is amended to read as follows:

B. Payments with respect to soil-conserving acres.—Except for farms rented for cash or fixed commodity payment the amount of payment earned in connection with the soil-conserving acreage for the farm shall be divided 50 percent to the landlords and 50 percent to the operators. The payment to the landlords shall be divided among them in the same proportion that the cropland which they own bears to the total cropland in the farm. The payment to the operators shall be divided among them in the same proportion that the cropland which they operate bears to the total cropland in the farm. The payment computed for a farm rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be made entirely to the tenant.

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE

[T. D. 4865]

INCOME TAX

REGULATIONS RELATIVE TO ELECTION BY TANNERS, AND PRODUCERS AND PROCESSORS OF CERTAIN NON-FERROUS METALS IN TAKING INVENTORIES OF RAW MATERIALS

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and Others Concerned:

Paragraph A. Section 22(d) of Title I (Income Tax) of the Revenue Act of 1938, enacted May 28, 1938 (Public, No. 554, Seventy-fifth Congress, Chapter 289, third session), provides:

SEC. 22. Gross income.

(d) Inventories in Certain Industries.—(1) Producers and processors of certain non-ferrous metals.—A taxpayer shall be entitled to elect the method of taking inventories provided in paragraph (2) if his principal business is—

(A) Smelting non-ferrous ores or concentrates, or refining non-ferrous metals, or both; or

(B) Producing brass, copper products, or brass products, or any one or more of them, not further advanced than rods, sheets, tubes, bars, plates, or strips.

(2) Inventories of raw materials.—A taxpayer entitled to elect, and who has so elected, shall, in taking his inventory as of the close of any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1938, of raw materials which are—

(A) used in a business described in paragraph (1); and

(B) not yet included in goods in process or finished goods; and

(C) so intermingled that they cannot be identified with specific invoices; treat such raw materials remaining on hand as being: First, those included in the inventory as of the beginning of the taxable year (in the order of acquisition) to the extent thereof, and second, those acquired in the taxable year, in the order of acquisition.

(3) Tanners.—A taxpayer whose principal business is tanning hides or skins, or both, shall be entitled to elect (with respect to any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1938) the method provided in paragraph (2) as to the raw materials (including those included in goods in process and in finished goods) in the business of tanning hides, or skins, or both, if so intermingled that they cannot be identified with specific invoices.

(4) Inventories at cost.—In the case of the application of the provisions of paragraph (2) or (3) all inventories of such materials shall be taken at cost, including the inventory as of the close of the preceding taxable year.

(5) Election of method.—The method provided in paragraph (2) or (3) shall not be applied unless the taxpayer, at or before the filing of his return for the preceding taxable year, has filed with the Commissioner his election to have it apply.

(6) Regulations as to change.—The change to such method shall be made in accordance with such regulations as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe as necessary to prevent the avoidance of tax.

(7) Change to different method.—An election made under this subsection shall be irrevocable and the method so elected shall be applied in all subsequent taxable years notwithstanding any change in the principal business of the taxpayer, unless with the approval of the Commissioner change to a different method is authorized, and then upon such terms and conditions and in accordance with such regulations as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe.

Par. B. Section 62 of the Revenue Act of 1938 provides:

SEC. 63. Rules and regulations.—The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall prescribe and publish all needful rules and regulations for the enforcement of this title.

Pursuant to the above-quoted provisions and other provisions of the internal revenue laws, the following regulations are hereby prescribed with respect to the application of section 22 (d) of the Revenue Act of 1938:

ARTICLE 1. Inventories of tanners, and producers and processors of certain non-ferrous metals.—(a) Elective method.—The general rule is that goods taken in the inventory which have been so intermingled that they cannot be identified with specific invoices will be deemed to be the goods most recently acquired which can not be so identified. An exception to this general rule is provided for in section 22 (d) of the Act which permits certain specifically described taxpayers to elect to treat certain raw materials remaining on hand at the close of the taxable year as being: First, those included in the inventory as of the beginning of the taxable year (in the order of acquisition) to the extent thereof, and second, those acquired in the taxable year, in the order of acquisition. No item in an inventory of raw materials to which this method is applied shall be valued at market. All inventories of such raw materials (including the inventory as of the close of the preceding taxable year) shall be taken at cost. The opening inventory of such raw materials for the taxable year for which an election is made shall be brought in at the same cost as the closing inventory of such raw materials for the preceding taxable year.

A taxpayer shall be entitled to elect to have such method applied in taking his inventory as of the close of any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1938, if his principal business at the beginning of such taxable year (as shown by all transactions during the preceding taxable year and any other facts and circumstances relevant to the determination of the principal business) is—

(1) Smelting non-ferrous ores or concentrates, or refining non-ferrous metals, or both;

(2) Producing brass, copper products, or brass products, or any one or more of them, not further advanced than rods, sheets, tubes, bars, plates or strips; or

(3) Tanning hides or skins, or both.

(b) Restrictions upon use of method.—Except in the case of a taxpayer whose principal business is tanning hides or skins, or both, if a taxpayer elects to have the method provided for in section 22 (d) of the Act applied, such method shall be applied in taking inventory of all raw materials used in (1) smelting non-ferrous ores or concentrates, or refining non-ferrous metals, or both, or (2) producing brass, copper products, or brass products, or any one or more of them, not further advanced than rods, sheets, tubes, bars, plates, or strips; and it shall be applied only in taking inventory of such raw materials. To illustrate, suppose the principal business of the M Corporation is refining non-ferrous metals and such corporation is also engaged in producing copper products. If the M Corporation elects to use the method provided for in section 22 (d) of the Act, it shall use such method in taking inventory of (1) all raw materials used in refining non-ferrous metals and (2) all other raw materials which are of a kind used in producing copper products, not further advanced than rods, sheets, tubes, bars, plates, or strips, and which are used by it in producing copper products, even though the copper products produced by it are further advanced than rods, sheets, tubes, bars, plates, or strips. In the case of a taxpayer whose principal business is tanning hides or skins, or both, such method shall be applied only in taking inventory of raw materials used in the business of tanning hides, or skins, or both.

The method provided for in section 22 (d) of the Act is to be applied only to raw materials which are so intermingled that they cannot be identified with specific invoices. There is a further restriction that the method provided for in section 22 (d) of the Act shall be applied only to raw materials not yet included in goods in process or finished goods, but this retriction does not apply in the case of a taxpayer whose principal business is tanning hides or skins, or both. Each taxpayer to whom these restrictions are applicable shall maintain such accounting records as will enable him to comply with such restrictions. If the taxpayer's principal business is tanning hides or skins, or both, the method provided for in section 22 (d) of the Act, if elected by the taxpayer, shall be applied to all raw materials (including those included in goods in process and not finished goods) used in the business of tanning hides or skins, or both, if such raw materials are so intermingled that they can not be identified with specific invoices.

ART. 2. Time and manner of making election.—The method of taking inventory provided for in section 22 (d) of the Act shall not be applied, unless the taxpayer, at or before the filing of his return for the taxable year preceding the taxable year as of the close of which the method is first to be applied, has filed with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue his election to have it applied. Such election shall be made under oath or affirmation on Form 970 in triplicate in accordance with the instructions printed thereon and with these regulations and shall be accompanied by a complete statement of all facts pertaining to the taxpayer's right to make such election, including—

1. A description of each business carried on by the taxpayer during the taxable year preceding the taxable year as of the close of which the method provided for in section 22 (d) of the Act is first to be applied, together with a description of the functions and operations performed by each department of each such business.

2. A statement describing any changes made, during the preceding taxable year, in the nature of the business or businesses carried on by the taxpayer.

3. A balance sheet as of the beginning of the taxable year as of the close of which such method is first to be applied, and a balance sheet as of the beginning of the preceding taxable year.

4. An analysis of all inventories as of the beginning of the taxable year as of the close of which such method is first to be applied, and of all inventories as of the beginning of the preceding taxable year. Such analysis shall include a description and the amount of each kind of raw materials. In the case of a taxpayer who claims that his principal business is producing brass, copper products, or brass products, or any one or more of them, not further advanced than rods, sheets, tubes, bars, plates, or strips, the analysis of finished goods shall show the amount of each product of a given style, shape, or use. In the case of any other taxpayer, the analysis of finished goods shall show one of the following: (a) The cost of each group of products going through the same processes in the factory; (b) the cost of each group of products requiring the same kind of raw materials; or (c) the cost of each group of products having the same style, shape, or use. Each group of products shall be clearly described.

5. An analysis of all sales made during the taxable year preceding the taxable year as of the close of which such method is first to be applied. In the case of a taxpayer who claims that his principal business is producing brass, copper products, or brass products, or any one or more of them, not further advanced than rods, sheets, tubes, bars, plates, or strips, such analysis shall show the sales of each product of a given style, shape, or use. In the case of any other taxpayer, such analysis shall show one of the following: (a) The sales of each group of products going through the same processes in the factory; (b) the sales of each group of products requiring the same kind of raw materials; or (c) the sales of each group of products of a given style, shape, or use. Each group of products shall be clearly described.

6. A profit and loss statement for the taxable year preceding the taxable year as of the close of which such method is first to be applied, including therein all items of tax-exempt income.

ART. 3. Adjustments to be made by taxpayer.—A taxpayer may not change to the method of taking inventories provided for in section 22 (d) of the Act unless he agrees to and makes such adjustments, and pays such taxes with respect to such adjustments, in the inventories of prior taxable years or otherwise, as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue deems necessary to prevent the change in method from resulting in avoidance of tax. See section 22 (d) (6) of the Act.

ART. 4. Revocation of election.—An election made under section 22 (d) of the Act is irrevocable and the method so elected shall be applied in all subsequent taxable years in taking inventory of raw materials used in the business to which such method is applicable under the election, notwithstanding any change in the principal business of the taxpayer, unless another method be authorized by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue pursuant to a written application therefor filed with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. [Docket No. A-83 O-83]

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND ORDER REGULATING HANDLING OF MILK IN LOWELL-LAWRENCE, MASSACHUSETTS, MILK MARKETING AREA

PREPARED AND PROPOSED BY THE NEW ENGLAND MILK PRODUCERS' ASSOCIATION, INC., UPON WHICH SAID ASSOCIATION HAS REQUESTED THE SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE TO HOLD A HEARING

Whereas, the New England Milk Producers' Association, Inc., has requested the Secretary to hold a public hearing on a marketing agreement and order prepared and proposed by such association and designed to regulate such handling of milk in the Lowell-Lawrence, Massachusetts, milk marketing area as is in the current of interstate commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate commerce in such milk; and

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture has reason to believe that the execution of a marketing agreement or the issuance of an order will tend to effectuate the declared policy of Public Act No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, with respect to such handling of milk in the Lowell-Lawrence, Massachusetts, milk marketing area as is in the current of interstate commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate commerce in such milk; and

Whereas, under said act notice of and opportunity for a hearing are required prior to the execution of a marketing agreement or the issuance of an order, and the General Regulations, Series A, No. 1, as amended,[1] of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, provide for such notice;

Now, therefore, pursuant to said act and said general regulations, notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held on the aforementioned marketing agreement and order, prepared and proposed by the aforementioned association and designed to regulate such handling of milk in the Lowell-Lawrence, Massachusetts, milk marketing area as is in the current of interstate commerce on which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate commerce in such milk.

This public hearing will be held in Dracut Grange Hall, Dracut, Massachusetts, at 9:30 a. m., e. s. t., October 14, 1938.

At this public hearing, which will be held jointly with the Milk Control Board of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, representatives of the Secretary will receive factual evidence (1) as to whether marketing conditions for such handling of milk in the Lowell-Lawrence, Massachusetts, milk marketing area as is in the current of interstate commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate commerce in such milk are so disorderly as to necessitate regulation in order that the declared policy of the act may be effectuated, and (2) as to the specific provisions which a marketing agreement or order should contain.

The proposed marketing agreement and order provide, among other things, for: (a) selection of a market administrator, (b) classification of milk, (c) minimum prices, (d) reports of handlers, (e) payments to producers through the use of a market-wide equalization pool, (f) payments to the market administrator for marketing services, and (g) expenses of administration.

It is hereby declared that an emergency exists in the handling of milk in the aforesaid area, and that a shorter period of notice than fifteen (15) days is therefore required; and it is hereby determined that the period of notice given is reasonable under the circumstances.

Copies of the proposed marketing agreement or order may be inspected in or procured from Room 0318, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

MARKING—ARTICLES TO BE COMBINED

To Collectors of Customs and Others Concerned:

Numerous inquiries have been received with respect to the scope of article 528 (h) of the Customs Regulations of 1937, as amended by (1938) T. D. 49658.[1] This regulation was issued pursuant to section 304 (a) (2) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by the Customs Administrative Act of 1938 (Public, No. 721, 75th Congress), which provides that:

The Secretary of the Treasury may by regulations—

* * * * *

(2) Require the addition of any other words or symbols which may be appropriate to prevent deception or mistake as to the origin of the article or as to the origin of any other article with which such imported article is usually combined subsequent to importation but before delivery to an ultimate purchaser;

Article 528 (h) in its present form applies only when an imported article is of a kind which is usually combined with another article subsequent to importation but before delivery to an ultimate purchaser in a manner which does not result in an article manufactured or produced in the United States. The phrase "combined with another article", as used in article 528 (h), refers to a combining of an imported article with another article without any process of manufacture or production and in such a manner that their separate identities are maintained and they do not become integral parts of an article manufactured or produced in the United States. Imported watch movements and toothbrush handles, for example, are not within the purview of the article, whereas bottles or other containers imported empty to be filled are within its purview.

Pursuant to the authority contained in section 304 (a) (1) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, collectors of customs are hereby authorized, in the case of articles subject to the special marking requirement of article 528 (h), which are imported before December 1, 1938, to accept such marking when accomplished by means of firmly affixed paper labels or any other means, provided the collector is satisfied in each instance that such special marking is sufficiently permanent to convey to the ultimate purchaser of the combined articles clear information that the country of origin indicated is that of the imported article only. In the case of articles imported on or after December 1, 1938, the special marking required by article 528 (h) should be as permanent as the nature of the article would permit if the marking were accomplished either during the course of manufacture or at some other time prior to shipment.

Commissioner of Customs.

TITLE 41—PUBLIC CONTRACTS

DIVISION OF PUBLIC CONTRACTS

IN THE MATTER OF THE DETERMINATION OF THE PREVAILING MINIMUM WAGES IN THE FIREWORKS INDUSTRY

This case is before me pursuant to Section 1 (b) of the Act of June 30, 1936 (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C. Sup. III 35), entitled "An Act to provide conditions for the purchase of supplies and the making of contracts by the United States, and for other purposes." At my direction the Public Contracts Board, created in accordance with Section 4 of the said Act by Administrative Order dated October 6, 1936, held a hearing on May 2, 1938 in the above-entitled matter.

Notice of the hearing was sent to all known members of the industry, to trade unions, trade associations, and trade publications in the field. Invitation to attend the hearing was extended through the national press to all other interested parties.

Testimony was given at the hearing by Counsel for the Association of Pyrotechnic Industries, by members of the industry, and by a representative of the United Mine Workers of America.

The fireworks industry, for the purpose of this decision, is divided into two branches: the commercial fireworks division, and the fusee division. The notice of hearing covered, in addition, the display branch of the industry. The Board advises me that there are very few employees in the display branch of the industry and that the Government does not normally enter into contracts with the members of this branch of the industry. Accordingly, the display branch of the fireworks industry has been excluded from the scope of the definition.

The fusee division of the fireworks industry makes such products as flares, fusees, and torpedoes. Safety fuses and squibs were listed as products of this division in a survey made by the Bureau of Labor Statistics served on all known interested parties, and introduced in evidence at the hearing. The Board advises me that these products are not manufactured by the fireworks industry, and for the purposes of this decision they will not be considered as products of the fireworks industry.

The Bureau's survey covered 1,384 employees of a total average employment of 1,587 as reported by the Bureau of the Census for 1935. It covered 41 establishments, located in 13 states. Of these plants, 19 were engaged in the manufacture of commercial fireworks and employed 988 of the 1,384 workers; 7 were engaged in the manufacture of display fireworks and employed 310 workers. Wage frequency tables, graduated by 5 cent intervals, were set up separately for (1) the commercial and display fireworks divisions, and (2) the fusee division. With minor exceptions the wages were taken from pay rolls in effect in October, 1937.

At the request of the Board, the Bureau of Labor Statistics broke down the available data to show separately and in 2.5 cent intervals the wages paid in the display branch and in the commercial branch of the fireworks industry. The resultant tables were mailed to the interested parties for comment and were also ordered incorporated into the record. No comments were received.

In the commercial fireworks branch of the industry the outstanding concentration of workers in the lower part of the wage structure occurs in the 30 to 32.5 cent interval. Into this 2.5 cent interval fall 137, or 13.8 percent, of the workers, whereas only 61 or 6.2 percent and 72 or 7.3 percent of the workers fall into the two next lower intervals, and only 96 or 9.8 percent and 71 or 7.1 percent fall into the two next higher intervals.

Of the total number of workers covered in the survey of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, only 310 were engaged in the manufacture of fusees, flares, ship and railroad torpedoes. The first pronounced concentration in the wage structure appears in the 32.5 to 37.5 cent interval, wherein 11.6 percent of the workers are found. This is followed by a still heavier concentration in the 37.5 to 42.5 cent interval which contains 16.1 percent of the workers.

The Board recommends (1) that the prevailing minimum wage in the manufacture or supply of commercial fireworks be determined to be 31.25 cents an hour or $12.50 per week for a week of 40 hours; and (2) that the prevailing minimum wage in the manufacture or supply of fusees, flares, and ship and railroad torpedoes be determined to be 37.5 cents an hour or $15.00 per week of 40 hours.

I have examined the findings and recommendations of the Board, and the record of the hearing, and I am of the opinion that such findings and recommendations are correct and I adopt them as my own.

Therefore, I hereby determine

(1) That the minimum wage for employees engaged in the performance of contracts with agencies of the United States Government subject to the provisions of the Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C. Sup. III 35) for the manufacture or supply of commercial fireworks shall be 31.25 cents an hour or $12.50 per week for a week of 40 hours, arrived at either upon a time or piece work basis; and

(2) That the minimum wage for employees engaged in the performance of contracts with agencies of the United States Government subject to the provisions of the Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C. Sup. III 35) for the manufacture or supply of fusees, flares, and ship and railroad torpedoes shall be 37.5 cents an hour or $15.00 per week for a week of 40 hours, arrived at either upon a time or piece work basis.

This determination shall be effective and the minimum wages hereby established shall apply to all such contracts, bids for which are solicited on or after October 15, 1938.

Dated: September 30, 1938

[SEAL] FRANCES PERKINS,
Secretary.

IN THE MATTER OF THE DETERMINATION OF THE PREVAILING MINIMUM WAGES IN THE WOOL CARPET AND RUG INDUSTRY

This case is before me pursuant to Section 1 (b) of the Act of June 30, 1936 (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C. Sup. III 35), entitled "An Act to provide conditions for the purchase of supplies and the making of contracts by the United States, and for other purposes." At my direction the Public Contracts Board, created in accordance with Section 4 of the said Act by Administrative Order dated October 6, 1936, held a hearing on June 7, 1938, in the above entitled matter.

Notice of the hearing was sent to all known members of the industry, to trade unions, trade associations, and trade publications in the field. Invitation to attend the hearing was extended through the national press to all other interested parties.

There were no members of the industry present at the hearing on June 7, 1938. Labor was represented at the hearing by Solomon Barkin, Research Director, Textile Workers Organizing Committee, C. I. O.

On July 12, 1938, the Public Contracts Board advised the Administrator that while the facts of record had made out a good case for a 40 cents an hour minimum, nevertheless the Board felt that, inasmuch as all evidence came from labor, industry should be given an opportunity because of the ex parte nature of the testimony to show cause why 40 cents an hour or $16.00 per week for a week of 40 hours should not be determined by the Secretary of Labor to be the minimum wage prevailing in the industry.

On July 16, 1938, the Administrator, acting upon the recommendation of the Board, advised all interested parties that they would be given an opportunity at a hearing to be held before the Board on August 2, 1938, to show cause why the prevailing minimum wage should not be 40 cents an hour or $16.00 per week. Notice of the second hearing was sent to all the parties to whom the original notice was sent. The hearing was attended by Mr. Parkin in his capacity as Research Director for the Textile Workers Organizing Committee, and by a member of the industry. The industry did not furnish by letter or brief any data as to the wage structure in the industry. The 1935 Census of Manufactures shows that in that year there was an average of 27,633 wage earners in the wool carpet and rug industry, excluding rag rugs. The Census indicated that the plants were located in New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, North Carolina, Ohio, Rhode Island, Virginia, and Wisconsin.

Mr. Barkin testified that there were some 27,000 persons engaged in the industry in the States of Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, and Massachusetts. The Textile Workers Organizing Committee of the C. I. O. has contractual relations with carpet and rug manufacturers employing some 22,000 workers in 13 or 14 companies, which include, with the exception of two companies, all the large companies producing carpets and rugs, exclusive of rag rugs. The wage agreement with a Minnesota manufacturer employing less than 100 wage earners provided for a 35 cent minimum. In several Philadelphia plants, the union agreement provided for a minimum of 37.5 cents. These Philadelphia plants, subject to this minimum, employ about 1,400 persons. 13,400 employees out of approximately 22,000 who are members of the Textile Workers Organizing Committee of the C. I. O. in an industry employing approximately 27,000 workers are employed under wage agreements providing for a minimum hourly rate of 40 cents. These agreements affect employees in the industry in the States of New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Minnesota, and New Jersey. These states are the only ones where the industry is carried on extensively.

I have examined the findings and recommendations of the Board, and the record of the hearing, and I am of the opinion that such findings and recommendations are proper, and I adopt them as my own.

Therefore, I hereby determine:

That the minimum wage for employees engaged in the performance of contracts with agencies of the United States Government subject to the provisions of the Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C. Sup. III 35) for the manufacture of wool carpets and rugs, exclusive of rag rugs, shall be 40 cents an hour, or $16.00 per week of forty hours, to be arrived at either upon a time or piece work basis.

This determination shall be effective and the minimum wage hereby established shall apply to all such contracts, bids for which are solicited on or after October 15, 1938.

[SEAL] FRANCES PERKINS,
The Secretary.

IN THE MATTER OF AMERICAN GAS AND POWER COMPANY AND BIRMINGHAM GAS COMPANY

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATIONS TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

American Gas and Power Company, a registered holding company under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, and Birmingham Gas Company, a subsidiary of American Gas and Power Company (hereinafter referred to as "American" and "Birmingham," respectively), having filed declarations and applications under Sections 7 and 12 (c) of said Act and Rules U–12D–1, U–12E–4 and U–12E–5 of the Commission with respect to a plan with certain amendments thereto (hereinafter referred to as the "Plan") for the recapitalization of Birmingham and the cancellation of certain inter-company debt;

A public hearing having been held on said declarations and applications and on the Plan, after appropriate notice,[1] and thereafter amendments to the Plan having been filed; Applicants having by stipulation waived the preparation and submission to them of any report by the trial examiner and the preparation and submission to them of proposed findings of fact by the Commission and requested findings of fact by counsel for the Commission; and oral argument having been had on this matter; and

The Commission having considered the record in this matter and having made its findings and set forth therein conditions under which such declarations might be permitted to become effective, and the Applicants having been apprised of said conditions and having accepted the same in writing;

It is ordered, That said declarations be and become effective forthwith, subject to the following terms and conditions being fully satisfied and carried out:

(1) The Plan and supporting documents to be further amended in the following respects:

1. Section 2 of Article Three of the proposed Note Agreement of Birmingham dated as of October 1, 1938 to be modified so as to provide that Notes delivered to the Trustee thereunder on account of the Sinking Fund requirements shall be credited at cost to Birmingham, or par, whichever is lower, and that the cost of such Notes shall be certified to the Trustee in writing by the president and treasurer of Birmingham.

B. Paragraph B, Article V of the Plan recites that "Under the formula provided in the Supplemental Debenture Agreement of American dated July 18, 1935, the interest and sinking fund instalments on said loan (the $600,000 loan from Continental) will constitute a prior charge in the determination of net earnings of American available for (a) conditional interest on the debentures, (b) sinking fund for retirement of debentures and (c) principal and interest payments on remaining inter-company debt." This provision shall be stricken from the Plan and no such deduction of interest and amortization payments on the $600,000 loan shall be made unless specific consents from the persons designated in paragraph D hereof are obtained to an amendment to the Supplemental Debenture Agreement expressly authorizing such deductions, and expressly excluding any authorization for deducting any other sums for repayment of bank loans.

C. The Plan to be amended to provide that (a) the $100,000 repaid by American to Continental and deducted as a prior charge in the determination of net earnings of American available for distribution under the formula provided in its said Supplemental Debenture Agreement dated July 18, 1935, shall be restored to net earnings available for such distribution and shall be applied (1) ⅓ as conditional interest on its debentures, (2) ⅓ for Sinking Fund and retirement of its debentures, and (3) ⅓ for interest and principal payments to Birmingham, Minneapolis and Jacksonville upon their certificates of indebtedness, and (b) the $160,000 subsequently repaid to Continental shall not be deducted as such a prior charge. These changes shall not be necessary if specific waivers of such restoration and consents to such deductions are received from the persons designated in paragraph D hereof.

D. The Plan to be amended to provide that it shall not become effective unless the Plan as a whole, the matter referred to in paragraph B hereof, and the matters referred to in paragraph C hereof (unless the first sentence of paragraph C is complied with) shall each be approved by at least:

(1) the holders of at least 66⅔% of the principal amount of American's secured debentures (other than those reacquired and now held in American's treasury or pledged);

(2) the holders of at least 80% of the principal amount of Birmingham's publicly held notes;

(3) the holders of at least 95% of the principal amount of Birmingham's preferred stock; and

(4) the Minneapolis and Jacksonville companies, acting through their respective Boards.

(2) American to confirm agreements and agree as follows:

A. That the Commission shall retain jurisdiction to pass upon fees and expenses incurred and to be incurred in connection with the Plan of Recapitalization pursuant to Section 7 (d) (4), and that American will not pay fees and expenses in excess of the amounts so approved by the Commission.

B. The Commission shall retain supervisory jurisdiction to prevent diversion of funds available for repayment of Continental loan of $600,000 and that, until said loan is repaid, it will make no commitments other than for current, normal expenditures and will not reacquire additional secured debentures without the approval of the Commission.

C. Not to reissue or repledge any of its reacquired secured debentures unless it makes a showing satisfactory to the Commission that such reissuance or repledge (in addition to conforming with the standards of Section 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935) will not be unfair to any party to the Plan or any person whose consent to such Plan was solicited.

D. To cause Birmingham, Minneapolis and Jacksonville to retain independent counsel to advise them, respectively, upon all intercompany matters now or hereafter arising, including, without thereby limiting the foregoing, the Plan and the proposed modifications thereof, and authorizes the Commission at any time, and from time to time, to inquire into the independent character of such counsel and if it finds that any such counsel is not independent, to require the removal of such counsel and the selection of other counsel.

(3) American and Birmingham to agree to the following provisions respecting solicitation:

A. All literature to be used in solicitation of waivers and consents shall first be submitted to and be approved by the Commission and shall contain specific reference to the amendments to the Plan and the agreements of American hereinabove referred to.

B. All solicitation shall be preceded or accompanied by the report of the Commission pursuant to Section 11 (g) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

C. Prior to the submission of the Plan with the foregoing modifications to the Boards of Directors of Birmingham, Minneapolis and Jacksonville, independent counsel shall have been chosen by them, respectively, and their names submitted to the Commission. When such Plan is submitted to the respective Boards there shall also be submitted to them a copy of the report of the Commission pursuant to said Section 11 (g) and an analysis of the Plan and of above amendments in form approved by the Commission.

D. Appropriate changes shall be made in all literature, proposals and papers filed with the Commission to give effect to the foregoing amendments, conditions and agreements.

By the Commission.

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

CONDITION OF THE APPORTIONMENT AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1938

Important.—Although the apportioned classified civil service is by law located only in Washington, D. C., it nevertheless includes only about half of the Federal Civilian positions in the District of Columbia. Positions in local post offices, customs districts, and other field services outside of the District of Columbia which are subject to the Civil Service Act are filled almost wholly by persons who are local residents of the general community in which the vacancies exist. It should be noted and understood that so long as a person occupies, by original appointment, a position in the apportioned service, the charge for his appointment continues to run against his State of original residence. Certifications of eligibles are first made from States which are in arrears.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

ORDER AMENDING ORDER REGULATING HANDLING IN INTERSTATE AND FOREIGN COMMERCE, AND SUCH HANDLING AS DIRECTLY BURDENS, OBSTRUCTS, OR AFFECTS INTERSTATE OR FOREIGN COMMERCE, OF WALNUTS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA, OREGON, AND WASHINGTON

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, hereinafter referred to as the "Secretary", issued an order regulating the handling of walnuts grown in California, Oregon, and Washington, effective on and after October 15, 1935, which order was amended on September 23, 1936, effective on and after September 27, 1936, and further amended on September 23, 1937,[1] effective on and after September 29, 1937 (the said order, as amended, is hereinafter referred to as the "order"); and

Whereas, at the request of the Control Board established pursuant to the provisions of said order, a hearing was held on September 6, 1938, in San Francisco, California, upon the proposed amendment to the order, due notice of such hearing[2] having been given interested parties in accordance with the provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, hereinafter referred to as the "act", and the applicable regulations issued thereunder, at which time and place all interested parties were given an opportunity to be heard concerning the proposed amendment to the order; and

Whereas, the Secretary finds upon the basis of the evidence introduced at the said hearing and the record thereof:

1. That the supply of merchantable walnuts available during the crop year 1938-39 for handling in the channels of interstate and foreign commerce, or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect interstate or foreign commerce in such commodity, will exceed the consumptive demand for such walnuts during the said period;

2. That a surplus exists in such available supply of walnuts, and that such surplus amounts to at least twenty (20%) per cent of such available supply;

3. That the salable percentage of merchantable walnuts should be eighty (80%) per cent and the surplus percentage should be twenty (20%) per cent;

4. That the fixing of such percentages and the methods provided in the order, as hereby amended, for the disposition of such surplus and for the equalization of the burden of such surplus elimination will tend to establish prices to the growers of such walnuts at a level that will give such walnuts a purchasing power with respect to articles that growers thereof buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such walnuts in the base period, as defined in the order;

5. That the order, as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to walnuts grown in California, Oregon, and Washington, by establishing and maintaining such orderly marketing conditions therefor as will reestablish prices to growers thereof at a level that will give such walnuts a purchasing power with respect to articles that such growers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such walnuts in the aforesaid base period, at the same time protecting the interest of the consumer by (a) approaching such level of prices, which it is declared in the act to be the policy of Congress to establish, by gradual correction of the current level of prices at as rapid a rate as the Secretary deems to be in the public interest and feasible in view of the current consumptive demand in the domestic and foreign markets, and (b) authorizing no action which has for its purpose the maintenance of prices to growers above the

Whereas, the Secretary finds:

1. That the order, as hereby amended, regulates the handling of such walnuts in the same manner as, and is made applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activities specified in the marketing agreement upon which hearings were held in September 1935, as amended in certain respects and on which amendments a hearing was held in September 1936 and in September 1937;

2. That handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping the said commodity or products thereof) of not less than fifty (50%) per cent of the volume of the said commodity covered by the order, as hereby amended, which is produced within the production area defined in the said order, have signed a marketing agreement and an amendment to the same, which marketing agreement, as amended, regulates the handling of said commodity in the same manner as the order, as hereby amended;

3. That the agreement further amending the said marketing agreement, as amended, has been executed by more than three packers, signatory to the said marketing agreement, who during the preceding crop year handled not less than sixty-seven (67%) per cent of the merchantable walnuts handled during such crop year, and has been approved by the Secretary;

4. That the issuance of this amendment to the order is favored by producers who, during the 1937–1938 crop year (which the Secretary hereby determines to be a representative period) have produced for market within the production area specified in said marketing agreement, as amended, and the order as hereby amended, at least two-thirds (⅔) of the volume of such commodity produced for market within such production area;

Now, therefore, the Secretary, acting under the authority vested in him by the act, hereby amends the said order, as amended, regulating the handling of walnuts grown in the States of California, Oregon, and Washington, and orders that the handling of such commodity in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect interstate or foreign commerce in such commodity, from and after the effective date herein specified, shall be in conformity to, and in compliance with, the terms and conditions of the said order, as hereby amended, said amendments being as follows:

1. In Section 2 of Article III of the aforesaid order, as amended, delete the period at the end of the first sentence and add the following:

and the salable percentage for the crop year September 1, 1938, to August 31, 1939, shall be eighty (80%) per cent.

2. In section 2 of Article III of the aforesaid order, as amended, delete the period at the end of the next to the last sentence of said section and add the following:

and twenty (20%) per cent, being the difference between the salable percentage for the crop year ending August 31, 1939, and one hundred (100%) per cent, shall be the "surplus percentage" for said crop year.

Nothing contained in this amendment to the order shall be deemed to affect, waive, or terminate any right, duty, obligation, or liability which has arisen or which may hereafter arise in connection with, by virtue of, or pursuant to any provision of the said order, or affect or impair any right or remedy of the Secretary in connection therewith, except as herein indicated, expressly or by necessary implication.

In witness whereof, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, acting under the provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, for the purposes and within the limitations therein contained and not otherwise, does hereby execute and issue in duplicate this amendment to the said order under his hand and the official seal of the United States Department of Agriculture in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, on the 4th day of October 1938 and declares this amendment to the said order to be effective on and after 12:01 a. m., Pacific Standard Time, October 8, 1938.

DETERMINATION OF PROPORTIONATE SHARES FOR FARMS IN THE MAINLAND CANE SUGAR AREA FOR THE 1939 CROP

WHEREAS, Section 302 of the Sugar Act of 1937 provides in part as follows:

(a) The amount of sugar or liquid sugar with respect to which payment may be made shall be the amount of sugar or liquid sugar commercially recoverable, as determined by the Secretary, from the sugar beets or sugarcane grown on the farm and marketed (or processed by the producer) not in excess of the proportionate share for the farm, as determined by the Secretary, of the quantity of sugar beets or sugarcane for the extraction of sugar or liquid sugar required to be processed to enable the producing area in which the crop of sugar beets or sugarcane is grown to meet the quota (and provide a normal carry-over inventory) estimated by the Secretary for such area for the calendar year during which the larger part of the sugar or liquid sugar from such crop normally would be marketed.

(b) In determining the proportionate shares with respect to a farm, the Secretary may take into consideration the past production on the farm of sugar beets and sugarcane marketed (or processed) for the extraction of sugar or liquid sugar and the ability to produce such sugar beets or sugarcane, and the Secretary shall, insofar as practicable, protect the interests of new producers and small producers and the interests of producers who are cash tenants, share-tenants, adherent planters or sharecroppers.

Whereas subsection (c) of section 301 of said act provides, as one of the conditions for payment to producers of sugar beets and sugarcane, as follows:

(c) That there shall not have been marketed (or processed) an amount (in terms of planted acreage, weight, or recoverable sugar content) of sugar beets or sugarcane grown on the farm and used for the production of sugar or liquid sugar to be marketed in, or so as to compete with or otherwise directly affect interstate or foreign commerce, in excess of the proportionate share for the farm, as determined by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of section 302, of the total quantity of sugar beets or sugarcane required to be processed to enable the area in which such sugar beets or sugarcane are produced to meet the quota (and provide a normal carryover inventory) as estimated by the Secretary for such area for the calendar year during which the larger part of the sugar or liquid sugar from such crop normally would be marketed. and

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture, on September 25, 1938, estimated the amount of sugar required to be processed from the 1939 crop in the mainland cane sugar area to meet the estimated quota (including a normal carryover inventory) for that area, for the calendar year during which the larger part of the sugar or liquid sugar from such crop normally would be marketed, to be 406,000 tons of sugar, raw value;

Now, therefore, pursuant to the foregoing sections of said act, I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, do hereby determine that the proportionate share of sugarcane for any farm in the mainland cane sugar area for the 1939 crop shall be as follows:

(a) That the proportionate share shall be calculated by taking 75 per centum of the 1938 proportionate share or 100 per centum of the acreage measured for harvest under the 1938 mainland sugarcane program, whichever is smaller, but in no event shall the proportionate share be in excess of 60 per centum of the cropland which was suitable for the production of sugarcane during the 1938 crop season, except as hereinafter provided.

(b) That the minimum proportionate share shall be the largest of the following:

1. For any farm, the sum of the acreage planted to sugarcane for sugar in the fall of 1937, the spring of 1938, and the fall of 1938 prior to October 1, 1938, but not in excess of the 1938 proportionate share;

2. For farms having 30 acres or less suitable for the production of sugarcane, one-third of such acreage but not less than 5 acres;

3. For farms having more than 30 acres suitable for the production of sugarcane, ten acres in any event, with a further addition of one-fourth of such acreage in excess of 30 acres, provided there is plowed under a leguminous crop, immediately prior to and in preparation for the 1938 fall planting of sugarcane, on an acreage equivalent to the difference between the acreage determined pursuant to this subsection (3) and section (a) above.

In addition to the foregoing, the following conditions shall be met:

1. That no change shall have been made in the leasing or cropping agreements for the purpose of diverting to any producer any payment to which tenants or sharecroppers would be entitled if the 1938 leasing or cropping agreements were in effect.

2. That there shall have been no interference by any producer with contracts heretofore entered into by tenants or sharecroppers for the sale of their sugarcane.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 4th day of October, 1938. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

[SEAL] H. A. WALLACE,
Secretary of Agriculture.

In the case of such articles withdrawn for entry under the general tariff law under a warehouse bond or a bond conditioned upon exportation, the statutory period of the bond and any extension thereof shall be computed from the date of withdrawal from entry under the provisions of Public Resolution No. 653 of the Seventy-fifth Congress.

(13) At any time prior to the opening of the exposition, or at any time during or within three months after the close of the exposition, any article entered hereunder may be abandoned to the Government or destroyed under customs supervision, as provided in article 808 of the Customs Regulations of 1937, as amended by (1938) T. (14) Any articles entered under these regulations which have not been withdrawn for consumption, entry under the general tariff law, or exportation, or which have not been abandoned to the Government or destroyed under customs supervision, before the expiration of three months after the close of the exposition, shall be regarded as abandoned to the Government.

(15) All entries under these regulations shall be made in the name of the Seventh World's Poultry Congress and Exposition, which shall be deemed for customs purposes the sole consignee of the merchandise entered under the Act and which shall be held responsible to the Government for all duties and charges due the United States on account of such entries; but, in the case of merchandise withdrawn from entry under these regulations, an entry under the general tariff law, in the name of any person duly authorized in writing by the Seventh World's Poultry Congress and Exposition to make such entry, may be accepted by the collector, and the bond of the Seventh World's Poultry Congress and Exposition shall thereafter be considered as collateral security for any duties and charges accruing on the merchandise covered by any such entry, unless the entry is for permanent exhibition, in which case the liability of the Seventh World's Poultry Congress and Exposition, under its bond with respect to the articles covered by such entry, shall be terminated when the security required by the general tariff law has been given.

The Captain of the Port will, in each case, secure the prior approval of the Commander, Base Force, U. S. Navy, or his authorized representative, before assigning a vessel engaged in transporting explosives to anchorage in this area. (See Part III for regulations.)

PART II—THE RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR ANCHORAGES IN GENERAL

1. Except in cases of great emergency no vessel shall be anchored in the navigable waters of Los Angeles and Long Beach Harbors outside of the anchorage areas hereby defined and established.

2. Anchors must not be placed outside the anchorage areas, nor shall any portion of the hull or rigging at any time extend outside the boundaries of the anchorage areas.

3. Any vessel anchoring under circumstances of great emergency outside of the anchorage areas must be placed near the edge of the channel and in such position as not to interfere with free navigation of the channel nor obstruct the approach to any pier nor impede the movement of any boat, and shall move away immediately after the emergency ceases, or upon notification by the Captain of the Port.

4. No vessels, other than those of the United States Government, shall anchor in any of the established anchorage areas nor in any other areas within the outer Los Angeles-Long Beach Harbors, as defined by the limits of the San Pedro breakwater, the detached breakwater, and the Long Beach breakwater, nor closer than 1 mile to any point of said breakwaters in the waters seaward thereof, while carrying, loading, or unloading explosives in quantities in excess of 500 tons. Vessels engaged in the transportatiton of explosives in quantities of 500 tons or less may occupy that portion of anchorage C designated as "Explosives Anchorage", subject to the conditions stated in the note following the description of this anchorage, and in accordance with the rules and regulations set forth in Part III hereof.

5. The instructions of the Captain of the Port assigning vessels to parts of anchorage grounds suitable to their draft; requiring vessels to anchor bow and stern, or with two bow anchors, requiring shifting the anchorage of any vessel within any anchorage ground for the common safety or convenience; or for otherwise enforcing these rules and regulations; shall be promptly followed by owners, masters, and persons in charge of vessels.

6. Permission to anchor in the channels within the limits of Los Angeles and Long Beach Harbors may be granted by the Captain of the Port to plants or vessels engaged in recovering sunken property or in laying or repairing pipe or cable lines legally established, when approved by the United States district engineer, and to plants or vessels engaged in dredging operations when authorized by the district engineer. The provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to plants or vessels engaged under the supervision of the United States district engineer upon works for the improvement of the harbor, but the district engineer will advise the Captain of the Port in all cases where plant is to be employed under his supervision.

7. Nothing in these rules and regulations shall be construed as relieving the owner or person in charge of any vessel or plant from the penalties of the law for obstructing navigation or for obstructing or interfering with range lights, or for not complying with the navigation laws in regard to lights, fog signals, or for otherwise violating law.

PART III—REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE USE AND NAVIGATION OF THE WATERS OF LOS ANGELES AND LONG BEACH OUTER HARBORS AND THE HANDLING OF EXPLOSIVES THEREIN BY VESSELS CARRYING EXPLOSIVES

The Law

Section 7 of the River and Harbor Act approved August 8, 1917, provides as follows:

That it shall be the duty of the Secretary of War to prescribe such regulations for the use, administration, and navigation of the navigable waters of the United States as in his judgment the public necessity may require for the protection of life and property, or of operations of the United States in channel improvement, covering all matters not specifically delegated by law to some other executive department. Such regulations shall be posted, in conspicuous and appropriate places, for the information of the public; and every person and every corporation which shall violate such regulations shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, on conviction thereof in any district court of the United States within whose territorial jurisdiction such offense may have been committed, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $500, or by imprisonment (in case of a natural person) not exceeding six months, in the discretion of the court (33 U. S. C. 1).

NOTE.—The act of Congress approved March 4, 1921, imposes certain restrictions upon the transportation of explosives by common carriers engaged in interstate or foreign commerce, and also provides that "The Interstate Commerce Commission shall formulate regulations for the safe transportation within the limits of the jurisdiction of the United States of explosives and other dangerous articles, including inflammable liquids, inflammable solids, oxidizing materials, corrosive liquids, compressed gases, and poisonous substances, which shall be binding upon all common carriers engaged in interstate or foreign commerce which transport explosives or other dangerous articles by land or water, and upon all shippers making shipments of explosives or other dangerous articles via any common carrier engaged in interstate or foreign commerce by land or water." Under this act the Interstate Commerce Commission has prescribed regulations which were made effective February 1, 1935, and which are published in a pamphlet entitled: "Part V—Regulations for the transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles on freight and freight-and-passenger vessels by water • • •".

Nothing contained in the following regulations shall be construed as relieving any common carrier, owner, shipper or other person subject to regulations prescribed by the Interstate Commerce Commission pursuant to the aforesaid act of March 4, 1921, from full compliance with said Commission's regulations so prescribed.

Any regulations prescribed by the Secretary of War in pursuance of Section 7 of the act of August 8, 1917, may be enforced as provided in Section 17 of the River and Harbor Act approved March 3, 1899, which reads as follows:

SEC. 17. That the Department of Justice shall conduct the legal proceedings necessary to enforce the foregoing provisions • • •, and it shall be the duty of the district attorneys of the United States to vigorously prosecute all offenders against the same whenever requested to do so by the Secretary of War or by any of the Officials hereinafter designated, and it shall furthermore be the duty of said district attorneys to report to the Attorney-General of the United States the action taken by him against offenders so reported, and a transcript of such reports shall be transmitted to the Secretary of War by the Attorney-General; and for the better enforcement of the said provisions and to facilitate the detection and bringing to punishment of such offenders, the officers and agents of the United States in charge of river and harbor improvements, and the assistant engineers and inspectors employed under them by authority of the Secretary of War, and the United States collectors of customs and other revenue officers, shall have power and authority to swear out process and to arrest and take into custody, with or without process, any person or persons who may commit any of the acts or offenses prohibited by the aforesaid sections of this Act, or who may violate any of the provisions of the same; PROVIDED, That no person shall be arrested without process for any offense not committed in the presence of some one of the aforesaid officials: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That whenever any arrest is made under the provisions of this Act, the person so arrested shall be brought forthwith before a commissioner, judge, or court of the United States for examination of the offenses alleged against him; and such commissioner, judge, or court shall proceed in respect thereto as authorized by law in case of crimes against the United States (33 U. S. C. 413).

The Regulations

Under authority of Section 7 of the River and Harbor Act approved August 8, 1917, the following regulations are prescribed to govern the use and navigation of the waters of Los Angeles and Long Beach Outer Harbors, by vessels other than common carriers, carrying explosives:

1. The officer of the Coast Guard designated "Captain of the Port" shall have immediate supervision of the enforcement of these regulations, but such supervision shall not be construed to diminish or affect the duties of other Federal officials as prescribed in Section 17 of the River and Harbor Act of March 3, 1899.

2. The Captain of the Port may, at his discretion, assign guards to supervise the transportation, handling, or transfer of high explosives on, from, to, or between vessels, and he may limit or designate the quantity of high explosives that may be carried by any vessel, except as otherwise provided for by law. He may require that a permit be obtained from him for the movement of such vessels and cargo through any channel or waterway. However, no responsibility of any kind connected with the navigation of such vessel shall, in any case, be assumed by the Captain of the Port.

3. Every vessel loading, unloading, transporting, or containing explosives shall display by day a red flag at least 16 square feet in area at its masthead, or at least 10 feet above the upper deck if the vessel has no mast, and shall display by night a red light in the same position specified for the flag.

4. Every vessel carrying explosives shall be at all times in charge of a competent person. It shall be the duty of such person and of the master of the vessel to make effective the regulations prescribed herein, to instruct employees thoroughly in the provisions of said regulations, to maintain close supervision over all operations where the handling and movement of explosives are involved, and to reduce such handling to a minimum.

5. Nothing in these regulations shall be construed as relieving the master of any vessel carrying explosives from the responsibility of making frequent inspections, both by day and by night, to see that said regulations are complied with, or as relieving the owner and/or the person in charge of any vessel from any liability or penalty incurred by reason of violation of law.

6. To promote uniform enforcement of law and to minimize the dangers to life and property incident to the transportation and handling of explosives on vessels, all vessels carrying explosives within Los Angeles and Long Beach Outer Harbors which are not common carriers subject to regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission governing the transportation, handling, transfer, and stowage of explosives on, from, to, or between such vessels, shall comply with the applicable portions of such regulations of said commission effective February 1, 1935, and published in the pamphlet entitled: "Part V—Regulations for the transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles on freight and freight-and-passenger vessels by water • • •" as amended by subsequent supplements or in other manner by said commission.

7. When local regulations of any place require previous local authority for the transfer of explosives or fireworks between vessels or between a vessel and a wharf or other place ashore, the Captain of the Port shall permit the removal from the anchorage ground of such vessel containing explosives, to any place covered by such local regulations, only when he is satisfied that the required local authority has been granted.

8. Serious violations of regulations, accidents, fires, explosions, and leakage or breaking of packages of explosives occurring in connection with the operations mentioned in these regulations shall be reported promptly to the Captain of the Port by the master of the vessel concerned.

9. In any case of violation of these regulations, the Captain of the Port is empowered to cause the removal of any vessel or any person or persons from the waters to which these regulations pertain, or to stop the loading or unloading of explosives to or from any vessel in said waters.

10. The term "explosives", wherever used in any of the foregoing rules and regulations or descriptions of an anchorage, shall be held to include only explosives permitted by the Interstate Commerce Commission regulations for interstate and foreign commerce, when packed, marked, labeled, and described as required by the said Commission's regulations.

Brigadier General,
Acting Chief of Engineers.

TITLE 50—WILDLIFE

BUREAU OF BIOLOGICAL SURVEY

ORDER PERMITTING FISHING WITHIN LOWER SOURIS MIGRATORY WATERFOWL REFUGE, NORTH DAKOTA

Pursuant to regulations 2 and 3 of the regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture, effective November 24, 1937, for the administration of National wildlife refuges,[1] it is hereby ordered that in accordance with the provisions of said regulations fish may be taken for non-commercial purposes each day during the period June 16 to September 15, both dates inclusive, in any year, within the waters of the Lower Souris Migratory Waterfowl Refuge, North Dakota, subject to conditions and restrictions herein specified, except that the season shall not open until July 16 in such areas as the Chief of the Bureau of Biological Survey shall zone and designate for nesting purposes from time to time, depending on local conditions to be determined by him.

1. Waters open to fishing.—All waters of the Refuge shall be open to hook-and-line fishing as defined by State law insofar as such fishing is not inconsistent with the primary object for which the refuge is established. In the event that the Chief of the Bureau of Biological Survey shall find that fishing in any of the aforesaid waters is unduly depleting any species of fish therein or is interfering with the use of any particular waters by migratory birds or other wildlife, he may suspend the privilege of fishing in such waters pending final determination by the Secretary of Agriculture.

The said General Manager, upon consideration of the grounds of the appeal, shall advise the Commission with respect thereto and of any recommendations he may care to make; shall advise the Commission of the amount of compensation, if any, paid in the case, including all medical, hospital, and other expense, and shall state the period or periods covered by payments of compensation.

"(b) For the purpose of facilitating the action of the Commission upon an appeal or upon review of such a case, the finding of facts and award, or other disposition of the claim, required to be made by the provisions of section 36 of said Act shall be included in an order appropriately captioned 'Compensation Order, Award of Compensation,' 'Compensation Order, Rejection of Claim,' 'Compensation Order, Modification of Award,' or 'Compensation Order, Suspension of Payments,' as the case may be. The order shall be appropriately captioned with the name of the claimant and shall contain finding of facts, conclusions of law (where involved), and an action paragraph containing the award, rejection of the claim, or other appropriate action. NOTE.—The grand divisions are printed in capitals, the district names in small capitals, with the numbers enclosed in parentheses, and the ports in roman with asterisks (*) to indicate the headquarters ports. Marine documents are not issued at the headquarters ports of San Antonio, Indianapolis, and St. Albans, nor in the districts of El Paso (24), Arizona (26), Colorado (47), and Utah and Nevada (48).

†Marine documents may be issued at the port of Washington, N. C. Washington is a customs station, but not a port of entry.

A duplicate of each marine document issued to a vessel, together with the surrendered original, if there is one, should be sent to the headquarters port for review. All duplicates, surrendered originals, and copies of lost originals must be forwarded from the headquarters port to the Director of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation at the end of each day.

A license may be renewed by endorsement by the collector at the headquarters port or by any deputy collector within that particular district, but a notice of such renewal, Cat. No. 1302, must be sent to the port at which the license was issued, to the port of last previous renewal, and to the home port.

Additional ports will be designated as ports of documentation when this action is required by the exigencies of the service.

2. General definitions.—(a) The word "vessel", within the meaning of the Tariff Act of 1930, includes every description of water craft or other contrivance used, or capable of being used, as a means of transportation in water, but does not include aircraft.

(b) The word "vessel", within the meaning of the navigation laws, includes every description of water craft or other artificial contrivance used or capable of being used as a means of transportation on water, but does not include seaplanes or other aircraft. (R. S. 3, 1 U. S. C. 3; 44 Stat. 572, 49 U. S. C. 177.)

(c) The term "marine document" includes registry, enrollment and license, and license. (41 Stat. 1000, 46 U. S. C. 911.)

(d) The term "documented" means registered or enrolled and licensed or licensed under the laws of the United States, whether permanently or temporarily. (Ibid.)

(e) The term "port of documentation" means the home port of a vessel. It does not include a port in which a temporary document is issued. (R. S. 4141, 46 U. S. C. 17; 43 Stat. 948, 46 U. S. C. 1012; 41 Stat. 1000, 46 U. S. C. 911.)

(h) The term "mortgagee", in the case of a mortgage involving a trust deed and a bond issue thereunder, means the trustee designated in such deed. (41 Stat. 1000, 46 U. S. C. 911.)

3. Vessels entitled to documents.[2]—(a) Vessels of 20 net tons and upward may be registered or enrolled and licensed. Vessels of 5 net tons and less than 20 net tons may be licensed (except on the Great Lakes) or registered.

(b) Any vessel of the United States navigating the waters of the northern, northeastern, and northwestern frontiers, otherwise than by sea, shall be enrolled and licensed. (Commerce Form 1273.) (See art. 70, C. R. 1937.)

(c) The following classes of vessels are entitled to receive documents under existing laws:

Class 1.—Those built in the United States, wholly owned by citizens or by an incorporated company of the United States.

An American-owned and American-built vessel, which by sale has become the property of a foreigner, will be entitled to a new marine document upon afterward becoming American property, but cannot engage in the coastwise trade.

Class 2.—Those purchased from the Maritime Commission by persons who are citizens of the United States. (See art. 72, C. R. 1937.)

Class 3.—Those built in the United States, in whole or in part under foreign ownership and recorded, on becoming wholly owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, and never before documented. (See art. 76, C. R. 1937.)

Class 4.—Those captured in a war to which the United States is a party, by a citizen or citizens thereof, lawfully condemned as prizes, and wholly owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States.

Class 5.—Those which have been adjudged to be forfeited for a breach of the laws of the United States, when wholly owned by citizens thereof. This does not include vessels, not otherwise entitled to documents, sold under a decree of admiralty for debt or seamen's wages.

Class 6.—Those sold by the United States Government to citizens, if built in the United States. Foreign-built vessels bought or chartered by the Government are entitled to documents on sale to a citizen or citizens on compliance with the requirements for class 9.

[1] For the purposes of the Ship Mortgage Act, a yacht licensed under the provisions of R. S. 4214 as amended may be included in this definition.

Class 7.—Those authorized by special act of Congress to be documented.

Class 8.—Those wrecked on the coasts of the United States or its possessions or in adjacent waters, when purchased by a citizen or citizens of the United States and repaired in a shipyard in the United States or its possessions.

It must be proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Commerce, through a board of three appraisers appointed by him, if necessary, that the repairs put upon such vessel are equal to three times the appraised salved value thereof. The expense of such appraisal shall be borne by the owner of the vessel.

If any of the material facts sworn to or represented by the owner, or at his instance, to obtain documents of any vessel are not true, such vessel is liable to forfeiture.

Class 9.—Seagoing vessels, whether steam or sail, wherever built, when wholly owned by citizens of the United States or corporations organized and chartered under the laws of the United States or any State thereof, the president and managing directors of which are citizens of the United States. (See art. 72, C. R. 1937.)

Foreign-built vessels registered in accordance with the foregoing provisions of class 9 shall engage only in trade with foreign countries or with the Philippine Islands, the islands of Tutuila, Guam, Wake, Midway and Kingman Reef. They shall not engage in the coastwise trade, except as provided by sections 18 and 22, Merchant Marine Act, 1920.

(d) Vessels described as follows, if falling within the provisions of the foregoing classes, may be documented:

Barges, lighters, and other boats provided with sail or internal motive power, whether such power is generally used or not.

Barges and boats without sail or internal motive power of their own, engaged in trade with Canada, or employed upon the navigable waters of the United States.

Barges and boats without sail or internal motive power of their own, carrying passengers.

4. Provisional registers.—(a) Consular officers of the United States, and such other persons as may be designated by the President for the purpose,[3] are authorized to issue provisional certificates of registry to vessels abroad which have been purchased by citizens of the United States, including corporations, as defined in section 4132, Revised Statutes, as amended. (46 U. S. C. 11.)

(b) Such provisional certificates shall entitle the vessel to the privileges of a vessel of the United States in trade with foreign countries or with the Philippine Islands, American Samoa, and the island of Guam, until the expiration of six months from the date thereof, or until 10 days after the vessel's arrival in a port of the United States, and no longer. On arrival at a port of the United States the vessel shall become subject to the laws relating to officers, inspection, and measurement, as amended by the act of August 18, 1914. (46 U. S. C. 11.)

(c) Such provisional certificates shall be issued and surrendered in exchange for certificates of registry under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Commerce.

(d) To cover American-owned ships now in foreign ports until their return to the United States for permanent registry, the Department has arranged with the State Department for the issue of provisional registers by Consuls.

When bills of sale covering such cases are presented to a collector, he will proceed as follows:

(1) The bill of sale will be filed with him.

(2) The vendee will execute an affidavit as to the bona fides of the transfer of title and the citizenship of the vendee, which the collector will file with the bill of sale.

(3) If the vendor or his duly authorized representative be present, he should also sign the affidavit.

(4) The collector will then communicate with the Director of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation (by telegraph at the expense of those concerned, if desired) a statement that a bill of sale has been filed with him and the proper affidavit executed of the sale, giving names, and, if a corporation, particulars of the vendor and of vendee, respectively, of the (rig of vessel) called (name of vessel) of ------ gross, ------ net tons. He will also state the foreign port where the vessel is at the time, so the proper Consul may be instructed.

(5) On receipt of the papers or telegram from the collector, the Director of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation will award signal letters to the vessel and through the usual channels promptly advise the State Department. The State Department will then cable at the expense of the parties concerned instructions and data for the issue of the provisional register by the American Consul at the port where the vessel is stated to be.

5. Yachts entitled to documents.—Yachts measuring 16 gross tons or over, used exclusively as pleasure vessel, otherwise entitled to be documented, may be licensed, and if so licensed, may proceed from port to port within the United States without entering or clearing, and to foreign ports without clearing at the customhouse. Such yachts must enter at the customhouse on arrival from foreign ports.

6. Vessels exempt from documentation.[4]

7. Vessels required to have certificate of award of number.[5]

8. Marine documents, kinds of.[6]—(a) Marine documents consist of certificates of registry, enrollments, and licenses.

(b) Marine documents are of two descriptions—permanent, granted to vessels at their home ports, and temporary, granted to vessels at ports other than their home ports.

(c) These two classes of documents should be distinguished by plainly writing the word "permanent" or "temporary" in the margin immediately above the number, and the same rule should be observed in respect to the copies and records.

(d) Registers and enrollments are valid for any length of time until a contingency arises requiring their surrender. (See art. 48, C. R. 1937.) Licenses are valid for one year only, but may be renewed or changed at any time during the year for which they are granted. Care should be taken that only one license, and for one employment, be granted to a vessel for the same time.[7]

(e) No enrollment and license or license shall be considered in force longer than the vessel to which it is granted is owned as stated therein, nor shall it be valid if the description of the vessel is changed, or if the vessel engages in any business or employment other than that for which the document was granted.

9. Marine documents, execution of.[8]—(a) All marine documents must be signed and sealed by the collector before being issued.

(b) The certificate of registry must bear the seal of the Department of Commerce, attested by the Director of Marine Inspection and Navigation.

10. New marine documents.—When a new marine document is issued in lieu of one surrendered, such new document must in all cases cite the previous document by number, date, and port of issue, carry any notation of the authority for documentation or of the existence of unsatisfied preferred mortgages as appearing on the surrendered document, and give the cause of surrender of the old document. A certificate of the builder or a surveyor's certificate of measurement will not be required unless some change of tonnage has taken place since the time of the previous documentation. (See arts. 48, 53, and 55, C. R. 1937.)

11. Marine documents to include dimensions and tonnage.[9]—The marine document of every vessel shall express her length, breadth, and depth, and the height under the third or spar deck; the number of decks and masts; the tonnage under the tonnage deck; that on the between decks above the tonnage deck; that of the poop or other inclosed spaces above the deck, each separately; it shall state separately the deductions made from the gross tonnage, and shall also state the net or register tonnage.

12. Registers.[10]—(a) Certificates of registry are requisite for vessels of the United States engaged in the foreign trade, and are permitted to such vessels engaged in the domestic trade, under the requirement of entering at the customhouse at every port of arrival. Blank forms (commerce Form 1265) attested under the seal of the Department of Commerce, will be furnished to collectors. (See art. 56, C. R. 1937.)

(b) Foreign-built vessels, though documented, may not engage in the fisheries. (See art. 14, class 9, C. R. 1937.)

13. Enrollment and license, coasting trade and fisheries.[11]—(a) Vessels of 20 tons net or more enrolled and having a license in force, or, if of 5 tons net and less than 20 tons net, not enrolled but having a license in force, may be employed in the coasting trade and fisheries.

(b) Vessels engaged exclusively in the "cod fishery" should be so licensed. Vessels engaged in taking fish of any other description should be licensed for the "mackerel fishery." Vessels engaged in the whale fishery should be licensed for the "whale fishery." Vessels which engage in both the coasting trade and the fishery (other than the "whale fishery") may be licensed for the "coasting trade and mackerel fishery." Vessels engaged in taking out fishing parties are not fishing vessels and should be licensed for the coasting trade unless they intend to proceed to foreign ports, in which case a certificate of registry is required (art. 26, C. R. 1937). See article 70, C. R. 1937 for vessels on the Great Lakes.

(c) Vessels enrolled and licensed may engage in trade with the Canal Zone.

14. Builder's certificates.[12]—(a) In order to document a vessel of class 1 not before documented it is necessary to produce a certificate (commerce Form 1261) from the builder under whose direction the vessel was built that she was so built, stating the place, time, person or persons for whom built, number of decks and masts, length, breadth, depth, and tonnage, and such other particulars as are usually descriptive of the identity of a vessel. This certificate will be sufficient to authorize the removal of a new vessel, if in ballast only, from the district where she may have been built to another district in the same or an adjoining State where the owner or owners actually reside. The collector may require the production of a certificate of acknowledgment by the builder before an officer having a seal.

(b) Any certificate in which the requirements of the law are fairly and fully complied with may be accepted; and where from any cause it is found impracticable to obtain the certificate of the builder, other competent evidence establishing the particulars and facts required to be certified by him may be accepted, with the approval of the Director of Marine Inspection and Navigation.

(c) The place of build is where the hull was built. The time of build is the year of completion. Both must appear in all marine documents.

15. Measurement of vessel.[13]

16. Official number and signal letters.—(a) Every documented vessel is required by law to have an official number awarded by the Director, Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation. Application therefor shall be made on commerce Form 1320 by the owner himself or by some person duly authorized by him to act in his behalf, through the collector of customs. In the case of corporate ownership, the application should be signed in the corporate name, by a corporate officer or authorized agent. In case of a firm or partnership, the firm or partnership name must be signed either by a member of the firm or one of the partners, or by a duly authorized agent. In the case of individual ownership by two or more persons, one of the owners may sign in his own name as "managing owner" provided there is filed with the collector a written authorization for him to act in that capacity, signed by all the owners. In addition to the information therein required, the application must state the name of the former owner, if any; and that the bill of sale has been examined by the collector of customs, or has not, as the case may be.

(b) All seagoing vessels of 100 tons or over, in addition to an official number, may have signal letters awarded. Signal letters may also be awarded to seagoing vessels of less than 100 tons where special application is made therefor through the collector.

17. Marking of official number and net tonnage.[14]

18. Evidence as to marking official number, etc.—(a) Marine documents will not be issued until proper evidence is produced that the official number and net tonnage have been marked upon the vessel's main beam, and that her name has been marked upon both sides of her bow and her name and hailing port have been marked upon her stern as required by law (commerce Form 1322).

(b) If the vessel is out of the district, the owner may make affidavit as to the above facts; but as soon as she arrives at a place within the home district, where the inspection certificate of a customs officer can be procured, such certificate must be required by the collector of customs of the district.

(c) If the vessel is at a place in the home district which is not readily accessible to a customs officer, an affidavit that the law has been complied with may be submitted by the owner or agent.

19. Marking of draft of registered vessels.[15]—The draft of every registered vessel shall be marked upon the stem and sternpost, in English feet or decimeters, in either Arabic or Roman numerals. The bottom of each numeral shall indicate the draft to that line. If all the figures indicating the draft of registered vessels can not be placed on the sternpost they may be continued upward on the adjacent part.

20. Name and home port on documented vessel.[16]—(a) The name of every documented vessel (yachts excepted) shall be marked in full upon each bow and upon the stern, and the home port shall also be marked in full upon the stern. These names shall be painted, or carved, or gilded, in Roman letters in a light color on a dark ground, or in a dark color on a light ground, and must be distinctly visible. The letters used shall not be less than 4 inches high. If any vessel of the United States is found without these names so marked, the owner or owners shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each name omitted. Every steam vessel of the United States must, in addition, have her name conspicuously placed in distinct, plain letters of not less than 6 inches high on each outer side of the pilot house, if it has such, and in case the vessel has side wheels, also on the outer side of each wheel house, under the same penalty as provided above.

(b) On vessels called "double-enders" the letters prescribed by the statute may be placed on the parts corresponding to the bow and stern, and on vessels with sterns not affording sufficient space for letters they may be placed on the adjacent parts, in both cases so as to conform to the law as closely as possible, and so that the hailing port shall be marked at one end of the vessel.

(c) Scows, barges, or other vessels "scow-built" or with square bow may be marked on the bow instead of the side where such marking would be speedily obliterated by chafing against other vessels, spiles, or docks.

(d) The hailing port or port to be marked on the stern may be either the port where the vessel is permanently documented, or the place in the same district where the vessel was built or where one or more of the owners reside.

(e) Documented yachts are required to have their names and hailing ports placed on some conspicuous part of their hulls.

21. Home port, definition, change of: [17] [18]—(a) A vessel's home port is that port of documentation which has been fixed and determined by the owner with the approval of the Director of Marine Inspection and Navigation. It is also the port at which a vessel's permanent documents issue but it must appear in all documents whether they are permanent or temporary.

(b) It is desirable that the home port be at or nearest the place where the vessel business of the owner is conducted but it need not be in the State where the owning company is incorporated.

(c) If the owner desires to have the home port elsewhere, an application accompanied by a detailed statement setting forth the reasons therefor shall be forwarded to the Director of Marine Inspection and Navigation for his approval.

22. Citizen ownership of corporation, partnership, or association.[19]—(a) No corporation, partnership, or association shall be deemed a citizen of the United States, within the meaning of the Shipping Act, 1916 and the Merchant Marine Act, 1920, unless the controlling interest therein is owned by citizens of the United States, and, in the case of a corporation, unless its president and managing directors are citizens of the United States and the corporation itself is organized under the laws of the United States or of a State, Territory, District, or possession thereof. The controlling interest in a corporation shall not be deemed to be owned by citizens of the United States if the title to a majority of the stock thereof is not vested in such citizens free from any trust or fiduciary obligation in favor of any person not a citizen of the United States; or if the majority of the voting power in such corporation is not vested in citizens of the United States; or if through any contract or understanding it is so arranged that the majority of the voting power may be exercised, directly or indirectly, in behalf of any person who is not a citizen of the United States; or if by any other means control of the corporation is conferred upon or permitted to be exercised by any person who is not a citizen of the United States.

(b) In the case of a vessel operating in the coastwise trade, the amount of interest in the corporation, association, or partnership required to be owned by citizens of the United States shall be 75 per cent.

(c) In the case of corporate ownership the applicant for documents will furnish a satisfactory certificate as to the organization of the corporation and the names of its president and managing directors. The citizenship of the president and managing directors must be established to the satisfaction of the collector.

(d) The proofs submitted to establish the above facts, as well as the proofs of the percentage of stock held by citizens free from foreign control should be filed in the office of the collector.

23. Evidence of citizenship of owners and officers.[20]—In addition to the oaths of citizenship specified, a collector of customs may require the production of such further evidence as may be necessary to satisfy him that the person is a citizen of the United States and a proper notation of the evidence produced should be made on the papers retained in the collector's office, such as the number, date, and office of issue of an officer's license or a seaman's passport or a citizen's passport, or the same data as to birth certificate or a naturalization certificate, or a continuous discharge book, or certificate of identification.

24. Forms of oath.[21]—The oath of ownership required for the registry of any vessel or for the enrollment and license or license of a vessel shall be, as near as possible, in the following forms:

Oath of Owner

(a) If the vessel be of 20 tons or more, the owner's oath for license shall be as follows (commerce Forms 1262, 1270):

(c) If the vessel is owned by an incorporated company, the ownership oath for the foreign trade shall be as shown on commerce Form 1263 and for the coasting trade as shown on commerce Form 1263 b.

(d) If the vessel be of the fourth class, the following clause must be substituted for the portion in brackets marked *;

On the _____ day of _____, 19__, captured in war by a citizen (or citizens) of the United States and lawfully condemned as a prize by a decree, sentence, or judgment of the _____ court of _____, an authenticated copy of which I now produce.

(c) If of the fifth class, the following:

(g) If of the seventh class, the following:

(h) In all cases where there is more than one owner the name and place of residence of each owner and the proportion owned by him must be inserted in the appropriate space.

Oath of Master

(i) The oath of master required for the registry of a vessel shall be as follows:

I, _____, master of the _____ called the _____, official number _____ do swear that I am a citizen of the United States, having been * [born within the limits thereof].

(j) For the enrollment and license of a vessel the master's oath shall be as follows:

I, _____, master of the _____ called the _____, official number _____ do swear that I am a citizen of the United States, having been * [born within the limits thereof], and that the license bearing date _____, granted to said vessel by the collector of customs for the district of _____, shall not be used for any other vessel, or for any other employment than (the coasting trade, the fisheries, or for pleasure, as the case may be), or in any trade or business whereby the revenue of the United States may be defrauded. So help me God.

(k) If the master is not a native of the United States a statement as to how he became a citizen must be inserted in lieu of the clause in brackets marked * as follows:

Naturalized in the State of _____, on the _____ day of _____, _____, by virtue of decree or order of the _____ court of _____, and the oath of allegiance according to law.

(l) For the issue or renewal of a license to a vessel of less than 20 net tons the master's oath shall be as follows:

I, _____, master of the vessel described in these proceedings for license, swear that I am a citizen of the United States of America, and that the license bearing number _____, and date _____, for carrying on the (coasting trade, or fisheries, or for pleasure, as the case may be), granted for the said vessel by the collector of customs for the district of _____, shall not be used for any other vessel, or for any other employment than the coasting trade, the fisheries, or for pleasure, as the case may be, or in any trade or business whereby the revenue of the United States may be defrauded. So help me God.

25. Owner's oath before collectors.[22]—(a) Previous to the granting of a register, license, or enrollment and license to any vessel, an owner's oath must be taken before the collector on one of the forms set forth in article 39, C. R. 1937.

(b) If the vessel be owned by one individual, the oath must be taken by him or by his duly authorized agent.

(c) If the vessel be owned by several individuals or a firm or unincorporated company, the oath may be taken by one of the owners, who must specify the names, places of abode, and proportions of the vessels owned by each of the others and also certify to their citizenship.

(d) If the vessel be owned by a corporation, the oath may be taken by the president, secretary, or any other officer or agent thereof, duly authorized in writing, attested by the corporate seal, to act in its behalf.

(e) On the death, removal, or resignation of the president or the secretary of an incorporated company owning any vessel and whose name appears on the documents of such vessel, a new document must be obtained.

(f) If the master of the vessel be within the district where the registry is to be issued, he must take oath or make affirmation as to his citizenship. In all cases of enrollment and license or license the master's oath must be taken.

(g) In all cases where there is more than one owner, the proportions owned by each must be stated in the oath.

(h) If any of the matters of fact contained in the oath or affirmation be false, within the knowledge of the party so swearing, there shall be a forfeiture of the vessel, her tackle, furniture, and apparel, or the value thereof to be recovered, with costs of suit, from the person taking such oath or making such affirmation; but if that portion relating to the citizenship of the master prove false, the master or other person in charge so falsely swearing or affirming shall himself forfeit the sum of $1,000.

26. Owner's oath before State officer.[23]—In the case of an application for enrollment and license or license, the requirement that the owner's oath be taken before the collector may be waived, and the oath may be taken before an officer authorized by the laws of the State to administer oaths generally and may be mailed to the collector.

27. Master's oath on licensing vessel.[24]—(a) Previous to the granting or renewing of the license of any vessel the master shall swear that he is a citizen of the United States, and that such license shall not be used for any other vessel or for any other employment than that for which it was specially granted, or in any trade or business whereby the revenue of the United States may be defrauded.

(b) This oath may be taken before any officer authorized by the laws of the State to administer oaths, and may be mailed to the collector, together with the marine document, whereupon action may be taken as if the oath had been administered by the collector.

28. Change of master.[25]—(a) When the master of any documented vessel, except a licensed ferryboat, is changed, the owner or the new master must report the change to the collector at the port where the same shall take place, or where the vessel shall first arrive thereafter, and produce to him the documents and take oath (commerce Form 1311) that the new master is a citizen of the United States, stating whether he is a native or is naturalized, and, if naturalized, how he became a citizen. The collector will then indorse upon the document the name of the new master.

(b) The oath required to be taken by the new master previous to the indorsement of the change of master on an enrollment or license may be taken before any officer authorized by the laws of the State to administer oaths, and may be mailed to the collector, together with the marine document, whereupon action may be taken as if the oath had been administered by the collector.

(c) If the change of master be reported to the collector or deputy collector at a port other than that at which the document was granted, the officer making the indorsement must transmit a notice (commerce Form 1420) thereof to the officer by whom the document was granted, and the latter shall make the change in his record. If the change of master be not reported, or if the oath aforesaid be not taken, the document will be void, and the master subject to a fine of $100 for a registered vessel and $10 for a licensed vessel.

(d) Any person or body corporate having more than one-half ownership of any vessel shall have the same power to remove a master, who is also part owner of such vessel, as such majority owners have to remove a master not an owner. This does not apply where there is a valid written agreement subsisting by virtue of which such master would be entitled to possession.

29. Issue and record of marine documents.[26]—(a) The provisions of the law having been complied with, the collector shall issue a register, enrollment and license, or license to the vessel. Care should be taken to insure the insertion of the required notation on documents issued to foreign-built vessels. An exact copy of each document issued shall be placed in a permanent record kept for that purpose and a proper index made thereof. This record shall be kept open to public inspection during office hours.

(b) Copies of all marine documents issued shall be transmitted to the Director of Marine Inspection and Navigation each day except as provided in paragraph (c). Notation of the Specific address of the owner or managing owner shall be made on the transmitted copies.

(c) When a vessel is documented at a port other than a headquarters port, a duplicate of the marine document issued, together with the surrendered original, if there is one, must be sent by the deputy collector to the collector at the headquarters port for review and transmittal to the Director of Marine Inspection and Navigation. Should the headquarters port desire additional duplicates of vessels' documents, deputy collectors may be so instructed.

(d) When a document is surrendered for any cause, or when proof of loss, destruction, or mislaying is received, or the document has ceased to be valid, an indorsement accurately stating the place, date, and cause of surrender shall be made on the surrendered document or on the copy if the original has been lost, citing the new document issued, if any. The place and date of surrender should be the place and date of issue of the new document.

(e) When a vessel is lost, abandoned as unfit for service, sold to an alien, or sold to the United States, an indorsement will be made in like manner, stating the date, place, and circumstance of such disaster, abandonment, or sale.

(f) Any alteration or change made in the original document after issue shall be noted on the retained copy.

[26] For statutory provisions, see R. S. 4164 as amended, 46 U. S. C. 34; R. S. 4329 as amended, 46 U. S. C. 271.

(g) When a document is surrendered, notation of the fact, cause, date, etc., of such surrender shall be made in appropriate records at the port of issue.

(h) When a new document is issued, an indorsement shall be made on the record of the former document showing the kind and number of the new document, place and date of the new document, and cause for its issue.

(i) At the time application is made for a new document the former document of the vessel must be surrendered to the collector to whom the application for such new document is made. And if the former document is not surrendered, unless it has been lost, destroyed, or unintentionally mislaid, and an oath thereof has been taken, the owner of the vessel becomes liable to a penalty of $500.

(j) On proof that any vessel has been sold or transferred by process of law and that her marine document is retained by the former owners the collector of the district to which the vessel belongs may, with the approval of the Director of Marine Inspection and Navigation, grant a new document, but the owners shall not be required to produce and surrender the canceled document. The issue of the new document does not remove the liability of the holders for failure to surrender the former one.

30. Permanent enrollment or license or renewal thereof to a vessel absent from home port.[27]—(a) Permanent enrollment and license or license may be issued to any vessel absent from her home port upon application to the collector or deputy collector thereof, through the office of the collector or deputy collector at the port at which the vessel may be, where the master's oath should first be taken.[28]

(b) Whenever it shall become necessary or desirable for any vessel of the United States, in a port other than her home port, to procure a permanent enrollment and license or license, the same proceedings may be had at the port at which the vessel then is as are required by law at the vessel's home port, except the issuance of the document.

(c) The officer before whom such proceedings are taken shall certify the same (commerce Form 1301) to the collector or deputy collector at the vessel's home port, who shall duly document the vessel in the same form as if the application had originally been made in his office, and either deliver the document or forward it by mail to the officer who certified to him the preliminary proceedings, who shall in such case deliver the document to the owner or master of the vessel.

(d) This regulation is not to be construed to change existing forms, except in so far as to enable owners to procure permanent enrollments or licenses without returning their vessels to their home ports.

31. Renewal of license.[29]—(a) A license granted to any vessel must be presented to the collector of the district in which the vessel may then be, within 3 days after its expiration, or, if the vessel be at sea at that time, within 3 days from her first arrival within a district. If the master fails to deliver the license, as herein required, he shall be liable to a penalty of $10, which shall not be mitigated.

(b) Licenses may be renewed or changed at any time during the year for which they are granted, care being taken that only one license, and for one employment, be granted to a vessel for the same time. However, a license or its renewal may be issued for the "coasting trade and mackerel fishery."

(c) A permanent or temporary license which has been renewed by indorsement need not be renewed again at any port until the expiration of the statutory period after the date of the latest renewal; but a temporary license must be surrendered within 10 days after the arrival of a vessel at her home port. The statutory period is 1 year and 3 days, but if a vessel is absent when the period expires, then within 3 days after her first arrival in any district she must renew her license.

(d) When a renewal is indorsed upon a license, a notice (Commerce Form 1302) must be sent to the port of issue and the home port.

32. Surrender of permanent documents.[30]—Marine documents must be surrendered when a vessel is sold in whole or in part; when a vessel has been lost or taken by an enemy, or otherwise prevented from returning to the port to which she belongs; when a vessel is burnt or broken up; when a vessel is altered in form or burden by being lengthened, shortened, or built upon, or changed from one denomination to another by the method of rigging or fitting; when a vessel changes from one employment to another; when a vessel changes her name; when the president or the secretary of an incorporated company owning a vessel and whose name appears on the documents of such vessel dies, is removed, or resigns therefrom; when a vessel arrives at her home port while under temporary documents; when the managing owner of a vessel changes residence from one port to another, either within or without the same customs district, provided there has been no change in ownership of the vessel; and when the vessel is exempt from documentation under the act of April 18, 1874. (18 Stat. 51, 46 U. S. C. 336.) (See section 6.) The approval of the United States Maritime Commission of the surrender of the document of a vessel covered by a preferred mortgage must be obtained except in cases stated in section 37 (f).

33. Surrender of temporary documents.[31]—(a) A new document granted by the collector at a port other than the one where the vessel belongs shall be temporary.[32]

(b) Temporary documents are to be surrendered to the collector at the port where the vessel belongs within 10 days after her arrival and in all cases in which the surrender of permanent documents is required.

(c) By the term "arrival" is to be understood the voluntary arrival of the vessel at her home port, to which she was destined in the regular course of her employment.

(d) If the master neglects to surrender such temporary document within 10 days he shall forfeit $100, and the document shall become null and void.

(e) The approval of the United States Maritime Commission of the surrender of the document of a vessel covered by a preferred mortgage must be obtained except in cases stated in section 37 (f).

34. Revision of tonnage.[33]

35. Rebuilt vessels.[34]—(a) A rebuilt vessel must retain her original name and official number, and her marine documents should give the date and place of original building. The date and place of rebuilding should be noted in the appropriate place in the document. A vessel is rebuilt, if any considerable part of the hull of an old vessel in its intact condition, without being broken up, is built upon. It is new if none of the old timber is left undisturbed or if all of the timber used, whether old or new, is taken up, refitted and reset. It is of little consequence how much of the old timber is reused.

(b) Upon affidavit by a reputable shipbuilder of the United States that an unrigged wooden vessel of the United States, except those admitted under section 5, Panama Canal Act, as amended (46 U. S. C. 11), has been rebuilt, giving the date and place of such rebuilding, that it is sound and free from rotten or doted wood in structural parts, is properly fastened and calked, and is in strength and seaworthiness as good as new, the Director of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation shall include in the publication, Merchant Vessels of the United States, a notation to that effect.

(c) When application is made to the collector of customs to note the place and date of rebuild of a vessel on the marine document, the applicant should submit specifications of the rebuild, in affidavit form, through the collector to the Director of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation who will rule upon all questions regarding the status of the reconstructed vessel with respect to whether it is to be considered a "rebuilt" or "new" vessel.

36. Change of build or rig.[35]—(a) Whenever a documented vessel is altered in form or burden, by being lengthened, shortened, or built upon, or changed from one denomination to another, by the method of rigging or fitting, the vessel shall be documented anew; otherwise she shall cease to be deemed a vessel of the United States.

(b) When there is a change in the manner or method of propulsion of a vessel,[36] as from steam engine to gas engine, from gas engine to oil engine, or vice versa, or in any other way which may change the description, a new marine document should be issued. The new marine document may have assigned as the cause for its issue, "Engine changed from gas to oil", or as the case may be. An indorsement of a similar tenor should be placed on the surrendered document. Collectors are referred to "Explanations and abbreviations" in "Merchant Vessels of the United States" for the various kinds of engines.

37. Exchange of documents.[37]—(a) Any enrolled and licensed or licensed vessel may be registered, and any registered vessel may be enrolled and licensed or licensed upon the surrender of her documents to the collector of any district; but neither enrollment nor license shall be granted to a vessel having on board merchandise brought from a foreign port until it be wholly unladen and the duties paid or secured.

(b) No such documented vessel, shall receive a license, or enrollment and license, or renewal until the collector to whom application is made is satisfied, from the oath of the owner or master, that all equipments purchased and repairs made abroad within the year immediately preceding such application have been duly accounted for, and the duties accruing thereon duly paid.

(c) When the vessel is at any other port than the one to which she belongs, the collector at such port shall make the exchange on the application of the master and upon his taking oath that the property remains as expressed in the document to be surrendered. A new document thus granted shall be temporary, and shall, within 10 days after the arrival of the vessel at the port to which she belongs, be delivered to the collector thereof for cancellation and for the issue of a permanent document.

(d) If the master neglects to deliver such temporary document within 10 days, he shall be liable to a penalty of $100.

(e) Forfeiture of vessel and cargo [a] is imposed by law in case a vessel, enrolled or licensed for the coasting trade by sea, proceeds on a foreign voyage without first surrendering her enrollment and license and taking out a register.

(f) The requirement of the Merchant Marine Act, 1920, section 30 (o) (a) (U. S. C. title 46, sec. 961 (a)), that the documents of a vessel covered by a preferred mortgage may not be surrendered without the approval of the United States Maritime Commission and the mortgagee, does not refer to renewals of licenses or changes of documents incident to change of trade where the ownership and home port remain the same.

38. Report of casualty to vessel.[38]—(a) Whenever a vessel of the United States has sustained or caused any accident involving serious injury or loss of life, or any substantial loss of property, or has received any material damage affecting her seaworthiness or her efficiency, the managing owner, agent, or master of such vessel shall, within 5 days after the happening, or as soon thereafter as possible, send to the collector of customs of the district wherein such vessel belongs, or of that within which such accident or damage occurred, a report thereof (Coast Guard Form 2692), signed by such owner, agent, or master stating the name and official number of the vessel, the port to which she belongs, the place where she was, the nature and probable occasion of the casualty, the number and names of those lost, and the estimated amount of loss or damage to the vessel or cargo; and shall furnish, upon the request of either of such collectors of customs, such other information concerning the vessel, her cargo, and the casualty as may be called for; and if he neglects or refuses to comply with the foregoing requirements, after a reasonable time, he shall incur a penalty of $100.

(b) Whenever the managing owner or agent of any vessel of the United States has reason, owing to the nonappearance of such vessel, or to any other circumstances, to apprehend that such vessel has been lost, he shall, as soon as convenient, send notice, in writing, to the collector of customs of the port to which the vessel belonged, of such loss, and the probable occasion thereof, stating the name and official number of the vessel, and the names of all persons on board, so far as the same can be ascertained, and shall, if possible, furnish such additional information as the collector at such port may request; and if he neglects to comply with the above requirements within a reasonable time, he shall incur a penalty of $100.

(c) It shall be the duty of the collectors of customs to transmit immediately to the Commandant of the Coast Guard and to the Director of Marine Inspection and Navigation such reports and information as they may receive under the provisions of the two preceding paragraphs, and they shall also report to the Director of Marine Inspection and Navigation any neglect or refusal on the part of the managing owner, agent, or master of any vessel of the United States to comply with the requirements thereof.

(d) Loss of property involved in any accident sustained or caused by a vessel of the United States, amounting to less than $300,[40] will not be reported as "substantial" within the meaning of this section, and reports of such casualties, unless involving the loss of life or serious injury to any person, will not be required, except in cases of stranding, reports of which are desirable to aid in determining and locating points of danger to navigation. Reports will, however, be required in all cases of the total loss of vessels, although the amount involved may be less than $300.

(e) In cases of collisions, reports will be required from both of the colliding vessels where the damage or loss of property of the two together amounts to $300, notwithstanding one of the vessels may have suffered little or no loss.

(f) Whenever there is a marine casualty or accident, immediate notice thereof by telegram or radiogram or equally prompt means of communication shall be given by either master, owner, charterer or agent of the vessel or vessels involved, to the nearest local office of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, Department of Commerce, or to the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C. Such notice shall furnish the names of the vessel or vessels involved, the owner, agent, the nature or cause of the casualty or accident, the locality, the nature of injuries and damage done to property, and such notices shall be in addition to any other notice required by law. An officer or employee of the United States or any other person having material knowledge or information concerning a marine casualty or accident shall immediately bring such information to the attention of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation.

39. Loss of marine document.[41]—Whenever the marine document of any vessel is lost, destroyed, mislaid, or withheld from the owner, and the master or other person having the charge or command thereof makes oath (commerce Form 1305) to such fact, the collector of the port where the vessel first arrives after such loss shall issue a new document in lieu thereof, reciting that it was issued in place of the one lost or destroyed. A document is held to be lost when it is wrongfully withheld from the possession of the owner.[42]

40. Sale of vessel.[43]—(a) When a vessel once registered, enrolled and licensed, or licensed in pursuance of law shall, in whole or in part, be sold or transferred to a citizen of the United States, such vessel must be documented anew; otherwise she ceases to be deemed a vessel of the United States.

(b) A proper bill of sale having been produced to the collector, the former document surrendered, and the regulations governing the issue of marine documents complied with in other respects, a new document may issue.

(c) In order that a vessel of the United States may be sold to an American corporation, partnership or association without the consent of the United States Maritime Commission, a controlling interest (51 per cent) in said corporation, partnership, or association must be owned by citizens of the United States and if the vessel is to engage in the coastwise trade 75 per cent interest must be owned by citizens of the United States as defined in section 2 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended by section 38 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1920.

41. Sale outside of home port.[44]—(a) A temporary marine document may be granted to any vessel entitled to be documented which becomes the property of a citizen of the United States while at a port other than the one where the new owner usually resides. The temporary marine document must be surrendered within 10 days after the arrival of the vessel within the district to which she belongs or the owner and the master shall severally be liable to a penalty of $100.

(b) Should the purchase of a vessel as herein provided be made by the agent of a citizen who resides more than 50 miles from the port at which such purchase is made, the oath of ownership shall be modified (commerce Form 1264) so as to express the fact of such agency.

(c) When a vessel changes ownership while away from her designated home port, a temporary document may be issued expressing the new ownership. The bill of sale on which the temporary document is based may be recorded, if the collector so desires, but no fee should be collected.

(d) The bill of sale, together with a duplicate of the temporary marine document, must be mailed by the issuing collector to the collector at the new home port. The bill of sale, however, should not be recorded at the new home port until there has been furnished to the collector a certified copy of the record of the vessel at the former port of documentation (commerce Form 1331) as provided for by the Ship Mortgage Act, 1920 (U. S. Code, title 46, sec. 926 (c).) The recording fees should be collected at the new home port.

42. Sale abroad.[45]—A documented vessel which has been sold or transferred, in whole or in part, to a citizen of the United States while such vessel is without the limits of the United States will, on her first arrival thereafter, be entitled to all the privileges of a vessel of the United States if a new document is obtained within three days after the time entry of the vessel is required at the port of first arrival.

43. Sale or charter to an alien.[46]—(a) It shall be unlawful to sell, transfer, or mortgage, or, except under regulations prescribed by the United States Maritime Commission, to charter, any vessel purchased from the board or documented under the laws of the United States to any person not a citizen of the United States, as defined by the Merchant Marine Act, 1920, (41 Stat. 1008, 46 U. S. C. 802), or to put the same under a foreign registry or flag, without first obtaining the Commission's approval.

(b) On the sale or transfer, in whole or in part, of a documented vessel to a subject of a foreign country, even in trust or confidence, the document must be delivered if the vessel is within a district of the United States, to the collector within seven days after such purchase or transfer. But if such sale or transfer happens while the vessel is in a foreign port or place, or at sea, the master or person having the charge or command thereof shall, within 8 days after his arrival, within any district of the United States, deliver the document to the collector of such district. Any master or owner violating the provisions of this article shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding $500, and the document shall be henceforth void; and if such sale or transfer is not so made known, the vessel, together with her tackle, apparel, and furniture, shall be subject to forfeiture. This forfeiture, however, does not attach to any share of such vessel owned by a citizen of the United States who was ignorant of the sale or transfer.

(c) The United States Maritime Commission has by resolution prescribed that a documented vessel may be chartered to an alien for a period not to exceed 12 months, or where the probable duration of the voyage or voyages will not exceed 12 months, without further action on its part, but its consent must be obtained for the charter of all vessels which have been purchased or chartered from it, or in aid of whose construction or improvement a loan was made by it. All vessels while under charter to aliens must have citizens of the United States as officers.

44. Preferred mortgages, recording and indorsing.[47]—(a) In case a mortgage is given to cover documented vessels and vessels in the process of construction and it is desired that the vessels in process of construction shall be covered by a preferred mortgage upon documentation, it is suggested that a supplemental mortgage be given at the time of documentation, the indorsement required by the Merchant Marine Act of 1920, section 30, sub-section D, as amended (49 Stat. 424, 46 U. S. C., Sup. III, 922) to be made at such time. Such mortgages should provide for the separate discharge of the uncompleted vessel at any time prior to its documentation and the recording of the supplemental mortgage hereinabove referred to.

(b) When a preferred mortgage is presented for record the collector shall request two identical copies of such mortgage, and he shall carefully compare these copies with the original before certification. (Merchant Marine Act of 1920, section 30, sub-section E, 41 Stat. 1001, 46 U. S. C. 923).

(c) When a mortgage has been recorded in the customhouse the original is to be returned to the mortgagee and his receipt taken therefor, and two certified copies delivered to the mortgagor.

[42] All questions of what constitutes a wrongful withholding must be referred to the Director of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation for determination.

[47] For statutory provisions, see Merchant Marine Act of 1920, section 30, sub-section C, 41 Stat. 1000, 46 U. S. C. 921 (Recording of Mortgages); Ibid., sub-section M, 41 Stat. 1004, 46 U. S. C. 953 (Preferred Maritime Liens); Ibid., sub-section H, 41 Stat. 1002, 46 U. S. C. 926 (Conditions Precedent to Record); Ibid., sub-section G, 41 Stat. 1002, 46 U. S. C. 925 (Discharge of Lien); Ibid., sub-section F, 41 Stat. 1002, 46 U. S. C. 924 (Prior and Subsequent Maritime Liens on Mortgaged Vessel); Ibid., sub-section O (a), 41 Stat. 1004, 46 U. S. C. 961 (a) (Surrender of Documents); 49 Stat. 1987, 46 U. S. C., Sup. III, 1114.

[48] In no event shall bills of sale, mortgages, etc. be accepted for record prior to the receipt of the collector of the approval of the designated home port.

(d) When a preferred mortgage is offered for record it is not incumbent on the collector at the recording office to ascertain whether there is any existing incumbrance at the vessel's present or previous home port. This information should be included in the affidavit provided for by the Merchant Marine Act of 1920, section 30, sub-section D.

(e) The law does not prohibit the placing of an additional mortgage, preferred or otherwise, on a vessel which already is covered by a preferred or non-preferred mortgage.

(f) The affidavit required in case of preferred mortgages by the Merchant Marine Act of 1920, section 30, sub-section D, is to be made by the mortgagor and is to be acknowledged before a notary public or other officer authorized by a law of the United States or of a State, Territory, District or possession thereof to take acknowledgment of deeds.

(g) The preferred mortgage indorsement provided by the Merchant Marine Act of 1920, section 30, sub-section D, shall be made on the document by the collector at the permanent home port of the vessel unless she is in another port, in which case the collector of the home port of the vessel shall direct on the request of the mortgagee such indorsement to be made at the port where the vessel may be.

(h) The collector shall enter on his mortgage record the day, hour, and minute that (a) the indorsement was made on the vessel's document, (b) the mortgage was received for recording, and (c) the indorsement was recorded.

(i) The collector shall require the claim of lien on a vessel covered by a preferred mortgage (Merchant Marine Act of 1920, section 30, sub-section G (a), 41 Stat. 1002, 46 U. S. C. 925) to be in the form of an affidavit which shall be firmly attached to the preferred mortgage record and property indexed.

(j) When the mortgagor presents for record a certificate of discharge of mortgage, such certificate shall be in the nature of a satisfaction of mortgage, similar to that now filed on commerce Form 1363.

(k) (1) In case of a change of home port the collector at the previous home port of the vessel shall furnish the record of title required by the Merchant Marine Act of 1920, section 30, sub-section H (c) (41 Stat. 1002, 46 U. S. C. 926), such record of title to include, in addition to the other data required, any claims of liens upon the vessel filed. For example, if a vessel is permanently documented at New York and while she is at Portland there is a change of ownership requiring her to be redocumented with home port at Seattle, and a new preferred mortgage is placed on her at Portland, the collector at Seattle shall instruct the collector at Portland to indorse the documents, who will forward such mortgage after such indorsement to the collector at Seattle, where such mortgage, together with the bill of sale, is to be recorded together with a certified copy of the record of title of the vessel furnished by the collector at New York to the collector at Seattle.

(2) Incident to the change of the home port of a vessel, the old document must be surrendered and a new one issued showing the new home port. The approval of the United States Maritime Commission of the surrender of the document of a vessel covered by a preferred mortgage must be obtained prior to surrender of the old document.

(l) When a collector forwards to another port a certified copy of the record of a vessel because of change of home port, he shall permit no further records or liens to be recorded in his office in connection with that vessel, it being necessary that such records and liens be recorded in the new home port.

(m) The provisions of the Merchant Marine Act of 1920, section 30, sub-section H (c), apply in the case of all documented vessels where there is a change of home port and where bills of sale, conveyances, or mortgages are to be recorded.

(n) In case of change of ownership without change of port of documentation, the copy of the record is not required.

(o) Where there is a change of home port of a vessel without a change of title and no bills of sale, conveyances, or mortgages are at that time to be recorded, the certified copy of the record should be filed at the new home port.

(p) When a vessel is sold under order of a court to a private owner, the evidence of ownership by the private owner shall not be recorded at a new home port until the certified copy of the record from the previous home port has been furnished. The same procedure is to be followed where a vessel is sold by a department of the Federal Government to a private owner, provided that while Government-owned the vessel was not documented but was documented prior to being owned by the Government.

(q) When a vessel covered by a preferred mortgage is sold at a United States marshal's sale under the provision of section 961 (c), United States Code, title 46, without intervention on the part of the mortgagee, the vessel is sold free and clear of the preferred mortgage and may be redocumented without indorsement. The court shall however, upon the request of the mortgagee, the libellant, or any intervenor, require the purchaser at such sale to give and the mortgagee to accept a new mortgage of the vessel for the remainder of the term of the original mortgage. The conditions of such new mortgage shall be the same, so far as practicable, as those of the original mortgage and shall be subject to the approval of the court.

(r) When a preferred mortgage is assigned, a notation of the assignment of the mortgage shall be written across the indorsement of the preferred mortgage on the vessel's document.

(s) (1) Assignments of preferred mortgages should be handled in the same way as the original preferred mortgage; namely, by requiring an original and three copies, and after recordation, retaining the file copy for the records of the collector's office and returning the original, together with two certified copies of the same, to the mortgagor and mortgagee. It is not necessary to incorporate a copy of the latest marine document in the preferred mortgage assignment. There should be incorporated in the preferred mortgage assignment a reference to the license or enrollment number and date, port where recorded, etc., as covered by the original preferred mortgage. A copy of the preferred mortgage assignment should be placed on board the vessel covered by the preferred mortgage.

(2) The fee provided by sub-sec. I, sec. 30, Merchant Marine Act of June 5, 1920, for recording a mortgage and furnishing a certified copy thereof may be assessed for the recording of preferred mortgage assignments and the furnishing of certified copies of the same.

(t) A preferred mortgage may not be placed upon a vessel which is not a documented vessel of the United States.

(u) Notice of claim of lien on a vessel shall be received for record only in the event the vessel is covered by a preferred mortgage.

(v) A copy of the complete record at the former home port would, in certain cases, make a voluminous certificate which it would be impracticable to furnish. In such cases collectors may prepare certificates on commerce Form 1331.

(w) A preferred mortgage need not include the recital of the last marine document of the vessel covered by the mortgage. However, all the requirements of sub-sec. C (b), sec. 30 of the Merchant Marine Act of 1920, must be shown in the preferred mortgage, or the collector may refuse to record on ground that he cannot record in accordance with statute.

45. Certificates and fees.[49]—(a) In furnishing the certified copy of the record of the vessel at a former port of documentation, collectors will use commerce Form 1331.

(b) The fees collected under subsection I are to be deposited as navigation fees and so reported. The word "folio," as used in that subsection, means 100 words, counting each figure as a word (U. S. Code, title 28, sec. 607). Bulky mortgages in printed or typewritten form submitted for recording need not be copied in the mortgage record book, but may be firmly attached in such book after comparison with the original in accordance with existing practice. Collectors will, however, charge the same fees as if such mortgages had been actually copied in the book.

[49] For statutory provision, see Merchant Marine Act of 1920, section 30, sub-section I, 46 U. S. C. 927.

(c) In computing fees to be charged for recording bills of sale, mortgages, and satisfaction of mortgages, collectors shall be guided by the following rules in counting the words:

(1) All typewritten, pen-written, and printed words, if not erased (except as provided in (3) below), are to be counted.

(2) All printed words, whether erased or not, if found in the register, enrollment, or license cited (except as provided in (3)), are to be counted.

(3) References to acts of Congress and explanatory words, usually in parentheses or printed as notes, and the printed and written customhouse indorsement under the commerce form vided in (3)), are to be counted.

(d) The provisions of sub-section I for the collection of fees apply only to the items covered by the ship mortgage act, which are as follows:

Sub-section C (b). Recording bills of sale, conveyances, and mortgages.

Sub-section E. Furnishing certified copies of mortgage.

Sub-section H (c). Furnishing certified copy of the record at former home port.

Sub-section I (1). Furnishing certificate setting forth the names of the owners, interest held by each owner, the material facts as to each bill of sale, conveyance, or mortgage or lien or incumbrance on the vessel.

Sub-section I (2). Furnishing certified copies of bills of sale, conveyances, mortgages, notices of claim of lien, or certificates of discharge of mortgages or liens. (See Table of Fees, art. 210, C. R. 1937.)

(e) The words "certificate or certified copy" used in subsection I apply only to certificates and certified copies, provided for in the Ship Mortgage Act, 1920.

46. Vessels on Great Lakes.[50]—(a) Vessels of the United States navigating the waters of the northern, northeastern, and northwestern frontiers, otherwise than by sea, must receive special enrollment and be licensed before they are employed on those waters in the foreign or coasting trade. Vessels so documented operating on the Great Lakes and their connecting and tributary waters may, without change in the form of enrollment and license engage in the taking within such waters of fish of every description. The enrollment and license shall be in the special form provided for vessels in the domestic and foreign trade otherwise than by sea, viz, commerce Form 1273. Commerce Form 1290 is used on the Great Lakes for all yachts, without regard to size. Registers of American vessels arriving from a foreign port must be deposited in the customhouse, under the provisions of the Tariff Act of 1930, section 434, as amended (19 U. S. C., Sup. III, 1434), and any marine documents of a vessel in port may be left in the customhouse for surrender and exchange.

(b) Such vessels are not required by law to have certificates of registry, but they are in every other respect liable to the rules, regulations, and penalties in force relating to registered and to enrolled and licensed vessels.

47. Transfer from lakes to seaboard.—(a) When a vessel so enrolled and licensed leaves the inland waters of the frontier and engages in trade on the seaboard, she must surrender her frontier papers and take out coasting papers; and if bound on a foreign voyage partly by sea she must take, in lieu of her frontier papers, a certificate of registry (commerce Form 1285). (For procedure for vessels engaged in trade between Great Districts Nos. 1 and 6, see article 199 (d) (2), C. R. 1937.)

(b) If she sails for a frontier port, and it is intended to clear her thence for a port in the United States on the seaboard or for a foreign port, in part by sea, she shall be furnished with a certificate of registry before starting on her voyage. Vessels neglecting these precautions are subject to the penalties and disabilities imposed on vessels engaged in trade without legal documents.

48. Registry of foreign-built vessels under Revised Statutes 4132, as amended.[51]—(a) Application for registry of American-owned, foreign-built vessels under section 5 of the Panama Canal Act (class 9), as amended by the act of August 18, 1914, shall be made to the collector of customs at the proposed home port. Application for official number (Commerce Form No. 1320) in addition to the information therein required will give the name of the former owner and state that the bill of sale has been examined by the collector of customs or not as the case may be.

(b) In lieu of the builder's certificate required for American-built vessels, the application shall be accompanied by the ship's foreign registry and a certified copy of the ship's foreign measurement certificate, if there be one, and a certificate of measurement as required by law. In case of the vessel having been built for the applicant and not having been in foreign registry the builder's certificate executed by the builder must be produced.

(c) Certificates of inspection by the United States local inspectors of steam vessels must be supplied, except as to such sail and other vessels as do not require inspection before registry. Certificates from the local inspectors must, however, be supplied as to the safety of such vessels to carry dry and perishable cargo. (See art. 90 (a), C. R. 1937.)

(d) The ownership and citizenship of owners (vendees) must be established as in the case of vessels built in the United States. In case of corporate ownership, applicant must furnish a certificate satisfactory to the collector as to organization of the corporation, and the citizenship of its president and managing directors. The sale of vessels must be unconditional and complete. Any reservation to the vendor of a right to repurchase the vessel will be sufficient cause for refusal to issue a register. The bona fides of the purchase and the ability to purchase must be established by an affidavit of the vendee.

(e) Foreign-built vessels[52] owned and documented prior to February 1, 1920, by persons citizens of the United States, and those owned by the United States on June 5, 1920, when sold to and owned by persons citizens of the United States, are unlimited as to documents and trade so long as they continue in such ownership. When a marine document is issued to such a vessel, the following notation must be made thereon:

As amended by section 5 of the Panama Canal Act and by the Act of August 18, 1914, and sections 22 and 38 of the Merchant Marine Act of June 5, 1920. This vessel is 75 per cent American owned as required by law and may engage in the coastwise trade so long as so owned and no longer.

(f) Foreign-built vessels acquired by American citizens subsequent to February 1, 1920 or June 5, 1920, as the case may be, are limited to the foreign trade. When a register is issued to such a vessel, the following notation must be made thereon:

As amended by section 5 of the Panama Canal Act, by the Act of August 18, 1914, and by the Act of May 24, 1938, entitling the vessel to engage only in trade with foreign countries, with the Philippine Islands or the islands of Guam, Tutuila, Wake, Midway and Kingman Reef. This vessel shall not engage in the coastwise trade.

(g) Care should be taken to insure the issuance of the proper document with the appropriate notation in the case of redocumentation.

49. Foreign-built yachts.—Any foreign-built yacht purchased by a citizen of the United States may be documented under Revised Statutes 4132, as amended (U. S. Code, title 46, sec. 11). The collector of customs may issue to any such yacht owned by a citizen a consolidated certificate of enrollment and yacht license (commerce Form 1290) or a license of yacht under 20 tons (commerce Form 1288) upon the filing of a bill of sale by the owner and upon compliance with the other usual requirements. Any document issued to such yacht shall have written across its face the legend, "This vessel may not engage in coastwise trade."

50. Certificate of protection.[53]—(a) Any foreign-built undocumented yacht purchased by a citizen of the United States is nevertheless entitled to legal protection as property of a citizen. The collector may issue to any such vessel a certificate that the bill of sale has been recorded and is valid in form and substance. This certificate shall be substantially in the following form:

(b) Foreign-built American-owned yachts

I, _____, collector of customs for the port of _____, State of _____, United States of America, do hereby certify that the bill of sale, bearing date of _____, 19____, of the _____ net tonnage, sold and transferred by _____ (Class and name) _____, of _____, in _____ to _____, of _____, State of _____, United States of America, is in form and substance valid and effective in law, and has been recorded in this office; and that the said _____ (Purchaser) is a citizen of the United States.

As witness my hand and seal this ____ day of _____, 19____.

[SEAL] (Signed) _____, Collector.

(c) A separate record shall be kept of these foreign-built, American-owned undocumented yachts, and in the tonnage returns they shall be reported under the caption "Foreign-built undocumented yachts owned by citizens of the United States."

51. Recorded vessels.—In the documentation of recorded vessels (class 3) the builder's certificate is unnecessary, and the admeasurement also, if the certificate of record correctly indicates the tonnage.

52. Record of American-built vessels owned by aliens.[54]—(a) A vessel built in the United States, never before documented, and belonging wholly or in part to an alien, may receive a certificate of record on commerce Form 1316. On being purchased or wholly owned by a citizen she is entitled to documents as a vessel of the United States.

(b) Before the issuance of a certificate of record the collector of the district shall require the builder to swear that the vessel was built by him or under his supervision.

(c) The vessel must be measured and the usual certificate of admeasurement filed before the certificate of record is granted to the master of the vessel.

(d) If the parties clearing new vessels, built in the United States for foreign account, under a certificate of record, fail or refuse to furnish a shippers' export declaration (customs Form 7525) to comply with the requirements of class 7999 of the Statistical Classification of Exports, collectors shall prepare such declaration, ascertaining the gross tonnage and value of the vessels from the best obtainable sources.

(e) If an application is made for marine documents for a vessel built in the United States for foreign account which was not originally covered by a certificate of record, evidence must be produced to show the date and place of building and builder's name.

(f) Certificates of record are not to be considered as documents similar to certificates of registry, enrollment and license, or license.—An undocumented motorboat owned by a resident alien and found on the navigable waters of the United States must be in possession of a certificate of award of number, even though a certificate of record has been issued to it.

53. Certificates of record.[55]—Certificates of record shall be regularly numbered; and when recorded vessels are documented as vessels of the United States the certificate must be surrendered, if one has been issued, canceled, and returned to the Director of Marine Inspection and Navigation.

54. Prizes and forfeited vessels.[56]—In case of application for documentation of a vessel entitled thereto by reason of having been captured in war by a citizen of the United States and condemned as a lawful prize (class 4) or condemned for a violation of law (class 5), when wholly owned by a citizen, all the requirements relating to documentation, except the builder's certificate, must be complied with, and the collector must be furnished with a properly authenticated copy of the decree of condemnation and the proof of the applicant's ownership. The owner's oath will be modified accordingly.

55. Inspection of marine documents.—The papers of a documented vessel, when such vessel is in commission, shall be on board and accessible to the person in charge except when such papers are in the custody of the collector.

56. Change of name of documented vessel.[57]—(a) The name of a documented vessel shall not be changed except with the consent and approval of the Director of Marine Inspection and Navigation, under penalty of forfeiture.

(b) The application for change in name shall be executed under oath by the owner of the vessel, addressed to the Director of Marine Inspection and Navigation, and submitted in duplicate to the collector of customs at the home port of the vessel.

(c) The application must state the change desired, the reasons therefor, place and date of build, official number, rig, gross tonnage, and the name or names of the owner of the vessel. It must state in detail a list of all liens, mortgages, etc., on record against the vessel, and the consent of the mortgagee or other beneficiary under each lien or mortgage must be submitted in writing with the application.

(d) Certificates, commerce Form 1330, from the collectors at each port where the vessel has been permanently documented must also be submitted. If an abstract and certificate of record of title, commerce Form 1331, from each port of permanent documentation since the passage of the Merchant Marine Act, 1920, are on file with the collector at the home port, such collector may issue commerce Form 1330, noting that commerce Forms 1331 are on file.

(e) Application under the new name of the vessel for approval of home port need not be submitted unless there is a change in ownership or a change of home port.

(f) In transmitting the application the collector shall note the date and place of last inspection. In case the vessel is not usually inspected, the local inspectors are authorized to make special examinations and to furnish necessary certificate of seaworthiness.

(g) The collector shall see that there has been compliance with these preliminaries and thereupon forward the application with his recommendation, giving any reasons within his knowledge for or against the change.

(h) If the application is approved by the Director of Marine Inspection and Navigation, the collector shall collect the fee prescribed in article 88, C. R. 1937, deposit it as a navigation fee, inserting in commerce Form 1008 the old name of the vessel, her gross tonnage, and the amount of the fee collected. Permission for change of name is not effective until the fee is paid.

(i) The order for the change in name must be published in some daily or weekly paper at or nearest to the port of documentation, in at least four consecutive issues.

(j) The cost of procuring evidence and of advertising must be paid by the applicant.

(k) Copies of the newspaper in which the advertisement appeared, together with receipt for the payment of the cost thereof, shall be furnished by the applicant to the collector of customs and by him forwarded to the Director of Marine Inspection and Navigation with a copy of the new document issued.

(l) An accurate index of changes of names of documented vessels under old and new names, with dates of authorization, etc., should be kept by the collector.

(m) A vessel formerly documented, sold to the United States, and resold to citizens, shall be redocumented under the old name and official number; but a vessel never before documented and sold by the United States to citizens, may be documented under any name.

(n) Incident to the change of name of a vessel, the old document must be surrendered and a new one issued under the new name. The approval of the United States Maritime Commission of the surrender of a document of a vessel covered by a preferred mortgage must be obtained prior to the surrender of the old document.

57. Fee for change of vessel's name.[58]—When the name of a vessel is changed, the following fees are to be paid by the owners of vessels to collectors of customs, to be deposited in the Treasury by such collectors as navigation fees: For vessels 99 gross tons and under, $10; for vessels 100 gross tons and up to and including 499 gross tons, $25; for vessels 500 gross tons and up to and including 999 gross tons, $50; for vessels, 1,000 gross tons and up to and including 4,999 gross tons, $75; for vessels 5,000 gross tons and over, $100.

58. Yacht privileges and obligations.[59]—(a) Licensed yachts are required by law to use the signal prescribed by the Secretary of the Navy, as follows: "The American ensign substituting in the field a white foul anchor, surrounded by 13 white stars in a circle, in lieu of a star for each State." This ensign shall not be carried by yachts of foreign ownership. Any vessel owned by a citizen of the United States may carry the United States flag. The union jack of yachts should be made up on horizontal rows of stars. Yachts duly licensed shall not transport merchandise nor carry passengers for pay.

(b) For any violation of the provisions of the law under which they are licensed, yachts are liable to seizure and forfeiture.

(c) Masters or other persons in command of yachts must exhibit their marine documents on demand of any officer authorized to enforce the navigation laws.

(d) A commission may be issued by the Secretary of Commerce to a yacht belonging to any regularly organized and incorporated yacht club to identify such yacht and its owner during foreign voyages, upon application of the owner (commerce Form 1250), submitted through the collector of customs. This commission is a token of credit to any United States official and to the authorities of any foreign power, for privileges enjoyed under it.

(e) Such commissions shall be regarded as conclusive evidence of nationality. On the return of such vessels to the United States they are required to make entry at the customhouse and surrender their commissions.

(f) Whenever it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the President of the United States that yachts belonging to any regularly organized yacht club of the United States are allowed to arrive at and depart from any foreign port and to cruise in the waters of such port without entering or clearing at the customhouse thereof and without the payment of any charges for entering or clearing, dues, duty per ton, tonnage taxes, or charges for cruising licenses, the Secretary of Commerce may authorize and direct the customs authorities at the various ports of entry of the United States to allow yachts from such foreign ports belonging to any regularly organized yacht club thereof to arrive at and depart from any port of the United States and to cruise in waters of the United States without the payment of any charges for entering or clearing, dues, duty per ton, or tonnage taxes, but the Secretary of Commerce may, in his discretion direct that such foreign yachts shall be required to obtain licenses to cruise, in a form prescribed by him, before they shall be allowed under the foregoing provisions to cruise in waters of the United States. Such licenses shall be issued without cost to such yachts and shall prescribe such limitations as to length of time, direction, and place of cruising and action, and such other particulars as the Secretary of Commerce may deem proper.

In order to obtain a cruising license or permit it will be necessary for the person desiring such cruising license or permit to file application for the same with the Director of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, Department of Commerce, submitting therewith affidavit that he is a member of a regularly organized yacht club of the country in which he is a citizen, together with a written statement of the yacht club of which he is a member to the effect that he is a member in good standing. The statement of the yacht club must be attested to by its president and secretary, respectively. Upon the approval of the duly executed application the Secretary of Commerce will cause a cruising license or permit to be issued. The cruising license or permit is addressed to the several collectors of customs informing them that the yacht named in the license or permit is to be permitted to cruise in American waters for a period of six months from a certain date without the payment of any charges, dues, duty per ton, or tonnage taxes. The cruising license or permit when issued does not exempt the master of the yacht to which it is issued from compliance with section 433 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U. S. C. 1433).

(g) Undocumented yachts, not nationalized, or shown to be yachts, by proper registry, enrollment, or regular marine documents, foreign or otherwise, are subject to tonnage tax and light money under sections 4219 and 4225, Revised Statutes (U. S. Code, title 46, secs. 121 and 128), on entry from a foreign port, in the same manner as other vessels in ballast, which are not licensed as yachts or public vessels. Section 4225, Revised Statutes (U. S. Code, title 46, sec. 128), will not apply if undocumented yachts are actually carrying, on arriving in the United States, a sea letter or certificate under section 4226, Revised Statutes (U. S. Code, title 46, sec. 129), and if oath is made before the collector of customs as prescribed by that section. No tonnage tax should be imposed under section 36 of the act of August 5, 1909 (36 Stat. 111, 46 U. S. C. 121). Such undocumented yachts, the property of American citizens, are not required to enter or clear or to pay tonnage tax or light money on arriving at or departing from a port in the United States on a coastwise voyage terminating in the same great district. On foreign voyages they must enter or clear, as the case may be.

(h) All yachts, except those of 15 gross tons or under, shall, upon their return from a foreign country, make due entry at the customhouse of the port at which they first arrive, but the master of any yacht arriving from a foreign port with dutiable articles on board shall report to the customs officer at the port or place at which the vessel arrives and shall deliver to the said officer a manifest of all dutiable articles brought from a foreign country in such yacht.

(i) At the first port of arrival of a foreign-built yacht purchased by a resident of the United States the following requirements of law should be observed:

(1) The vessel must be entered under the navigation laws. Undocumented vessels may be subjected to penal tonnage taxes (see R. S. 4219 and 4225 and art. 133, C. R. 1937).

(2) The vessel must be documented or awarded a motor-boat number.

59. Vessels required to be inspected.[60]

60. Vessels not required to be inspected.[61]

61. License to carry gunpowder.[62]—No steam vessel employed in the carriage of passengers shall carry gunpowder without having conspicuously posted on board a certificate issued by the local inspectors authorizing the carriage of such gunpowder. Whenever any passenger steam vessel receives or carries gunpowder on board without having such certificate posted as required, or carries gunpowder in a place or in a manner not authorized by the certificate such vessel becomes liable to a penalty of $100 for each offense.

62. Officers' licenses.[63]—(a) Every vessel of the United States must be commanded by a citizen of the United States. Any vessel whose officers are not citizens of the United States shall pay a tax of 50 cents per ton.

(b) All the licensed officers of vessels of the United States shall be citizens of the United States. All the officers of vessels of the United States who have charge of a watch, including pilots, shall be citizens of the United States. The word "officers" includes the chief engineer and each assistant engineer in charge of a watch on vessels propelled wholly or in part by steam.

(c) The following officers must be licensed by the local inspectors of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, and licenses may not be lawfully issued to any but citizens of the United States.

1. Masters, chief mates, and second and third mates, if in charge of a watch, engineers and pilots of all steam vessels.

2. Masters and chief mates of sail vessels of over 700 gross tons.

3. Masters of all other vessels over 100 gross tons carrying passengers for hire.

4. Masters, mates, engineers, and pilots of seagoing motor propelled vessels of 300 gross tons or over.

(d) Where, on a foreign voyage, or on a voyage from an Atlantic to a Pacific port of the United States, a vessel is for any reason deprived of the services of a watch officer below the grade of master, his place, or a vacancy caused by the promotion of another officer to such place, may be supplied by a person not a citizen of the United States until the first return of such vessel to any United States port, without incurring any penalty or penal tax.

(e) Masters and mates may be licensed as pilots also, but where the master of a steam vessel of over 150 gross tons is licensed as a pilot also, the license must be that of a first-class pilot.

63. Application for certificate of award of number.—(a) Applications for certificates of award of number must be made by the owner or master to the collector of customs in the district in which the owner resides. Upon the granting of the certificate of the award of number the certificate must be retained at all times on board the vessel for which it was granted and the number so awarded permanently affixed on each side of the bow of the craft.

(b) This law[64] does not amend section 14 of the Act of March 4, 1915, (46 U. S. C. 481), requiring the marking of lifeboats.

(c) All undocumented vessels coming within the purview of the act[64] that are equipped with permanently fixed engines must be numbered whether over or under 16 feet in length. The exception in section 1 in favor of "Vessels not exceeding 16 feet in length measured from end to end over the deck excluding sheer, temporarily equipped with detachable motors" is held to apply only to such boats as rowboats and canoes designed and intended for the use of oars or paddles as the ordinary means of propulsion. Boats designed for the use of detachable motors as the ordinary means of propulsion are held to be subject to the act even if not in excess of 16 feet in length.

64. Enforcement of navigation laws.—As soon as the collectors receive reports of violations of the navigation laws, they will immediately notify the offender of the penalty incurred, giving full details in each case. The offender shall also be notified by the collector of his privilege of applying to the Secretary of Commerce for relief from the penalties incurred. The application must be sworn to and sent to the collector of customs, and should contain all of the circumstances of the case. If there is a conflict between the statement of the reporting officer and that of the offender, the offender's statement will be submitted to the reporting officer for a further report. All of the papers will then be submitted to the Secretary of Commerce for action.

65. Revocation of registry, enrollment, license, or numbering of vessels.—While the law prescribes that the collector of customs may determine the evidence which he deems sufficient that such vessel is being used or is intended to be used illegally, it is the opinion of this Department that in order to secure uniformity and prevent injustice, the collector of customs, before revoking any existing document of a vessel, should present the charges filed with him to the owner of the vessel that he may have an opportunity to reply under oath thereto; except, that in cases before the collector of customs which are supported by evidence that is practically conclusive, and where immediate action is desirable, the collector would be justified in revoking, or in refusing to issue the documents of the vessel subject to an appeal by the owner to the Secretary of Commerce.

Any appeal to the Secretary of Commerce made pursuant to the law shall be in writing and must be sworn to before a notary public or other officer authorized by law to administer oaths generally, and filed in triplicate with the collector, who will retain one copy in his office. The owner should be permitted to submit with his appeal corroborative evidence in the form of affidavits from persons having actual knowledge in the premises, also, if he so desires, a description in detail and blueprints of the vessel. Such evidence, with two copies of the owner's appeal, should be promptly forwarded to this Department, together with the collector's report, which should present in detail the facts and evidence supporting his action, and also any additional comments he desires to make regarding any facts not before the collector at the time of his original action.

PART II—ENTRY OF VESSELS

1. Boarding of vessels.—(1) These regulations shall not apply to a passenger steamship of a regular line, but they shall apply to any other merchant vessel arriving from a foreign port or from a port in another great district (except from a port in an adjoining State) or from Porto Rico, Hawaii, or the Philippines.

(2) It shall not be lawful for any person, with or without the consent of the master, except a pilot, officer of the customs, health officer, agent of the vessel, or consul, to go on board of a vessel not in distress, arriving at any seaport of the United States, until the vessel has been properly inspected by the customs and quarantine officers, and placed in security by being brought to the dock or anchored at the point at which cargo is to be taken or discharged.

(3) It shall not be lawful for the master of any vessel, not in distress, arriving at any seaport of the United States, to allow any person or persons, except a pilot, officer of the customs, health officer, agent of the vessel, or consul, except as provided in regulation 5, to go on board of the vessel, until the vessel has been properly inspected by the customs and quarantine officers, and placed in security by being brought to the dock or anchored at the point at which cargo is to be taken or discharged. The keeper, runner, or any agent of a sailors' boarding house, or any person soliciting seamen for any purpose, shall not in any case be allowed to board any vessel until such dock or anchorage has been reached.

(4) It shall not be lawful for any person in charge of a tugboat, rowboat, or other vessel to come alongside and put any person, except as authorized by law or regulations, on board an incoming vessel heretofore described.

(5) The collector, or other chief officer of the customs, where there is no collector, upon application by the owner or agent of a vessel, is authorized to issue permits in special cases and on satisfactory grounds to persons, other than those above specified, to board such vessel, subject to the master's consent, after it has been properly inspected by customs and quarantine officers, and before it has been placed in security as above provided. In case of emergency, permits to board a vessel before it has been inspected may be issued; but any person to whom such permit may be granted shall be subject to customs and quarantine regulations.

[64] The act requiring numbering and recording of undocumented vessels: 40 Stat. 602, as amended, 46 U. S. C. 288 and Sup. III 288.

In the case of vessels provided for by the act of 1882 (22 Stat. 186, 46 U. S. C. 151–162), permits shall be issued subject to the limitations provided in section 9 of that act. A permit shall not in any case be issued to the keeper, runner, or any agent of a sailors' boarding house or to any person soliciting seamen for any purpose.

(6) Upon boarding a vessel for customs or quarantine inspection the boarding officers will furnish a copy of these regulations to the master. Copies of the regulations may also be furnished to pilots and masters of tugboats with the request that they be supplied to the masters of incoming vessels in their charge.

(7) Officers boarding a vessel under authority of these regulations shall also ascertain whether any person has boarded the vessel in violation of law, and if so shall report the facts to the principal officer of the customs at the port.

(8) The Coast Guard is specially charged with the enforcement of these regulations, but any officer of the Government may report to the principal officer of the customs any violation of the regulations which comes to his knowledge.

(9) The principal officer of the customs shall report the facts to the United States attorney and also to the Department.

(10) The principal officer of the customs, or the officer commanding a Coast Guard cutter, or the principal officer of the Public Health Service at any seaport, when he deems it desirable and when it is practicable, may detail any person subject to his orders to remain on board a vessel to secure the enforcement of these regulations, until the vessel has been placed in security, as above provided. In the case of deep sea sailing vessels, such detail shall be made whenever practicable.

2. Vessels not required to enter.[66]

[66] Sec. 441 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (46 Stat. 712, 19 U. S. C., Sup. III, 1441) reads as follows:

"Vessels not required to enter.—The following vessels shall not be required to make entry at the customhouse:

"(1) Vessels of war and public vessels employed for the conveyance of letters and dispatches and not permitted by the laws of the nations to which they belong to be employed in the transportation of passengers or merchandise in trade;

"(2) Passenger vessels making three trips or oftener a week between a port of the United States and a foreign port, or vessels used exclusively as ferryboats, carrying passengers, baggage, or merchandise: Provided, That the master of any such vessel shall be required to report such baggage and merchandise to the collector within twenty-four hours after arrival;

"(3) Yachts of fifteen gross tons or under not permitted by law to carry merchandise or passengers for hire and not visiting any hovering vessel, nor having at any time or, if forfeited to the United States or to a foreign government, at any time after forfeiture, become liable to seizure and forfeiture for any violation of the laws of the United States;

"(4) Vessels arriving in distress or for the purpose of taking on bunker coal, bunker oil, sea stores, or ship's stores and which shall depart within twenty-four hours after arrival without having landed or taken on board any passengers, or any merchandise other than bunker coal, bunker oil, sea stores, or ship's stores: Provided, That the master, owner, or agent of such vessel shall report under oath to the collector the hour and date of arrival and departure and the quantity of bunker coal, bunker oil, sea stores, or ship's stores taken on board; and

"(5) Tugs enrolled and licensed to engage in the foreign and coasting trade in the northern, northeastern, and northwestern frontiers when towing vessels which are required by law to enter and clear."

[66] Whenever, under any provision or provisions of any statute of the United States, it is made the duty of the masters of vessels to make entry and clearance of the same, it shall be lawful for such duties to be performed by any licensed deck officer or purser of such vessel; and when such duties are performed by a licensed deck officer or purser of the vessel, such acts will have the same force and effect as if performed by the masters of the vessels. However, the masters are not thereby relieved of the penalty or liability provided by any statute relating to the entry or clearance of vessels.

[67] See Part V, section 19.

3. Report of arrival of vessels.[68]—(a) The report of arrival required by sec. 433 of the Tariff Act, 1930 must be filed within 24 hours after the arrival.

(b) The report must be made in every case unless the vessel has been boarded by a duly authorized customs officer assigned for the purpose, or for the purpose of accepting preliminary entry.

(c) In the case of vessels described in paragraph 4 of section 441 of the Tariff Act, 1930, the report may be filed by either the master, owner, or agent, and shall be in the form and give the information required by that statute. (See art. 107, C. R. 1937.)

(d) Vessels may depart at the option of the master after report and before the expiration of 24 hours.

(e) Any person bringing in a derelict vessel may take the master's oath.

(f) In the case of car ferries falling within the purview of Sec. 441 (2) 46 Stat. 712 (Tariff Act of 1930); 19 U. S. C., Sup. III, 1441 (2), report shall be made as provided for in articles 107 (b) and 212, C. R. 1937.

(g) All penalties incurred by masters for failure to make report of arrival should be reported to the Secretary of Commerce, through the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, and all applications for relief should be addressed to that officer and sworn to before an officer authorized to administer oaths.

4. Preliminary entry, nights, Sundays, holidays.[69]—(a) Vessels in the foreign trade arriving for the sole purpose of taking on domestic cargo may be granted a permit for that purpose on customs Form 3171 when preliminary or formal entry of the vessel has been made. When the vessel is in ballast, or has no foreign residue cargo on board, or if the vessel has foreign residue cargo on board but has previously given bond at another port, no bond is required unless it is desired to have the vessel boarded at night or on a Sunday or holiday for the purpose of making preliminary entry, or overtime services of officers are required to supervise such lading, in which event an application therefor and bond should be required in accordance with paragraphs (e) and Art. 112 (e), C. R. 1937. Such vessels should not be cleared in any event until the provisions of articles 173, 174, 1305, and 1306 of C. R. 1937 have been complied with.

(b) The term "at night" shall include the hours from 5 p. m. of any day to 8 a. m. of the following day.

(c) The term "holidays" shall include only national holidays,[70] viz, January 1, February 22, May 30, July 4, and the first Monday in September, Thanksgiving day (when designated by the President), and December 25, and such other days as may be made national holidays.

(d) Services in connection with the entering of vessels, within the meaning of Sec. 451 of the Tariff Act 1930 (19 U. S. C. 1451) include the boarding of vessels for the purpose of preliminary entry thereof. Requests pursuant to this section of the Tariff Act shall be made in writing on customs Form 3853–A and the required bond shall be on customs Form 7567 or 7569. In the case of vessels belonging to an established line operating on a regular schedule, requests for services may be made monthly, provided the required term bond is on file.

(e) Bonds are not required for vessels of the United States Maritime Commission under its "Operating Agreement, 1935" and its "Temporary Operating Agreement, 1937."

5. Entry of American vessels.—(a) The oath on entry shall be on customs Form 3251.

(b) The master shall account for the ship's crew by the following indorsement on the crew list:

I, ----------, master of the ----------, do solemnly and truly swear that all of the above-named crew have returned with me in said vessel to this port except those who failed to join vessel before sailing and those noted below:

I further swear that those shipped after clearance as substitutes or otherwise, have all returned in the vessel except as otherwise stated.

----------,
Master.

Sworn to before me this ---------- day of ----------.

----------,
Deputy Collector.

(c) On entry the master shall also report to the collector the equipment purchased or the repairs made in the foreign country, making oath on customs Form 3415 or 3417, as the case may be.

(d) The master shall also present on entry the pratique issued by the United States Public Health Service on its Form 1940A or 1940B; and shall pay the tonnage taxes, the prescribed fees, and any penalties incurred.

(e) Vessels arriving under the condition set forth in Sec. 441 (4), 46 Stat. 712 (Tariff Act of 1930), 19 U. S. C., Sup. III, 1441 (4)[66] must make formal entry if the stay of the vessel in port is extended more than 24 hours. If said vessel arrives at a port other than that to which she is bound, the boarding officer or collector will endorse the facts on the inward manifest and notify the collector at the port of ultimate destination.

[68] Armistice Day a national holiday.

6. Production of crew list and crew.—(a) The master of every vessel of the United States returning from a foreign voyage or engaged in the whale fishery shall exhibit the certified copy of the list of the crew (shipping Form 710A) to the first boarding officer at the first port in the United States at which he arrives on his return, and also produce the persons named therein to the boarding officer, whose duty it shall be "to examine the men with such list" (commerce Form 1431) and to report the same to the collector.

(b) Boarding officers will also muster destitute American seamen, if any should be on board, in order to verify the consular certificates.

7. Copy of crew list transmitted to port of original sailing, penalty for failure to produce member of crew.—The collector at the port of arrival, if it is not the port from which the vessel originally sailed, will transmit a copy of the crew list so reported to him, or a certificate as prescribed by the Department of Commerce (commerce Form 1432), to the collector of the port from which such vessel originally sailed. For each failure to produce any person on the certified copy of the list of the crew, the master and owner are severally liable to a penalty of $400, but such penalties are not incurred on account of the master not producing to the first boarding officer any of the persons contained in the list who may have been discharged in a foreign country with the consent of the consular officer there residing, certified in writing, under his hand and official seal, to be produced to the collector with the other persons composing the crew, nor on account of any such person dying or absconding or being forcibly impressed into other service, of which satisfactory proof shall also be exhibited to the collector.

8. Carriage of destitute seamen in United States vessels.—(a) Masters of vessels of the United States, homeward bound, are required, under a penalty of $100 for each refusal, to receive on board, at the request of consular officers, any destitute seamen, and to carry them to the port of the vessel's destination, on the terms specified by law; but no vessel shall be obliged thus to transport, on one voyage, more than one such seaman for each 100 tons burden, nor to receive any person having a contagious disease. If any seaman be so carried who is unable to perform duty, the Comptroller General may allow an additional compensation to the vessel.

(b) On arrival of the vessel, the consular voucher for transportation (consular Form 24) must be presented, together with the seamen named therein, to the boarding officer or inspector of customs, who will certify thereon to the seaman's arrival, his physical condition, and whether service was performed on the voyage.

(c) This indorsement serves as a basis for the collector's official record and his further certification as to other facts required.

(d) The certificate, after certification by the collector, is to be returned to the agent of the vessel for forwarding to the Bureau of Accounts, Department of State, Washington, D. C., for final adjustment and payment of claim for the transportation of the seaman.

(e) The name of the seaman must appear on the vessel's manifest and the passenger list filed on entry of the vessel.

9. Entry of foreign vessels.[70]—(a) The master of any such vessel shall exhibit his register to the collector on or before the entry of the vessel. After the net tonnage has been noted, the master may deliver it to the consul of the nation to which such vessel belongs, in which event he shall file with the collector the certificate provided by law. If not delivered to the consul, the register must be deposited in the customhouse.

10. Record of entrance and clearance of vessels.—Permanent records will be kept at every customhouse of the entrance and clearance of vessels, foreign (commerce Form 1404) and coastwise (commerce Form 1405), and shall be open to public inspection.

11. Simultaneous vessel transactions or movements.—(a) Vessels may move between coastwise ports engaged in several transactions or movements simultaneously, i. e.:

(1) To discharge residue cargo or passengers for domestic ports, under article 150, C. R. 1937.

(2) With foreign cargo destined for foreign ports, to be retained on board under article 151, C. R. 1937.

(3) To lade domestic cargo for foreign ports, via another domestic port, under article 183, C. R. 1937.

(4) American vessel on a coastwise voyage, under article 198, C. R. 1937.

(5) American vessel to a port in noncontiguous United States territory, under article 199 (a), C. R. 1937.

(6) American vessel on an intercoastal voyage, under article 199 (b), C. R. 1937.

(b) In all cases care should be exercised to indicate all the movements of the vessels on commerce Form 1385.

[66] Sec. 1441 (4) Vessels arriving in distress or for the purpose of taking on bunker coal, bunker oil, sea stores, or ship's stores and which shall depart within twenty-four hours after arrival without having landed or taken on board any passengers, or any merchandise other than bunker coal, bunker oil, sea stores, or ship's stores: Provided, That the master, owner, or agent of such vessel shall report under oath to the collector the hour and date of arrival and departure and the quantity of bunker coal, bunker oil, sea stores, or ship's stores taken on board.

(c) A vessel with foreign cargo destined for several domestic ports, and for a foreign port or ports, will proceed from domestic port to domestic port on commerce Form 1385, and foreign clearance will be granted at the last domestic port.

(d) Any vessel proceeding from port to port with residue cargo may also lade cargo at each port for export, as outlined in article 183, C. R. 1937, and the manifest and statistical requirements should be met at each port. American vessels only, so proceeding, may lade cargo for delivery at coastwise, intercoastal, or noncontiguous American ports.

(e) The inward foreign voyage will be completed at port of final discharge. The outward foreign voyage begins at the port where cargo was first laden for export.

(f) Where a vessel is engaged in simultaneous transactions or movements, but one fee should be exacted.

PART III—TONNAGE DUTY AND LIGHT MONEY

1. Tonnage duty or tax.—(a) Tonnage duty accrues on the entry of all vessels from foreign ports, except vessels in distress or not engaged in trade. It should be imposed on the net tonnage given in a vessel's certificate of registry or other national paper, except where the tonnage is manifestly wrong or where the net tonnage has been changed by an appendix attached to the document, showing a tonnage ascertained under the so-called British rules or those of a foreign country which have been accepted as substantially in accord with the American rules, in which case the date of such change should be noted in the records.

(b) A tonnage duty of 2 cents per net ton, not to exceed in the aggregate 10 cents per net ton in any one year, is imposed at each entry on all vessels which shall be entered in any port of the United States from any foreign port or place in North America, Central America, the West India Islands, the Bahama Islands, the Bermuda Islands, Newfoundland, or the coast of South America bordering on the Caribbean Sea (considered to include the mouth of the Orinoco River), and a duty of 6 cents per net ton not to exceed 30 cents per net ton per annum, is imposed at each entry on all vessels which shall be entered in any port of the United States from any other foreign port.

(c) The tonnage year is to be computed from the date of the first payment without regard to its rate, and expires on the day preceding the corresponding date of the following year. There may be five payments at the maximum (6 cent) and five at the minimum (2 cent) rate during a tonnage year, but there should not be more than five at the same rate. The maximum assessment of tonnage duty may, therefore, amount to 40 cents per net ton for the tonnage year of vessels engaged in alternating trade. Tonnage duty will be suspended, in whole or in part, whenever the President, by proclamation, shall so direct.

(d) Tonnage tax should be imposed at 6 cents per net ton on a regularly documented foreign vessel entering from the Philippine Islands, and reported under "Philippine Islands Fund."

(e) Tonnage tax and fees should be imposed on a vessel which enters a port of the United States from a foreign country in ballast either through the Canal Zone or direct.

(f) Tonnage tax should be imposed on a vessel which enters a port of the United States for orders.

2. Exemptions from tonnage duty.[11]—Tonnage tax shall not be imposed on—

(1) Vessels arriving in distress, even when required to enter.

(2) Vessels not engaged in trade—

(a) Vessels of war; public vessels employed for the conveyance of letters and dispatches, and vessels carrying fuel for war vessels, if they do not carry passengers or merchandise in trade.

(b) Yachts and other pleasure vessels, if they do not carry passengers or merchandise in trade.

(c) Vessels coming in for bunkers (fuel or water for the vessel), sea stores, or ship's stores. If such vessels remain more than 24 hours, their masters must make entry, but tonnage tax should not be imposed unless cargo or passengers are taken on or landed, or other acts done which usually require payment of tax.

(d) Vessels engaged exclusively in scientific activities.

(e) Vessels engaged exclusively in laying or repairing cables.

(f) Vessels engaged in whaling or other fisheries, even though they may have entered a foreign port for fuel or supplies, if they did not carry passengers or merchandise in trade.

(3) Passenger vessels making three trips or more a week between a port of the United States and a foreign port, or vessels used exclusively as ferryboats, carrying passengers, baggage, or merchandise.

(4) Tugs enrolled and licensed to engage in the foreign and coasting trade on the northern, northeastern, and northwestern frontiers (Great Lakes) when towing vessels which are required by law to enter and clear.

(5) Vessels which enter otherwise than by sea (Great Lakes) from a foreign port at which tonnage or lighthouse dues or other equivalent tax or taxes are not imposed on vessels of the United States, shall be exempt from the tonnage duty of 2 cents per ton.

(6) Vessels owned by citizens of the Philippine Islands and documented by the Philippine Government, and American vessels coming direct from these islands.

(7) Vessels entering direct from the Virgin Islands of the United States, the Canal Zone, the United States Naval station at Guatanamo (Cuba), American Samoa, or the islands of Guam and Wake.

(b) In case of vessels making regular daily trips between any port of the United States and any port in the Dominion of Canada wholly upon interior waters not navigable to the ocean, no tonnage or clearance fees shall be charged against such vessels by the officers of the United States except upon the first clearing of such vessels in each year.

3. Light money.—A duty of 50 cents per ton, to be denominated "light money", shall be levied and collected on all vessels not of the United States, which may enter the ports of the United States. Such light money shall be levied and collected in the same manner and under the same regulations as the tonnage duties: Provided, That no such duty shall be required where a vessel owned by citizens of the United States, but not a vessel of the United States, after entering an American port, shall, before leaving the same, be registered as a vessel of the United States, nor for a vessel owned by a citizen or citizens of the Philippine Islands when documented by the Government of said islands.

4. Rates of tonnage duty.—(a) The following table shows the rates of tonnage duty and "light money" to which the several classes of vessels are liable:

Classes of vessels	Under what law	Rate per net ton
Vessels of the United States:
1. Whose officers are citizens[1]	Act of Aug. 5, 1909, sec. 36	$0.02 or $0.06
And, in addition, if any officer is not a citizen	R. S. 4219	.50
Vessels not of the United States:
1. Not built in the United States, but belonging to citizens thereof, and provided with sea letters or other customhouse documents proving the vessels to be American property. (See sec. 4220, R. S.)[2]	Act of Aug. 5, 1909, sec. 36	02 or .06
	R. S. 4219	.50
And, in addition, if the owner or master refuses to take the oath required by section 4226, R. S.	R. S., 4225, "Light money"	.50
2. Vessels not of the United States	(When under treaty and proclamation, the same as vessels of the United States.)	.02 or .06
3. Belonging wholly or in part to subjects of foreign powers, and not having privileges under treaties and proclamations:
(a) Built in the United States, etc.	Act of Aug. 5, 1909, sec. 30	.02 or .06
	R. S. 4219	.30
	R. S. 4225, "light money"	.50
(b) Not built in the United States	Act of Aug. 5, 1909, sec. 36	.02 or .06
	R. S. 4219	.50
	R. S. 4225, "light money"	.50
(c) Wherever built, which enter from a foreign port or place where vessels of the United States are not ordinarily permitted to enter and trade (to be collected on each entry from such port or place).	Act of Aug. 5, 1909, sec. 36	.02 or .06
	R. S. 4219	2.00
	R. S. 4225, "light money"	.50
4. Without documents—
(a) Built in the United States, etc. (the same as vessels of class 3a).	Act of Aug. 5, 1909, sec. 36	.02 or .06
	R. S. 4219	.30
	R. S. 4225, "light money"	.50
(b) Not built in the United States (the same as vessels of class 3b).	Act of Aug. 5, 1909, sec. 36	.02 or .06
	R. S. 4219	.50
	R. S. 4225, "light money"	.50

[1] The duty prescribed by R. S. 4219 is not to be collected provided the vessel is registered under the act of Aug. 18, 1914.

[2] The duty prescribed by R. S. 4219 and 4225 on a vessel owned by a citizen of the United States is not to be collected provided the vessel after entering an American port shall, before leaving, be registered as a vessel of the United States.

(b) Foreign-built yachts owned or chartered by American citizens the title to which was acquired subsequent to February 5, 1897, are subject to tonnage tax on entry from foreign ports under section 4219, Revised Statutes (U. S. Code, title 46, sec. 121), and light money under section 4225, Revised Statutes (U. S. Code, title 46, sec. 128), unless exempted from the latter by section 4226, Revised Statutes (U. S. Code, title 46, sec. 129). An unrecorded bill of sale is not such a document as will exempt a vessel from the payment of light money under section 4225, Revised Statutes, and the recording of such bill of sale after the arrival of the vessel is not sufficient to relieve it from the payment of the tax.

(c) The decision of the Director of Marine Inspection and Navigation is final on all questions of interpretation relating to the collection of tonnage tax and to the refund of such tax when collected erroneously or illegally, and collectors should, when in doubt, refer questions for his consideration and instructions.

5. Certificate of payment.—A certificate on Commerce Form 1002 will be issued by collectors to every master showing the date and number of each and every payment made by him during the tonnage year, which will constitute the official evidence of such payments. In the absence of such certificate, evidence of payment of tonnage duty must be obtained from the Director of Marine Inspection and Navigation.

6. Application for refund of tonnage duty.—(a) On account of the expense and difficulty of obtaining a refund of money excessively or erroneously collected, customs officers are instructed to place in special deposit, if such course is practicable, money collected under protest or where there is reason to believe that application for refund will be made immediately.

(b) If, however, it is found necessary to deposit collections to the credit of the Treasurer of the United States on account of fiscal regulations, or for any other reason, and refund is asked, collectors may notify the payor to prepare an application requesting refund of the amount which he alleges was excessively or erroneously collected. In the preparation of this application the following instructions will be observed:

(1) The application must be in duplicate, each signed, addressed to the Director of Marine Inspection and Navigation, and submitted through the collector of customs.

(2) It must be a direct request for the refund of a definite sum, showing concisely the reasons therefor, the nationality, rig, and name of the vessel, and the date, place, and amount of each payment for which refund is asked. A protest against a payment will not be accepted as an application for its refund.

(3) It must be made within 1 year from date of the payment. A protest against a payment will not alone be sufficient to bring a claim within the statute.

(4) The application and its duplicate should be forwarded to the Director of Marine Inspection and Navigation by the collector of customs after all statements which are of record in his district have been verified, and with such comments as he may choose to make.

(5) A certified statement, also in duplicate (commerce Form 1086), should be carefully prepared and forwarded to the Director of Marine Inspection and Navigation after the collector has been so authorized. In preparing this statement the collector should bear in mind that it must be signed by the owner or charterer of the vessel, whose name and address must be given in every instance as the payee, even when the money to be refunded had been paid by an agent or representative, as the Comptroller General has held that such payer must look to his principal for repayment.

7. Vessels in the domestic trade.[12]—(a) Tonnage duty accrues generally on the arrival at any port of the United States of any registered vessel which, while bound on a voyage from one domestic port to another, has entered at any foreign port, unless such entrance was made in distress or only for bunker coal or fuel oil.

(b) Vessels enrolled and licensed for trade in the waters of the northern frontiers, entering direct from a foreign port, must pay tonnage tax, except as otherwise directed; but if such vessels clear from a port in one collection district for a port in another collection district and complete the voyage to the port of destination, they are not required to pay tonnage tax, although during the voyage they may touch at intermediate foreign ports and receive on board dutiable goods.

(c) Foreign steam tugs employed in towing coastwise vessels are liable to pay 50 cents per ton on the measurement of the vessel towed unless the towing is done in whole or in part within or upon foreign waters or when the tugboat is owned by a foreign railway company whose cars enter into the United States by means of such transportation.

8. Alien officers on vessels of the United States.[13]—There will be collected from every vessel of the United States of which an alien shall be an officer a duty of 50 cents per ton, unless such alien shall have supplied a vacancy occurring during a foreign voyage or a voyage between Atlantic and Pacific ports, in any place below the rank of master; but such alien shall not act as officer after the return of the vessel to any United States port. In all such cases the collector will report the facts to the Secretary of Commerce for instructions before imposing the duty.

PART IV—CARRIAGE OF PASSENGERS

1. Passenger vessels, restrictions, penalties.—(a) A passenger, within the meaning of the steamboat inspection laws, is any person carried who is not connected with the vessel, her navigation, ownership, or business.

(b) Passenger vessels of the United States or United States vessels carrying passengers are subject to all the provisions of the laws governing the manning and inspection and equipment of vessels.

(c) It shall not be lawful to take on board of any vessel a greater number of passengers than is stated in the certificate of inspection.

(d) Foreign vessels carrying steerage passengers are subject to the provisions of the Passenger Act of 1882, and such vessels carrying passengers (cabin and steerage) from the United States are also subject to some of the inspection laws of the United States.

(e) Cargo vessels of the United States may carry not to exceed 16 persons in addition to the crew, provided the laws, rules, and regulations respecting life-saving equipment, lifeboat accommodations, radio laws, etc., are complied with and the persons to be carried have been notified of the presence on board of any dangerous articles or of any condition or circumstances which would constitute a risk of safety for passengers or crew."[14] (See art. 168, C. R. 1937.)

(f) This privilege is extended in so far as the foreign trade is concerned to the cargo vessels of any nation which allows the like privilege to cargo vessels of the United States in trades not restricted to vessels under its own flag.

(g) The master will be required to make oath on commerce Form 1375 or 1376 as to the number of such persons he proposes to carry.

(h) A vessel carrying passengers to and from a foreign country should be furnished with the same customs and navigation forms as a vessel carrying cargo, e. g., a vessel taking passengers at an American port for a foreign destination, intending to stop at another domestic port en route, should be cleared under article 183, C. R. 1937 on a permit to proceed coastwise to lade for a foreign port (commerce Form 1385), and inbound passenger vessels should be treated in the same manner under articles 149 and 150, C. R. 1937 (commerce Form 1385).

(i) Collectors do not certify the legal capacity of vessels for the carriage of passengers, except as prescribed in the Passenger Act of August 2, 1882.

(j) The inspectors of steam vessels issue to steamers for excursion trips a special permit in which is stated the number of passengers that may be carried and the number and kind of life-saving appliances to be provided for their safety, and also, in their discretion, limit the route for such excursions. (Commerce Form 1463.)

(k) Any vessel and the owner and master thereof carrying more passengers than are permitted, or failing to have on board the number and kind of life-saving appliances prescribed by the inspectors of steam vessels, will be subject to the penalties prescribed therefor in chapter 2 of title 52 of the Revised Stat-

[14] Statutory provision is found in Sec. 26, Merchant Marine Act of 1920, 41 Stat. 998, 46 U. S. C. 882. The International Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea 1929, defines a passenger ship to be "A ship is a passenger ship if it carries more than 12 passengers." The Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation in Circular Letter ≠179, Nov. 3, 1937, held that the provision in Sec. 26, Merchant Marine Act, 1920, requiring that when any cargo vessel as defined therein, carries persons other than members of the crew, the owner, agent, or master must first notify such persons of the presence on board of any dangerous articles as defined by law, as well as of any other condition or circumstance which would constitute a risk of safety for passengers or crew, is also applicable to cargo vessels carrying not more than 12 passengers when engaged on international voyages.

The Bureau in Circular Letter ≠191 January 5, 1938, further held that "The only cargo vessels to which section 26 of the Merchant Marine Act of 1920 applies, authorizing 16 persons to be carried in addition to the crew, are those engaged in voyages from a port within the United States to another point within the United States except cargo vessels engaged in intercoastal voyages."

utes, as amended (46 U. S. C., Chapter 15).

2. Masters in foreign trade must deliver, with manifest, list of passengers.—The master of every vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign place (ports and places in territory contiguous to the United States excepted) shall submit for inspection to the officer of customs who first makes demand therefor, and shall subsequently deliver, with his manifest of cargo on entry, a correct list (commerce Form 1440), signed and verified on oath by the master, of all passengers taken on board the vessel at any foreign port or place, specifying the name of each passenger, age (if a child of 8 years or under), sex, married or single, location of compartment or space occupied during the voyage (if the passenger be other than a cabin passenger), whether a citizen of the United States, number of pieces of baggage, and if any passenger die on the voyage the list shall specify the manner, age, and cause of death of each deceased passenger. For a violation of this law the master will be liable to a fine of $1,000.

3. Requirements for the carriage of steerage passengers.—It shall not be lawful for the master of any vessel whereon steerage passengers have been taken at any port or place in a foreign country or dominion (ports and places in foreign territory contiguous to the United States excepted) to bring such vessel and passengers to or take them from any port or place in the United States, unless the compartments, spaces, and accommodations prescribed by the Passenger Act of 1882 (U. S. Code, title 46, secs. 151–162) have been provided, allotted, maintained and used for and by such passengers, during the entire voyage, unobstructed by cargo, stores, or goods.

4. Examination of vessels with steerage passengers.—The collector, or the surveyor where there is one, of the port at which any vessel carrying steerage passengers arrives shall direct an officer to make an examination of the vessel, and to admeasure the compartments or spaces occupied by passengers other than cabin passengers during the voyage; and such admeasurement shall be made in the manner provided by law for admeasuring vessels for tonnage; and to compare the number of passengers found on board with the list of passengers (commerce Form 1440) furnished by the master to the collector; and the officer will make a report on commerce Forms 1461 and 1462 to the surveyor, if there be one, by whom it will be forwarded to the collector at the end of each month. The collector will transmit it to the Secretary of Commerce.

5. Deaths of passengers.—(a) The master, owner, or consignee of any vessel bringing steerage passengers from a foreign country, except foreign territory contiguous to the United States, must, under a penalty of $50, pay to the collector, within 24 hours after entry, $10 for every death by natural disease occurring during the voyage on board his vessel among such passengers over 8 years of age. (Commerce Forms 1461 and 1462.)

(b) The money so collected is to be deposited to the credit of the United States subject to the directions of the Secretary of the Treasury.

(c) The voyage referred to in this section terminates with the arrival of the vessel within a collection district.

6. Copies of law to be on board.—Vessels propelled in whole or in part by steam, carrying passengers, must have on board two copies of title 52 of the Revised Statutes entitled "Regulations of steam vessels," (Laws governing Marine Inspection) which will be furnished by the department through steamboat inspectors, upon application. A master who neglects to have said copies on board, or who unreasonably refuses to exhibit them to a passenger, becomes liable to a fine of $20.

PART V—FOREIGN CLEARANCES

1. Requirements of clearance.—(a) A vessel bound for foreign port or ports must be cleared for definite port or ports in the order of its itinerary, but an application to clear for a port of place "for orders" (instructions to masters as to destination of vessel) may be acted upon favorably if the cargo is to be discharged in a port of the same country as the port to which the vessel is to be cleared.

(b) In the event that departure is delayed beyond the second day after clearance the fact of detention should be noted on the certificate of clearance and on the official record of clearance. If, after clearance, the proposed voyage is canceled, the reason therefor should be reported in writing and the certificate of clearance surrendered.

(c) Collectors may permit vessels to proceed to sea to adjust compasses, try out new machinery, clean tanks, etc., without requiring formal clearance, but the provisions of the oil pollution act must be strictly complied with.

(d) A new vessel built in the United States for foreign account should be cleared under a certificate of record (commerce Form 1316), and a shipper's export declaration must be furnished by the agents or prepared by the collector for statistical purposes.

(e) A shipper's export declaration should likewise be furnished for an American vessel sold foreign upon her first departure from the United States.

(f) Before a clearance certificate (commerce Form 1378) is issued to a vessel bound to a foreign port collectors will verify the compliance with the following requirements as set forth in the succeeding articles:

(1) Accounting for inward cargo.
(2) Verifying nationality and tonnage.
(3) Verification of inspection.
(4) Cattle-carrying vessels.
(5) Meat and meat food products—inedible fats.
(6) Fumigation.
(7) Radio apparatus and operators on steamers.
(8) Outward foreign manifests.
(9) Shippers' export declarations.
(10) Vessel properly documented for foreign trade.
(11) Crew list, certified copy of.
(12) Shipping articles and enforcement of seamen's act.
(13) Observance of neutrality—Exportation of arms and munitions.
(14) Inspection and fees under State laws.

(19) Clearance fees.
(20) Carriage of United States securities.
(21) Carriage of mail matter.
(22) Medicine and slop chest requirement.
(23) Load line regulations.

2. Accounting for inward cargo.—Inward cargo discrepancies must be accounted for and adjusted by post-entry, affidavit, or both, but the vessel may be cleared and the adjustment deferred if the discharging officer's return has not been received.

3. Verifying nationality and tonnage.—Nationality and tonnage of a vessel should be verified by production of the certificate of registry or other national papers. If these documents are not submitted when tonnage tax is imposed and it is afterward found that the amount collected was too small, additional tax should be collected, and a separate tonnage tax receipt should be given.

4. Verification of inspection.—(a) Collectors will ascertain whether the certificate of inspection, as provided for in article 90, C. R. 1937, is still in force.

(b) Masters of all vessels required to be inspected, clearing without passengers, are required to make oath to that effect, as prescribed in commerce Form 1376.

(c) An application to carry persons on cargo vessels in addition to the crew should be made in time to permit an inspection for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the vessel's life saving equipment is sufficient for the entire company.

(d) When a permit is issued for a certain number of such persons it will not be necessary to renew the application or the permit for successive voyages so long as it remains in force unless it is desired to carry a greater number up to the limit of 12, when the vessel must be again visited. If the vessel is found to be equipped with life saving appliances sufficient for the additional number of persons, a permit may be issued therefor.

(e) The master on clearance should be required to subscribe to commerce Form 1375.

5. Cattle-carrying vessels.—The Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Agriculture, inspects animals for export and notice of the inspection must be filed for vessels carrying horses, mules, asses, cattle, sheep, swine, goats, and live domestic poultry.

6. Meat and meat-food products, inedible fats.—(a) All meat and meat-food products except ship stores and small quantities exclusively for the personal use of the consignee and not for sale or for distribution, when shipped to Great Britain or Ireland or any of the countries of continental Europe or to Canada, Venezuela, Argentina, Peru, Colombia, Japan, Cuba, Algeria, or the French Antilles shall be accompanied by export meat-inspection certificates issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. Export meat-inspection certificates are not required for meat and meat-food products exported to countries other than those named.

(b) The duplicate copies of export meat-inspection certificates are required to be delivered by the shipper to the agent of the railroad or other carrier which transports the consignment from the United States otherwise than by water or to the chief officer of the vessel on which the export shipment is made. The chief officer of the vessel shall file such duplicate with the United States customs officer at the time of filing the master's manifest or the supplemental manifest. No clearance shall be given to vessels containing meat and meat-food products destined to the countries named unless the meat and meat-food products are accompanied by export meat-inspection certificates handled as indicated.

(c) No tallow, stearin, oleo oil, or other rendered fat derived from cattle, sheep, swine, or goats that has not been inspected, passed, and marked by the United States Department of Agriculture shall be exported unless the shipper files with the collector of customs at the port from which the export shipment is made an affidavit by the exporter on his export declaration that such article is inedible.

7. Fumigation.—(a) Proof should be required that the vessel has been fumigated if same was ordered by the Public Health Service.

(b) In instances where the quarantine officer remands a vessel to another American port for fumigation, a notation "this vessel to be fumigated at the next United States port" must be placed on the face of the permit to proceed.

8. Radio apparatus and operators on steamers.[1]

9. Outward foreign manifest.—(a) Before or at the time of clearing for a foreign port the master should file with the collector a manifest (commerce Form 1374) of the complete lading of the vessel, but if that be impracticable collectors are authorized to grant clearance on an application on customs Form 7301 and execution of the bond on this form and the filing of a manifest of a few items of merchandise, preferably cargo, upon which advance statistical reports are published.

(b) Bonds are not required for vessels of the United States Maritime Commission under the United States Maritime Commission's "Operating Agreement 1935" and its "Temporary Operating Agreement 1937."

(c) When a vessel with meat or meat food products as cargo clears for ports in Great Britain or Ireland or any of the countries of continental Europe, or to Canada, Venezuela, Argentina, Peru, Colombia, Japan, Cuba, Algeria or the French Antilles, the master should be required to file an affidavit as follows:

I, _____, do solemnly, sincerely, and truly swear that I am the master of the steamship or vessel called the _____, for which clearance is this day requested, and that no meat or meat food products, as defined and classified by the Department of Agriculture, are or will be included in the cargo of the said steamship or vessel, unless such meat or meat food products are duly marked "U. S. Inspected and Passed," and that the certificates covering the same, required by the regulations of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Agriculture, known as Regulation 25 of B. A. I. Order No. 211, have been obtained from the Department of Agriculture and are herewith filed with the master's manifest, or will hereafter be filed with the supplemental manifest of the cargo of said steamship or vessel.

_____,
Master.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this _____ day of _____, 19____.

_____,
Deputy Collector.

(d) The certificate of clearance (commerce Form 1378) granted by a collector for a vessel and its cargo need not specify the particulars thereof, unless required by the master or other person in charge or command of the vessel.

(e) The complete manifests, together with the duplicate shippers' export declarations, must be filed within four days after clearance of vessels, and when received should be numbered consecutively. The customhouse number of the shippers' export declaration for each item of lading must be indicated and the manifests verified by comparison with the shippers' export declarations to verify completeness. Therefore, agents should not accept merchandise for shipment unless accompanied by shippers' export declarations.

(f) Copies of outward manifests will be certified on request at 20 cents per copy.

(g) The following oath must be taken by agent filing final manifest:

I, _____, attorney for the agent of the _____ which cleared from this port _____, do truly swear to the best of my knowledge and belief that the within manifest is a true statement of all the goods, wares, and merchandise laden on board said vessel and that the values of the separate items are as stated in the shipper's export declarations, duplicates of which are filed herewith.

Sworn to before me this _____ day of _____.

Deputy Collector.

10. Shippers' export declarations.—(a) The shippers and consignors of merchandise should deliver to the collector, before clearance of the exporting vessel is granted, verified declarations in duplicate, on customs Forms 7525, of the portions of the cargo to be shipped by them. The declarations may be verified on oath before the collector, his representative, or before notaries public or other persons authorized by law to administer oaths.

(b) On presentation the declarations should be scrutinized carefully to insure compliance with the requirement that the merchandise be correctly described, that the quantities be given in the units called for by the statistical schedule, and that values be correctly stated.

(c) When the declarations are accepted they should be numbered, the duplicates returned to the shippers for delivery with merchandise to the steamship company, and the originals filed in numerical order. (See art. 1261 et seq. C. R. 1937 for preparation of shipper's export declarations.)

11. Vessels properly documented for foreign trade.—(a) Vessels of the United States in the foreign trade must be documented therefor before being cleared for a foreign port and are required to operate under a certificate of registry. (Commerce Form 1265.) A vessel is in the foreign trade as soon as cargo is laden for a foreign port, whether sailing foreign direct, or via a domestic port or ports.

(b) Every enrolled or licensed vessel, unless enrolled and licensed for the coasting and foreign trade on the northern, northeastern, and northwestern frontiers otherwise than by sea, commerce Form 1273, which proceeds on a foreign voyage without being registered is liable to seizure and forfeiture, together with her tackle, apparel, and furniture, and the merchandise so imported therein.

(c) Vessels may engage in trade with and transit the Canal Zone under enrollment and license.

12. Crew list, certified copy of.—Crew lists must be filed at the port of final departure for vessels of the United States clearing for foreign ports or engaged in the whale fishery. A vessel's crew list (commerce—shipping service Form 710A) must contain the names, places of birth, and residence, and personal description of the ship's company, and the names and addresses of their next of kin, to which list the oath of the master shall be annexed that the statements are correct as far as he can ascertain them. The list must be presented in duplicate without erasure or interlineation, and the collector shall certify one copy and deliver it to the master, who shall surrender the list and account for the persons named therein to the collector at the first port in the United States touched at on the return voyage.

13. Shipping articles and enforcement of seamen's act.—(a) Shipping articles (commerce—shipping service Form 705a) in triplicate must be presented at the port of final departure for every vessel of the United States bound to a foreign port, or for any such vessel of 75 tons or upward bound from a port on the Atlantic to a port on the Pacific, or vice versa, and the collector will certify (commerce Form 1455) the triplicates of the articles before a clearance is granted.

(b) These articles of agreement shall be entered into before a United States shipping commissioner if such an officer is at the port or before the collector who is authorized to act at any port in which no shipping commissioner shall have been appointed.

If any seaman, who is required to sign articles in the presence of a shipping commissioner (except as provided in R. S. 4503, 46 U. S. C. 543), is signed on articles without the presence of a shipping commissioner, the statutory penalty prescribed by R. S. 4514, 46 U. S. C. 567, will be incurred. However, replacements occasioned by desertion or casualty (R. S. 4516, 46 U. S. C. 569) may be reported to the United States Consul at the first port at which the vessel may arrive. If such action be taken, no penalty is incurred.

(c) The masters of vessels of the United States engaged in trade between the United States and British North America, or the West Indies or Mexico, or of vessels engaged in the coastwise trade, or lake-going vessels that touch at foreign ports, or of vessels where the seamen are by agreement entitled to share in the profits of voyage, are, however, not required to enter into agreements with their seamen before a United States shipping commissioner unless they so desire. They shall, however, obtain a copy of the shipping articles certified by the collector on commerce Form 1435 when bound on any foreign voyage, other than on foreign voyages enumerated in this subsection.

(d) The Seamen's Act of March 4, 1915, provides that no clearance shall be granted any American or foreign vessel until the requirements of section 11, 38 Stat. 1168, 46 U. S. C. 599, respecting advances and allotments of wages, and also provides that no clearance shall be granted any American vessel until the requirements of section 13, 38 Stat. 1169, 46 U. S. C. 672, regarding the language test and number of able seamen have been complied with but the requirements of section 11, 38 Stat. 1168, 46 U. S. C. 599, apply to foreign vessels only when American seamen are shipped at American ports.

(e) When an American vessel, clearing foreign and subject to the Act, applies for clearance, the collector shall examine the shipping articles (commerce—shipping service Form 705a) and satisfy himself that they carry notations of allotments of wages, if any, and that the vessel has as members of its unlicensed deck crew the required percentage of able seamen, i. e., 65 percent of the deck crew must be of a rating not less than Able Seaman.

(f) Collectors are authorized to accept consuls' certificates that there have been no advances of wages to or for the account of persons signed on in port as members of crews of foreign vessels, nor allotments to any one other than the relatives specified in the Act.

(g) A statement as follows, should be made a part of the outward manifest sworn to by the master, of all vessels, American and foreign, clearing for foreign ports:

I, ----------, master of the within-named vessel do certify that to the best of my knowledge and belief the provisions of the Seamen's Act of March 4, 1915, as amended, have been fully complied with.

----------,
Master.

(h) A collector may, upon his own motion, and shall, upon sworn information of any reputable citizen filed at least 6 hours before a vessel of the United States departs or is scheduled to depart, cause a muster of the crew to determine whether 75 per cent of the crew can understand any order given by the officers of such vessel and if 65 per cent of her deck crew, exclusive of licensed officers and apprentices, are of a rating not less than able seamen.

13A. Port sanitary statements.—(a) Port sanitary statements, United States Public Health Service Form 1964, are issued by medical officers of the United States Public Health Service to vessels departing from United States Ports.

(b) At ports where Public Health Service officers are not available, the port sanitary statements will be issued by collectors of customs.

14. Record of clearance of vessels, record of manifest.—Records of clearance of vessels and outward manifests shall be made in accordance with article 125, C. R. 1937.

15. Foreign vessels proceeding coastwise.—(a) A foreign vessel can not, without incurring a penalty, carry merchandise or passengers from point to point or from port to port in the United States, or for any part of the voyage even though the voyage may be temporarily broken by a clearance for a foreign port and arrival there.

(b) A foreign vessel may, however, proceed from one domestic port to another domestic port in ballast, and should be cleared as follows: Subdivisions (4) and (5) on the reverse side of commerce Form 1385 in duplicate should be used. The original should be filed by the collector issuing the permit to proceed and the copy delivered to the master on which to enter at the next port. Upon arrival at destination the vessel should be entered by making use of the entrance oath subdivision (6) provided on this form. Such movements should be recorded as foreign transactions. A foreign vessel may also proceed from port to port in the United States for the purpose of unlading foreign cargo and/or passengers (art. 150, C. R. 1937), retaining foreign cargo on board (art. 151, C. R. 1937), and/or loading domestic cargo for foreign ports (art. 183, C. R. 1937). Such movements should be recorded as foreign transactions.

If a vessel, bound and cleared from one domestic port to another domestic port is diverted by radio while enroute to a port other than that to which cleared and specified in the permit, the operators should immediately notify the chief officer of customs at the port of clearance of such diversion who should in turn at the expense of the operator notify the chief officer of customs at the port to which the vessel had been diverted. This notification may be accepted as a supplemental permit to proceed to the port to which diverted and should be filed with the entry.

(c) The transportation of passengers by foreign vessels from a port in the United States through domestic and foreign waters, sometimes touching at a foreign port and returning them to the port of departure, is not in violation of the first paragraph of this section.

(d) Foreign vessels can not engage in the American fisheries.

(e) It has been held that the coastwise laws have not been extended to the Canal Zone, and consequently foreign vessels may engage in trade therewith.

16. Vessels clearing foreign via domestic ports.—(a) Any vessel may proceed from port to port to lade cargo for export and/or take passengers for foreign ports. When merchandise is to be laden at several ports the vessel should be cleared at the first port for the foreign port or ports of destination via the domestic port or ports on manifest (commerce Form 1374), in duplicate, itemizing the entire cargo laden at that port. Such movements should be recorded as foreign transactions.

(b) The procedure regarding incomplete manifests outlined in article 173, C. R. 1937, may be followed.

(c) The oath on the reverse side need not be executed, but a permit to proceed (commerce Form 1385) should be attached to each copy of the manifest and one copy given to the master to be used in entering his vessel at the next port of lading and the original copy filed. The shipper's export declarations for the cargo laden at each port should be filed thereat.

(d) On arrival at the second domestic port the master will enter his vessel within 24 hours by making oath on commerce Form 1385 and filing the manifest and permit issued at the first port. This procedure should be followed at all intermediate ports and collectors should specify on outward manifests the domestic ports at which cargo was laden for export. In case of a diversion by radio to a port other than that cleared for, the procedure provided for in sec. 15 (b) should be followed.

(e) The direct foreign clearance of the vessel on commerce Form 1378 will be granted at the final port of departure.

(f) A manifest of a vessel's complete lading must be filed at the final port of clearance. This manifest should consist of certified copies of the complete manifests, filed at each preceding port, and the obligation to prepare, present for certification, and forward the copies to the final port rests with the vessel's agents at each port.

(g) A notation as follows should be made by rubber stamp or otherwise on the outward foreign manifest forms, delivered by the master at each port:

Manifest ---------- complete (or incomplete). Shippers' export declarations and export requirements have been, or will be, met at port of lading and certified copies of complete manifest will be forwarded by vessel's agents to the final port of departure in the United States.

(h) If it becomes necessary to substitute one American vessel for another, collectors may grant an application from a regularly established company and issue an order to transfer the cargo and/or passengers. Notice of the abandonment of the voyage and the name of the substituted vessel must be furnished by the collector granting the application to the collector at the port where the cargo was laden.

(i) Vessels proceeding to American ports in noncontiguous territory to lade or unlade should be entered and cleared in the same manner as vessels proceeding from port to port on the mainland, except that a certificate of clearance (commerce Form 1378) appropriately modified, should be issued to such vessels at the last port of departure.

(j) Any vessel proceeding from port to port to lade cargo for export may also discharge residue foreign cargo, as outlined in article 150, C. R. 1937. American vessels, excepting those not authorized to engage in the coastwise trade, so proceeding, may also lade cargo for delivery at coastwise ports.

(k) On clearance from each port the master shall present a copy of the store list or extract therefrom showing all articles not released from customs acquired abroad by officers and members of the crew, together with all liquor and tobacco remaining on board. The collector shall certify such list, noting thereon any other sea or ship stores which may be unusual in character or quantity, and attach it to the vessel's clearance papers for presentation at the next port.

17. Carriage and mail matter.—A master bound for a foreign port must make oath (commerce Form 1374) that he will not receive nor convey any letters or other packets which have not been regularly posted and received from the post office at the port of departure, except letters or letter packets relating to the cargo and addressed to the owner or consignee of the vessel and letters or letter packets inclosed in United States stamped envelopes of sufficient denomination to cover the postage. It is the duty of the collector to require from the master, as a condition of clearance (commerce Form 1378), an oath or affirmation (commerce Form 1374), that he has not under his care, or within his control, and will not receive or convey any letters or letter packets in violation of this provision. (See art. 121, C. R. 1937.)

PART VI—COASTWISE CLEARANCE AND ENTRANCE

1. Coastwise trade and fisheries limited to American vessels.—(a) The coastwise trade and fisheries of the United States are limited to vessels documented under the laws of the United States.

(b) Foreign vessels, and American vessels with limited registration (registered for foreign trade only) may proceed from one domestic port to another domestic port or ports to complete discharging inward cargoes (art. 150, C. R. 1937), retaining on board cargo for foreign ports (art. 151, C. R. 1937), or to complete lading of outward cargoes, or for both purposes (art. 183, C. R. 1937), but if such vessels proceed in ballast they must be cleared on commerce Form 1385, as outlined in article 182, C. R. 1937.

(c) Barges equipped for harbor transportation must be owned by citizens of the United States.

2. Great districts.—(a) The seacoasts and navigable waters of the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico are divided into six great districts: The first to include all the collection districts on the seacoast and navigable rivers between the northern boundary of the State of Maine and the southern boundary of the State of Texas; the second to consist of the island of Puerto Rico; the third to include the collection districts on the seacoasts and navigable rivers between the southern boundary of the State of California and the northern boundary of the State of Washington; the fourth to consist of the Territory of Alaska; the fifth to consist of the Territory of Hawaii; and the sixth to include all the collection districts on the Great Lakes, their connecting and tributary waters, as far east as the Maquette River, New York.

(b) The navigation of the Yukon, Stikine, and Porcupine Rivers is governed by special regulations.[76]

[76] (a) Navigation Yukon River:

Small American river steamers may be carried in sections from Dyea or the Stikine River to the head waters of the Yukon River, to be assembled there free of Canadian customs duty, and may carry cargo and passengers from customs stations at those head waters to Circle City and other places in Alaska. Such steamers cannot engage in the coasting trade from one place to another in Canadian territory.

In navigating the Yukon River in Canada the usual Canadian customs regulations are to be observed. These permit only vessels of British registry to carry passengers and cargo from one place in Canada and land the same at another place in Canada. If the river steamers transported into the Yukon have American registers, they may clear with passengers and cargo from a customs station on the Yukon in Canada for ports in Alaska and vice versa. In cases of emergency, pending the receipt of registry, a clearance may, however, be granted to any of these steamers without certificate of registry on board for the first voyage down the Yukon to Alaska, but not for a subsequent voyage. (T. D. 18926.)

(b) Vessels in sections.—American stern-wheel steamers built in sections and transported by way of the Stikine River to Lake Teslin will be dealt with in the same manner and under the same regulations as in the case of similar vessels transported in sections by the Dyea route.

The regulations are embodied in (a) above, and provide that small American river steamers may be carried in sections from Dyea, etc., to the head waters of the Yukon River, to be assembled there free of customs duty, and may carry cargo and passengers from customs stations at those head waters to Circle City and other places in Alaska, but cannot engage in the coasting trade from one place to another in Canadian territory. (T. D. 19172.)

(c) Navigation of the Stikine River and its connecting rivers and lakes.—A. Transfer of cargoes and passengers at Wrangell.—1. (a) The transfer of cargo or passengers from a vessel from any port in the United States (except another port or place in Alaska) or from any foreign port to a vessel destined by way of the mouth of the Stikine River to any port or place on the Stikine River or its connecting rivers and lakes, and (b) the transfer of cargo or passengers from a vessel, destined by way of the mouth of the Stikine River from any port or place on the Stikine River, or its connecting rivers and lakes, to any American port or place (except to another port or place in Alaska) or any foreign port, shall be permitted only at the port of Wrangell under the supervision of officers of the customs.

2. Officers of the customs at Wrangell, when they deem it necessary, shall board any vessel bound to the United States within four leagues of the coast of the United States for the purpose of demanding its manifest and enforcing the laws and regulations of the United States.

3. Vessels entitled by law to engage in the coasting trade of the United States may proceed from one port or place in Alaska to another port or place in Alaska in the manner prescribed by law for the entry and clearance of vessels within the same customs district.

B. Entry and clearance at Wrangell.—1. American vessels.—Any vessel entitled by law to engage in the coasting trade of the United States, in ballast, or with passengers or cargo, or both, that are destined from a port or place in the United States (elsewhere than in Alaska) or from a foreign port for any port or place on the Stikine River or its connecting rivers and lakes, shall enter at Wrangell in the manner prescribed by law.

Such vessel may then (a) proceed to her place of destination; or (b) transfer her cargo and passengers, if destined for a port or place in Alaska, to another American vessel, which may proceed according to laws governing the entry and clearance of vessels in the same customs district; or (c) transfer her cargo and passengers, if desamine the shipping articles (commerce—shipping service Form 705a) and satisfy entrance oath subdivision (6) provided to a port other than

(b) Vessels carrying merchandise in bond are required to be cleared and entered at ports of lading and destination of the bonded merchandise, but not at intermediate ports.

(c) Registered vessels moving coastwise and enrolled and licensed vessels proceeding between ports in different great coasting districts are required to be entered and cleared.

(d) Neglect to comply with the foregoing requirements subjects the master or other person in charge or command to a penalty of $100.

(e) The foregoing provisions concerning vessels in the coastwise trade shall not be held to include vessels exclusively engaged in the navigation of the Mississippi River or tributaries above the port of New Orleans.

tined to a port or place in British Columbia or the Northwest Territory, to an American or British vessel which shall clear from Wrangell in the manner provided by law.

2. Foreign vessels.—Any foreign vessel, in ballast, or with passengers or cargo, or both, that are destined from a foreign port or place to a port or place on the Stikine River or its connecting rivers and lakes, shall enter at Wrangell in the manner prescribed by law.

A British vessel may then (a) proceed to her place of destination; or (b) transfer her cargo and passengers, if destined to a port or place in Alaska, to an American vessel, which may proceed according to the law governing the entry and clearance of vessels in the same customs district; or (c) transfer her cargo or passengers, if destined to a port or place in British Columbia or the Northwest Territory, to an American or British vessel, which shall clear from Wrangell in the manner prescribed by law.

3. Article XXVI of the treaty of 1871 between the United States and Great Britain, so far as applicable to the Yukon, Porcupine, and Stikine Rivers, provides:

The navigation of the rivers Yukon, Porcupine, and Stikine ascending and descending, from, to, and into the sea, shall forever remain free and open for the purposes of commerce to the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty and to the citizens of the United States, subject to any laws and regulations of either country within its own territory, not inconsistent with such privilege of free navigation.

This article creates a reserved privilege for a reciprocal equivalent, and the general favored-nation clause of treaties, which covers only gratuitous favors, does not, therefore, apply. The navigation privileges reserved by Article XXVI of the treaty to American citizens and British subjects are not extended to the citizens and vessels of other nations.

C. Arrival of vessels at Wrangell from ports or places in British Columbia or the Northwest Territory.—1. A vessel descending the Stikine River from ports or places in British Columbia or the Northwest Territory, in ballast, or with cargo or passengers, or both, shall come to at Wrangell, or such port near the boundary between Alaska and British Columbia or the Northwest Territory as may hereafter be designated, and shall report in compliance with law. (Note: The last part of this regulation originally read "and shall report in compliance with the provisions of Section 2772 of the Revised Statutes," R. S. 2772 relative to report of entry by master of every vessel bound to a port of delivery was repealed by Section 641 of the Tariff Act of 1922, 42 Stat. 989. Section 433 of the Tariff Act of 1922, 42 Stat. 951 provided for the report of arrival of vessels and the duty of the master. It in turn was repealed by the Act of June 17, 1930, chapter 497, Title 4, Section 651 (a)

4. Coastwise clearance and entrance procedure between ports in the same great district.—(a) The master of a vessel clearing from one coastwise port to another coastwise port in the same great district will deliver to the collector verified duplicate manifests on commerce Form 1381 of the cargo laden at that port for the other domestic port of discharge. If the vessel is light or in ballast, the reverse side of commerce Form 1385 should be used in lieu of the manifest. The collector will return to the master one copy of commerce Form 1381 or 1385, as the case may be, with the permit to proceed thereon, which the master, upon his arrival at the port of destination, will present for entry purposes.

(b) If cargo is laden at one domestic port for more than one other domestic port, the master will deliver to the collector verified duplicate manifests (commerce Form 1381) representing the lading at that port for each such other port, and the collector will return one copy for each such other port with permit to proceed thereon. Cargo other than bonded goods need not be itemized—a general statement being sufficient.

(c) Where bonded goods are carried covered by transportation entries, the merchandise should be so manifested as to show that it is bonded and the transportation entry numbers quoted. The names and addresses of shippers and consignees need not be quoted.

(d) If bonded goods are loaded after the master has cleared the vessel at the customhouse, the master may make proper notations on the copy of the manifest in his possession before he presents it for entrance of the vessel at the port of destination, and he should notify the collector at port of clearance, furnishing the necessary details.

(e) Collectors at intermediate ports should not take up manifests not pertaining to the cargo destined for such ports, nor should they require masters, upon clearance, to furnish duplicate manifests covering other than the cargo or ballast laden at their particular ports.

(f) The entry of a vessel coastwise consists of delivering to the collector within 24 hours after arrival the sworn manifest of cargo certified to on commerce Form 1381 or 1385, and obtaining from the collector a permit to discharge on customs Form 3169.

(g) If there be no cargo on board the master must produce the coastwise clearance and permit granted by the collector at the port of departure.

5. Coastwise clearance and entrance procedure between ports in different great districts.—(a) Trade with noncontiguous territories of the United States.—(1) While the trade between continental United States and Alaska, Puerto Rico, and Hawaii is strictly coastwise, for statistical purposes, American vessels clearing to and from ports in noncontiguous territories of the United States must file

(1), 46 Stat. 762. Section 433 of the Tariff Act of 1930, 46 Stat. 711, 19 U. S. C. 1433 provides as follows: "Report of Arrival. Within twenty-four hours after the arrival of any vessel from a foreign port or place or of a foreign vessel from a domestic port, or of a vessel of the United States carrying bonded merchandise, or foreign merchandise for which entry has not been made, at any port or place within the United States at which such vessel shall come to, the master shall, unless otherwise provided by law, report the arrival of the vessel at the nearest customhouse under such regulations as the Secretary of Commerce may prescribe.") (See also Section 601.3)

2. American vessels.—A vessel, entitled by law to engage in the coastwise trade of the United States, may then (a) proceed on her voyage in compliance with the laws governing the coasting trade of the United States; or (b) enter at Wrangell and there transfer her cargo and passengers, if destined to a port or place in the United States, to an American vessel, as transfers are provided for in section A of these regulations; or (c) enter at Wrangell and there transfer her cargo and passengers, if destined to a foreign port or place, to an American or foreign vessel.

3. British vessels.—A British vessel may then enter at Wrangell and there transfer her cargo and passengers, as such transfers are provided for in section A of these regulations: (a) if destined to an American port, to an American vessel; or (b) if destined to a foreign port, to an American or foreign vessel.

D. Supervision of vessels ascending and descending the Stikine River.—The collector of customs of Alaska, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall from time to time station deputy collectors and inspectors of customs at such places on the Stikine River as he may deem necessary for the enforcement of the laws of the United States. Such officers shall be compensated at rates to be fixed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

E. Privileges.—British vessels plying on the Stikine River may touch at places in Alaska for the purchase of fuel or supplies, or in distress, under the supervision of an officer of the customs.

Said officer of the customs may, in his discretion, issue permits for the temporary landing of passengers, but if any passenger fails to return to a vessel before her departure the vessel shall become liable to the penalty prescribed by law. (T. D. 19324)

(d) Navigation of the Yukon and Porcupine rivers between Dawson and Rampart.—(1) A vessel from Dawson or Rampart, and destined by way of the Yukon and Porcupine rivers through Alaska for another place in the Northwest Territory, shall report at the subport nearest the point at which such vessel shall enter the waters of the United States, there pay tonnage dues and other legal charges, and enter as prescribed by law.

(2) The deputy collector of customs at such subport shall then issue a special permit for such vessel to proceed to the subport nearest to the point at which it is about to depart from the waters of the United States.

(3) Such vessel shall come to and report at the subport nearest the point at which it is about to depart from the waters of the United States, and upon satisfying the deputy collector of customs that it has complied with the laws and regulations may clear to its destination.

(4) These regulations shall not be construed to deprive an American vessel of any of the privileges of the coasting trade to which it is entitled by law.

(5) Until other subports have been established on the Porcupine River and on the upper Yukon, the report subsequent to entry into the waters of the United States, and prior to the departure therefrom, prescribed above, may both be made at Circle City. Such subports will be established, however, as soon as practicable. (T. D. 19435) complete manifests (or incomplete manifests—customs Form 7301), together with shippers' export declarations as described in article 173, C. R. 1937. Bonded merchandise should be manifested as prescribed in article 198, C. R. 1937.

(2) Where the cargo is to be transshipped in another customs district, including Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands of the United States for transportation to a foreign country or noncontiguous territory of the United States, the shippers' export declarations (customs Form 7525) should be filed only with the collector of customs at the port where the merchandise is last laden for its final destination.

(3) A certificate of clearance (commerce Form 1378), appropriately modified by striking out "to a foreign port" and substituting "to noncontiguous territory of the United States" should be issued to such vessels.

(4) Upon arrival the master should surrender the modified clearance (commerce Form 1378); present an itemized manifest (commerce Form 1381) in triplicate, subscribing to the coastwise entrance oath thereon; furnish a passenger list (commerce Form 1440)," and comply with the requirements of the Public Health Service regarding bills of health and quarantine inspection.

(5) One copy of the manifest should be filed as coastwise entrance; and when covering merchandise subject to internal-revenue tax, another copy should be sent by the collector of customs to the collector of internal revenue indicating the merchandise subject to such tax; and the third copy should be attached to the coastwise permit to land goods (customs Form 3169) which should bear the following notation: "You will deliver to the collector of internal revenue all merchandise subject to internal revenue tax and obtain his receipt for same on back hereof."

(b) Special procedure for vessels engaged in intercoastal trade exclusively.—(1) American vessels in trade between Atlantic and Pacific ports will be cleared on commerce Form 1382, "Intercoast permit for an American vessel to proceed from port to port on the Atlantic or the Pacific coast to lade for a port or ports on the opposite coast", and on manifest formed of as many parts as there are ports of discharge, i. e., the lading for each port on the opposite coast shall be manifested on uncertified separate sheets, in duplicate, in such detail as to show the quantity in long tons of 2,240 pounds, and description of each commodity carried, but commodities in quantities of less than 10 tons each may be combined and designated as "General cargo."

(2) Original manifests, or parts thereof, will be filed at port of lading, and copies will go forward with vessels to the respective ports of discharge.

(3) Excepting the cargo reports provided for in article 193, C. R. 1937, no statistical reports of coastwise cargoes are required at the port of departure. If a vessel (not engaged in a simultaneous foreign transaction as described in article 201, C. R. 1937) continues to load cargo after clearing, corrected uncertified sheets showing all the cargo loaded may be prepared by the agents after departure of the vessel and forwarded by overland mail, to be substituted before entrance for the sheets presented on clearance.

(4) To provide for the master's oath on clearance and entrance between intermediate ports, when proceeding from the first port of lading to the last port of discharge, duplicate manifests on commerce Form 1381 will be used, on which a notation as follows should be made in lieu of specifying the cargo on board.

Cargo laden at _____ (name first and each subsequent port)
_____ (Pacific coast ports or vice versa) as per manifest(s) filed at each port on clearance.
No local cargo loaded at _____ (That port of departure) for _____ (next intermediate port)
(Or cross out and specify local cargo, if any was carried.)

The oath and permit on the reverse side will be used.

(5) On arrival at the first intermediate port of lading the master will enter his vessel on the returned copy of commerce Form 1381 and will deposit the coastwise permit to proceed, commerce Form 1382, and the manifests of cargo laden at preceding port. This permit with attached manifests will be returned to the master on clearing, together with a copy of the manifest of the cargo laden at that port, which copy should be attached to the appropriate sheets; and the vessel will be cleared on duplicate commerce Form 1381 to the next intermediate port.

(6) On arrival at the second and subsequent ports the procedure outlined will be followed.

(7) At final port of lading the vessel will be cleared for the first port of discharge on the opposite coast on the same permit, commerce Form 1382, and on duplicate commerce Form 1381.

(8) On arrival at the first port of discharge (on the opposite coast) the master will enter on the returned copy of commerce Form 1381 issued on clearance at the last port, the duplicate and triplicate part manifest of the cargo destined for that port, and the permit to proceed, commerce Form 1382. The triplicate manifest should be attached to customs Form 3169 for the use of the discharging inspector. He will also deposit with the collector the part manifests of the cargo destined for other ports. On completion of unlading the vessel will be cleared on duplicate commerce Form 1381, and the collector will return the manifests of the cargo destined for other ports attached to commerce Form 1384, "Coasting trade permit allowing American vessel to proceed to another port with residue of cargo under original coasting manifest."

(9) On arrival at the second and at subsequent ports of discharge the vessel will be entered on the returned copy of commerce Form 1381, issued at the preceding port, and the permit, commerce Form 1384, and the part manifest of the cargo destined for that port. The master will deposit with the collector the part manifests of the residue cargo not destined for that port.

(10) On clearing from second and subsequent ports the procedure outlined will be followed.

(c) Special procedure for the shipment of other than bonded merchandise on an American vessel between any two ports of the United States or its island possessions via the Panama Canal, to be transshipped in the Canal Zone to another American vessel.—(1) When other than bonded merchandise, shipped on an American vessel between ports of the United States, including its island possessions, via the Isthmus of Panama, is to be transshipped to another American vessel in the Canal Zone, a special manifest shall be prepared in triplicate on commerce Form 1381, and certified by the collector of customs at the port of departure, Form 1381, to be modified to meet the circumstances and to harmonize with the forms provided for in article 236, C. R. 1937, as follows:

Special Coastwise Manifest of Merchandise To Be Transshipped in the Canal Zone

Customs District No. _____ Port of _____

We certify that the above-described merchandise (other than bonded goods) has been laden on the American S. S. _____ at _____ for transportation to _____ to be transshipped at the Panama Canal Zone to [16] another American vessel for carriage to destination.

_____, _____
Inspector.
Deputy Collector of Customs.

Oath on arrival

I, _____, master of the (second vessel) of _____, do swear that the certified manifest which I now exhibit contains a true account of the articles transshipped from the said _____ (first vessel), in the Canal Zone.

Master.

(2) One copy of the manifest shall be filed in the office of the collector at the port of departure, one copy delivered to the master of the vessel to be given to the master of the second vessel for his use in making entry at the port of arrival, and one copy mailed to the collector at the port of destination of the merchandise, same to be attached to the [11] Form 1440 not required, except in cases of vessels entering from foreign ports.

[16] The oath of arrival on reverse side should be modified so that the Master of the vessel to which transshipped will certify transshipment and sign his name as master of such vessel (naming the vessel to which transshipped).

delivery permit (customs Form 3169) when the second vessel enters at destination.

(3) It will not be necessary to seal the packages or the compartments in which they are shipped, nor will any supervision of the transshipment in the Canal Zone be required. However, upon arrival of the merchandise at the port of destination, the packages will be examined by officers of the customs and compared with the marks and numbers on the manifest. All goods so shipped not corresponding with the manifest, will be held for duty. Baggage of passengers may be manifested in this manner, but will be subject to inspection.

(4) These regulations shall not apply to merchandise shipped in bond.

(d) Trade between ports in Great District No. 1 (Atlantic and Gulf coasts) and Great District No. 6 (Great Lake ports).—(1) Vessels proceeding via the St. Lawrence River must operate under certificate of registry (art. 71, C. R. 1937). They are required by Canadian Customs to enter and clear at Montreal, and must comply with foreign entrance requirements (art. 113 C. R. 1937) in addition to the coastwise procedure (art. 201, C. R. 1937). If cargoes are laden or discharged at, or passengers carried to or from, Canadian ports, tonnage taxes and navigation fees should be collected. Foreign manifests in detail (customs Form 7527–B) with appropriate notations are a necessity and the duplicate manifests (commerce Form 1381) of the lading at each coastwise port must be certified by the collectors (art. 201, C. R. 1937). When no passengers or cargoes or supplies are carried to or from Canadian ports, tonnage taxes and navigation fees may be waived.

(2) Vessels proceeding via the Hudson River should operate under Frontier Enrollment and License, commerce Form 1273, which may be issued at seaboard ports. If the vessels are engaged only in the coastwise trade they should follow the procedure for the trade between ports in the same Great District (art. 198, C. R. 1937) and if engaged in the coastwise and foreign trade they should follow the procedure outlined in article 201, C. R. 1937.

6. Registered vessels in coastwise trade.—(a) Vessels under register engaged in the coasting trade, bound from one collection district to another, are required to enter and clear, whether they are in ballast or with cargo. The regulations regarding great coasting districts do not affect them.

(b) When a part only of the cargo is discharged, the collector will indorse the articles so discharged on the manifest and will grant a permit to the master to proceed with the vessel to the place of her further destination.

(c) If there be no cargo on board, the master must produce the coastwise clearance and permit granted by the collector at the port of departure.

(d) The register will be deposited with the collector upon entrance, and returned to the master upon clearance. It should be examined to see that the vessel is entitled to engage in the coastwise trade.

7. Registered vessels in coastwise and foreign trade.—(a) A vessel with unrestricted registration (i. e., one which may engage in coastwise trade) moving coastwise with inward foreign cargo under article 150, C. R. 1937 and/or proceeding from port to port to lade cargo for a foreign port under article 183, C. R. 1937, may simultaneously engage in the coastwise trade. Under these conditions, both foreign and coastwise clearance and entrance are required.

(b) Such a registered vessel may engage in trade between ports of the United States, with the privilege of touching at one or more foreign ports during the voyage, discharging and receiving merchandise, passengers, baggage, and mails, but must be furnished by the collector of the port in the United States at which cargo is laden, with certified manifests in duplicate setting forth the particulars of the cargo, the marks, numbers of packages, names of shippers, consignees, and destination.

(c) Vessels so employed, and their cargoes, are subject to the provisions of the revenue and collection laws of the United States, and their masters must, on arrival from a foreign port, conform to the laws regulating foreign and coastwise entrance. The duplicate certified coastwise manifest will be sent to the discharging inspector with the permit to land (customs Form 3169) attached.

(d) Merchandise conveyed from one port to another port within the United States, under the provisions of the warehousing laws, and duty-paid goods, are not subject to duty by reason of the vessel having touched at a foreign port during the voyage.

8. Report of arrival at another port.—Whenever a vessel which is required to enter and clear in the coastwise trade shall put into a port other than the one to which she is bound, the master must, if she remains 24 hours, report to the collector his arrival, the place whence he came, and whither he is bound, with an account of the lading on board his vessel.

9. Masters in coastwise trade to keep a count of passengers.—(a) The master of every passenger steamer of the United States in the coastwise trade shall keep a correct count of all the passengers received and delivered from day to day, which count shall be open to the inspection of the inspectors and officers of the customs at all times, and the aggregate number of passengers shall be furnished to inspectors as often as called for.

(b) A correct list of passengers received and delivered from day to day shall be kept, instead of a correct count, by the masters of seagoing passenger steamers in the coastwise trade and by the masters of passenger steamers on the Great Lakes on routes exceeding 300 miles. Nothing herein shall affect existing laws relative to vessels running between this country and foreign ports.

(c) The master of any passenger steamer who fails through negligence or design to keep a count or list of passengers as required by the preceding paragraphs shall be liable to a penalty of $100.

(d) The penalty shall be a lien upon the vessel, but a bond may, as provided in other cases, be given to secure the satisfaction of the judgment.

10. Fishing vessels touching and trading at foreign places.—(a) The master of a vessel licensed to carry on the fisheries which is about to engage in a fishing voyage must, if the vessel intends to touch or trade at a foreign port or place, obtain from the collector at the port from which the vessel is to depart a permit (commerce Form 1379) for such purpose. On return to the United States he must make regular entry, surrender the permit to touch and trade, and in all respects conform to the regulations prescribed for vessels arriving from a foreign port. A permit to touch and trade for the purpose of touching at a foreign port or place may not be issued to a vessel licensed for the "coasting trade and mackerel fishery" which is departing on a voyage to engage exclusively in trade. In such a case the vessel must secure a certificate of registry and obtain clearance for the foreign port or place.

(b) Foreign merchandise imported in such vessels is liable to the payment of duties thereon. Vessels licensed for the fisheries found within 3 leagues of the coast with foreign goods of greater value than $500, and without such permit, will, with such goods, be subject to forfeiture.

11. Guano trade.—(a) Commercial intercourse with the guano islands that are bonded in pursuance of law forms a part of the coasting trade of the United States, and the laws relative thereto forbid foreign vessels from engaging in such trade.

(b) Vessels engaged in the guano trade are not required to produce clearances or certified manifests from such islands. The masters of such vessels must have manifests of the cargo, subscribed by themselves, to be produced on demand to officers of the customs for inspection. Entry at the customhouse must be made on arrival at the port of destination in the United States, and the cargo inspected by the customs officers.

12. Vessels of 5 net tons or over arriving from contiguous foreign countries.—Vessels of 5 net tons or over arriving from contiguous foreign countries, including such vessels sailing coastwise from a domestic port and touching at a foreign port or ports en route for the purpose of lading or unlading cargo, shall be entered and manifests shall be filed therefor in duplicate on customs Form 7527, in the same manner as in the case of vessels arriving from any other foreign country. (See art. 122 (b), C. R. 1937.)

13. Domestic vessels touching at foreign ports—departure.—The master of every registered or enrolled and licensed vessel departing for a foreign contiguous country shall be required to clear and file a manifest in duplicate on commerce Form 1374 in the same manner as in the case of a vessel departing for any other foreign country.

14. Foreign vessels—Departure for contiguous foreign countries.—Foreign vessels departing for a foreign contiguous country are subject to all the laws and regulations governing the departure of vessels for any other foreign country.

PART VII—ACCEPTANCE OF SAFETY CERTIFICATES ISSUED UNDER INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION

1. Instructions to supervising and local inspectors and collectors of customs."—Under the International Convention on Safety of Life at Sea signed at London May 31, 1929, provision was made for the issue to vessels of countries signatory or acceding to the Convention, of safety certificates equivalent to our certificates of inspection. These safety certificates can be issued only to vessels which are in full compliance with the provisions of the Safety Convention, and the regulations of that Convention have been found by this Department to be at least as effective in safeguarding life as our existing laws.

You are hereby instructed that vessels carrying such unexpired safety certificates issued under authority of the said Convention shall be subject to no other inspection than necessary to satisfy the local inspectors that the condition of the vessel, her boilers, and lifesaving equipments are as stated in her current safety certificate.

This instruction will apply only to the vessels of countries which have by their laws accorded to the vessels of the United States visiting such countries the same privilege accorded herein to the vessels of such countries visiting the United States.

PART VIII—SEAMEN'S PROTECTION CERTIFICATES

1. Applications.—(a) An application for a seaman's protection certificate (commerce Form 1437) must be in writing, signed and sworn to and presented to the collector by the applicant in person, together with satisfactory evidence that he is a seaman and legal evidence that he is a citizen of the United States.

(b) The application must bear the left thumb print, photograph, and signature of the applicant and be stamped with the same serial number as the corresponding certificate (commerce Form 1436). The signature must be written partly across the seal space and partly across the photograph.

(c) The evidence submitted should be noted on the application and attached thereto, except when it is in the form of certificates from permanent records, in which case proper notations of the records may be made on the application and the certificates returned to the applicant. Affidavits are not of this class and should be retained by collectors and attached to the application.

(d) The applications with attached papers should be filed alphabetically by names of applicants.

2. Evidence that applicant is an American seaman.—Licenses of officers, continuous discharge books, certificates of identification, recent discharges from the United States Navy or merchant marine vessels, and certificates from properly authorized persons showing that the applicants have been engaged for service as members of the crews of outgoing American vessels may be accepted as evidences of seamanship. The last-named certificates should be retained and attached to the applications.

3. Evidence of American citizenship.—(a) Evidence of citizenship should be of the character described in sec. 23, part I. The applicant should furnish proof that he either was born in the United States, or was duly naturalized as a citizen thereof, or was born of an American father in a foreign country or at sea.

(b) A foreign-born seaman claiming American citizenship through naturalization based upon his own application to a court, or derived through his parent, must furnish a certificate of naturalization issued by the clerk of the court in which the naturalization occurred, or a certificate of citizenship issued by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, Washington, D. C.

4. Seamen's protection certificates.—(a) The certificate (commerce Form 1456) shall contain a full description of the applicant, particular attention being paid to identification marks, and shall issue only to an American seaman who has produced proof in the manner directed by law that he is a native or naturalized citizen of the United States.

(b) Each certificate should bear the left thumb print, photograph, and signature of the person described therein. The signature should be written partly across the seal space and partly across the photograph.

(c) The collector of customs or his authorized deputy should sign each certificate and impress the seal of his office thereon.

(d) The certificate should bear the same serial number and date as the application (commerce Form 1437).

5. Duplicate certificates.—Duplicate certificates on commerce Form 1436, may be issued on presentation of an affidavit as to loss satisfactory to the collector. They shall be issued only by the port which issued the original, and if application is made at any other port the applicant's affidavit accompanied by two photographs of himself should be forwarded to the collector of the port of issue and the duplicate certificate delivered to the applicant when it is received from such port. It should be stamped "duplicate."

6. General instructions.—(a) Information concerning seamen, desired by relatives and others, may be given in the discretion of collectors.

(b) No certificate should be issued to an applicant under 17 years of age without the written permission of his parents or guardian, acknowledged before a notary public.

2. Wherever the period specified herein for the retention of cash and other documents which may be involved in claims by or against the utility is shorter than the period specified in the statute of limitations of the State wherein the utility operates, the latter shall control.

3. Voluminous detailed records, such as material requisitions and issues, time and labor distribution cards, etc., may be photographed and the films kept for the respective periods indicated in lieu of the original documents, but this rule shall not apply to cash and journal vouchers and similar important documents, although it does apply to the details in support thereof.

7. These regulations shall not be construed as requiring the keeping of accounts, records, or memoranda not required to be kept by other regulations, such as the Uniform System of Accounts, of the Commission.

8. These regulations shall not be construed as excusing compliance with any other lawful requirement for the preservation of accounts, records, or memoranda for longer periods than those herein prescribed.

By inserting in line 3 of the second paragraph after the word "attorneys" the words or agents

RULE 11

By striking out in the second line of the third paragraph the words "or his attorney" and inserting the words , his attorney or agent

RULE 14

By inserting in the fifth line of the second paragraph after the word "attorney" the word , agent

RULE 17

By cancelling the present rule and substituting therefor the following:

17. An applicant or an assignee of the entire interest may prosecute his own case, but he is advised, unless familiar with such matters, to employ a competent registered attorney or registered agent, as the value of patents depends largely upon the skillful preparation of the specification and claims. The office cannot aid in the selection of an attorney or agent.

A register of attorneys and a register of agents will be kept in this office, on which will be entered the names of all persons entitled to represent applicants before the Patent Office in the presentation and prosecution of applications for patent. Registration under the provision of this rule shall not be construed as authorizing persons not members of the bar to practice law.

(a) Upon written request there will be entered upon the register of attorneys the name of any attorney at law who is in good standing in any court of record in the United States or any of the States or Territories thereof and who shall furnish a certificate of the clerk of such United States, State, or Territorial court, duly authenticated under the seal of the court, that he is an attorney in good standing and who shall establish to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that he is possessed of the necessary legal and scientific qualifications to enable him to render applicants for patents valuable service and is otherwise competent to advise and assist them in the presentation and prosecution of their applications before the Patent Office.

(b) The name of any firm which shall show that the individual members composing the firm are each and all registered as attorneys under section (a) will, upon written request, be entered upon the register of attorneys.

(c) Upon written request, there will be entered upon the register of agents, the name of any person not an attorney at law, who is a citizen or resident of the United States and who shall establish to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that he is of good moral character and of good repute and possessed of the necessary legal and scientific qualifications to enable him to render applicants for patents valuable service and is otherwise competent to advise and assist them in the presentation and prosecution of their applications before the Patent Office.

(d) The name of any firm which shall show that the individual members composing the firm are each and all registered either as attorneys under section (a) or as agents under section (c) will, upon written request, be entered upon the register of agents.

(e) In order to determine whether a person seeking to have his name placed upon the aforesaid registers has the qualifications specified in paragraphs (a) and (c), an examination will be held from time to time. No person will be permitted to take the examination unless he submits satisfactory proof as to his good moral character and as to having had a sufficient basic training in scientific and technical matters: Provided, That the taking of the examination may be waived in the case of any person who has served for 3 years in the examining corps of the Patent Office.

(f) Any foreign patent attorney not a resident of the United States, who shall file proof to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that he is registered and in good standing before the patent office of the country of which he is a citizen or subject, and is possessed of the qualifications stated in paragraph (c) will be registered as entitled to represent applicants before the Patent Office in the presentation and prosecution of applications: Provided, That the patent office of the country of which he is a citizen or subject allows substantially reciprocal privileges to those admitted to practice before the United States Patent Office.

(g) Any person or firm not registered and not entitled to be recognized under this rule as an attorney or agent to represent applicants generally may, upon a showing of circumstances which render it necessary or justifiable, be recognized by the Commissioner to prosecute as attorney or agent certain specified application or applications, but this limited recognition shall not extend further than the application or applications named.

(h) No person not registered or entitled to recognition as above provided will be permitted to prosecute applications before the Patent Office.

(i) Every attorney and agent registered to practice before the United States Patent Office shall submit to the Commissioner of Patents for approval copies of all proposed advertising matter, circulars, letters, cards, etc., intended to solicit patent business, and if it be not disapproved by him and the attorney or agent so notified within ten days after submission, it may be considered approved.

No registered agent shall, in advertising matter or in papers filed in the Patent Office, represent himself to be an attorney, solicitor or lawyer.

Any registered attorney or agent sending out or using any such matter, a copy of which has not been submitted to the Commissioner of Patents in accordance with this rule, or which has been disapproved by the Commissioner of Patents, and any registered agent misrepresenting his status shall be subject to suspension or disbarment.

(j) Before his name may be entered on the register of attorneys or on the register of agents every applicant must, after his application is approved, subscribe and swear to an oath prescribed by the Commissioner of Patents and pay to the office a registration fee of $5.

(k) The status of any person or firm whose name stands enrolled on the register of attorneys at the date when the present rule becomes effective will not be affected by any provision of this rule.

PUERTO RICO SUGAR QUOTA

NOTICE OF HEARING AND DESIGNATION OF PRESIDING OFFICERS

Pursuant to the authority contained in Section 205 (a) of the Sugar Act of 1937 (Public, No. 414, 75th Congress) and on the basis of the information now before me, I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, do hereby find that the allotment of that portion of the 1939 quota for Puerto Rico for consumption in the continental United States which may be filled by direct-consumption sugar, pursuant to section 207 (b) of the said act, is necessary to prevent disorderly marketing and importation of such sugar and to afford all interested parties an equitable opportunity to market such sugar in the continental United States, and hereby give notice that a public hearing will be held at Washington, D. C., in the auditorium of the United States Department of Agriculture on October 25, 1938, at 10 a. m.

The purpose of such hearing is to receive evidence to enable the Secretary of Agriculture (1) to make a fair, efficient and equitable distribution of the abovementioned portion of the 1939 quota for Puerto Rico among persons who bring such sugar into the continental United States, and (2) to amend Puerto Rico Sugar Order No. 11, issued June 1, 1938,[1] for the purpose of allotting among Puerto Rican processors of direct-consumption sugar the portion of the unallotted reserve established therein which is unfilled on November 15, 1938.

A statement setting forth a tentative basis for the 1939 allotments may be obtained from the Hearing Clerk, Office of the Solicitor, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Mr. Robert B. Tyler and Mr. John C. Bagwell are hereby designated as presiding officers to conduct either jointly or severally the foregoing hearing.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 6th day of October 1938. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

[Docket No. A-83 O-83]

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND ORDER REGULATING HANDLING OF MILK IN LOWELL - LAWRENCE, MASSACHUSETTS, MILK MARKETING AREA

PREPARED AND PROPOSED BY THE NEW ENGLAND MILK PRODUCERS' ASSOCIATION, INC., UPON WHICH SAID ASSOCIATION HAS REQUESTED THE SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE TO HOLD A HEARING UNDER THE AGRICULTURAL MARKETING AGREEMENT ACT OF 1937

Whereas, the New England Milk Producers' Association, Inc., has requested the Secretary of Agriculture to hold a public hearing on a marketing agreement and order prepared and proposed by such association and designed to regulate such handling of milk in the Lowell-Lawrence, Massachusetts, milk marketing area as is in the current of interstate commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate commerce in such milk; and

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture has reason to believe that the execution of a marketing agreement or the issuance of an order will tend to effectuate the declared policy of Public Act No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, with respect to such handling of milk in the Lowell-Lawrence, Massachusetts, milk marketing area as is in the current of interstate commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate commerce in such milk; and

Whereas, under said act notice of and opportunity for a hearing are required prior to the execution of a marketing agreement or the issuance of an order, and the General Regulations, Series A, No. 1, as amended, of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, provide for such notice;

Now, therefore, pursuant to said act and said general regulations, notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held on the aforementioned marketing agreement and order, prepared and proposed by the aforementioned association and designed to regulate such handling of milk in the Lowell-Lawrence Massachusetts, milk marketing area as is in the current of interstate commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate commerce in such milk.

This public hearing will be held in Dracut Grange Hall, Dracut, Massachusetts, at 9: 30 a. m., e. s. t., October 14, 1938.

At this public hearing, which will be held jointly with the Milk Control Board of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, representative of the Secretary of Agriculture will receive factual evidence (1) as to whether marketing conditions for such handling of milk in the Lowell-Lawrence, Massachusetts, milk marketing area as is in the current of interstate commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate commerce in such milk are so disorderly as to necessitate regulation in order that the declared policy of the act may be effectuated, and (2) as to the specific provisions which a marketing agreement or order should contain.

The proposed marketing agreement and order provide, among other things, for: (a) selection of a market administrator, (b) classification of milk, (c) minimum prices, (d) reports of handlers, (e) payments to producers through the use of individual handler pools, (f) payments to the market administrator for marketing services, and (g) expenses of administration.

It is hereby declared that an emergency exists in the handling of milk in the aforesaid area, and that a shorter period of notice than fifteen (15) days is therefore required; and it is hereby determined that the period of notice given is reasonable under the circumstances.

This notice of hearing on the said marketing agreement and order supersedes the notice of hearing issued on September 30, 1938.

Copies of the proposed marketing agreement or order may be inspected in or procured from Room 0318, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

It shall state the reasons for the appeal and whether it is requested, provided the conditions named below can be met, that the appeal be made on the basis of a new sample or on a representative portion of the original sample. An appeal may be made on a new sample only provided (a) all of the seed covered by such inspection is available and accessible for an appeal inspection, (b) the condition of the seed has not undergone any material change, and (c) the identity of the seed has not been lost.

SEC. 4. (62.21) When an appeal may be dismissed.—If it shall appear that the reasons stated in an appeal are frivolous or unsubstantial, or the act or these regulations have not been complied with, the appeal may be dismissed, the appellant shall be notified by telegraph or in writing of the reason for such dismissal, a statement of such action shall be included in the record of such appeal by the officer making the same, and all expenses incurred in connection therewith shall be paid by the appellant as provided in regulation 7, section 3. SEC. 5. (62.22) When an appeal may be withdrawn.—An appeal may be withdrawn by the appellant at any time before the appeal sample or any portion thereof is drawn upon payment of any expense incurred by the department in connection therewith as provided in regulation 7, section 3.

SEC. 6. (62.23) Order in which made.—Appeal inspections shall be made as nearly as practicable in the order in which applications are received, and shall take precedence over other inspections.

This appeal inspection certificate shall state the class, dockage, and condition of the seed as shown by the appeal inspection. It shall supersede all other certificates for inspection of the same lot of seed previously made and shall refer specifically to the inspection from which the appeal is taken. Copies of the appeal inspection certificate shall be sent to all interested parties, if known, other than the carriers, and to such of them as have been applicants for any former inspection of the seed on which the special inspection is made. In all other respects the provisions of regulation 4 relative to inspections shall apply to appeal inspections.

SEC. 9. (62.26) Superseded certificates.—The appeal inspection certificate shall supersede all other certificates for inspections of the same lot of seed previously made at the same place and applicable to the same lot of seed at the time the appeal certificate was issued. When an inspection certificate has been superseded under these regulations by an appeal inspection certificate, it shall not thereafter represent the class and dockage of the lot of seed described therein. If the original and all copies of the superseded certificates are not delivered to the person with whom the application for an appeal inspection is filed, the inspector issuing the appeal inspection certificate shall forward notice of such issuance and of the cancellation of the original certificate to such persons as he considers necessary to prevent fraudulent use of the canceled certificate.

AGRICULTURAL ADJUSTMENT ADMINISTRATION

ORDER REGULATING SUCH HANDLING OF BEURRE D'ANJOU, BEURRE BOSC, WINTER NELIS, DOYENNE DU COMICE, BEURRE EASTER, AND BEURRE CLAIRGEAU VARIETIES OF FRESH PEARS IN THE OREGON, WASHINGTON, AND CALIFORNIA MARKETING AREA AS IS IN INTERSTATE COMMERCE, AND AS DIRECTLY BURDENS, OBSTRUCTS, OR AFFECTS INTERSTATE COMMERCE

Whereas, it is provided in Public No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, approved June 3, 1937 (hereinafter called the act), as follows:

SEC. 8c. (1) The Secretary of Agriculture shall, subject to the provisions of this section, issue, and from time to time amend, orders applicable to processors, associations of producers, and others engaged in the handling of any agricultural commodity or product thereof specified in subsection (2) of this section. Such persons are referred to in this title as "handlers." Such orders shall regulate, in the manner hereinafter in this section provided, only such handling of such agricultural commodity, or product thereof, as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects, interstate or foreign commerce in such commodity or product thereof.

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture, hereinafter referred to as the "Secretary", has proclaimed that the purchasing power of Buerre D'Anjou, Beurre Bosc, Winter Nelis, Doyenne Du Comice, Beurre Easter, and Beurre Clairgeau varieties of fresh winter pears grown in the States of Oregon, Washington, and California for the period August 1909–July 1914 cannot be satisfactorily determined from available statistics of the Department of Agriculture, but that the purchasing power of such pears can be satisfactorily determined from the available statistics of the Department of Agriculture for the period August 1920–July 1929, and that the period August 1920–July 1929, is, therefore, the base period to be used in connection with this order in determining the purchasing power of such fruit; and

Whereas, the Secretary, having reason to believe that the issuance of an order would tend to effectuate the declared policy of said act with respect to the establishment and maintenance of such orderly marketing conditions in interstate and foreign commerce for fall and winter pears grown in the States of Oregon, Washington, and California as would establish prices to the growers of such fruit at a level that would give such fruit a purchasing power with respect to articles that such growers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such fruit in the base period, did, pursuant to the provisions of said act and the regulations thereunder, give due notice of the hearing [1] to be held in San Jose, California, on August 26, 1938; in Placerville, California, on August 27, 1938; in Medford, Oregon, on August 29, 1938; in Hood River, Oregon, on August 31, 1938; in Yakima, Washington, on September 1, 1938; and in Wenatchee, Washington, on September 2, 1938, on a proposed order regulating the handling in interstate and foreign commerce, and such handling as directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate or foreign commerce, of designated varieties of fresh winter pears grown in the States of Oregon, Washington, and California, and did, upon said dates, conduct a public hearing thereon, and did give opportunity to all interested parties to be heard concerning the proposed agreement; and

Whereas, the Secretary further finds upon the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof:

(1) That more than 80 percent of all shipments of fresh fall and winter pears grown in the States of Oregon, Washington, and California is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, and that the Beurre D'Anjou, Beurre Bosc, Winter Nelis, Doyenne Du Comice, Beurre Easter, and Beurre Clairgeau varieties of such pears constitute more than 75 percent of the total volume of fall and winter pears produced in said States;

(2) That the average farm prices for fall and winter pears grown in the States of California, Oregon, and Washington did not, during the 1937 season, exceed 25 percent and did not, during the past six years, exceed 78 percent of prices which would give such pears a purchasing power with respect to commodities farmers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such commodities during the base period;

(3) That, in the past, lack of regulation of shipments of Beurre D'Anjou, Beurre Bosc, Winter Nelis, Doyenne Du Comice, Beurre Easter, and Beurre Clairgeau varieties of fresh pears grown in the States of Oregon, Washington, and California was an important factor in contributing to unstable marketing conditions for such varieties of pears and consequently depressed prices to growers;

[1] 3 F. R. 2045 DI.

(4) That the regulation of shipments of such varieties of pears through grade and size regulations, as prescribed by this order, will serve to prevent marked fluctuation of prices to growers, particularly prices which are so low as to represent losses to growers, and thereby establish and maintain a more stabilized market for such pears, tending to restore prices to growers of such pears to a level that will have a purchasing power with respect to articles that farmers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such fall and winter pears in such base period;

(5) That the method of regulating shipment by grade and size, as prescribed in this order, is fair and equitable;

(6) That this order is limited in its application to the smallest regional production area and regional marketing area that is practicable; and that issuance of several orders applicable to any subdivision of regional production and marketing areas covered by this order would not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act with respect to establishing and maintaining such marketing conditions for such varieties of fall and winter pears as will reestablish prices to growers that will give such commodities a purchasing power with respect to articles that farmers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such commodities in the base period;

(7) That the prorata contribution of handlers to the expenses of the administrative agency herein created based upon the quantity of fall and winter pears shipped, as provided in this order, is fair and equitable;

(8) That the interest of the consumer is protected by reason of the fact that the order will operate so as to approach a level of prices which it is declared to be the policy of Congress to establish by securing a gradual correction of the current level of prices at as rapid a rate as the Secretary of Agriculture deems to be in the public interest and feasible in view of the current consumptive demand in the domestic and foreign markets, and by reason of the fact that the order authorizes no action which has for its purpose the maintenance of prices to farmers above the level which it is declared to be the policy of Congress to establish in said act;

(9) That this order will tend to establish and maintain such orderly marketing conditions for Beurre D'Anjou, Beurre Bosc, Winter Nelis, Doyenne Du Comice, Beurre Easter, and Beurre Clairgeau varieties of fresh pears grown in the States of Oregon, Washington, and California in interstate and foreign commerce as will establish prices to growers at a level that will give such pears a purchasing power with respect to articles that farmers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such pears in the base period; and

(10) That this order and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to said varieties of fresh pears grown in the States of Oregon, Washington, and California; and

(11) That there are no differences in the production and marketing of such varieties of fall and winter pears in the production area covered by this order that make necessary different terms applicable to different parts of such area; and

Whereas, the Secretary further finds:

1. That the marketing agreement regulating the handling of Beurre D'Anjou, Beurre Bosc, Winter Nelis, Doyenne Du Comice, Beurre Easter, and Beurre Clairgeau varieties of fresh pears grown in the States of Oregon, Washington, and California executed by him on October 7, 1938, upon which a public hearing was held at the same time as the hearing upon this order, was signed by handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping the fruit covered by this order), who handled during the year 1937 not less than 50 percent of the volume of such fruit covered by this order which was marketed, during the said year, in the current of interstate and foreign commerce and so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect the interstate and foreign commerce of such fruit;

2. That this order regulates the handling of said varieties of fall and winter pears in the same manner as the aforesaid marketing agreement, and that it is made applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in the said marketing agreement; and

3. That the issuance of this order is favored by growers, who, during the year 1937, which the Secretary determines to be a representative period, produced for market at least two-thirds (⅔) of the volume of said varieties of fall and winter pears produced for market in said year within the production area specified in this order.

Now, therefore, it is ordered by the Secretary of Agriculture that the handling of Beurre D'Anjou, Beurre Bosc, Winter Nelis, Doyenne Du Comice, Beurre Easter, and Beurre Clairgeau varieties of fresh pears grown in the States of Oregon, Washington, and California in the current of interstate and foreign commerce or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect interstate or foreign commerce in such fruit, from and after the date hereinafter specified, shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of this order.

Such exemption certificate shall permit such grower to ship a quantity of such regulated grades and sizes of the particular variety of pears which will enable such grower to ship as large a portion of his crop of such variety as the average for all growers in his district.

2. The Secretary shall have the power to modify, change, or alter (a) any such procedural rules and (b) any exemption granted under subsection 1 of this section.

2. Each handler shall pay to the Control Committee upon demand such handler's pro rata share, as is approved by the Secretary, of the expenses as the Secretary finds will be necessarily incurred by the Control Committee for the maintenance and functioning of the Control Committee during the fiscal period. Each handler's share of such expenses shall be that proportion thereof which the total quantity of pears shipped by such handler in the current of interstate or foreign commerce during said fiscal period is of the total quantity of pears shipped by all handlers in the current of interstate or foreign commerce during said fiscal period. Said assessment may be adjusted, from time to time, by the Control Committee, with the approval of the Secretary, in order to cover any later finding by the Secretary of estimated expenses or the actual expenses of the Control Committee during said fiscal period. The assessment of each handler for the fiscal period shall be due and payable at such time and shall be payable in such installments, if any, as the Control Committee, with the approval of the Secretary, shall determine.

3. At the end of the fiscal period, the Control Committee shall credit each contributing handler with the excess of the amount paid by such handler above his pro rata share of the expenses or debit such handler with the difference between his pro rata share and the amount paid by such handler. Any such debits shall become due and payable upon the demand of the Control Committee.

4. From the funds acquired pursuant to this article, the Control Committee shall pay the salaries of its employees, if any, and pay the expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of the duties of the Control Committee.

SEC. 2. Termination.—1. The Secretary may at any time terminate the provisions hereof as to all parties hereto by giving at least one (1) day's notice by means of a press release or in any other manner which the Secretary may determine.

2. The provisions hereof shall terminate, in any event, whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

SEC. 3. Proceedings after termination.—1. Upon the termination hereof, the members of the Control Committee then functioning shall continue as joint trustees, for the purpose of liquidating the provisions hereof, of all funds and property then in the possession or under the control of the Control Committee, including claims for any funds unpaid or property not delivered at the time of such termination. Said trustees (a) shall continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary; (b) shall from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements or deliver all funds and property on hand, together with all books and records of the Control Committee and the joint trustees, to such person as the Secretary shall direct; and (c) shall, upon the request of the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all of the funds or claims vested in the Control Committee or the joint trustees pursuant to this order. Any funds collected for expenses pursuant to article IV hereof and held by such joint trustees or such person over and above amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses incurred necessarily by the joint trustees or such other person in the performance of their

SEC. 151.07 Who may operate an amateur station. An amateur station may be operated only by a person holding a valid amateur operator's license, and then only to the extent provided for by the class of privileges for which the operator's license is endorsed. When an amateur station uses radiotelephony (type A–3 emission) the licensee may permit any person to transmit by voice, provided a duly licensed amateur operator maintains control over the emissions by turning the carrier on and off when required and signs the station off after the transmission has been completed.

Examinations

SEC. 151.15 When required. Examination is required for a new license as an amateur operator or for change of class of privileges.

SEC. 151.16 Elements of examination. The examination for amateur operator privileges will comprise the following elements:

1. Code test—ability to send and receive, in plain language, messages in the International Morse Code at a speed of not less than thirteen words per minute, counting five characters to the word, each numeral or punctuation mark counting as two characters.

2. Amateur radio operation and apparatus, both telephone and telegraph.

3. Provisions of treaty, statute and regulations affecting amateurs.

4. Advanced amateur radiotelephony.

SEC. 151.17 Elements required for various privileges. Examinations for Class A privileges will include all four examination elements as specified in Section 151.16.

Examinations for Classes B and C privileges will include elements 1, 2, and 3 as set forth in Section 151.16.

SEC. 151.18 Manner of conducting examination. Examinations for Class A and Class B privileges will be conducted by an authorized Commission employee or representative at points specified by the Commission.

Examinations for Class C privileges will be given by volunteer examiner(s), whom the Commission may designate or permit the applicant to select; in the latter event the examiner giving the code test shall be a holder of an amateur license with Class A or B privileges, or have held within five years a license as a professional radiotelegraph operator or have within that time been employed as a radiotelegraph operator in the service of the United States; and the examiner for the written test, if not the same individual, shall be a person of legal age.

SEC. 151.19 Additional examination for holders of Class C privileges. The Commission# may require a licensee holding Class C privileges to appear at an examining point for a Class B examination. If such licensee fails to appear for examination when directed to do so, or fails to pass the supervisory examination, the license held will be canceled and the holder thereof will not be issued another license for the Class C privileges.

Whenever the holder of Class C amateur operator privileges changes his actual residence or station location to a point where he would not be eligible to apply for Class C privileges in the first instance, or whenever a new examining point is established in a region from which applicants were previously eligible for Class C privileges, such holders of Class C privileges shall within four months thereafter appear at an examining point and be examined for Class B privileges. The license will be canceled if such licensee fails to appear, or fails to pass the examination.

SEC. 151.20 Examination abridgment. An applicant for Class A privileges, who holds a license with Class B privileges, will be required to pass only the added examination element No. 4 (see Section 151.16).

A holder of Class C privileges will not be accorded an abridged examination for either Class B or Class A privileges.

An applicant who has held a license for the class of privileges specified below, within five years prior to receipt of application, credited with examination elements as follows:

Class of license or privileges:	Credits
Commercial extra first	Elements 1, 2 & 4
Radiotelegraph 1st, 2nd, or 3rd	Elements 1 & 2
Radiotelephone 1st or 2nd	Elements 2 & 4
Class A	Elements 2 & 4

No examination credit is given on account of license of Radiotelephone 3rd Class, nor for other class of license or privileges not above listed.

SEC. 151.21 Examination procedure.—Applicants shall write examinations in longhand,—code tests and diagrams in ink or pencil, written tests in ink—except that applicants unable to do so because of physical disability may typewrite or dictate their examinations and, if unable to draw required diagrams, may make instead a detailed description essentially equivalent. The examiner shall certify the nature of the applicant's disability and, if the examination is dictated, the name and address of the person(s) taking and transcribing the applicant's dictation.

SEC. 151.22 Grading. Code tests are graded as passed or failed, separately for sending and receiving tests. A code test is failed unless free of omission or other error for a continuous period of at least one minute at required speed. Failure to pass the required code test will terminate the examination. (See Sec. 151.23).

A passing grade of 75 per cent is required separately for Class B and Class A written examinations.

SEC. 151.23 Eligibility for reexamination. An applicant who fails examination for amateur privileges may not take another examination for such privileges within two months, except that this rule shall not apply to an examination for Class B following one for Class C.

Licenses

SEC. 152.01 Eligibility for amateur station license. License for an amateur station will be issued only to a licensed amateur operator who has made a satisfactory showing of control of proper transmitting apparatus and control of the premises upon which such apparatus is to be located; provided, however, that in the case of an amateur station of the military or Naval Reserve of the United States located in approved public quarters and established for training purposes, but not operated by the United States Government, a station license may be issued to a person in charge of such a station although not a licensed amateur operator.

SEC. 152.02 Eligibility of corporations or organizations to hold license. An amateur station license will not be issued to a school, company, corporation, association, or other organization; nor for their use; provided, however, that in the case of a bona-fide amateur radio society a station license may be issued in accordance with Section 152.01 to a licensed amateur operator as trustee for such society.

SEC. 152.03 Location of station. An amateur radio station, and the control point thereof when remote control is authorized, shall not be located on premises controlled by an alien.

SEC. 152.04 License period. License for an amateur station will normally be for a period of three years from the date of issuance of a new, renewed, or modified license.

SEC. 152.05 Authorized operation. An amateur station license authorizes the operation of all transmitting apparatus used by the licensee at the location specified in the station license and in addition the operation of portable and portable-mobile stations at other locations under the same instrument of authorization.

SEC. 152.06 Renewal of amateur station license. An amateur station license may be renewed upon proper application and a showing that, within three months of receipt of the application by the Commission, the licensee thereof has lawfully operated such station in communication by radio with at least three other amateur stations licensed by the Commission, except that in the case of an application for renewal of station license issued for an amateur society or reserve group, the required operation may be by any licensed amateur operator. Upon failure to comply with the above requirements, a successor license will not be granted until two months after expiration of the old license.

SEC. 152.07 Posting of station license. The original of each statio[illegible]nse or a facsimile thereof shall be posted by the licensee in a conspicuous place in the room in which the transmitter is located or kept in the personal possession of the operator on duty, except when such license has been filed with application for modification or renewal, or has been mutilated, lost, or destroyed, and application has been made for a duplicate.

Call Signals

SEC. 153.08 Assignment of call letters. Amateur station calls will be assigned in regular order and special requests will not be considered except that a call may be reassigned to the latest holder, or if not under license during the past five years, to any previous holder, or to an amateur organization in memoriam to a deceased member and former holder, and particular calls may be temporarily assigned to stations connected with events of general public interest.

SEC. 152.09 Call signals for member of U. S. N. R. In the case of an amateur licensee whose station is licensed to a regularly commissioned or enlisted member of the United States Naval Reserve, the Commandant of the naval district in which such station is located may authorize in his discretion the use of the call-letter prefix N in lieu of the prefix W or K, assigned in the license issued by the Commission, provided that such N prefix shall be used only when operating in the frequency bands 1715–2000 [1] kilocycles, 3500–4000 kilocycles, 56000–60000 kilocycles, and 400000–401000 kilocycles in accordance with instructions to be issued by the Navy Department.

SEC. 152.10 Transmission of call signals. An operator of an amateur station shall transmit its assigned call at the end of each transmission and at least once every ten minutes during transmission of more than ten minutes duration: provided, however, that transmission of less than one minute duration from stations employing break-in operation need be identified only once every ten minutes of operation and at the termination of the correspondence. In addition, an operator of an amateur portable or portable-mobile radiotelegraph station shall transmit immediately after the call of the station the fraction-bar character (DN) followed by the number of the amateur call area in which the portable or portable-mobile amateur station is then operating, as for example:

Example 1. Portable or portable-mobile amateur station operating in the third amateur call area calls a fixed amateur station: W1ABC W1ABC W1ABC DE W2DEF DN3 W2DEF DN3 W2DEF DN3 AR.

Example 2. Fixed amateur station answers the portable or portable-mobile amateur station: W2DEF W2DEF W2DEF DE W1ABC W1ABC W1ABC K.

Example 3. Portable or portable-mobile amateur station calls a portable or portable-mobile amateur station: W3GHI W3GHI W3GHI DE W4JKL DN4 W4JKL DN4 W4JKL DN4 AR.

If telephony is used, the call sign of the station shall be followed by an announcement of the amateur call area in which the portable or portable-mobile station is operating.

Portable and Portable-Mobile Stations

SEC. 152.11 Requirements for portable and portable-mobile operation. A licensee of an amateur station may operate portable amateur stations (Section 150.03) in accordance with the provisions of Sections 152.09, 152.10, 152.12 and 152.45. Such licensee may operate portable and portable-mobile amateur stations without regard to Section 152.12, but in compliance with Sections 152.09, 152.10, and 152.45, when such operation takes place on authorized amateur frequencies above 28000 kilocycles.

SEC. 152.12 Special provisions for portable stations. Advance notice in writing shall be given by the licensee to the inspector in charge of the district in which such portable station is to be operated. Such notices shall be given prior to any operation contemplated, and shall state the station call, name of licensee, the date of proposed operation, and the locations as specifically as possible. An amateur station operating under this Section shall not be operated during any period exceeding one month without giving further notice to the inspector in charge of the radio-inspection district in which the station will be operated, nor more than four consecutive periods of one month at the same location. This Section does not apply to the operation of portable or portable-mobile amateur stations on frequencies above 28000 kilocycles. (See Section 152.11.)

SEC. 152.13 Special provisions for non-portable stations. The provisions for portable stations shall not be applied to any non-portable station except that:

a. An amateur station that has been moved from one permanent location to another permanent location may be operated at the latter location in accordance with the provisions governing portable stations for a period not exceeding sixty days, but in no event beyond the expiration date of the license, provided an application for modification of license to change the permanent location has been made to the Commission.

b. The licensee of an amateur station who is temporarily residing at a location other than the licensed location for a period not exceeding four months may for such period operate his amateur station at his temporary address in accordance with the provisions governing portable stations.

Use of Amateur Stations

SEC. 152.14 Points of communication. An amateur station shall communicate only with other amateur stations, except that in emergencies or for testing purposes it may be used also for communication with commercial or Government radio stations. In addition, amateur stations may communicate with any mobile radio station which is licensed by the Commission to communicate with amateur stations, and with stations of expeditions which may also be authorized to communicate with amateur stations. They may also make transmissions to points equipped only with receiving apparatus for the measurement of emissions, observation of transmission phenomena, radio control of remote objects, and similar purely experimental purposes.

SEC. 152.15 No remuneration for use of station. An amateur station shall not be used to transmit or receive messages for hire, nor for communication for material compensation, direct or indirect, paid or promised.

[1] Subject to change to "1750 to 2050" kilocycles in accordance with the "Inter-American Arrangement Covering Radiocommunication", Havana, 1937.

SEC. 152.16 Broadcasting prohibited. An amateur station shall not be used for broadcasting any form of entertainment, nor for the simultaneous retransmission by automatic means of programs or signals emanating from any class of station other than amateur.

SEC. 152.17 Radiotelephone tests. The transmission of music by an amateur station is forbidden. However, single audio-frequency tones may be transmitted by radiotelephony for test purposes of short duration in connection with the development of experimental radiotelephone equipment.

Allocation of Frequencies

SEC. 152.25 Frequencies for exclusive use of amateur stations. The following bands of frequencies are allocated exclusively for use by amateur stations:

1715 to 2000 kilocycles [1]

SEC. 152.28 Additional bands for telephony. An amateur station may use radiotelephony, type A–3 emission, in the following additional bands of frequencies: provided the station is licensed to a person who holds an amateur operator's license endorsed for Class A privileges, and actually is operated by an amateur operator holding Class A privileges:

3900 to 4000 kilocycles
14150 to 14250 kilocycles

SEC. 152.29 Television and frequency-modulation transmission. The following bands of frequencies are allocated for use by amateur stations for television and radiotelephone frequency-modulation transmission:

224000 to 230000 kilocycles [2]

Equipment and Operation

SEC. 152.40 Maximum power input. The licensee of an amateur station is authorized to use a maximum power input of 1 kilowatt to the plate circuit of the final amplifier stage of an oscillator-amplifier transmitter or to the plate circuit of an oscillator transmitter. An amateur transmitter operating with a power input exceeding nine-hundred watts to the plate circuit shall provide means for accurately measuring the plate power input to the vacuum tube, or tubes, supplying power to the antenna.

SEC. 152.41 Power supply to transmitter. The licensee of an amateur station using frequencies below 60000 kilocycles shall use adequately filtered direct-current plate power supply for the transmitting equipment to minimize frequency modulation and to prevent the emission of broad signals.

SEC. 152.42 Requirements for prevention of interference. Spurious radiations from an amateur transmitter operating on a frequency below 60000 kilocycles shall be reduced or eliminated in accordance with good engineering practice and shall not be of sufficient intensity to cause interference on receiving sets of modern design which are tuned outside the frequency band of emission normally required for the type of emission employed. In the case of A–3 emission, the transmitter shall not be modulated in excess of its modulation capability to the extent that interfering spurious radiations occur, and in no case shall the emitted carrier be amplitude-modulated in excess of 100 per cent. Means shall be employed to insure that the transmitter is not modulated in excess of its modulation capability. A spurious radiation is any radiation from a transmitter which is outside the frequency band of emission normal for the type of transmission employed, including any component whose frequency is an integral multiple or submultiple of the carrier frequency (harmonics and subharmonics), spurious modulation products, key clicks, and other transient effects, and parasitic oscillations. The frequency of emission shall be as constant as the state of the art permits.

SEC. 152.43 Modulation of carrier wave. Except for brief tests or adjustments, an amateur radiotelephone station shall not emit a carrier wave unless modulated for the purpose of communication.

SEC. 152.44 Frequency measurement and regular check. The licensee of an amateur station shall provide for measurement of the transmitter frequency and establish procedure for checking it regularly. The measurement of the transmitter frequency shall be made by means independent of the frequency control of the transmitter and shall be of sufficient accuracy to assure operation within the frequency band used.

SEC. 152.45 Logs. Each licensee of an amateur station shall keep an accurate log of station operation, including the following data:

a. The date and time of each transmission. (The date need only be entered once for each day's operation. The expression "time of each transmission" means the time of making a call and need not be repeated during the sequence of communication which immediately follows; however, an entry shall be made in the log when "signing off" so as to show the period during which communication was carried on.)

b. The signature of the person manipulating the transmitting key of a radiotelegraph transmitter or the signature of the person operating a transmitter of any other type (type A–3 or A–4 emission) with statement as to type of emission, and the signature of any other person who transmits by voice over a radiotelephone transmitter (type A–3 emission). (The signature need only be entered once in the log provided the log contains a statement to the effect that all transmissions were made by the person named except where otherwise stated. The signature of any other person who operates the station shall be entered in the proper space for his transmissions.)

c. Call letters of the station called. (This entry need not be repeated for calls made to the same station during any sequence of communication, provided the time of "signing off" is given.)

d. The input power to the oscillator, or to the final amplifier stage where an oscillator-amplifier transmitter is employed. (This need be entered only once, provided the input power is not changed.)

e. The frequency band used. (This information need be entered only once in the log for all transmissions until there is a change in frequency to another amateur band.)

f. The location of a portable or portable-mobile station at the time of each transmission. (This need be entered only once provided the location of the station is not changed. However, suitable entry shall be made in the log upon changing location, showing the type of vehicle or mobile unit in which the station is operated and the approximate geographical location of the station at the time of operation.)

g. The message traffic handled. (If record communications are handled in regular message form, a copy of each message sent and received shall be entered in the log or retained on file for at least one year.)

The log shall be preserved for a period of at least one year following the last date of entry. The copies of record communications and station log, as required under this section, shall be available for inspection upon request by an authorized Government representative.

Special Conditions

SEC. 152.50 Additional conditions to be observed by licensee. An amateur station license is granted subject to the conditions imposed in Sections 152.51 to 152.54 inclusive, in addition to any others that may be imposed during the term of the license. Any licensee receiving due notice requiring the station licensee to observe such conditions shall immediately act in conformity therewith.

SEC. 152.51 Quiet hours. In the event that the operation of an amateur station causes general interference to the reception of broadcast programs with receivers of modern design, such amateur station shall not operate during the hours from 8 o'clock p. m. to 10:30 p. m., local time, and on Sunday for the additional period from 10:30 a. m. until 1 p. m., local time, upon such frequency or frequencies as cause such interference.

SEC. 152.52 Second notice of same violation. In every case where an amateur station licensee is cited a second time within a year for the same violation under Section 152.25, 152.27, 152.28, 152.30, 152.31, 152.41, or 152.42, the Commission will direct that the station remain silent from 6 p. m. to 10:30 p. m., local time, until written notice has been received authorizing full-time operation. The licensee shall arrange for tests at other hours with at least two amateur stations within fifteen days of the date of notice, such tests to be made for the specific purpose of aiding the licensee in determining whether the emissions of his station are in accordance with the Commission's Regulations. The licensee shall report under oath to the Commission at the conclusion of the tests as to the observations reported by amateur licensees in relation to the reported violation. Such reports shall include a statement as to the corrective measures taken to insure compliance with the Regulations.

SEC. 152.53 Third notice of same violation. In every case where an amateur station licensee is cited the third time within a year for the same violation as indicated in Section 152.52, the Commission will direct that the station remain silent from 8 a. m. to 12 midnight, local time, except for the purpose of transmitting a prearranged test to be observed by a monitoring station of the Commission to be designated in each particular case. Upon completion of the test the station shall again remain silent during these hours until authorized by the Commission to resume full-time operation. The Commission will consider the results of the tests and the licensee's past record in determining the advisability of suspending the operator license and/or revoking the station license.

SEC. 152.54 Operation in emergencies. In the event of widespread emergency conditions affecting domestic communication facilities, the Commission may confer with representatives of the amateur service and others and, if deemed advisable, will declare that a state of general communications emergency exists, designating the licensing area or areas concerned (in general not exceeding 1,000 miles from center of the affected area), whereupon it shall be incumbent upon each amateur station in such area or areas to observe the following restrictions for the duration of such emergency:

a. No transmissions except those relating to relief work or other emergency service such as amateur nets can afford, shall be made within the 1715–2000 [1] kilocycle or 3500–4000 kilocycle amateur bands. Incidental calling, testing, or working, including casual conversation or remarks not pertinent or necessary to constructive handling of the general situation shall be prohibited.

b. The frequencies 1975–2000, 3500–3525, and 3975–4000 kilocycles shall be reserved for emergency calling channels, for initial calls from isolated stations or first calls concerning very important emergency relief matters or arrangements. All stations having occasion to use such channels shall, as quickly as possible, shift to other frequencies for carrying on their communications.

c. A five-minute listening period for the first five minutes of each hour shall be observed for initial calls of major importance, both in the designated emergency calling channels and throughout the 1715–2000 [1] and 3500–4000 kilocycle bands. Only stations isolated or engaged in handling official traffic of the highest priority may continue with transmissions in these listening periods, which must be accurately observed. No replies to calls or resumption of routine traffic shall be made in the five-minute listening period.

d. The Commission may designate certain amateur stations to assist in promulgation of its emergency announcement, and for policing the 1715–2000 [1] and 3500–4000 kilocycle bands and warning non-complying stations noted operating therein. The operators of these observing stations shall report fully the identity of any stations failing, after due notice, to comply with any section of this regulation. Such designated stations will act in an advisory capacity when able to provide information on emergency circuits. Their policing authority is limited to the transmission of information from responsible official sources, and full reports of non-compliance which may serve as a basis for investigation and action under Section 502 of the Communications Act. Policing authority extends only to 1715–2000 [1] and 3500–4000 kilocycle bands. Individual policing transmissions shall refer to this Section by number, shall specify the date of the Commission's declaration, the area and nature of the emergency, all briefly and concisely. Policing-observer stations shall not enter into discussions beyond essentials with the stations notified, or other stations.

e. These special conditions imposed under this Section will cease to apply only after the Commission shall have declared such emergency to be terminated.

By the Commission.

[Amendment No. 1 to Special Order 401–A–4]

TEMPORARILY EXEMPTING PAN AMERICAN AIRWAYS, INC., WITH REFERENCE TO AIR TRANSPORTATION SERVICE RENDERED BETWEEN SEATTLE, WASHINGTON, AND JUNEAU, ALASKA, VIA KETCHIKAN, ALASKA

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Authority, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 30th day of September, 1938.

Upon consideration of the application of Pan American Airways, Inc., for an amendment of the provisions of Special Order 401–A–4,[1] authorizing transportation of property in certain overseas air transportation between Seattle, Washington, and Juneau, Alaska, such authorization being subject to the terms and conditions of the Letter of Authority issued by the Secretary of Commerce (referred to in said Special Order as the "authorization dated August 19, 1938"), and it appearing that the enforcement of certain of the terms and conditions of such Letter of Authority would be an undue burden on such air carrier by reason of the unusual circumstances affecting the operations of said air carrier with respect to said overseas air transportation service, and such enforcement would not be in the public interest, therefore the Authority, acting pursuant to the powers granted to it by sections 205 (a) and 416 (b) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, hereby amends Special Order 401–A–4 as follows:

Amendment No. 1 to Special Order 401–A–4, temporarily exempting Pan American Airways, Inc., from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, insofar as the same are applicable to the air transportation service rendered by said air carrier between Seattle, Washington, and Juneau, Alaska, via Ketchikan, Alaska.

Special Order 401–A–4, insofar as the same requires Pan American Airways, Inc., to comply at all times and in all respects with the terms and conditions set forth in the authorization for a proving period for an overseas air transportation service between Seattle, Washington, and Juneau, Alaska, issued by the Secretary of Commerce and dated August 19, 1938, is hereby amended by extending the time specified in Paragraph 1, clauses (c), (d) and (e), and Paragraph 2, clause (b), thereof, from October 1, 1938, to October 3, 1938, or to such other date thereafter as shall be reasonably necessary to enable Pan American Airways, Inc., to complete the round-trip proving flight scheduled to depart from Seattle, Washington, for Juneau, Alaska, on September 30, 1938.

[Docket No. G–110]

IN THE MATTER OF ARKANSAS-LOUISIANA GAS COMPANY, RATE SCHEDULE FPC No. 2

ORDER ENTERING UPON AN INVESTIGATION, SUSPENDING RATE SCHEDULE, AND SETTING MATTER DOWN FOR HEARING

OCTOBER 6, 1938.

Commissioners: Clyde L. Seavey, Acting Chairman; Claude L. Draper, Basil Manly, John W. Scott.

It appearing to the Commission that:

(a) On August 22, 1938, Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Company, a natural gas company within the meaning of the Natural Gas Act, filed with the Commission a contract and agreement, dated October 16, 1937, between said company and the Camden Gas Corporation, such contract being designated on the files of the Commission as Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Company Rate Schedule FPC No. 2;

(b) The said Rate Schedule FPC No. 2 continues the rates and charges provided for in a schedule designated on the files of the Commission as Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Company Rate Schedule FPC No. 1 in effect until October 31, 1938, and effective on and after October 31, 1938, the said Rate Schedule FPC No. 2 provides for a new schedule of rates and charges for natural gas sold by the Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Company to the Camden Gas Corporation for resale for ultimate public consumption for domestic, commercial, industrial and other uses, in and immediately adjacent to the City of Camden, Arkansas;

(c) The new schedule of rates and charges proposed to be made effective on and after October 31, 1938, by said Rate Schedule FPC No. 2 will substantially increase the existing rates and charges, and may result in unlawful rates and charges to the Camden Gas Corporation or place an undue burden upon ultimate consumers of natural gas;

Wherefore the Commission finds that:

(1) An investigation should be entered into by the Commission and a public hearing held to determine whether the new schedule of rates and charges, as provided for in Rate Schedule FPC No. 2, is just and reasonable and not otherwise unlawful;

(2) Pending such hearing and the decision of the Commission upon the issue or issues therein to be heard, the operation of said Rate Schedule FPC No. 2, except as the same relates to the sale of natural gas for resale for industrial use only, should be suspended in the public interest.

The Commission, upon its own initiative, orders that:

(A) An investigation be and is hereby entered upon concerning the lawfulness of the new schedule of rates and charges provided for in said Rate Schedule FPC No. 2, for service on and after October 31, 1938, including the sale of natural gas for resale for ultimate public consumption for domestic, commercial, industrial or any other use and that in pursuance of such investigation a public hearing be held on November 10, 1938, at 10:00 a. m., in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, in the Hurley-Wright Building, 1800 Pennsylvania Ave., N. W., Washington, D. C.;

(B) Pending such hearing, and the decision and further order of the Commission in the case Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Company Rate Schedule FPC No. 2, except as the same relates to the sale of natural gas for resale for industrial use only, be and the same is hereby suspended for the period October 31, 1938, to March 31, 1939; and during the said period the Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Company shall continue to collect and receive rates and charges in effect on the date of this order;

(C) At the said hearing the Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Company shall have the burden of proving that the proposed new rates and charges, as provided for in the said Rate Schedule FPC No. 2, are just and reasonable and not otherwise unlawful.

FEDERAL REGISTER

Published by the Division of the Federal Register, The National Archives, pursuant to the authority contained in the Federal Register Act, approved July 26, 1935 (49 Stat. L. 500), under regulations prescribed by the Administrative Committee, with the approval of the President.

The Administrative Committee consists of the Archivist or Acting Archivist, an officer of the Department of Justice designated by the Attorney General, and the Public Printer or Acting Public Printer.

The daily issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER will be furnished by mail to subscribers, free of postage, for $1 per month or $10 per year; single copies 10 cents each; payable in advance. Remit by money order payable to Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Correspondence concerning the publication of the FEDERAL REGISTER should be addressed to the Director, Division of the Federal Register, The National Archives, Washington, D. C.

supplemental editions of the Federal Register.

(b) There is hereby established a Codification Board, which shall consist of six members: The Director of the Division of the Federal Register, chairman ex officio; three attorneys of the Department of Justice, designated by the Attorney General; and two attorneys of the Division of the Federal Register, designated by the Archivist. The Board shall supervise and coordinate the form, style, arrangement, and indexing of the codifications of the various agencies.

(c) The codified documents of the several agencies published in the supplemental edition of the Federal Register pursuant to the provisions of subsection (a) hereof, as amended by documents subsequently filed with the Division, and published in the daily issues of the Federal Register, shall be prima facie evidence of the text of such documents and of the fact that they are in full force and effect on and after the date of publication thereof.

(d) The Administrative Committee shall prescribe, with the approval of the President, regulations for carrying out the provisions of this section.* #

1.01 Resolution. Whereas, the Administrative Committee agrees that the prompt, accurate, efficient, and adequate carrying out of the Act of Congress requires (1) an immediate and close liaison between the Codification Board and the several agencies, together with the prompt and energetic prosecution of the work by each agency; (2) the submission of completed units of the proposed codification of each agency from time to time, for criticism, suggestions, and fitting into the general code, subject, however to the final approval, amendment, and certification of each code by the agency concerned as provided in the act and the regulations which follow herein; (3) the exertion of every effort to assure that each of the several Federal agencies will submit a creditable codification so that no agency will suffer by comparison of its codification with the codifications of other agencies or be subject to legal difficulties or practical embarrassments in its operations after the codification for the whole executive and administrative branch is published; and (4) the submission of a report on the whole completed code of executive and administrative rules and orders to the President in accurate, complete, and usable form, ready for printing, within the time limit prescribed in the Act of Congress;

Therefore, pursuant to the authority contained in Section 11 (d) of the Federal Register Act, as amended by the Act of June 19, 1937 (50 Stat. 304; 44 U. S. C., Sup. III, 311), the Administrative Committee of the Federal Register hereby prescribes, with the approval of the President, the following regulations to govern the preparation (including form, style, arrangement, and indexing) and submission of the codes required to be submitted thereunder.*

1.1 Definitions. As used herein, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) Act. The term "act" means the Federal Register Act, approved July 26, 1935 (49 Stat. 500; 44 U. S. C., Sup. III, 301 et seq.) as amended by the Act of June 19, 1937 (50 Stat. 304; 44 U. S. C., Sup. III, 311).

(b) Document. "The term 'document' means any Presidential proclamation or Executive order, and any order, regulation, rule, certificate, code of fair competition, license, notice, or similar instrument issued, prescribed, or promulgated by a Federal agency" (Sec. 4 of the act) and of "general applicability and legal effect" which is "in force and effect and relied upon by such agency as authority for, or invoked or used by it in the discharge of, any of its functions or activities" (Sec. 11 (a) of the act).[1]

(c) Agency or Federal agency. "The terms 'Federal agency' and 'agency' mean the President of the United States, or any executive department, independent board, establishment, bureau, agency, institution, commission, or separate office of the administrative branch of the Government of the United States, but not the legislative or judicial branches of the Government" (Sec. 4 of the act).

(d) Committee or Administrative Committee. The terms "Committee" and "Administrative Committee" mean the Administrative Committee of the Federal Register established under Sec. 6 of the act.

(e) Board and Chairman. The term "Board" means the "Codification Board" established under section 11 of the act, and the term "Chairman" means the Chairman of the Codification Board.

[1] See also Sec. 1.5, infra.

1.2 Nature of codification.[1] "Codification" as ordinarily used in the United States and as intended in the act and these regulations means the collection of all documents and their systematic organization and arrangement, with all obsolete and repealed matter eliminated and all new matter and amendments incorporated in their appropriate sections or paragraphs, so that the whole may be republished as one complete document.* #

1.3 Revisions. The complete revision or restatement of documents, either in their language or substance, is not necessarily contemplated, although agencies are free to do so provided such work may be completed and the revision made effective in a reasonable time. On the other hand, portions of documents consisting of extensive quotation of statutory provisions, with or without quotation marks, are to be deleted whenever such deletion does not affect the meaning of the remaining portions of the document.* #

1.4 Completeness. Main emphasis should be laid upon completeness and accuracy of the Codification rather than the form of the source documents, since the act requires "complete" codifications of "all" documents (Sec. 11 (a) of the act). The omission of material which should be included will embarrass the agency in its future work, impair the effectiveness of the codification, and lessen its practical value both to the agency and to the public.* #

1.5 Present general applicability and legal effect.[2] Each agency should keep constantly in mind the fact that the codifications are to include only documents which are (1) currently "in force and effect and relied upon by the agency as authority for, or invoked or used by it in the discharge of, any of its functions or activities," and also (2) "of general applicability and legal effect." The phrase "present general applicability and legal effect," relates to all documents (1) prescribing a penalty (Sec. 5 (a) (3) of the act), conferring rights, privileges, authority, or immunities, or imposing obligations, and (2) currently relevant or applicable to the general public, the members of a class, or the persons of a locality, as distinguished from named individuals or organizations. In short, such documents must be of "public" as distinguished from "private" import, as illustrated generally by the classification of laws in the Statutes-at-Large into "Public Laws" and "Private Laws", and by the regulations approved by the President respecting the type of matter to be published in the Federal Register.

More particularly, the following types of documents require special treatment:

(a) Internal administration. Those documents or parts of documents "effective only against Federal agencies or persons in their capacity as officers, agents, or employees thereof" should not be included (Cf. Sec. 5 (a) (1) of the act); but documents or portions thereof prescribing intra-departmental procedure which the public should know or follow in dealing with an agency should be included.

(b) Administrative decisions. Codifications should not include the decisions of executive or administrative agencies, made upon hearing or otherwise and applicable only to named parties, unless such decisions are also promulgated as formal and general rules, or unless they establish rules or principles which affect the public or a class thereof.

(c) Repealed or superseded matter.[1] No obsolete, repealed, or superseded matter should be included even though it might become relevant in cases arising under past states of fact. The term "in force or effect and relied upon by the agency as authority for, or invoked by it in the discharge of, any of its functions or activities" refers to present activities under the latest statutes or regulations on the same subject matter. Thus, regulations under old tax statutes should be excluded, except as they are applicable to current taxation.

(d) Documents referring to public lands. Agencies having masses of documents referring to public lands, should consult with representatives of the Board before attempting a codification of such documents, in order to determine how they shall be dealt with in the preparation of the codification.* #

[1] "The word 'codification' is not intended to lay down rigid requirements. It means an orderly presentation of 'documents' brought up to date in the form best adapted to usefulness as tested by the experience of the agency. Thus, if there have been a series of amendments to a regulation, the minimum requirement would be a rewriting of such regulation, eliminating from its text obsolete provisions, and inserting therein new matter. If a regulation is already in such form, the agency may in its discretion deem further codification unnecessary, even though the inclusion of various regulations in that form may involve some repetition of provisions common to two or more of them.

"If a regulation has never been set forth by the agency in an orderly and easily available form, the amendment would require that this be done. In many cases an adequate codification would also require the systematizing of regulatory material according to subject matter." House Report 478, 75 Cong. 1 Sess.

[2] "As the President has for purposes of the daily issues determined the classes of documents having general applicability and legal effect, the several agencies would in general be guided by that determination in selecting the kinds of material for inclusion in the codification." House Report 478, 75 Cong. 1 Sess. See also Sec. IIA (d) of the latest revision of the Federal Register Regulations, prescribed by the Administrative Committee of the Federal Register, and approved by the President May 26, 1938 (3 F. R. 1209 D1).

[1] "Regulations, under acts of Congress which have been repealed or superseded, for instance, would presumably be found no longer to have 'general applicability', even though a few cases arising under them still remain open." House Report 478, 75 Cong. 1 Sess.

AUTHORITY

1.6 Other information to be included. At the end of each section there shall be noted the statutory authority for its issuance and the documentary source of its text.

(a) Citation of authority. The authority (statute, order, proclamation, or otherwise) for the issuance of each document which is embodied in a section of the code shall be cited in parentheses at the end of each section or paragraph. This citation shall include the specific authorization, if any, for the issuance of regulations and, whenever possible, the statutory provisions interpreted or applied by the section. Citations, as nearly as possible, shall be in the following form:

Statutes. "(Sec. 6, 49 Stat. 501; 44 U. S. C. 306)" Where statutes are cited, the United States Code citations shall be given as well as the Statutes-at-Large citations. Only the section number and page or pages of the Statutes-at-Large on which the authority for the regulation appears should be given and not the first page of the statute or the chapter; and in citing the United States Code, the 1934 edition should be used and only the title number and the section number (and subsection number or letter, if any) should be given, separated by "U. S. C."

United States Code Supplements. A more specific citation to the Supplements or to the Code and the Supplements may be made in the form indicated by the following illustrations: (1) Where reference is to be made to a specific Supplement: 7 U. S. C., Sup. II, 502. (2) Where reference is to be made to the United States Code, 1934 ed., and to a specific Supplement: 7 U. S. C., 502 and Sup. II.

In any case where an agency wishes to make citations both to the specific authority under which the section is issued and to the statutory provisions interpreted or applied by the section, the following form of citation may be used: (Secs. 1, 10, 50 Stat. 307, 314; 45 U. S. C., Sup. III, 228a, 228j). Here Sec. 10, 50 Stat. 314; 45 U. S. C., Sup. III, 228j is the specific authority for the issuance of the regulations contained in the section, and Sec. 1, 50 Stat. 307; 45 U. S. C., Sup. III, 228a is the statutory provision interpreted or applied. In the same situation, should the agency desire to use the short method of citation for the authority for issuance prescribed by Sec. 1.6 (b) of these regulations, it may do so by using an appropriate footnote explaining that the asterisk () refers to the authority for issuance. The citation would then be as follows: (; Sec. 1, 50 Stat. 307; 45 U. S. C., Sup. III, 228a). The asterisk here refers to Sec. 10, 50 Stat. 314; 45 U. S. C., Sup. III, 228j.

(b) Short method of citation of authority for issuance applicable when all, or a majority of, a large number of sections in sequence have the same citation. (1) Place an asterisk (*) at the end of each section to which the citation is pertinent. (2) Include an appropriate footnote, preceded by an asterisk, on the sheet carrying the title of the page, part, or other subdivision in which the sections, or majority of the sections, in sequence having the same citations appear. This footnote shall include a statement of: (a) the statutory authority; and (b) the first and last numbers of the sections in sequence. Such footnotes for example, where all the sections in sequence have the same citation, may be in the following form:

* §§ — to — issued under the authority contained in Sec. 23, 42 Stat. 708; 40 U. S. C. 218.

Or in a case where some sections in the sequence have a different citation such sections shall be designated and the footnote may be in the following form:

* §§ — to —, except §§ —, —, —, are issued under the authority contained in Sec. 23, 42 Stat. 708; 40 U. S. C. 218.

(c) Short method of citation of statutes interpreted. Where the arrangement of materials or the keying of section numbers automatically indicates the statutory provisions interpreted, a short method of citing the statute interpreted may be employed.

The following methods may be used in cases where the agency determines that short citations are desirable: (1) In cases where the text of a statute is included in the codification and the regulatory provisions are distributed so as to indicate their relations to each statutory provision, no further citation of the statute interpreted will be necessary. Such procedure, however, should be explained in a footnote placed on the sheet carrying the headnote of the subdivision in which this procedure is followed. The footnote should designate the numbers of the sections to which it applies and may be in the following form: "§§ — to — follow the statutory provisions to which they respectively refer." (2) In cases where the numbers of the code sections are keyed to the numbers of the sections in the statutes interpreted, a footnote to this effect should be placed on the sheet carrying the headnote of the subdivision in which this procedure is followed. This footnote may be in the following form: "In §§ — to —, the numbers to the right of the decimal point are keyed to numbers of §§ — to —, 49 Stat. 1652, 26 U. S. C. — to —.

Wherever it is appropriate and convenient, the above footnotes may be combined with the footnotes suggested for short citation of authority or source.

SOURCE

originally formed a part and from which it is taken, together with (2) the date of its adoption and (3) the title of the officer, board or commission issuing the same, unless the issuing agency is the same as the agency named in the title of the codification, and (4) similar information with respect to all amendments thereto, shall be cited in brackets immediately following the citations of authority on which the documents are based, in the following form:

Executive orders (President). [E. O. 7298, Feb. 18, 1936.]

Regulations (Veterans' Administration and Bureau of Internal Revenue). [Reg. R–1001 (K), V. Ad., Oct. 14, 1937.] [Reg. 100, Art. 603, Bu. Int. Rev., Oct. 12, 1936.]

Bulletins (Agricultural Adjustment Administration). [SR–Bull.–1, A. A. A., Mar 20, 1936.]

Orders (Federal Communications Commission). [Order 17–A, F. C. C., Sept. 29, 1937.]

Rules (Securities and Exchange Commission). [Rule 3D8, S. E. C., Oct. 4, 1937.]

Circulars (Treasury). [Circ. 570, Sec. Treas., Oct. 11, 1937.]

(e) Short method of citation of source, applicable where a large number of sections in sequence have the name citation of source. Where section numbers are keyed to section numbers in original source document: (1) Place a number sign (#) at the end of each section or paragraph to which the citation is pertinent, (2) Include an appropriate footnote, preceded by the number sign (#), on the sheet carrying the headnote of the subdivision to which the footnote is applicable. This footnote should indicate (a) the method by which sections in the codification are keyed to the original source, and (b) the sections covered by the footnote. Thus, for example, such footnote may be in the following form: "# In §§ — to —, the numbers to the right of the decimal point correspond with the respective section numbers in Bulletin 10, Sept. 7, 1936."

(f) Where section numbers are not keyed to section numbers in original source document. (1) Place the original section, article, or rule number and a number sign in brackets at the end of each section or paragraph, e. g., [art. 171, #] to which the citation is pertinent. (2) Include an appropriate footnote, preceded by the number sign (#), on the sheet carrying the headnote of the subdivision to which the footnote is applicable. This footnote should indicate (a) the common original source, and (b) the sections covered by the footnote. Thus, for example, such footnote may be in the following form: "# the source of §§ — to — is Bull. 10, Sept. 7, 1936." These short methods of citation may be employed in cases where the great proportion of a large number of sections in sequence have the same citation. When employing these methods, care should be taken, however, to give a specific citation in the form prescribed in the Codification Regulations for any sections in the sequence to which the short citation is inapplicable. In those cases where the short citation is inapplicable for certain sections in sequence, a footnote such as the following may be used: "The source of §§ — to — with the exceptions of §§ —, —, — is Bull. 10, Sept. 7, 1936."

(g) Explanatory material or references. Any other material which the agency deems necessary by way of explanation or reference may be submitted in the form of footnotes.

(h) Decisions and interpretations. Decisions of executive or administrative agencies which construe or apply documents, but which do not amend the text of the documents, and judicial opinions which refer to documents should not be cited except in unusual circumstances and then only in explanatory footnotes.* #

FORM

1.7 Physical format. The partial and final codifications submitted shall conform to the following specifications:

(a) Number of copies. Three copies shall be submitted.

(b) Size of paper. Only letter size paper (approximately 8½ x 10 or 11 inches) shall be used, and the material shall be placed thereon parallel with the long side of the sheet so that the individual sheets may be conveniently handled and filed, and a maximum of margins left for notes, corrections, and insertions.

(c) Contents and numbering of pages. Not more than one section shall be placed on a page, and the pages shall be numbered consecutively in Arabic numbers.

(d) Typing. All matter shall be legibly typewritten, mimeographed, or printed, except that material already in such form may be cut and pasted on pages of the prescribed size in order to save time and eliminate typing and the errors often incident thereto, and in such cases corrections may be made in ink or by typewriter in the margins or by interlineation and striking out.

(e) Forms—Illustrations and diagrams. Ordinarily, forms should not be incorporated in the codifications. Illustrations should not be incorporated in the codifications as a part of a document unless their publication is essential in the public interest. In cases where an illustration was incorporated as a part of a document which has been issued and amended and the publication of the illustration is essential, a new illustration including the necessary changes to conform to the amendments shall be prepared and forwarded with the codified document. Illustrations accompanying codifications, when published, shall be reduced to page size and be line-cuts only. Copy for illustrations should be in the form of tracings on linen and shall be securely attached to the part of the code which incorporates such illustration.* #

ARRANGEMENT

1.8 System of headings and numbers. Titles will be the major divisions of the Code of Federal Regulations. Subtitles and chapters will be the major divisions of titles. Parts will be the divisions of subtitles and chapters. Sections will be the normal units within parts. Paragraphs, subparagraphs, etc., will be lesser units within sections.

(a) Assignment of titles. There will be a subject matter arrangement into titles of the materials submitted by the agencies.

(b) Assignment of chapters. Each independent agency or major subdivision of a department will be assigned a Chapter in the Title indicated by the materials codified by the agency or subdivision.

(1) In special cases a Chapter may be assigned to a subdivision of an independent agency or a subordinate subdivision of a department, in instances where a specific regulatory function is vested in the subdivision and the logical classification of the subject matter so requires.

(2) In cases where a Title contains more than one Chapter subject to the exceptions in (b) (3) and (b) (4), of this section, the first Chapter shall include Parts 1–199, and each succeeding chapter respectively a block of one hundred part numbers, viz.—Chapter I shall include Parts 1–199; Chapter II, Parts 200–299, etc.

(3) In the titles assigned to the several departments, the title may be divided into subtitles, of which Parts 1–19 shall be allocated to a Subtitle A to provide for documents issued by the departmental head and not included in the submission of the subdivision of the department. Subtitle B shall be subdivided into chapters, of which Chapter I shall comprise Parts 20–199; Chapter II, Parts 200–299, etc., subject to the exceptions in (4).

(4) In case the parts assigned to a chapter under the rule in (2) are insufficient, one or more additional blocks of one hundred part numbers in sections, as are required, may be included in the chapter.

(5) The use of subtitles or subparts is to be avoided, unless deemed necessary by the agency and the board member concerned or unless the materials included are sufficiently extensive to justify the grouping of parts in subchapters.* #

1.9 Numbering system. The following general rules are to be followed (with such exceptions as may be appropriate) in the numbering of titles, chapters, etc.

(a) Numbering of titles, chapters, etc. Titles are to be numbered consecutively in Arabic as prescribed by the Board, subtitles consecutively in capitals, chapters consecutively throughout the title in Roman, and subchapters consecutively throughout the chapter in capitals.

(b) Numbering of parts. Parts are to be numbered serially in Arabic, leaving sufficient unassigned numbers to provide for expansion. Normally, subparts and similar subdivision of parts are not to be numbered or lettered, except as indicated in (d) (2) of this section. In exceptional cases, with the Board's approval, subparts may be numbered, as may be appropriate, either in Roman capital letters or by a decimal method such as described in (d) (2) of this section.

(c) Numbering of sections. The numbers assigned to individual sections shall include (1) the number of the part in which the section is placed, followed by a decimal point, and (2) a serial number following the decimal point, assigned to the section within the part. Such serial number may consist of one or more digits in Arabic as may be required.

Thus the section number to be given to the 21st Section in Part 25 would be 25.21.

In cases where it is desired, subject to the approval of the Codification Board, the serial numbers following the decimal point, assigned to individual sections in (c) of this section, may correspond with the present numbering of sections in the document forming the original source of the codification.

Thus, assuming that the part number 100 were to be assigned to Regulations 94 of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Art. 113 (a) (8)–1 of Regulations 94, would have the following number: 110.113 (a) (8)–1.

(d) Alternative method of section numbering. The internal structure of sections may be indicated by the following alternative method of numbering:

(1) First method: Sections may be subdivided into paragraphs designated by lower case letters in parentheses, and subparagraphs into subdivisions, designated by lower case Roman numerals in parentheses, thus

Terminology	Numbering symbol
Paragraph	(a)
Subparagraph	(2)
Subdivision	(iii)

(2) Second or decimal method: In this system sections may be designated by the first, first two, or more digits to the right of the decimal point in the section number, depending upon the structure of the part. Such sections may be subdivided into paragraphs, subparagraphs and subdivisions, which may be designated by adding one, two, or three digits to the section number, as the case may be. Thus, in a part requiring two digits to the right of the decimal point for section numbers, the break-down would be as follows:

Terminology	Numbering symbol
Part	1
Subpart	1.1
Section	1.12
Paragraph	1.125
Subparagraph	1.1253
Subdivision	1.12539

(3) In general, the numbering within sections should conform to one of the systems indicated in (1) and (2) above, and the method adopted by the agency should be uniform throughout each chapter. In special cases, to be approved by the Board, the method employed in an individual part may be varied from that generally adopted for the chapter, or where there is a substantial need to retain the identity of a numbering system because of the wide-spread use of the document codified, adequate alternative methods of numbering within sections may be employed.

(4) The numbering system employed to designate sections or subdivisions thereof shall be uniformly applied throughout the chapter or part affected.* #

1.10 Tables of contents—indexing. Each submission of the codification should be accompanied by a table of contents, giving the titles, chapters, parts, sections, and paragraphs, together with their numbers, headings, and headnotes. Agencies are not required to prepare indexes but they are invited to submit indexes to aid the Board in its indexing of the codifications.

(a) Tables of contents to be included. The tables of contents shall be included in copy for all:

Titles including two or more chapters or subtitles.
Titles without chapters but including two or more parts.
Departmental subtitles [Cf. 1.8 (b) (3)] including two or more parts.
Chapters including two or more parts.
Parts including two or more sections.

(b) Tables of contents not necessary to be included. Except upon special instructions by the Board, no tables of contents shall be included in copy for:

Titles comprising a single chapter.
Titles without chapters comprising a single part.
Departmental subtitles comprising a single part.
Non-departmental subtitles [Cf. 1.8 (b) (3)].
Chapters comprising a single part.
Subchapters.
Parts comprising a single section.

(c) Tables of contents explained. In the application of this provision, the following examples may be followed:

(1) Tables of contents for titles including two or more chapters shall show the numbers and captions of all chapters included in title, the numbers of the first part included in each chapter, and all subtitles, in the following form:

TITLE 43—PUBLIC LANDS: INTERIOR

Chapter	Part
Subtitle A—Office of the Secretary of the Interior	1
Subtitle B—Land Regulations
I General Land Office, Department of the Interior	51
II Bureau of Reclamation, Department of the Interior	401

(2) Tables of contents for titles without chapters, departmental subtitles and chapters, including two or more parts, shall show the numbers and captions of all parts included in the chapter or subtitle and all subtitles, in the following form:

CHAPTER I—GENERAL LAND OFFICE
Department of the Interior
Subchapter A—Alaska

Part
51 Public Land Laws, Alaska.
56 Coordination and supervision of work in Alaska.

(3) Tables of contents for parts shall show the numbers and headnotes of all sections included in the part, and the captions and numbers, if any, of all subparts or analogous guide lines, in the following form:

DOCUMENTS RELATING TO PUBLIC LANDS

1.17 Codification of Executive orders, Presidential proclamations, and other documents relating to public lands. Codifications of the several agencies need not include documents which contain only land descriptions. In the following cases such tabulation should be made:

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

DETERMINATION OF SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE APPROVED BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED ORDER REGULATING HANDLING OF MILK IN THE FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, MARKETING AREA

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the terms and provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended, having executed on January 23, 1937, a marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, Marketing Area, which marketing agreement became effective on and after February 1, 1937, and having reason to believe that the execution of an amendment to said marketing agreement and the issuance of an order with respect to the handling of milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, Marketing Area would tend to effectuate the declared policy of said act as re-enacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, gave, on the 24th day of June, 1938, notice of a public hearing [1] to be held on a proposed amendment to said marketing agreement and on a proposed order, said hearing being held jointly with the State of Indiana at Fort Wayne, Indiana, on the 6th day of July 1938, and at said time and place all interested parties were afforded an opportunity to be heard on the proposed amendment to said marketing agreement and on the proposed order; and

Whereas, after said hearing and after the tentative approval of an amendment to said marketing agreement by the Secretary on August 30, 1938, handlers of more than fifty (50) percentum of the volume of milk covered by such proposed order, which is produced for sale in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, Marketing Area, refused or failed to sign such marketing agreement as tentatively amended:

Now, therefore, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the power and authority vested in him by said act, hereby determines:

(1) That the refusal or failure of said handlers to sign said marketing agreement as tentatively amended tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) That the issuance of the proposed order is the only practical means, pursuant to such policy, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in said area; and

(3) That the issuance of the proposed order is approved or favored by over two-thirds of the producers who, during the month of June, 1938, said month having been determined by the Secretary to be a representative period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in said area, and who participated in a referendum conducted by the Secretary.

In witness whereof, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, has executed this determination in duplicate, and has hereunto set his hand and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed hereto, in the City of Washington, District of Columbia, this 7th day of October, 1938.

[SEAL] H. A. WALLACE,
Secretary of Agriculture.

ORDER REGULATING SUCH HANDLING OF MILK IN THE FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, MARKETING AREA AS IS IN INTERSTATE COMMERCE, AND AS DIRECTLY BURDENS, OBSTRUCTS, OR AFFECTS INTERSTATE COMMERCE

Whereas, under the terms and provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States is empowered, after due notice and opportunity for hearing, to enter into marketing agreements with processors, producers, associations of producers, and others engaged in such handling of any agricultural commodity or product thereof as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such commodity or product thereof; and

Whereas, the Secretary, on January 23, 1937, issued a marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, marketing area, which marketing agreement became effective on February 1, 1937; and

Whereas, under the terms and provisions of said act, the Secretary of Agriculture is empowered to issue orders applicable to processors, producers, associations of producers, and others engaged in the handling of any agricultural commodity or product thereof specified in subsection (2) of section 8c, such orders to regulate only such handling of such agricultural commodity or product thereof as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such commodity or product thereof; and

Whereas, the Secretary, having reason to believe that the execution of an amendment to the aforementioned marketing agreement and the issuance of an order with respect to the handling of milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, marketing area would tend to effectuate the declared policy of said act, gave, on the 24th day of June 1938, notice of a public hearing [1] to be held at Fort Wayne, Indiana, on the 6th day of July 1938, on a proposed amendment to said marketing agreement and on a proposed order, and at said time and place conducted a public hearing at which all interested parties were afforded an opportunity to be heard on the proposed amendment to said marketing agreement and on the proposed order; and

Whereas, the Secretary has found and proclaimed the period August 1919–July 1929 to be the base period to be used in connection with ascertaining the purchasing power of milk handled in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, marketing area; and

Whereas, after said hearing and after the tentative approval by the Secretary of an amendment to said marketing agreement on the 30th day of August 1938, handlers of more than 50 percent of the volume of milk covered by this order, which is marketed within the Fort Wayne, Indiana, marketing area, failed or refused to sign such tentatively approved amendment to said marketing agreement; and

Whereas, the Secretary determined, on the 7th day of October 1938, said determination being approved by the President of the United States on the 10th day of October 1938, that said refusal or failure tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of said act and that the issuance of this order is the only practical means, pursuant to such policy, of advancing the interests of producers of milk in said area, and is approved or favored by over two-thirds of the producers who, during the month of June 1938, said month having been determined by the Secretary to be a representative period, have been engaged in the production of milk for sale in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, marketing area; and

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture finds, upon the evidence introduced at said public hearing:

1. That approximately 6 percent of the total volume of milk handled in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, marketing area is in the current of interstate commerce, and that regulation of the handling of such milk in said area, complementary to the regulation of the State of Indiana, is necessary in order, among other things, to obtain uniformity in the administration of the Federal and State programs relating to the regulation of the handling of milk in said area;

2. That the prices calculated to give milk handled in the marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk as determined pursuant to section 2 and section 8e of the act are not reasonable in view of the available supplies of feeds, the price of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect the supply and demand for such milk, and that the minimum prices set forth in this order are such prices as will reflect such factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest;

3. That this order regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to handlers defined in a marketing agreement and an amendment to such marketing agreement upon which hearings have been held; and

4. That orderly marketing conditions for milk flowing into the Fort Wayne, Indiana, marketing area are so disrupted as to result in impairment of the purchasing power of such milk, and that the issuance of this order and all of its terms and conditions will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

Now, therefore, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the authority vested in him by said act, hereby orders that such handling of milk produced for sale in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, marketing area as is in the current of interstate commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce, shall, from the effective date hereof, be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth.

SEC. 2. Interhandler and nonhandler sales.—Milk sold by a handler to another handler or to a person not a handler who distributes milk or manufactures milk products shall be presumed to be Class I milk. In the event that such selling handler, on or before the date fixed for filing reports pursuant to article V, furnishes proof satisfactory to the market administrator that such milk has been sold or disposed of by such purchaser other than as Class I milk, then, and in that event, such milk shall be classified in accordance with such proof.

ARTICLE IV—MINIMUM PRICES

SECTION 1. Class I price.—Each handler shall pay producers, in the manner set forth in article VIII, for the 4 percent butterfat content equivalent of Class I milk, at such handler's plant, not less than $2.15 per hundredweight.

SEC. 2. Class II price.—Each handler shall pay producers, in the manner set forth in article VIII, for the 4 percent butterfat content equivalent of Class II milk, not less than that price per hundredweight, calculated for each delivery period by the market administrator as follows: multiply by 4 the average price per pound of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for the delivery period during which such milk is received, and add 30 percent thereof: Provided, That for a quantity of Class II milk not to exceed 15 percent of the 4 percent butterfat content equivalent of the Class I milk sold by such handler, each handler shall pay producers, in the manner set forth in article VIII, not less than that price per hundredweight calculated for each delivery period by the market administrator as follows: multiply by 4 the average price per pound of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for the delivery period during which such milk is received and add 10 cents.

ARTICLE V—REPORTS OF HANDLERS

SECTION 1. Periodic reports.—On or before the 5th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall, with respect to milk or cream which was, during such delivery period, (a) received from producers, (b) received from handlers, and (c) produced by such handler, report to the market administrator, in the detail and form prescribed by him, as follows:

1. The receipts at each plant from producers who are not handlers;

SEC. 2. Reports as to producers.—Each handler shall report to the market administrator:

1. Within 10 days after the market administrator's request, with respect to any producer for whom such information is not in the files of the market administrator, and with respect to a period or periods of time designated by the market administrator, (a) the name and address, (b) the total pounds of milk delivered, (c) the average butterfat test of milk delivered, and (d) the number of days upon which deliveries were made; and

2. As soon as possible after first receiving milk from any producer, (a) the name and address of such producer, (b) the date upon which such milk was first received, and (c) the plant at which such producer delivered milk.

SEC. 4. Verification of reports.—In order that the market administrator may submit verified reports to the Secretary pursuant to paragraph 3 of section 4 of article II, each handler shall permit the market administrator or his agent, during the usual hours of business, to (a) verify the information contained in reports submitted in accordance with this article and (b) weigh milk delivered by each producer and sample and test milk for butterfat.

ARTICLE VI—HANDLERS WHO ARE ALSO PRODUCERS

SECTION 1. With respect to each handler who is also a producer:

1. The market administrator shall, subject to the condition set forth in paragraph 2 of this section, exclude from the computations made pursuant to section 1 of article VII, the quantity of milk produced and sold, used, or distributed by such handler: Provided, That where any such handler has purchased milk from other producers, the value of the milk purchased shall be computed under section 1 of article VII as follows: the quantity of such milk shall be ratably apportioned among such handler's total Class I and Class II sales (after excluding purchasers, if any, from other handlers) and multiplied by the Class I and Class II prices, respectively.

2. The market administrator shall, upon prior written notice from such handler of the exercise thereof, grant the option of having all milk produced by such handler included in the computation made pursuant to section 1 of article VII in lieu of the provisions of paragraph 1 of this section.

3. The market administrator shall consider as Class II milk any milk or cream sold in bulk by any such handler who has not exercised the option set forth in paragraph 2 of this section, to another handler operating a bottling or processing plant. If such buying handler uses or sells such milk or cream for other than Class II purposes, the market administrator shall add to the total value computed pursuant to section 1 of article VII the difference between (a) the value of such milk or cream at the Class II price and (b) the value according to its actual usage.

ARTICLE VII—DETERMINATION OF UNIFORM PRICES TO PRODUCERS

SECTION 1. Computation of the value of milk for each distributor.—For each delivery period the market administrator shall compute from the report of each distributor the value of milk sold or used by such distributor, which was not purchased from other distributors, as follows:

1. Multiply by the Class I price the hundredweight of milk computed as follows: divide by 4 the butterfat contained in the total weight of the units of Class I milk determined by the average butterfat test of the several units of Class I milk;

2. Multiply by the Class II prices the hundredweight of milk computed as follows: divide by 4 the butterfat contained in the total weight of the products of Class II milk determined by the average butterfat test of the several products in Class II milk;

3. Combine into one total the hundredweight of milk computed pursuant to paragraphs 1 and 2 of this section;

4. Combine into one total the values of the milk computed pursuant to paragraphs 1 and 2 of this section;

5. If the hundredweight of milk computed pursuant to paragraph 3 of this section is less than the hundredweight of milk received from producers, multiply such difference by 10 cents per hundredweight; add such amount to the value of milk computed pursuant to paragraph 4 of this section; and add to the computed hundredweight of milk an amount representing the difference between such hundredweight and the hundredweight of milk received from producers; and

6. If the hundredweight of milk computed pursuant to paragraph 3 of this section is greater than the hundredweight of milk received from producers, multiply such difference by 10 cents per hundredweight; subtract such amount from the value of milk computed pursuant to paragraph 4 of this section; and subtract from the computed hundredweight of milk an amount representing the difference between such hundredweight and the hundredweight of milk received from producers.

SEC. 2. Computation and announcement of uniform prices.—The market administrator shall, for each delivery period, make computations and announce the uniform price per hundredweight of milk received by handlers and distributors during each delivery period as follows:

1. Combine into one total the respective values of milk computed pursuant to section 1 of this article for each distributor who made the payments required of him for the previous delivery period;

2. For all milk received from a producer who did not regularly sell milk during a period of 30 days next preceding February 1, 1937, subtract an amount computed by multiplying by the lower Class II price the hundredweight of milk received from such producer. Such computation shall be made for all milk received from each such producer during the period beginning with his first regular delivery of milk and continuing until the end of two full calendar months following the date of such first delivery of milk;

3. If the hundredweight of milk computed pursuant to paragraph 3 of section 1 is less than the hundredweight of milk received from producers, add an amount computed by multiplying such difference by $1.20 per hundredweight:

4. If the hundredweight of milk computed pursuant to paragraph 3 of section 1 is greater than the hundredweight of milk received from producers, subtract an amount computed by multiplying such difference by $1.20 per hundredweight;

5. Divide by the hundredweight of milk received from producers, other than the milk represented by the amount subtracted in paragraph 2 of this section;

6. Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents per hundredweight of milk for the purpose of retaining a cash balance in connection with the payments set forth in paragraph 3 of section 1 of article VIII;

7. Add an amount per hundredweight of milk which will prorate any cash balance available pursuant to section 3 of this article; and

8. On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall notify each handler and each distributor of the uniform price for milk and of the Class II price, and shall make public announcement of the computation of the uniform price.

SEC. 3. Proration of cash balance.—For each delivery period, the market administrator shall prorate, by an appropriate addition pursuant to paragraph 7 of section 2 of this article, the cash balance, if any, available from payments received by him during the next preceding delivery period to meet obligations arising out of paragraph 3 of section 1 of article VIII.

ARTICLE VIII—PAYMENTS FOR MILK

SECTION 1. Time and method of payment.—On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall make payment for the total value of milk received from producers during such delivery period, computed according to section 1 of article VII, subject to the butterfat differential set forth in section 3 of this article, as follows:

1. To producers located outside the State of Indiana, at not less than the uniform price per hundredweight, computed pursuant to section 2 of article VII, for all milk received from each such producer;

2. To any producer located outside the State of Indiana who did not regularly sell milk during a period of 30 days next preceding February 1, 1937, at not less than the lower Class II price for all the milk received from such producer during the period beginning with the first regular delivery of such producer and continuing until the end of two full calendar months following the date of such first delivery of milk; and

3. To producers, through the market administrator, by paying to or receiving from the market administrator, as the case may be, the amount by which the sum representing the payments to be made by such handler, pursuant to paragraphs 1 and 2 of this section, is less than, or exceeds, the total value of milk computed for such handler pursuant to section 1 of article VII, as shown in a statement rendered by the market administrator on or before the 10th day after the end of such delivery period.

SEC. 2. Errors in payments.—Errors in making the payments prescribed in this article shall be corrected not later than the date for making payments next following the determination of such errors.

SEC. 3. Butterfat differential.—If any producer has delivered to any handler during any delivery period milk having an average butterfat content other than 4 percent, such handler shall pay to such producer, for each one-tenth of one percent of average butterfat content above 4 percent, or shall deduct for each one-tenth of one percent of average butterfat content below 4 percent, 3 cents per hundredweight.

SEC. 4. Advance payments.—Nothing contained in this article shall be construed as preventing the making, by any handler, of advance payments to producers for current deliveries of milk.

ARTICLE IX—MARKETING SERVICES

SECTION 1. Deductions for marketing services.—Each handler shall deduct an amount not exceeding 3 cents per hundredweight (the exact amount to be determined by the market administrator, subject to review by the Secretary) from the payments made direct to producers pursuant to paragraphs 1 and 2 of section 1 of article VIII, with respect to all milk received by such handler during the delivery period from such producers, and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of such delivery period. Except as set forth in section 2 of this article, such moneys shall be expended by the market administrator only for market information to, and for verification of weights, samples, and tests of milk received from, said producers.

SEC. 2. Payment to an association.—In the case of producers for whom a cooperative association, which the Secretary determines to be qualified under the provisions of the act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act," is actually performing (as determined by the market administrator, subject to review by the Secretary) the services set forth in section 1 of this article, the market administrator may pay to such association, with respect to the deliveries of milk of producers who are members of or who are marketing their milk through such association, and who received payment for milk pursuant to paragraph 1 of section 1 of article VIII, an amount per hundredweight equal to the per hundredweight deduction made from all producers pursuant to section 1 of this article.

ARTICLE X—AMENDMENT, SUSPENSION, AND TERMINATION

SECTION 1. Effect of amendment, suspension, or termination.—The amendment, suspension, or termination of any or all of the provisions of this order shall not affect, waive, or terminate any right, duty, obligation, violation, or liability which shall have arisen, or may thereafter arise, in connection with any of the provisions herein.

SEC. 2. Power of the market administrator to liquidate.—Upon the suspension or termination of this order, the powers and duties of the market administrator shall be continued for the purpose of permitting the market administrator then functioning, or such other person as the Secretary may designate, to: (1) reduce all assets to cash, (2) pay all costs of liquidation, (3) distribute all remaining cash on hand to the parties entitled to receive the same, and (4) ship all books and records to the Secretary for filing.

ARTICLE XI—LIABILITY

SECTION 1. Handlers.—The liability of the handlers hereunder is several and not joint and no handler shall be liable for the default of any other handler.

Now, therefore, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, acting under the provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, for the purposes and within the limitations therein contained and not otherwise, does hereby execute and issue in duplicate this order under his hand and the official seal of the Department of Agriculture in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, on this 11th day of October, 1938, and declares this order to be effective on and after 12:01 a. m., October 15, 1938.

DETERMINATION OF NORMAL YIELDS OF COMMERCIALLY RECOVERABLE SUGAR PER ACRE FOR SUGAR BEETS—1938 SUGAR BEET PROGRAM

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 303 of the Sugar Act of 1937, I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, do hereby determine that the normal yield of commercially recoverable sugar per acre for a farm on which sugar beets were planted for harvest in 1938 shall be the amount of sugar obtained by multiplying the normal yield of sugar beets, in tons per acre, for the farm by the amount of sugar, raw value, determined to be commercially recoverable in the determination entitled "Determination of Sugar Commercially Recoverable from Sugar Beets," approved March 28, 1938,[1] from a ton of sugar beets of normal percentage of sugar content for the farm.

For the purposes of this determination:

I. The normal yield of sugar beets in tons per acre shall be,

A. For a farm on which sugar beets were planted for harvest in three or more of the years 1931–37, inclusive, the simple average of the annual average yields of sugar beets per acre planted on the farm for harvest for all of the years 1931–37, inclusive, in which sugar beets were planted for harvest;

B. For a farm on which sugar beets were planted for harvest in only one or two of the years 1931–37, inclusive, the number of tons obtained by multiplying the county normal yield in tons of sugar beets per acre[2] by the percentage that the simple average of the yields of sugar beets per acre planted on the farm for harvest in such year or two years is of the simple average of the yields of sugar beets per acre for the county for such year or two years, which county average yield shall be, (1) for any year in which sugar beets were planted for harvest on ten or more of the farms on which sugar beets were planted for harvest in 1938, the weighted average yield of sugar beets per acre planted for harvest in that year on farms in the county on which sugar beets were planted for harvest in 1938;

[2] Defined in C of this section.

and (2) for any year in which sugar beets were planted for harvest on less than ten of the farms on which sugar beets were planted for harvest in 1938, the yield per acre established by the State Agricultural Conservation Committee on the basis of the yields per acre for that year in the county and in adjacent counties which have similar sugar beet production conditions: Provided, however, That the normal yield for such farm shall not be less than 80 percent nor more than 120 percent of the county normal yield; and

C. For a farm on which sugar beets were not planted for harvest in any of the years 1931–37, inclusive, 90 percent of the county normal yield per acre, which county normal yield shall be, (1) for a county in which sugar beets were planted for harvest in three or more of the years 1931–37, inclusive, on ten or more of the farms on which sugar beets were planted for harvest in 1938, the simple average of the county average yields, as defined in B above, for all of the years 1931–37, inclusive, in which sugar beets were planted for harvest on ten or more of such farms; and (2) for a county in which sugar beets were planted for harvest in less than three of the years 1931–37, inclusive, on ten or more of the farms on which sugar beets were planted for harvest in 1938, the yield per acre established by the State Agricultural Conservation Committee on the basis of the yields per acre for the years 1931–37, inclusive, in the county and in adjacent counties which have similar sugar beet production conditions.

II. The normal percentage of sugar content of sugar beets shall be,

A. For farms from which sugar beets were contracted to be marketed in 1938 under that type of agreement commonly known as an "individual test contract," as follows:

(1) In cases in which sugar beets were so marketed in three or four of the years 1934 to 1937, inclusive, the simple average of the annual average percentages of sugar content, at the time of delivery to a processor, of the sugar beets marketed in such years (including all years in which sugar beets were so marketed);

(2) In cases in which sugar beets were so marketed in only one or two of the years 1934 to 1937, inclusive, the percentage of sugar content obtained by multiplying the county normal percentage of sugar content of sugar beets[1] by the percentage that the simple average of the average percentages of sugar content, at the time of delivery to a processor, of the sugar beets marketed in such year or two years is of the simple average of the average percentages of sugar content of sugar beets for the county for such year or two years, which county average percentage shall be, (a) for any year in which sugar beets were so marketed from ten or more of the farms on which sugar beets were planted for harvest in 1938, the weighted average percentage of sugar content, at the time of delivery to a processor, of the sugar beets marketed in that year from farms in the county on which sugar beets were planted for harvest in 1938; and (b) for any year in which sugar beets were so marketed from less than ten of the farms on which sugar beets were planted for harvest in 1938, the percentage of sugar content established by the State Agricultural Conservation Committee on the basis of the percentage of sugar content, at the time of delivery to a processor, of the sugar beets marketed in that year from farms in the county and in adjacent counties; and

(3) In cases in which sugar beets were not so marketed in any of the years 1934 to 1937, inclusive, the county normal percentage of sugar content of sugar beets, which county normal percentage shall be, (a) for a county in which sugar beets were so marketed in three or four of the years 1934 to 1937, inclusive, from ten or more of the farms on which sugar beets were planted for harvest in 1938, the simple average of the county average percentages of sugar content of sugar beets, as defined in (2) above, for such years (including all years in which sugar beets were so marketed from ten or more of the farms on which sugar beets were planted for harvest in 1938); and (b) for a county in which sugar beets were not so marketed in at least three of the years 1934 to 1937, inclusive, from ten or more of the farms on which sugar beets were planted for harvest in 1938, the percentage of sugar content of sugar beets established by the State Agricultural Conservation Committee on the basis of the percentage of sugar content, at the time of delivery to a processor, of the sugar beets marketed in the years 1934 to 1937, inclusive, from farms in the county and in adjacent counties; and

B. For farms from which sugar beets were contracted to be marketed in 1938 under any type of agreement other than that commonly known as an "individual test contract," the normal percentage of sugar content of sugar beets for the district (an area in which a common marketing agreement was in use in 1938), which district normal percentage shall be:

(1) For districts in which beet sugar factories were operated in three or more of the years 1931–37, inclusive, the simple average of the annual average percentages of sugar content, at the time of processing, of all of the sugar beets processed in the district in all of such years in which sugar beets were processed; and

(2) For districts in which beet sugar factories were operated in less than three of the years 1931–37, inclusive, the percentage of sugar content of sugar beets established by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration on the basis of the average percentage of sugar content, at the time of processing, of sugar beets produced under similar conditions in the years 1931–37, inclusive.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 12th day of October, 1938. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

IN THE MATTER OF ARTHUR E. SWANSON, KELLOGG LOGSDON AND GARY BARTHELL CONSTITUTING A BONDHOLDERS' PROTECTIVE COMMITTEE, AND THE MIDDLE WEST CORPORATION

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

Applications and declarations pursuant to Sections 11 (g) and 12 (c) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, and Rule U-12E promulgated thereunder having been duly filed with this Commission by the above named parties;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matters be held on October 31, 1938 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in Room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Moore or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matters. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under Section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before October 26, 1938.

The matters concerned herewith are in regard to:

(1) A joint application by Arthur E. Swanson, Kellogg Logsdon and Gary Barthell, constituting a bondholders' protective committee under a bondholders' protective agreement dated December 6, 1932, as amended, providing for the deposit of Collateral Trust Sinking Fund Gold Bonds Series A 6%, Series B 6% and Series C 6% of Inland Power & Light Corporation, a registered holding company, and by The Middle West Corporation, a registered holding company, regarding a proposed plan of reorganization of Inland Power & Light Corporation and The Commonwealth Light & Power Company, requesting a report on the proposed plan of reorganization by the Securities and Exchange Commission. Proceedings for the reorganization of the two companies last mentioned pursuant to the provisions of Section 77B of the Bankruptcy Act are pending in the District Court of the United States for the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division.

The proposed plan of reorganization contemplates the dissolution of Commonwealth and the formation of a reorganized company as successor to both companies now in reorganization. The reorganized company will have only common stock outstanding, which will be distributed to the creditors of Commonwealth and Inland.

The treatment of creditors and stockholders of Inland under the proposed plan will be as follows:

For each $1,000 principal amount of First Lien Collateral Trust Bonds, Series A, B, and C, accompanied by, in the case of Series A bonds, all interest coupons maturing on and after March 1, 1933, in the case of Series B bonds, all interest coupons maturing on and after May 1, 1933, and in the case of the Series C bonds, all interest coupons maturing on and after April 1, 1933, there shall be issued in exchange 50 shares of the common stock of the reorganized company. Upon consummation of the Plan and participation therein by all persons entitled to participate, approximately 239,125 shares of the new common stock will be issued to the Inland bondholders, constituting approximately 71.5% of the total capital stock of the reorganized company to be outstanding under the Plan.

For each $1,000 Sinking Fund Debenture of Inland, together with all coupons maturing on and after December 1, 1932, there shall be issued in exchange 22.85 shares of the common stock of the reorganized company. Upon consummation of the Plan and participation therein by all persons entitled to participate there will be distributed to the holders of debentures of Inland an aggregate of approximately 26,552 shares of the common stock of the reorganized company constituting approximately 7.94% of the total capital stock of the reorganized company to be outstanding under the Plan.

For each $1,000 amount of claims allowed to unsecured creditors in the pending Inland reorganization proceedings, other than claims to be paid in full, aggregating $1,877.01, and other than the claim of Commonwealth, the treatment of which is hereafter described, there will be distributed 19.437 shares of common stock of the reorganized company. Upon consummation of the Plan and participation therein by all persons entitled to participate, approximately 1,713 shares of new common stock will be issued to such other unsecured creditors, constituting approximately .51% of the total capital stock of the reorganized company to be outstanding under the Plan.

The holders of the outstanding preferred stocks and common stocks of Inland will receive no participation in the securities of the reorganized company.

The treatment of creditors and stockholders of Commonwealth under the proposed plan will be as follows:

Inland is indebted to Commonwealth upon an unsecured claim in the amount of $3,449,646.89. Commonwealth as a creditor of Inland will be entitled under the distribution provisions herein set forth, to 67,050 shares of stock of the reorganized company. This is equivalent to 19.437 shares for each $1,000 principal amount of Commonwealth debt as will be received by other unsecured creditors of Inland. The stock which would otherwise be issued to the Trustee in Bankruptcy of Commonwealth on account of the Commonwealth claim will be issued directly to the creditors of Commonwealth. Creditors of Commonwealth, whose claims, including $283,956.99 of interest accrued prior to bankruptcy on the Refunding and Unifying Bonds, approximate $2,000,000, will receive 33.46 shares of the common stock of the reorganized company for each $1,000 of claim. Upon consummation of the Plan and participation therein by all persons entitled to participate, approximatey 67,050 shares of new common stock will be distributed to the creditors of Commonwealth, constituting approximately 20% of the total capital stock of the reorganized company to be outstanding under the Plan.

The holders of the outstanding common stock of Commonwealth will receive no participation in the stock of the reorganized company.

It is stated that applicant, The Middle West Corporation, is the owner of approximately 24.27% of the bonds of Inland, 29.24% of the outstanding debentures of Inland, 93.55% of the outstanding Refunding and Unifying Bonds of Commonwealth and general claims of $53,848.60 against Commonwealth and $1,032.26 against Inland, and that if the reorganization is effected The Middle West Corporation would receive 128,615.4 shares of the common stock of the reorganized company, constituting approximately 38% of such common stock.

(2) A declaration, File No. 34–15, by said Arthur E. Swanson, Kellogg Logsdon and Gary Barthell, constituting a bondholders' protective committee as aforesaid, with respect to solicitation of consents to the proposed plan of reorganization.

By the Commission.

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

NATIONAL BITUMINOUS COAL COMMISSION

[Order No. 252]

AN ORDER REQUIRING FROM PRODUCERS FOR ALL MINES HAVING PRESENT ACTUAL DAILY CAPACITY OF FIFTY NET TONS OR MORE AND ALL MINES SHIPPING DIRECTLY BY RAIL OR RIVER, REGARDLESS OF DAILY CAPACITY, REPORTS OF COST AND REALIZATION DATA FOR THE CALENDAR YEAR 1938, PURSUANT TO SECTION 10 (A) OF THE BITUMINOUS COAL ACT OF 1937

Whereas, the Commission by its Order No. 236,[2] dated March 22, 1938, requires all producers of bituminous coal to file complete reports showing the total costs of the tonnage produced and realization prices derived from the sale of coal for each mine and for each calendar month so as to include all coal produced and all coal sold on and after the first day of January, 1938; and

Whereas, the Commission believes that in order better to perform its duties under the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, and in order to be more fully informed as to the production and distribution of bituminous coal throughout the United States, it should have such information on total costs of the tonnage produced and realization prices derived from the sale of coal submitted to it, in a consolidated form covering the calendar year 1938, by producers for all mines having present actual daily capacity of fifty (50) net tons or more and by producers for all mines shipping directly by rail or river, regardless of daily capacity;

Now, therefore, Pursuant to Act of Congress entitled "An Act to regulate interstate commerce in bituminous coal, and for other purposes" (Public, No. 48, 75th Cong., 1st sess.), known as the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, the National Bituminous Coal Commission orders and directs as follows:

1. That each producer of bituminous coal, whether or not a code member and whether or not engaged in commerce in coal which is subject to the provisions of Section 4 of said Act, and whose mine or mines have a present actual daily capacity of fifty (50) net tons or more, or who ships directly by rail or river, regardless of daily capacity of such mine or mines, shall file, in duplicate, complete reports of the total costs of the tonnage produced at such mine or mines and realization prices derived from the sale of such coal on Commission's Cost Form No. 3, all as more fully set forth and specified in said cost form, such reports to be made separately for each such mine, so as to include all such coal produced and all such coal sold during the calendar year 1938.

2. That each such producer shall file the reports required under Paragraph 1, above, with the statistical bureau of the Commission within the district in which the mine or mines reported on are located, on or before the 25th day of January, 1939, said reports to be filed by the producer in lieu of the reports required to be filed by him on or before the 25th day of January, 1939, covering all coal produced and all coal sold during the month of December, 1938, as presently required under Paragraphs 1 and 3 of Order No. 236.

3. In the case of any mine of the class described in Paragraph 1, above, which is not actually in operation during the calendar year 1938, the producer shall report for such calendar year such data as will show the costs of ownership and maintenance.

4. That reports required to be filed under this Order shall be signed by the producer if an individual, by a member of the firm if a partnership, or if a corporation, by a responsible officer thereof who is familiar with the facts.

5. That Order No. 236, except as modified herein, shall remain in full force and effect.

That producers, whose mine or mines do not ship directly by rail or river and have a present actual daily capacity of less than fifty (50) net tons, shall file with the proper statistical bureau of the Commission a monthly report for December 1938 on Cost Form No. 3–A, as presently required under Paragraphs 1 and 3 of Order No. 236.

6. That the Secretary of the Commission shall cause the proper statistical bureau of the Commission to mail to each known producer within the United States whose mine or mines come within the description set forth in Paragraph 1, above, a copy of this Order, together with the necessary forms for making the required reports, and shall make available to all such producers additional copies of said forms at the statistical bureau as such bureaus are established in each district under said Act.

That the Secretary of the Commission shall also mail a copy of this Order, together with a copy of Cost Form No. 3 to the Secretary of the Bituminous Coal Producers Board for each of the several districts and to Consumers' Counsel, and shall cause a copy of this Order to be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

[Part 521]

REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO EMPLOYMENT OF APPRENTICES PURSUANT TO SECTION 14 OF THE FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT *

The following regulations—Part 521—(Regulations applicable to Employment of Apprentices pursuant to Section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act) are hereby issued. Said Regulations—Part 521—shall become effective upon my signing the original and upon the publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER and shall be in force and effect until repealed by regulations hereafter made and published by me.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 12 day of Oct. 1938.

ELMER F. ANDREWS, Administrator.

It having been found by me upon investigation that, in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment, it is necessary to make special provision for the employment of apprentices at minimum wage rates fixed in the apprenticeship agreement, where such rates are less than the minimum wage rates applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, I hereby prescribe the following Rules and Regulations governing the employment of apprentices: *

SECTION 521.1 DEFINITIONS

For the purpose of these Rules and Regulations the term "apprentice" shall mean: a person at least 16 years of age who is covered by a written agreement with an employer, or with an association of employers, which apprenticeship agreement (1) has been approved by the State Apprenticeship Council or other established authority of the State, or if none such exists, by the Federal Committee on Apprenticeships, and (2) provides for not less than 4,000 hours of reasonably continuous employment for such person, for his participation in an approved schedule of work experience through employment and at least 144 hours per year of related supplemental instruction.*

SECTION 521.2 APPLICATIONS ON OFFICIAL FORMS

Whenever employment of an apprentice is desired at a rate or rates less than the minimum wage rate applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, application therefor may be made of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, Department of Labor, Washington, D. C., upon forms furnished by that agency.*

SECTION 521.3 APPLICATIONS TO BE JOINT

Such application shall be signed by both the employer and the apprentice and shall be accompanied by the apprenticeship agreement or an authenticated copy thereof.*

SECTION 521.4 ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL CERTIFICATES

If, upon an examination of such application and the accompanying apprenticeship agreement, the Administrator or his authorized representative is satisfied that the application and agreement comply with the provisions of the foregoing regulations, and that not less than 4,000 hours of reasonably continuous employment is required to prepare a worker of normal ability for the skilled occupation designated in the apprenticeship agreements, he will issue, in triplicate, a Special Certificate in the name of the Administrator, authorizing the employment of the named apprentice at the rate or rates (less than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6) and for the length or lengths of time specified in the agreement. Such rate or rates and the length of time for which they are applicable shall be set forth in the Certificate.*

SECTION 521.5 COPIES OF CERTIFICATES

One copy of the Certificate will be given the apprentice, one copy shall be given the employer who shall keep the same on file with his employment record, and one copy will be retained in the files of the Wage and Hour Division, Department of Labor.*

SECTION 521.6 RATE SET IN CERTIFICATE

No employer shall employ any apprentice under a Special Certificate at a wage rate less than the rate applicable in such Certificate.*

SECTION 521.7 PETITION FOR REVIEW

Any person aggrieved by the action of an authorized representative of the Administrator under these regulations, either in granting or denying a Certificate for the employment of an appentice, may, within 15 days after the action of such representative, or within such further time as the Administrator, for cause shown, may allow, file a petition with the Administrator requesting a review by the Administrator of the action of the representative and praying for such relief as is desired. If the request for review is

A notice of the time and place and scope of the hearing will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and made public by general press release at least five days before the date of such hearing: Provided, that if review is granted by the Administrator in a case where the petitioners are requesting the cancellation of a Special Certificate, a notice of the time and place of the hearing will be sent by registered mail to the apprentice and his employer at their last known address or addresses.*

SECTION 521.8 PETITION FOR AMENDMENT OF REGULATIONS

Any person wishing a revision of any of the terms of the foregoing regulations applicable to apprentices may submit in writing to the Administrator a petition setting forth the changes desired and the reasons for proposing them. If, upon inspection of the petition, the Administrator believes that reasonable cause for amendment of the Rules and Regulations is set forth the Administrator will either schedule a hearing, with due notice to interested parties, or will make other provision for affording interested parties an opportunity to present their views, both in support and in opposition to the proposed changes.

TITLE 42—PUBLIC HEALTH AND EDUCATION

CHILDREN'S BUREAU

CHILD LABOR REGULATIONS

REGULATION NO. 1—CERTIFICATES OF AGE

OCTOBER 14, 1938.

By virtue of and pursuant to the authority conferred by section 3 (1) and section 11 (b) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (Act of June 25, 1938, Public No. 718, 75th Congress, Chapter 676, 3d Session), the following regulation is prescribed for the administration of the child-labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 relating to certificates of age.

Authority for Regulation

SEC. 3 (1) OF THE ACT

"* * * oppressive child labor shall not be deemed to exist by virtue of the employment in any occupation of any person with respect to whom the employer shall have on file an unexpired certificate issued and held pursuant to regulations of the Chief of the Children's Bureau certifying that such person is above the oppressive child-labor age."

SEC. 11 (B) OF THE ACT

"With the consent and cooperation of State agencies charged with the administration of State labor laws, the Administrator and the Chief of the Children's Bureau may, for the purpose of carrying out their respective functions and duties under this act, utilize the services of State and local agencies and their employees and, notwithstanding any other provision of law, may reimburse such State and local agencies and their employees for services rendered for such purposes."

Certificates of Age

SEC. 1. Definitions.—As used in this regulation:

(a) "Act" means the child-labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938;

(b) "Chief of the Bureau" means the Chief of the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor;

(c) "Oppressive child-labor age" means—

(1) Under the age of 16 years with respect to employment in any occupation;[1]

(2) 16 and under 18 years of age with respect to employment in any occupation found and by order declared by the Chief of the Bureau to be particularly hazardous for the employment of minors of such ages or detrimental to their health or well-being.

(d) A certificate of age means a certificate as provided in subsections (a) or (b) of section 2 of this regulation.

(e) "State agency" means any executive department, board, bureau or commission of the State or any division or unit thereof.

SEC. 2. Certificates of age, effect.—The employment of any minor shall not be deemed to constitute oppressive child labor under the Act if his employer shall have on file an unexpired certificate, issued and held in accordance with this regulation, which shall be either:—

(a) A Federal certificate of age, issued by a person authorized by the Chief of the Bureau, showing that such minor is above the oppressive child-labor age applicable to the occupation in which he is employed, or—

(b) A State certificate, which may be in the form of and known as an age, employment, or working certificate or permit, issued by or under the supervision of a State agency in such States as hereafter may be designated for this purpose by the Chief of the Bureau, showing that such minor is above the oppressive child-labor age applicable to the occupation in which he is employed. Any such certificate shall have the force and effect specified in section 4 hereof.

An employer, in order to protect himself from unwitting violation of the Act, should obtain a certificate of age as prescribed in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, for each minor 16 or 17 years of age employed by him; and, if the employment is in an occupation found and by order declared to be particularly hazardous for the employment of minors 16 and under 18 years of age or detrimental to their health or well-being, he should obtain a certificate of age for each minor 18 or 19 years of age so employed. An employer may request the issuance of a certificate for any minor of more advanced age if he has any doubt concerning the age of such minor.

SEC. 3. Federal certificates of age, information contained in.—A Federal certificate of age issued by any person authorized by the Chief of the Bureau shall contain the following information:

(a) Name and address of minor.

(b) Place and date of birth of minor, together with a statement indicating the evidence on which this is based.

(c) Sex and color of minor.

(d) Signature of minor.

(e) Name and address of minor's parent or person standing in place of parent.

(f) Name and address of employer.

(g) Signature of issuing officer.

(h) Date and place of issuance.

A Federal certificate of age for a minor under 18 years of age shall be sent by the person authorized to issue such certificates to the prospective employer of the minor, who shall keep such certificate on file at the place of the minor's employment and who on the termination of the employment of the minor shall return the certificate to the person issuing it. A certificate so returned shall be accepted as proof of age for the issuance of any subsequent Federal certificate of age for that minor, without presentation of further proof of age. Whenever a Federal certificate of age is issued for a minor 18 or 19 years of age it shall be given to the minor by the person issuing the certificate. Every minor 18 or 19 years of age shall, upon entering employment, deliver his certificate of age to his employer for filing and upon the termination of the employment the employer shall return the certificate to the minor.

SEC. 4. Proof of age.—A Federal certificate of age shall be issued upon application of the minor desiring employment to the person authorized to issue such certificates and only after documentary evidence of age has been received, examined, and approved. Such evidence shall consist of one of the following proofs of age, to be required in the order of preference herein designated, as follows:

(a) A birth certificate or attested trancript thereof or a signed statement of the recorded date and place of birth, issued by a registrar of vital statistics or other officer charged with the duty of recording births.

(b) A record of baptism or attested transcript thereof, showing the date and place of birth and date and place of baptism of the minor, or a bona fide contemporary record of the date and place of the minor's birth kept in the Bible in which the records of the births in the family of the minor are preserved, or other documentary evidence satisfactory to the Chief of the Bureau or such persons as he may authorize to issue Federal certificates of age, such as a passport showing the age of the minor, or a certificate of arrival in the United States issued by the United States immigration office and showing the age of the minor, or a life-insurance policy; Provided, That, such other documentary evidence has been in existence at least one year prior to the time it is offered as evidence; and Provided further, That a

[1] Employment of a child by his parent or by a person standing in place of a parent in occupations other than manufacturing or mining is exempted (section 3 (1)) from the 16-year minimum-age standard.

The Act provides that the Chief of the Bureau shall provide by regulation or by order that the employment of employees between the ages of 14 and 16 years in occupations other than manufacturing and mining shall not be deemed to constitute oppressive child labor if and to the extent that the Chief of the Bureau determines that such employment is confined to periods which will not interfere with their schooling and to conditions which will not interfere with their health and well-being.

school record of age or an affidavit of a parent or a person standing in place of a parent, or other written statement of age shall not be accepted except as specified in paragraph (c) of this section;

(c) The school record or the school-census record of the age of the minor, together with the sworn statement of a parent or person standing in place of a parent as to the age of the minor and also a certificate signed by a physician specifying what in his opinion is the physical age of the minor; such certificate shall show the height and weight of the minor and other facts concerning his physical development which were revealed by such examination and upon which the opinion of the physician as to the physical age of the minor is based. If the school or school-census record of age is not obtainable, the sworn statement of the parent or person standing in place of a parent as to the age of the minor, together with a physician's certificate of age as hereinbefore specified, may be accepted as evidence of age.

The officer issuing a Federal certificate of age for a minor shall require the evidence of age specified in paragraph (a) of this section in preference to that specified in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, and shall not accept the evidence of age permitted by either subsequent paragraph unless he shall receive and file evidence that the evidence of age required by the preceding paragraph or paragraphs cannot be obtained.

SEC. 5. Acceptance of State certificates.—A State in which age, employment, or working certificates or permits are issued by or under the supervision of a State agency substantially in accordance with this regulation may be designated by the Chief of the Bureau as a State in which certificates so issued shall have the same force and effect as Federal certificates except as individual certificates may be suspended or revoked in accordance with section 6 hereof: Provided, That any State having a certificate system which does not entirely conform with this regulation may be so designated temporarily by the Chief of the Bureau upon the basis of an agreement with an agency of the State pending such improvements in State law and procedure as will bring such State system up to the Standards of this regulation.

Certificates requiring conditions or restrictions additional to those required by this regulation shall not be deemed to be inconsistent herewith.

The designation of a State under this section shall have force and effect during the period of time specified therein unless withdrawal of such designation at an earlier date is deemed desirable for the effective administration of the Act. No withdrawal or expiration of the designation of a State under this section shall make any certificate invalid if it was issued by or under the supervision of a State agency as herein provided prior to such withdrawal or expiration.

SEC. 6. Suspension or revocation of certificates.—(a) Whenever a person duly authorized to make investigations or inspections under this Act shall obtain substantial evidence that the age of the minor as given on a certificate held by an employer subject to this Act is incorrect, he shall inform the employer and the minor of such evidence and of his intention to present the same to the issuing officer in order to afford such officer opportunity to revoke the certificate. Before revoking a certificate the issuing officer shall give the employer and the minor reasonable opportunity to present any evidence which they may desire to present in support of the validity of the certificate. If, upon such presentation, the issuing officer does not revoke the certificate, the said authorized person shall, if in his judgment the evidence so warrants, suspend the certificate for the purposes of the Act by writing across the face of the certificate "SUSPENDED AS PROOF OF AGE UNDER THE FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT OF 1938" and he shall notify the employer, the minor, the issuing officer, and the State agency or agencies supervising the issuance or revocation of certificates that the certificate is suspended as proof of age under the Act. Such notice shall contain a statement of the evidence upon which the suspension is based and the reason for such suspension, and shall inform the persons notified that if they so desire they may send documentary evidence or certified copies thereof, or other relevant information concerning the age of the minor for whom the certificate is suspended, to the appropriate reviewing officer in that State, if any, whose name and address shall be stated in said notice, or, if there is no such reviewing officer, to the Chief of the Bureau, who in such case shall be the reviewing officer. The person suspending the certificate shall also send to the reviewing officer a complete statement of the case, including copies of documentary evidence upon which such suspension is based. In no case shall the Chief of the Bureau cancel the acceptance for the purposes of the Act of a State certificate issued by or under the supervision of a State agency without giving the State agency or agencies supervising the issuance or revocation of certificates adequate opportunity to revoke or cancel the certificate in question.

(b) After the expiration of a reasonable period for the submission of evidence to the reviewing officer by any of the interested persons and upon the basis of evidence so submitted—

(1) the reviewing officer shall revoke the certificate or cancel the acceptance of the certificate for the purposes of the Act and send notices of his action to the minor, the employer, the officer suspending the certificate, the issuing officer, and when the reviewing officer is not the Chief of the Bureau, to the Chief of the Bureau, or—

(2) if the reviewing officer is not the Chief of the Bureau and if such reviewing officer believes that the action of the officer suspending the certificate should be reversed, he shall submit the case to the Chief of the Bureau with such recommendations as he may wish to make.

The Chief of the Bureau shall have the right in all cases to review and approve or reverse the action of suspending or reviewing officers and shall review suspensions in all cases in which there has been no previous review, and shall send notices of his decision to the minor, the employer, the issuing officer, the officer suspending the certificate, and the reviewing officer.

(c) If the action on a suspension or revocation of a certificate is reversed, a new certificate may be issued upon the surrender of the one suspended or revoked. If for any reason such new certificate cannot be obtained from an issuing officer the notice of the reversal of suspension or revocation, if attached to such certificate, shall be recognized and accepted as meeting the requirements of the Act and of this regulation.

SEC. 7. Revoked or suspended certificates.—A certificate which has been revoked, suspended, or canceled as proof of age under the Act shall be of no force and effect under the Act, after notice of such revocation, suspension, or cancellation, except as otherwise provided in section 6 hereof.

SEC. 8. Effect on other laws.—No provision of this regulation shall under any circumstances justify or be construed to permit noncompliance with the provisions of any other Federal law or of any State law or municipal ordinance establishing higher standards than those established under this regulation.

SEC. 9. Revision of regulation.—Any person wishing a revision of any of the terms of the foregoing regulation applicable to certificates of age may submit in writing to the Chief of the Bureau a petition setting forth the changes desired and the reasons for proposing them. If, after consideration of the petition, the Chief of the Bureau believes that reasonable cause for amendment of the regulation is set forth, he shall either schedule a hearing, with due notice to interested parties, or shall make other provision for affording interested parties an opportunity to present their views, both in support and in opposition to the proposed changes.

KATHARINE F. LENROOT,
Chief of the Children's Bureau.

The Act of May 16, 1938 (52 Stat. 377), entitled "An Act To Correct United States citizenship status of certain persons born in Puerto Rico, and for other purposes," provides as follows:

That a new section is hereby inserted between section 5b and 6 of the Act entitled "An Act to provide a civil government for Porto Rico, and for other purposes," approved March 2, 1917, as amended, as follows:

SEC. 5c. That any person of good character, attached to the principles of the Constitution of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the United States, and born in Puerto Rico on or after April 11, 1899, who has continued to reside within the jurisdiction of the United States, whose father elected on or before April 11, 1900, to preserve his allegiance to the Crown of Spain in accordance with the provisions of the treaty of peace between the United States and Spain entered into on April 11, 1899, and who, by reason of misinformation regarding his or her own citizenship status failed within the time limits prescribed by section 5 or section 5a hereof to exercise the privilege of establishing United States citizenship and has heretofore erroneously but in good faith exercised the rights and privileges and performed the duties of a citizen of the United States, and has not personally sworn allegiance to any foreign government or ruler upon or after attainment of majority, may make a sworn declaration of allegiance to the United States before any United States district court. Such declaration shall set forth facts concerning his or her birth in Puerto Rico, good character, attachment to the principles of the Constitution of the United States, and being well disposed to the good order and happiness of the United States, residence within the jurisdiction of the United States, and misinformation regarding United States citizenship status, and shall be accompanied by proof thereof satisfactory to the court. After making such declaration and submitting such proofs, such person shall be admitted to take the oath of allegiance before the court, and thereupon shall be considered a citizen of the United States.

Pursuant to the authority contained in Section 28 of the Act of June 29, 1906 (34 Stat. 606), as amended by Section 8 of the Act of March 2, 1929 (45 Stat. 1515; 8 U. S. C. 356), the following rules and regulations are prescribed for the enforcement of the aforesaid Act of May 16, 1938:

SEC. 1. Form of sworn declaration of allegiance; execution of.—The preliminary step to be taken by a native of Puerto Rico, at least twenty-one years of age and having the other qualifications required by the Act of May 16, 1938, shall be the execution, in duplicate, of Form 2236. The execution shall take place in the office of the Clerk of the United States District Court in which the applicant seeks to make the declaration of allegiance. Form No. 2236 shall be numbered consecutively in chronological order, in a series separate and apart from the forms and papers used in other naturalization proceedings.

SEC. 2. Oath of allegiance.—The oath of allegiance to be administered before the Court shall be the oath prescribed in Section 4 of the Act of June 29, 1906 (34 Stat. 596, 597; 8 U. S. C. 381).

SEC. 3. Documentary evidence to be delivered to applicant.—After an order of court has been entered directing the administration of the oath of allegiance to the applicant and that he be thereupon considered a citizen of the United States, an appropriate record thereof shall be made by the clerk of court on Form No. 2236. The duplicate copy of said form, duly executed, shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, Washington, D. C., through the appropriate District Director or Divisional Director on the first day of the month immediately succeeding the month in which the oath of allegiance was taken. A certificate of naturalization shall be issued to the declarant by the clerk of court and shall be handled in the same manner as other certificates of naturalization.

It further appearing to the Commission that not all of the shares authorized to be purchased by its original order in this matter have been so purchased:

It is ordered, That said order as amended be further amended by striking therefrom the words last quoted and substituting in lieu thereof the words "December 31, 1938".

It is further ordered, That in all other respects the conditions to said order shall remain unchanged and in full force and effect.

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

An application pursuant to section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named party;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on November 4, 1938, at 11:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before October 29, 1938.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the proposed issuance of two bonds, one in the principal amount of $125,000 and the other in the principal amount of $30,000, aggregating $155,000, each bearing interest at the rate of six per centum per annum.

The bond in the principal amount of $125,000 is to run for fourteen (14) years but to be retired by regular monthly installment payments on principal and interest. Said installments are to begin on the first of the month next following the issuance of said bond. The amount of such monthly payments will be $661.31 for the first forty-eight installments, thereafter and for the remaining one hundred and twenty installments the amount will be $1,365.86. The second bond in the principal amount of $30,000 is to run for four years, installment payments on principal and interest to be made the first day of each month beginning with the first day of the month next after the completion of the foundation and the roof of a building hereinafter mentioned.

It is proposed that the bonds, the issuance of which has been approved by the New York State Public Service Commission, will be issued as a part of a total purchase price of $175,000 for a lot of land in the City of Ithaca, New York to be acquired by the applicant from the Lynwood-Slater Corporation which has its principal office in that city. A building is to be constructed by the vendor on such lot of land which is to be used as the principal office building of the applicant. The balance of the purchase price, to wit, $20,000, is proposed to be paid as follows: $2,000 is to be paid upon delivery of the deed and $18,000 plus interest at the rate of six per centum per annum is to be amortized in nine equal monthly payments of $2,050 each.

Each of the bonds will be secured by a separate purchase money mortgage to be executed by the applicant. Each of such mortgages, it is alleged, will be a first lien on the property so to be acquired.

By the Commission.

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

CONDITION OF THE APPORTIONMENT AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS SATURDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1938

Important.—Although the apportioned classified civil service is by law located only in Washington, D. C., it nevertheless includes only about half of the Federal Civilian positions in the District of Columbia. Positions in local post offices, customs districts, and other field services outside of the District of Columbia which are subject to the Civil Service Act are filled almost wholly by persons who are local residents of the general community in which the vacancies exist. It should be noted and understood that so long as a person occupies, by original appointment, a position in the apportioned service, the charge for his appointment continues to run against his State of original residence. Certifications of eligibles are first made from States which are in arrears.

BUREAU OF ENTOMOLOGY AND PLANT QUARANTINE

[B. E. P. Q. 481]

AUTHORIZING THE SHIPMENT OF FRUITS AND VEGETABLES FROM HAWAII TO THE MAINLAND SUBJECT TO STERILIZATION UNDER SUPERVISION

[Approved October 19, 1938; effective November 1, 1938]

Extensive experiments have demonstrated that holding of fruits and vegetables at certain prescribed temperatures for certain periods will kill all stages of the Mediterranean fruitfly and the melon fly. Available data suggest that certain fruits and vegetables may be subjected to such treatment without affecting their palatability and marketability. Treatment in Hawaii of fruits and vegetables at prescribed temperatures under supervision of inspectors of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine and the handling of the treated products under supervision so as to prevent reinfestation will preclude the possible introduction of these pests into the mainland and the following two treatments are prescribed:

1. Cooling until the approximate center of the fruit or vegetable reaches a temperature of 35° F. and holding the fruit or vegetable so the inside temperature does not exceed 35° F. for a period of 15 days.

2. Heating the fruit or vegetable until the approximate center reaches 110° F. and holding this temperature for a period of 8 hours.

On the basis of evidence obtained and under the authority contained in the first proviso of regulation 2 of the rules and regulations supplemental to Quarantine 13, provision is hereby made for the certification of fruits and vegetables for movement from the Territory of Hawaii into or through any State, Territory or District of the United States when treatments are applied in Hawaii at plants designated for this purpose by the United States Department of Agriculture and under the supervision of the inspectors of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, provided that in the issuance of permits fruits and vegetables so treated shall be moved and handled by the treating plant and loaded on ships in a manner which, in the judgment of the inspectors, will preclude fruit-fly infestation subsequent to treatment.

In authorizing the entry of fruits and vegetables into the mainland of the United States under the provisions of this circular, it should be emphasized that inexactness and carelessness in applying the treatment may result in injury to fruits or vegetables or to their rejection.

The treatment required under the provisions of this circular represents the requirements necessary for the elimination of pest risk and no liability shall be attached to the United States Department of Agriculture or to any officer or representative of that Department in event of injury resulting to fruit or vegetable offered for entry under the provisions of this circular. It should also be emphasized that evidence based on trial shipments under conditions of transportation from Hawaii is not available to demonstrate that fruits and vegetables will be marketable after the application of the treatments here authorized, and that any fruits or vegetables treated and shipped under the provisions of this circular are at the risk of the shipper.

Chief.

TEMPORARILY EXEMPTING NON-SCHEDULED OPERATIONS FROM CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF CIVIL AERONAUTICS ACT OF 1938

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Authority held in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 18th day of October, 1938.

It appearing that:

1. No person engaged in operating aircraft is subject to the provisions of section 401 or the other provisions of Title IV of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 unless such person is engaged in "the carriage by aircraft of persons or property as a common carrier for compensation or hire or in the carriage of mail by aircraft in commerce";

2. A large number of persons are engaged in a great variety of non-scheduled operations of a commercial character, some of which may be interstate or foreign in nature;

3. Questions as to the economic effect of such operations upon air transportation generally deserve additional study as to

a. the extent to which particular classes of non-scheduled operations should be made subject to or permanently exempted from the provisions of Title IV of the Act generally; and

b. suitable means of determining whether or not any particular person engaged in such non-scheduled operations is engaged in interstate, overseas or foreign air transportation;

The Authority finds that:

The present enforcement of the provisions of Title IV of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 generally, in so far as such provisions are applicable to the service of air transportation rendered by such persons engaged in non-scheduled operations of aircraft, would be an undue burden on such persons by reason of the unusual circumstances affecting their operations, and such enforcement would not be in the public interest.

Now, therefore, the Civil Aeronautics Authority, acting pursuant to the authority vested in it by sections 205 (a) and 416 (b) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, adopts and issues the following regulation:

REGULATION 400–1. TEMPORARILY EXEMPTING NON-SCHEDULED OPERATIONS FROM CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF TITLE IV OF THE CIVIL AERONAUTICS ACT OF 1938

(a) Until the Authority shall adopt further rules, regulations or orders with respect to such matter, every air carrier shall be exempt from the provisions of section 401 and all other provisions of Title IV of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 (except as provided in paragraph (b) of this regulation) if such air carrier does not engage in scheduled operations. Within the meaning of this regulation any operation by an air carrier shall be deemed to be a "scheduled" one, if:

(1) such operation involves the flight of one or more airplanes from a take-off point in one state (or a territory or possession of the United States) to a landing point in another such state, territory or possession or in a foreign nation; and

(2) the air carrier holds out to the public by advertisement or otherwise that it will operate one or more airplanes between such points regularly or with a reasonable degree of regularity; and

(3) the air carrier permits it to be generally understood that on such flights, and for compensation or hire, it will accept for transportation between such points such members of the public as may apply therefor or such express or other property as the public may offer.

(b) The exemptions provided by this regulation shall not be applicable to the provisions of subsection (l) of section 401 of the Act or to the reporting requirements of section 407 of the Act; Provided, That no provision of any rule, regulation or order that may be adopted by the Authority requiring reports pursuant to section 407 of the Act shall be deemed applicable to any non-scheduled operator unless such rule, regulation or order expressly provides that such provision is to be applicable to air carriers who are exclusively engaged in non-scheduled operations.

By the Authority.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS AUTHORITY.

[Special Order 401-A-6]

EXEMPTING NATIONAL AIRLINES, INCORPORATED, RELATIVE TO THE AIR TRANSPORTATION SERVICE TO BE RENDERED BY SAID AIR CARRIER OVER A ROUTE FROM JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA, TO NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA, VIA INTERMEDIATE CITIES

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Authority, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 10th day of October, 1938.

Upon consideration by the Authority of the application of National Airlines, Incorporated, for exemption from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, in so far as the provisions of said section are applicable to the air transportation service to be rendered by said air carrier from Jacksonville, Florida, to New Orleans, Louisiana, via Tallahassee, Marianna, and Pensacola, Florida, Mobile, Alabama, and Gulfport, Mississippi, the Authority is of the opinion and finds that:

(1) The applicant was, prior to May 14, 1938, and is now an air carrier engaged in the rendition of an interstate air transportation service, and as such air carrier is subject to the provisions of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 and the jurisdiction of the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

(2) Said air carrier, prior to, on and since May 14, 1938, was and has been continuously engaged in the rendition of a scheduled air transportation service between Miami, Florida, and Daytona Beach, Florida, via Fort Myers, Sarasota, St. Petersburg, Tampa, Lakeland and Orlando, Florida.

(3) On or about the 12th day of April, 1938, the United States Post Office Department caused to be issued an advertisement for bidders for an air mail service over a route from Jacksonville, Florida, to New Orleans, Louisiana, via Tallahassee, Marianna, and Pensacola, Florida, Mobile, Alabama, and Gulfport, Mississippi, said route being known as route AM 39.

(4) On or about the 10th day of June, 1938, a contract for air mail service over the route described in Finding (3) was awarded by the United States Post Office Department to National Airlines, Incorporated, said air carrier being the lowest bidder therefor. By the terms of said contract, said air carrier was authorized by the Postmaster General to engage in the transportation of mail over said route AM 39. Air mail service over said route was provided for by the Act of Congress making appropriations for the Treasury Department and the Post Office Department, approved March 28, 1938. Said route is specifically set forth in section 401 (e) (2) (F) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938.

(5) On or about the 15th day of July, 1938, the United States Post Office Department caused to be published a notice which provided in terms that air mail service over the route described in Finding (3) would be inaugurated on or about the 15th day of October, 1938. Said air carrier is not required, pursuant to the terms of the contract with the United States Post Office Department, to inaugurate said air mail service prior to the 10th day of December, 1938, although said air carrier desires, in the interest of the public, to commence such service as soon as possible.

(6) The present enforcement of the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, in so far as the provisions of said section are applicable to the air transportation service to be rendered by said air carrier over the route described in Finding (3), would be an undue burden on such air carrier by reason of the unusual circumstances affecting the operations of such air carrier, with respect to said air transportation service, and such enforcement would not be in the public interest.

(7) Failure to exempt said air carrier from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, with respect to the air transportation service to be rendered by said air carrier over the route set forth in Finding (3) would prevent the institution of such service and would deny to the cities named in the route described in Finding (3), and the citizens thereof, the enjoyment of an air transportation service for the carriage of passengers, property and mail, all of which would be contrary to the public interest.

(8) Said air carrier should be exempted from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, in so far as the provisions of said section are applicable to the air transportation service to be rendered by said air carrier over the route described in Finding (3) for a period from the date hereof to and including 120 days from June 23, 1938, and said air carrier should be permitted to inaugurate operations over said route and render such services thereon during said period for such charges and rates as are established pursuant to law, provided, and upon the condition that, said air carrier obtains and at all times is possessed of an air carrier operating certificate issued by the Authority, prescribing the terms, conditions and limitations reasonably necessary to assure the safety of the air transportation service to be rendered over said route.

(9) Said air carrier has heretofore caused to be filed with the Authority an application for a Certificate of Convenience and Necessity, for an air transportation service over the route described in Finding (3). Said air carrier should be further exempted from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, for all classes of traffic for which authorization is sought, in connection with said air transportation service, from the date hereof until such time as the Authority shall issue a Certificate of Convenience and Necessity for the air transportation service over such route to said air carrier or shall issue its final order denying the application of said air carrier for such certificate.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority, therefore, pursuant to the authority vested in it by sections 205 (a) and 416 (b) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, hereby makes and promulgates the following Special Order:

[Special Order 401-A-6]

EXEMPTING NATIONAL AIRLINES, INCORPORATED, FROM THE PROVISIONS OF SECTION 401 (A) OF THE CIVIL AERONAUTICS ACT OF 1938, IN SO FAR AS THE SAME ARE APPLICABLE TO THE AIR TRANSPORTATION SERVICE TO BE RENDERED BY SAID AIR CARRIER, FROM JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA, TO NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA, VIA INTERMEDIATE CITIES

[Special Order 401-A-7]

EXEMPTING EASTERN AIR LINES, INC., RELATIVE TO THE AIR TRANSPORTATION SERVICE TO BE RENDERED BY SAID AIR CARRIER OVER A ROUTE FROM TAMPA, FLORIDA, TO TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA, AND FROM TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA, TO MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE, VIA DOTHAN, MONTGOMERY, BIRMINGHAM, AND FLORENCE-SHEFFIELD-TUSCUMBIA, ALABAMA, AND FROM TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA, TO ATLANTA, GEORGIA, VIA ALBANY, GEORGIA

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Authority, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 10th day of October, 1938.

Upon consideration by the Authority of the application of Eastern Air Lines, Inc., for exemption from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, in so far as the provisions of said section are applicable to the air transportation service to be rendered by said air carrier from Tampa, Florida, to Tallahassee, Florida, and from Tallahassee, Florida, to Memphis, Tennessee, via Dothan, Montgomery, Birmingham, and Florence-Sheffield-Tuscumbia, Alabama, and from Tallahassee, Florida, to Atlanta, Georgia, via Albany, Georgia, the Authority is of the opinion and finds that:

(1) The applicant was, prior to May 14, 1938, and is now an air carrier engaged in the rendition of an interstate air transportation service, and as such air carrier is subject to the provisions of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 and the jurisdiction of the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

(2) Said air carrier, prior to, on and since May 14, 1938, was and has been continuously engaged in the rendition of a scheduled airline transportation service between Houston, Texas, and Atlanta, Georgia, via intermediate cities; between Miami, Florida, and Atlanta, Georgia, via intermediate cities; between Miami, Florida, and Newark, New Jersey, via intermediate cities; between Atlanta, Georgia, and Newark, New Jersey, via intermediate cities; between Richmond, Virginia, and Newark, New Jersey, via intermediate cities; and between Atlanta, Georgia, and Chicago, Illinois, via intermediate cities; and was then and yet is possessed of a valid Scheduled Airline Competency Certificate therefor, issued by the Secretary of Commerce.

(3) On or about the 12th day of April, 1938, the United States Post Office Department caused to be issued an advertisement for bidders for an air mail service over a route from Tampa, Florida, to Tallahassee, Florida, and from Tallahassee, Florida, to Memphis, Tennessee, via Dothan, Montgomery, Birmingham, and Florence-Sheffield-Tuscumbia, Alabama, and from Tallahassee, Florida, to Atlanta, Georgia, via Albany, Georgia, said route being known as route AM 40.

(4) On or about the 26th day of May, 1938, a contract for air mail service over the route described in Finding (3) was awarded by the United States Post Office Department to Eastern Air Lines, Inc., said air carrier being the lowest bidder therefor. Thereafter, to-wit, on or about the 6th day of July, 1938, a contract providing for air mail service over said route was executed, by the terms of which said contract, said air carrier was authorized by the Postmaster General to engage in the transportation of mail over said route AM 40. Air mail service over said route was provided for by the Act of Congress making appropriations for the Treasury Department and the Post Office Department, approved March 28, 1938. Said route is specifically set forth in section 401 (e) (2), Clause (G), of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938.

(5) On or about the 28th day of September, 1938, the United States Post Office Department caused to be published a notice which provided in terms that air mail service over that portion of the route described in Finding (3), between Tampa, Florida, and Tallahassee, Florida, and between Tallahassee, Florida, and Atlanta, Georgia, via Albany, Georgia, would be inaugurated on or about the 10th day of October, 1938. Said air carrier is not required, pursuant to the terms of the contract with the United States Post Office Department, to inaugurate air mail service over said route, or any portion thereof, prior to the 21st day of December, 1938, although said air carrier desires, in the interest of the public, to commence such service as soon as possible.

(6) Said air carrier has expended considerable sums of money in preparation for the inauguration of an air transportation service over the route described in Finding (3), and particularly that portion thereof over which the United States Post Office Department desires that service shall be inaugurated on October 10, 1938.

(7) The present enforcement of the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, in so far as the provisions of said section are applicable to the air transportation service to be rendered by said air carrier over the route described in Finding (3), would be an undue burden on said air carrier by reason of the unusual circumstances affecting the operations of such air carrier, with respect to said air transportation service, and such enforcement would not be in the public interest.

(8) Failure to exempt said air carrier from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, with respect to the air transportation service to be rendered by said air carrier over the route set forth in Finding (3), would prevent the institution of an air transportation service over the route from Tampa, Florida, to Tallahassee, Florida, and from Tallahassee, Florida, to Atlanta, Georgia, via Albany, Georgia, on October 10, 1938, as is required in order to transport mail by air as has been ordered by the Postmaster General, and would deny to the cities on said route AM 40, and to the citizens thereof, the enjoyment of an air transportation service for the carriage of passengers, property and mail, all of which would be contrary to the public interest.

(9) Said air carrier should be exempted from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, in so far as the provisions of said section are applicable to the air transportation service to be rendered by said air carrier over the route described in Finding (3), for the period from the date hereof to and including 120 days from June 23, 1938, and said air carrier should be permitted to inaugurate operations over said route and to render such services thereon during said period for such charges and rates as are established pursuant to law, provided, and upon the condition that, said air carrier obtains and is at all times possessed of an air carrier operating certificate issued by the Authority, prescribing the terms, conditions and limitations reasonably necessary to assure the safety of the air transportation service to be rendered over said route.

(10) If said air carrier files with the Civil Aeronautics Authority, within the period set forth in Finding (9), application for a Certificate of Convenience and Necessity, for an air transportation service over the route described in Finding (3), said air carrier should be further exempted from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, for all classes of traffic for which authorization is sought, in connection with said air transportation service, from the date of filing of such application until such time as the Authority shall issue a Certificate of Convenience and Necessity for the transportation service over such route to said air carrier, or shall issue its final order denying the application of said air carrier for such certificate.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority, therefore, pursuant to the authority vested in it by sections 205 (a) and 416 (b) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, hereby makes and promulgates the following Special Order:

EXEMPTING EASTERN AIR LINES, INC., FROM THE PROVISIONS OF SECTION 401 (A) OF THE CIVIL AERONAUTICS ACT OF 1938, IN SO FAR AS THE SAME ARE APPLICABLE TO THE AIR TRANSPORTATION SERVICE TO BE RENDERED BY SAID AIR CARRIER OVER A ROUTE FROM TAMPA, FLORIDA, TO TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA, AND FROM TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA, TO MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE, VIA DOTHAN, MONTGOMERY, BIRMINGHAM, AND FLORENCE-SHEFFIELD-TUSCUMBIA, ALABAMA, AND FROM TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA, TO ATLANTA, GEORGIA, VIA ALBANY, GEORGIA

Eastern Air Lines, Inc., is hereby exempted from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, with respect to transportation by such air carrier of mail, passengers and property, over a route from Tampa, Florida, to Tallahassee, Florida, and from Tallahassee, Florida, to Memphis, Tennessee, via Dothan, Montgomery, Birmingham, and Florence-Sheffield-Tuscumbia, Alabama, and from Tallahassee, Florida, to Atlanta, Georgia, via Albany, Georgia, during the period from the date hereof to and including 120 days from June 23, 1938. If, within such 120 days, said air carrier shall make application to the Authority for a Certificate of Convenience and Necessity with respect to the route aforesaid, such exemption shall continue thereafter until such time as the Authority shall issue a Certificate of Convenience and Necessity for the air transportation service over such route to said air carrier, or shall issue its final order denying the application of said air carrier for such certificate. This exemption is granted subject to the condition that, during all times while it shall continue to be in effect, said air carrier shall have a valid air carrier operating certificate issued by the Authority with respect to its operations on such route and that such air carrier shall, during all such times, comply with all applicable provisions and requirements of the Civil Air Regulations.

By the Authority.

(10) If said air carrier files with the Civil Aeronautics Authority, within the period set forth in Finding (9), application for a Certificate of Convenience and Necessity, for an air transportation service over the route described in Finding (3), said air carrier should be further exempted from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, for all classes of traffic for which authorization is sought, in connection with said air transportation service, from the date of filing of such application until such time as the Authority shall issue a Certificate of Convenience and Necessity for the transportation service over such route to said air carrier, or shall issue its final order denying the application of said air carrier for such certificate.

This exemption is granted subject to the condition that, during all times while it shall continue to be in effect, said air carrier shall have a valid air carrier operating certificate issued by the Authority with respect to its operations on such route and that such air carrier shall, during all such times, comply with all applicable provisions and requirements of the Civil Air Regulations.

EXEMPTION OF ALASKAN MAIL CARRIERS

Acting pursuant to the authority conferred upon it by the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, particularly sections 416 (b) and 205 (a) thereof and finding that the regulation hereinafter provided is pursuant to and consistent with the provisions of said Act and necessary to carry out its provisions, and that, in so far as such regulation provides exemption from certain provisions in regulation 401–B–1,[1] the enforcement of such provisions would be an undue burden on the class of air carriers to which such exemption is applicable because of unusual circumstances affecting their operations and that the enforcement of such provisions against such persons would not be in the public interest, the Civil Aeronautics Authority hereby makes and promulgates the following regulation:

REGULATION 401–B–2. EXEMPTION OF ALASKAN MAIL CARRIERS FROM CERTAIN REQUIREMENTS OF REGULATION 401–B–1

Every air carrier which on August 22nd had a contract with the Post Office Department for the carriage of mail by aircraft in Alaska but which has not yet made application to the Authority for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to the provisions of section 401 (e) and desires to file such an application on or before October 21, 1938, is hereby exempted from the requirement that such application must be made in the first instance in accordance with the provisions of regulation 401–B–1. ELMER F. ANDREWS, Administrator.

SECTION 526.1 Statutory Provisions—

SECTION 7 (a) No employer shall, except as otherwise provided in this section, employ any of his employees who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce—

(1) for a workweek longer than forty-four hours during the first year from the effective date of this section,

(2) for a workweek longer than forty-two hours during the second year from such date, or

(3) for a workweek longer than forty hours after the expiration of the second year from such date, unless such employee receives compensation for his employment in excess of the hours above specified at a rate not less than one and one-half times the regular rate at which he is employed.

(b) No employer shall be deemed to have violated subsection (a) by employing any employee for a workweek in excess of that specified in such subsection without paying the compensation for overtime employment prescribed therein if such employee is so employed—

* * * * *

(3) for a period or periods of not more than fourteen workweeks in the aggregate in any calendar year in an industry found by the Administrator to be of a seasonal nature, and if such employee receives compensation for employment in excess of 12 hours in any workday, or for employment in excess of 56 hours in any workweek, as the case may be, at a rate not less than one and one-half times the regular rate at which he is employed.

SECTION 526.2 Meaning of "Industry".—"Industry" means a trade, business, industry, or branch thereof, or group of industries in which individuals are gainfully employed.

SECTION 526.3 Industry to Which the Exemption is Applicable.—The exemption for an industry of a seasonal nature is applicable to an industry which both:

(a) Engages in the handling, extracting or processing of materials during a season or seasons occurring in a regularly, annually recurring part or parts of the year; and

(b) ceases production, apart from work such as maintenance, repair, clerical and sales work, in the remainder of the year because of the fact that, owing to climate or other natural conditions, the materials handled, extracted, or processed, in the form in which such materials are handled, extracted or processed, are not available in the remainder of the year.*

SECTION 526.4 Application for Exemption.—Any industry, or employer, or employer group therein, may make written application to the Administrator for exemption. The application shall state the facts and reasons relied upon to show that the employer or employer group making application is a part or the whole of an industry which meets the conditions set forth in Section 526.3. Preferential consideration will be given to applications filed by groups or organizations which are deemed to be representative of the interests of a whole industry or branch thereof.*

SECTION 526.5 Procedure upon Application for Exemption.—Upon consideration of the facts and reasons stated in an application, the Administrator may

(a) without further proceedings deny the application on the ground that it fails to allege facts entitling the industry to an exemption as a seasonal industry; or

(b) may set the application for hearing before the Administrator or his authorized representative; or

(c) may notify the applicant of, and publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER and by general press release, a preliminary determination that a prima facie case for the granting of an exemption has been shown. In the event that the Administrator determines that a prima facie case for exemption has been shown, the Administrator for 15 days following the publication of his preliminary determination will receive objection to the granting of the exemption and request for hearing from any person interested, including but not limited to employees, employee groups, and employee labor organizations, within the industry claimed to be exempt. Upon receipt of objection and request for hearing, the Administrator will set the application for hearing before the Administrator or an authorized representative. If no objection and request for hearing is received within 15 days, the Administrator will make a finding upon the prima facie case shown upon the application. The exemption shall become effective upon publication of the finding in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

SECTION 526.6 Procedure Where Application for Exemption Set for Hearing.—

(a) One combined hearing may be held on two or more applications presenting related issues of fact or law.

(b) A notice of the time, place, and scope of a hearing upon an application will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and made public by a general press release at least five days before the date of such hearing.

(c) All persons interested, including employees, employee groups, employee labor organizations, employers, employer groups, and trade associations, within the industry affected, and designated subordinates of the Administrator, will be afforded an opportunity to present evidence and to be heard.

(d) The Administrator or his authorized representative may cause to be brought before him at such hearing any witness whose testimony he deems material to the matters in issue.

(e) The Administrator or his authorized representative, as the case may be, will make his finding upon the record made at the hearing. If the finding, made by the Administrator himself, is that the industry in question is of a seasonal nature within the meaning of Section 526.3, the exemption shall become effective upon publication of the finding in the FEDERAL REGISTER. If the finding is by an authorized representative of the Administrator, the further procedure set forth in Section 526.7 is applicable.

SECTION 526.7 Petition for Review of Finding by Authorized Representative.—Where hearing is had before an authorized representative of the Administrator any person aggrieved by the finding of such representative may within fifteen days after the action of such representative file a petition with the Administrator requesting a review by the Administrator of the action of the representative upon the record of hearing before the representative. If the request for review is granted, all interested parties will be afforded an opportunity to be heard either in support of, or in opposition to, the matters prayed for in the petition. A notice of the time and place and scope of the hearing will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and made public by a general press release at least five days before the date of such hearing.

If no such petition for review is filed within fifteen days, or if such petition is filed and subsequently is denied by the Administrator, the finding of the authorized representative shall become final. If such finding is that the industry in question is of a seasonal nature within the meaning of Section 526.3, the exemption shall become effective upon publication of the finding in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

If a petition for review is granted and upon hearing the Administrator confirms a finding by the representative that the industry is of a seasonal nature within the meaning of Section 526.3, or if the Administrator, rejecting a finding by the representative to the contrary, finds on the record that the industry is of a seasonal nature within the meaning of Section 526.3 then the exemption shall become effective upon publication of the Administrator's finding in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

SECTION 526.90 Temporary Regulation of Administrator Relating to Exemptions for Industries of a Seasonal Nature Under Section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act.—

(a) Subject to objection by any person interested as hereinafter provided in paragraph (d), the Administrator (without prejudice to the possible subsequent inclusion of other industries as of a seasonal nature within the meaning of Sec. 526.3) temporarily until December 31, 1938 finds the following industries to be of a seasonal nature:

Industries which both:

(1) Engage in the handling, extracting, or processing of materials during a season or seasons occurring in regularly, annually recurring part or parts of the year; and cease production, apart from the work of maintenance, repair, and clerical employees, in the remainder of the year because of the fact that, owing to climate or other natural conditions, the materials handled, extracted, or processed in the form in which such materials are handled, extracted, or processed, are not available in the remainder of the year; and which

(2) Produce 50 per cent or more of their annual output in a period or periods amounting in the aggregate to not more than 14 workweeks.

(b) Such industries may, until December 31, 1938, for a period or periods of not more than 14 workweeks in the aggregate, employ employees 12 hours in any workday and 56 hours in any workweek without payment of time and one-half; provided, however, that such employees receive compensation for employment in excess of 12 hours in any workday, or for employment in excess of 56 hours in any workweek, as the case may be, at a rate not less than one and one-half times the regular rate at which they are employed. Industries seeking exemption beyond December 31, 1938, must make application pursuant to Section 526.4.

(c) Any employer, group of employers, or trade association representing employers, who are not a part or the whole of an industry within the terms of Paragraph (a) because 50 per cent or more of the annual output is not produced within a period or periods of 14 workweeks, or who are in doubt as to whether they are a part or the whole of such industry, should make application to the Administrator for exemption in accordance with the Administrator's regulations Sections 526.1–526.7.

(d) Any employee, or group of employees, who are employed by an employer or employers claiming to be a part or the whole of an industry within the terms of Paragraph (a) of this section, or any employee labor organization representing such employees, or any other person interested, may make written objection to the Administrator and request a hearing on the ground that such employer or employers are not entitled to exemption as a part or the whole of an industry of a seasonal nature.

If objection and request for hearing is received, the Administrator or his authorized representative will hold a hearing and any further proceedings in accordance with the procedure set forth in Sections 526.6–526.7.

The finding of the Administrator or his authorized representative following such procedure shall be published in the same manner and have the same force and effect as if the hearing had been had upon application for exemption under Section 526.4, and the exemption upon a finding of an industry of a seasonal nature shall become effective in accordance with the provisions of Sections 526.6–526.7; provided, however, that if the industry is within the terms of Paragraph (a) of this Section, the finding of the Administrator or his authorized representative shall so state, and the exemption upon such finding shall be effective as of October 24, 1938.*

PART 531—REGULATIONS DETERMINING THE REASONABLE COST OF BOARD, LODGING, AND OTHER FACILITIES PURSUANT TO SECTION 3 (M) OF THE FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT*

The following regulations—Part 531—(Regulations determining the reasonable cost of board, lodging, and other facilities pursuant to Section 3 (m) of the Fair Labor Standards Act) are hereby issued. Said Regulations—Part 531—shall become effective on my signing the original and after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER and shall be in force and effect until repealed by regulations hereafter made and published by me.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this twentieth day of October, 1938

ELMER F. ANDREWS,
Administrator.

SECTION 531.1 Reasonable Cost Under Section 3 (m) of the Act.—The term "reasonable cost" in Section 3 (m) of the Act is hereby determined to be not more than the actual cost to the employer of the board, lodging or other facilities customarily furnished by him to his employees.

(a) Reasonable cost does not include a profit to the employer or to any affiliated person.

(b) The reasonable cost of company houses rented to the employee and of any other capital investments used in furnishing board, lodging or other facilities is hereby determined to be the cost of operation and maintenance including any depreciation due to wear and tear plus a reasonable allowance (not more than 5½%) for interest on the depreciated amount of capital invested. Capital and depreciation shall be computed pursuant to Regulations 94 of the Bureau of Internal Revenue. No cost will be recognized as reasonable which is in excess of the fair rental value of the property.

(c) The cost of furnishing "facilities" which are primarily for the benefit or convenience of the employer will not be recognized as reasonable and may not therefore be included in computing wages.

The following list of facilities found by the Administrator to be primarily for the benefit or convenience of the employer is meant as illustrative rather than exclusive: (1) tools of the trade and other materials and services incidental to carrying on the employer's business; (2) the cost of any construction by and for the employer; (3) the cost of uniforms and of their laundering, where the nature of the business requires the employee to wear a uniform.*

SECTION 531.2 Procedure Under Section 3 (m) of the Act.—The Administrator or his duly authorized representative

[1] In computing the average hourly rate fractions of less than one-half cent may be disregarded, and fractions over one-half cent should be raised to the next full cent.

[2] In computing the average hourly rate all wages earned or paid during a particular workweek must be included except—

(a) bonuses not computed on the basis of measured work performed (e. g. bonuses for punctuality, simple Christmas bonuses, etc.)

(b) extra compensation attributable to the excess of the overtime rate over the regular rate, and may at any time notify an employer that he intends to hold a hearing to determine the reasonable cost to him of the board, lodging or other facilities customarily furnished to his employees. The employer shall notify his employees of the place, date and purpose of the hearing by posting notices thereof in conspicuous places on his premises. A hearing will accordingly be held by the Administrator or his duly authorized representative at a place designated by the Administrator or his duly authorized representative, which shall be as close to the employer's place of business as reasonably possible. Interested persons will be heard orally or in writing and findings of fact made.

(c) additions to the cash wage for board, lodging or other facilities furnished by the employer.

Upon application of an employee or group of employees or an agent or representative thereof stating (1) the name and location of the employer's place of business in which the employee or employees are employed, (2) the nature of the board, lodging or other facilities furnished and whether or not these facilities are customarily furnished by the employer, (3) the charges or deductions made therefor by the employer, (4) the cash wages paid and (5) the reason why the hearing is requested, the Administrator or his duly authorized representative will notify the employer that he intends to hold a hearing to determine the reasonable cost to the employer of such board, lodging or other facilities. The employer shall notify his employees as above. A hearing will be held as above and findings of fact made.

Upon application of an employer, a hearing shall likewise be set. The employer's application shall include (1) the name and location of his place or places of business; (2) a detailed description of the board, lodging, or other facilities customarily furnished to the employees and asserted by the employer to constitute wages; (3) an itemized statement of the actual cost to the employer of board, lodging or other facilities furnished; (4) an itemized statement of the cash wages paid; and (5) the reason why the hearing is requested. The employer shall notify his employees as above. A hearing will be held as above and findings of fact made.*

SECTION 531.3 Petition for Amendment of Regulations.—Any person wishing a revision of any of the terms of the foregoing regulations may submit in writing to the Administrator a petition setting forth the changes desired and the reasons for proposing them. If, upon inspection of the petition, the Administrator believes that reasonable cause for amendment of the regulations is set forth, the Administrator will either schedule a hearing with due notice to interested parties, or will make other provisions for affording interested parties an opportunity to present their views, either in support of or in opposition to the proposed changes. In determining such future regulations, separate treatment for different industries and for different classes of employees may be given consideration.*

PART 536—REGULATIONS DEFINING THE TERM "AREA OF PRODUCTION" AS USED IN SECTION 7 (C) AND IN SECTION 13 (A) (10) OF THE FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT *

The following regulations—Part 536—(Regulations Defining the term "Area of Production" as used in Section 7 (c) and in Section 13 (a) (10) of the Fair Labor Standards Act) are hereby issued. Said regulations—Part 536—shall become effective upon my signing the original and upon the publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER and shall be in force and effect until repealed by regulations hereafter made and published by me.

Signed at Washington, D. C. this twentieth day of October, 1938.

ELMER F. ANDREWS,
Administrator.

Congress having provided in Section 7 (c) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 that in the case of "an employer engaged * * * in the first processing, within the area of production (as defined by the Administrator), of any agricultural or horticultural commodity during seasonal operations," the overtime provisions of Section 7 (a) during a period or periods of not more than 14 workweeks in the aggregate in any calendar year shall not apply to his employees in any place of employment where he is so engaged; and

Congress having provided in Section 13 (a) (10) that the wage and hour provisions of Sections 6 and 7 shall not apply to "any individual employed within the area of production (as defined by the Administrator), engaged in handling, packing, storing, ginning, compressing, pasteurizing, drying, preparing in their raw or natural state, or canning of agricultural or horticultural commodities for market, or in making cheese or butter or other dairy products"; and

It appearing that the intent of the Congress in making these special provisions relating to the "area of production" was to prevent undue disturbance to agriculture and to enable small businesses closely related to agriculture to employ occasional workers in addition to members of the employer's family without regard to the wage or hour standards of the Act; and

It appearing that the exemption of only those businesses which employ a small number of workers would not result in material inequities between firms doing the same type of business; and

It appearing that such small businesses are predominately located in the open country or in rural communities, receive most of their raw products from neighboring farms, and frequently employ workers who spend part of their time in actual farming operations; and

It appearing that the exemptions herein granted to such small businesses would not defeat the declared purposes of the Act;

Therefore, in view of the foregoing, the following regulations defining the term "area of production", as used in the aforementioned Sections of the Act, are hereby issued.

SECTION 536.1 "Area of production" as used in section 7 (c) of the Fair Labor Standards Act.—An employer shall be regarded as engaged in the first processing of any agricultural or horticultural commodity during seasonal operations within the "area of production" within the meaning of Section 7 (c)—

(a) if the first processing is conducted on a farm and is performed on agricultural or horticultural commodities produced exclusively on such farm, or

(b) if the commodities processed are obtained from farms in the immediate locality of the processing establishment and the number of employees there engaged in such processing does not exceed seven.*

SECTION 536.2 "Area of production" as used in Section 13 (a) (10) of the Fair Labor Standards Act.—An individual shall be regarded as employed in the "area of production" within the meaning of Sections 13 (a) (10), in handling, packing, storing, ginning, compressing, pasteurizing, drying, preparing in their raw or natural state, or canning of agricultural or horticultural commodities for market, or in making cheese or butter or other dairy products—

(a) if he is engaged in such work on a farm and on agricultural or horticultural commodities produced exclusively on such farm, or

(b) if the agricultural or horticultural commodities are obtained by the establishment where he is employed from farms in the immediate locality and the number of employees in such establishment does not exceed seven.*

SECTION 536.3 Petition for Amendment of Regulations.—Any interested persons or association wishing a revision of the foregoing regulations may make application to the Administrator in writing to amend Sections 536.1 and 536.2 by increasing or decreasing the maximum of employees permitted within the exemption as defined. If upon inspection of the petition the Administrator believes that reasonable cause for amendment of the regulations is set forth, the Administrator will either schedule a hearing with due notice to interested parties or will make other provision for affording interested parties an opportunity to present their views either in support of or in opposition to the proposed changes.*

* Sections 536.1 through 536.3 issued under the authority contained in Sections 7 (c) and 13 (a) (10), 52 Stat. 1060.

IN THE MATTER OF THE DETERMINATION OF THE PREVAILING MINIMUM WAGES IN THE TAG INDUSTRY

This matter is before me pursuant to Section 1 (b) of the Act of June 30, 1936 (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C. Sup. III 35) entitled "An Act to provide conditions for the purchase of supplies and the making of contracts by the United States, and for other purposes". The Public Contracts Board, created in accordance with Section 4 of the said Act by Administrative Order dated October 6, 1936, held a hearing on April 19, 1938 in the above-entitled matter.

Notice of this hearing was sent to all known members of the industry, to trade unions, to trade publications, and to trade associations in the field. Invitation to attend the hearing was also extended through the national press to all other interested parties.

At the hearing the Tag Institute presented for the record a wage survey of the Tag Industry. Counsel for the Institute, members of the industry, and a representative of organized labor testified at the hearing.

The tag industry, for the purpose of this decision, is defined as that industry which is engaged primarily in the manufacture of shipping and system tags, merchandise and marketing tags, and pin tags.

The survey presented by the Tag Institute covered 2,084 employees, or an estimated 95 per cent of the employees in the industry. It covered 31 out of an estimated 40 plants in the industry. The survey gave wage information, as of March, 1938, in the form of a wage frequency table arranged by 5 cent intervals to 50 cents an hour, above which 10 and 20 cent intervals were used.

95 percent of the industry, by volume, has signed the so-called Tag Industry Agreement. This agreement provides for a minimum wage of 33 cents an hour and has resulted in minimum wages which are practically uniform throughout the country. 191 workers out of 2,084 covered by the industry survey, or 9 percent of the total, fall within the bracket between 30 and 35 cents.

I have examined the findings of the Board and the record of the hearing, together with the brief filed by counsel for the Tag Institute, and in the light of the facts

I hereby determine—

That the minimum wage for employees engaged in the performance of contracts with agencies of the United States Government subject to the provisions of the Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C. Sup. III 35) for the manufacture or supply of tags, shall be 33 cents an hour or $13.20 per week of forty hours, arrived at either upon a time or piece work basis.

This determination shall be effective, and the minimum wage hereby established shall apply to all such contracts bids for which are solicited on or after October 31, 1938.

Dated, OCTOBER 19, 1938.

Secretary.

TITLE 31—MONEY AND FINANCE TREASURY

PUBLIC DEBT SERVICE

[1938—Department Circular No. 597]

RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION ⅞ PERCENT NOTES OF SERIES P, DUE NOVEMBER 1, 1941

OCTOBER 24, 1938.

I. OFFERING OF NOTES AND INVITATION FOR TENDERS

1. The Secretary of the Treasury, on behalf of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, invites subscriptions, at par, from the people of the United States for notes of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, designated ⅞ percent notes of Series P.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury, on behalf of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, offers to purchase on November 1, 1938, at par and accrued interest the outstanding notes of the Corporation designated Series K, maturing December 15, 1938, to the extent to which the holders thereof subscribe to the issue of Series P notes hereunder. Tenders of Series K notes for that purpose are invited.

3. The amount of the offering of Series P notes under this circular will be limited to the amount of Series K notes tendered for purchase in accordance herewith.

II. DESCRIPTION OF NOTES

1. The notes will be dated November 1, 1938, and will bear interest from that date at the rate of ⅞ percent per annum, payable semiannually on May 1 and November 1 in each year until the principal amount becomes payable. They will mature November 1, 1941, and will not be subject to call for redemption prior to maturity.

2. The notes will be issued under authority of an act of Congress (known as "Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act") approved January 22, 1932, as amended and supplemented, which provides that the notes shall be fully and unconditionally guaranteed both as to interest and principal by the United States and such guaranty shall be expressed on the face thereof; and that they shall be exempt both as to principal and interest from all taxation (except sur-taxes, estate, inheritance, and gift taxes) now or hereafter imposed by the United States, by any Territory, dependency, or possession thereof, or by any State, county, municipality, or local taxing authority. These notes shall be lawful investments, and may be accepted as security, for all fiduciary, trust, and public funds the investment or deposit of which shall be under the authority or control of the United States or any officer or officers thereof.

3. The authorizing act further provides that in the event the Reconstruction Finance Corporation shall be unable to pay upon demand, when due, the principal of or interest on notes issued by it, the Secretary of the Treasury shall pay the amount thereof, which is authorized to be appropriated, out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, and thereupon to the extent of the amounts so paid the Secretary of the Treasury shall succeed to all the rights of the holders of such notes.

4. The notes will be acceptable to secure deposits of public moneys, but will not bear the circulation privilege.

5. Bearer notes with interest coupons attached will be issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000 and $100,000. The notes will not be issued in registered form.

III. SUBSCRIPTION AND ALLOTMENT

1. Subscriptions will be received at the Federal Reserve banks and branches and at the Treasury Department, Washington, and should be accompanied by notes of Series K tendered for purchase, to a par amount equal to the par amount of notes of Series P subscribed for. Banking institutions generally may submit subscriptions for account of customers, but only the Federal Reserve banks and the Treasury Department are authorized to act as official agencies. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to close the books as to any or all subscriptions or classes of subscriptions at any time without notice.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject any subscription, in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount of notes applied for, to make allotments in full upon applications for smaller amounts and to make reduced allotments upon, or to reject, applications for larger amounts, or to adopt any or all of said methods or such other methods of allotment and classification of allotments as shall be deemed by him to be in the public interest; and his action in any or all of these respects shall be final. Subject to these reservations, all subscriptions will be allotted in full. Allotment notices will be sent out promptly upon allotment.

IV. PAYMENT

1. Payment at par for notes subscribed for hereunder must be made on or before November 1, 1938, or on later allotment. Notes of Series K tendered for purchase must have coupons dated December 15, 1938, attached, and payment will be made at par and accrued interest to November 1, 1938. The principal proceeds of the Series K notes will be applied in payment of the Series P notes, and accrued interest from June 15, 1938, to November 1, 1938, on Series K notes ($5.696721 per $1,000) will be paid following acceptance of the notes.

V. GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. As fiscal agents of the United States, Federal Reserve banks are authorized and requested to receive subscriptions, to make allotments on the basis and up to the amounts indicated by the Secretary of the Treasury to the Federal Reserve banks of the respective districts, to issue allotment notices, to receive payment for notes allotted, to make delivery of notes on full-paid subscriptions allotted, and they may issue interim receipts pending delivery of the definitive notes.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, prescribe supplemental or amendatory rules and regulations governing the offering, which will be communicated promptly to the Federal Reserve banks.

IN THE MATTER OF WILLIAM REID TAYLOR, DOING BUSINESS AS W. R. TAYLOR & COMPANY, 311 WOODSIDE BUILDING, GREENVILLE, SOUTH CAROLINA

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER SUSPENDING REGISTRATION

This is a proceeding ordered by the Commission on January 17, 1938, pursuant to Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, to determine whether the registration of William Reid Taylor, doing business as W. R. Taylor & Company, as a dealer, effective April 21, 1937, should be revoked or suspended.

Notice of the hearing to be held in this proceeding was duly given in accordance with the registrant's consent as embodied in Item 27 of his Form 3-M application for registration. Hearing was held before a trial examiner on May 27, 1938, and the registrant failed to appear personally or by counsel. The trial examiner has filed an advisory report in which he found that the registrant had violated Rule X-15B-2 (formerly Rule MB2) in failing to inform the Commission of a change in his business address and in failing to inform the Commission that his license as a dealer in securities was revoked by the Insurance Commissioner of the State of South Carolina. The record contains evidence of such character as to persuade us that the registrant had a motive in concealing his whereabouts, but since Taylor did not appear and defend himself against these charges, we withhold our findings and final determination until he comes in to be heard. However, pending such final determination, we think it clear from the record that it is necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors that Taylor's right to use the mails and instruments of interstate commerce in securities transactions be suspended.

It is therefore ordered, Pursuant to Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, that the registration of William Reid Taylor, doing business as W. R. Taylor & Company, as a dealer, be and is hereby suspended pending final determination whether such registration shall be revoked.

PART II.—ESTABLISHMENT OF QUOTAS FOR OLD FARMS

SEC. 1. Determination of normal marketings for old farms.—The normal marketings for an old farm will be the normal past marketings computed pursuant to section 2 below, adjusted, if necessary, pursuant to section 3 below: Provided, that the normal marketings shall in no event exceed the base 1938 production for the farm.

SEC. 2. Determination of normal past marketings.—(a) The normal past marketings for an old farm on which tobacco was produced in one of the three years 1935–37, shall be whichever of items (i), (ii), (iii) or (iv) below is the highest for the farm, plus any addition thereto which may be made pursuant to subsection (c) below.

(i) The three year average;

(ii) 33⅓% of the total harvested and diverted tobacco acreage in the three years, 1935–37, multiplied by the farm yield;

(iii) 40% of the total harvested and diverted tobacco acreage in the two years, of the three years, 1935–37, in which such acreage was the highest, multiplied by the farm yield;

(iv) 60% of the harvested and diverted tobacco acreage in that one of the three years, 1935–37, in which such acreage was the highest, multiplied by the farm yield.

(b) The normal past marketings for an old farm on which tobacco was produced in 1934, but was not produced in any of the three years 1935–37, shall be 50% of the harvested and diverted tobacco acreage for the farm for the year 1934, multiplied by the farm yield plus any addition thereto which may be made pursuant to subsection (c) below.

(c) The amount determined for the farm, pursuant to subsection (a) or (b) above, shall be increased, if, because of drought, flood, hail, other abnormal weather conditions, plant bed and other diseases, such amount is substantially less than the amount which otherwise would be determined for the farm. The increase shall be in such an amount as the local and State committees find will cause the normal past marketing for the farm to equal the amount which would have been determined for the farm pursuant to subsection (a) or (b) above in the absence of such abnormal conditions of production.

SEC. 3. Adjustment of normal past marketings for production capacity.—(a) The normal past marketings determined for any farm shall be increased if the capacity of the farm for the production of tobacco as indicated by the land (taking into account the crop-rotation practices customarily carried out on the farm), labor, and equipment available for the production of tobacco on the farm in 1938, is substantially greater than the tobacco production capacity of other farms in the county having similar normal past marketings, and shall be decreased if the farm's capacity for tobacco production is substantially less than that of other farms in the county having similar normal past marketings.

(b) Any increase or decrease in the normal past marketings of a farm, pursuant to subsection (a) above, shall be in such amount as the local committee finds will cause the normal marketings for the farm (i. e., normal past marketings as adjusted pursuant to this subsection) to reflect adequately the difference in the capacity of the farm for the production of tobacco as compared with the tobacco production capacity of other farms in the county having similar normal past marketings; provided, That—

(i) the amount of increase shall not exceed 25 percent of the normal past marketings;

(ii) the amount of decrease shall not exceed the smaller of (A) 25 percent of the normal past marketings or (B) the amount by which the normal past marketings exceeds the smallest of the three-year average, 2,400 pounds, or 85 percent of the base 1938 production; and

(iii) the sum of the increases for all farms in a county shall not exceed the sum of the decreases for all farms in the county.

(c) In appraising the land (taking into account the crop-rotation practices customarily carried out on the farm), labor, and equipment available for the production of tobacco for the purpose of determining the capacity of a farm for the production of tobacco, the local committee shall proceed in the following manner:

(i) Land.—The land available for the production of tobacco on the farm shall be determined by taking into consideration the total acreage of cropland in the farm, the crop-rotation practices customarily carried out on the farm, the 1938 acreage of tobacco on the farm, and the acreage of other soil-depleting crops normally grown on the farm.

(ii) Labor.—The labor available for the production of tobacco on the farm in 1938 shall be determined by taking into consideration the number of farm workers, whether such workers had prior experience in growing tobacco and the extent to which they are required for work on the farm other than in connection with the production of tobacco.

(iii) Equipment.—Equipment available for the production of tobacco on the farm shall be determined by taking into consideration the acreage capacity of the tobacco-curing space available for the farm in 1938. Curing space shall include the total space available for curing tobacco in tobacco curing barns or in sheds, rooms, barn lofts or other spaces suitable for curing tobacco, which are located on the farm and are in condition and available for the curing of tobacco for the farm in 1938. Curing space shall also include that part of a tobacco curing barn which is in condition for curing use in 1938 but is located on a different farm which is owned or operated by the same operator, and which is customarily used for curing tobacco grown on the farm; but in considering any such barn allowance shall be made for the fact that such barn serves more than one farm, and the capacity allowed for any farm shall not exceed the proportionate use of such barn by the farm, and the capacity for all farms shall not exceed the total capacity of such barn.

SEC. 4. Determination of farm yield, marketing, harvested acreage, diverted acreage and diversion.—(a) Farm yield.—The farm yield shall be the average yield per acre for the farm computed pursuant to paragraph (i), (ii), (iii) or (iv) below, adjusted, if necessary, pursuant to paragraph (v) below.

(i) If tobacco was produced on the farm in each of the three years, 1935–37, the average yield per acre shall be the simple average of the tobacco yields per acre for the farm for each of such years. The tobacco yield per acre for a farm for any year shall be computed by dividing the harvested acreage into the marketings for such year.

(ii) If tobacco was produced on the farm in two of the three years, 1935–37, the average yield per acre shall be the number of pounds obtained by multiplying the simple average of the tobacco yields per acre for the farm for each of such two years by that percentage which the county average tobacco yield for the three years, 1935–37, is of the county average yield for the two years in which tobacco was produced on the farm.

(iii) If tobacco was produced on the farm in only one of the three years, 1935–37, the average yield per acre shall be the number of pounds obtained by multiplying the tobacco yield per acre for such year by that percentage which the county average yield for the three years, 1935–37 is of the county average yield for the year in which tobacco was produced on the farm.

(iv) If tobacco was produced on the farm in 1934, but not in any of the three years, 1935–37, the average yield per acre shall be the county average yield for the three years 1935–37.

(v) The local committee shall adjust the average yield per acre for any farm if it determines that such average yield is substantially lower or higher than a yield which reasonably could be expected from the farm. In making its determination the committee shall take into consideration the average yields per acre for other farms in the county which are similar with respect to type of soil, topography and production facilities and the effect of flood, drought, hail, other abnormal weather conditions, fire, plant-bed, and other diseases upon the extent of marketing of tobacco from the farm during any of the years used in computing the average yield per acre for the farm. Any adjustment pursuant to this paragraph shall be such as will result in a farm yield which the committee finds, upon consideration of such factors, could reasonably be expected to be obtained from the farm; provided, That in no event shall the weighted farm yields for all farms in the county exceed the weighted average yield per acre for all farms in the county. The weighted farm yield and the weighted average yield per acre for old farms on which tobacco was produced in one or more of the three years, 1935–37, shall be computed by multiplying the farm yield and the average yield per acre for the farm, respectively, by whichever of the following is the highest for the farm:

A. 33⅓ percent of the total harvested and diverted tobacco acreage in the three years 1935–37.

B. 40 percent of the total harvested and diverted tobacco acreage in the two of the three years 1935–37 in which such acreage was the highest, or

C. 60 percent of the harvested and diverted tobacco acreage in that one of the three years, 1935–37, in which such acreage was the highest.

The weighted farm yield and the weighted average yield per acre for old farms on which tobacco was produced in 1934 but not in any of the three years, 1935–37, shall be computed by multiplying the farm yield and the average yield per acre for the farm, respectively, by 50 percent of the harvested and diverted acreage of tobacco for the farm for the year 1934.

(b) Marketings.—The marketings for any year shall be the number of pounds of tobacco marketed from the farm during such year. The total marketings for any year for all farms in a county shall not exceed the total number of pounds of tobacco produced in the county in such year. The marketings for any year, as reported by the operator, shall be adjusted by the local committee if it determines that the amount of such marketings as shown by the records submitted by the operator, or as estimated by him, is larger than the amount of tobacco which reasonably could have been marketed from the farm in such year. In making its determination, the committee shall take into consideration the acreage planted to tobacco on the farm in such year, the yields obtained in such year on other farms in the same community which are similar with respect to soil, topography, and production facilities, the community average yield for such year, and the yield on the farm in years for which records acceptable to the committee are available. The adjusted marketings for any year shall be the amount of tobacco which the committee finds, upon consideration of such factors, could reasonably have been marketed from the farm in such year.

(c) Harvested acreage.—The harvested acreage for any year shall be the number of acres actually harvested on the farm. If the county records do not show the harvested acreage for any year, the acreage reported by the operator as having been harvested in such year shall be adjusted if the local committee determines that such reported acreage is larger than the number of acres which could reasonably have been grown in such year. In making its determination, the committee shall take into consideration the curing space available, the cropland, the acres of other crops grown on the farm and the labor on the farm in such year. The adjusted harvested acreage for any year shall be an acreage which the committee finds, upon consideration of such factors, could reasonably have been grown on the farm in such year.

(d) Diverted acreage.—The diverted acreage for any year will be the base acreage determined for the farm in connection with the agricultural adjustment or conservation program for such year, minus the harvested acreage for such year; provided, That (i) the diverted acreage for 1935 shall not exceed 40 percent of the base acreage for such year, (ii) the diverted acreage for 1936 shall not exceed 30 percent of the base acreage for such year, (iii) the diverted acreage for 1937 shall not exceed 25 percent of the base acreage for such year, and (iv) the diverted acreage for 1934 shall not exceed 50 percent of the base acreage for such year.

(e) Diversion.—Diversion for any year shall be the number of pounds obtained by multiplying the diverted acreage for such year by the farm yield.

(f) Subdivided farm.—If land operated as a single farm in 1934, 1935, 1936, or 1937 has been subdivided into two or more tracts, the base acreage, harvested acreage, and marketings of tobacco for the farm for such year shall be apportioned among the tracts in the proportion which the acres of cropland suitable for the production of tobacco on each such tract in such year bore to the total number of acres of cropland suitable for the production of tobacco on the entire farm in such year; provided, that if the local committee finds that such apportionment would not be equitable in view of the subsequent production on the farms which include such tracts, it shall make such other apportionment as it determines to be fair and equitable.

SEC. 5. Allotment of State marketing quota.—Marketing Quotas for Old Farms. The State marketing quota will be allotted, and marketing quotas for old farms will be established, as follows:

(a) An amount will be reserved from the State marketing quota for the purpose of making adjustments as provided in subsections (f) and (h) of this section. The amount to be reserved will be determined by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in an amount not to exceed 5 percent of the State marketing quota, but such amount shall in no event be less than the amount necessary for making the adjustments required in subsection (f) below.

(b) The Agricultural Adjustment Administration will determine the percentage which the State quota is of the normal marketings of all old farms in the State.

(c) A minimum allotment will be made to every old farm in the State for which there would be obtained, by taking the percentage determined pursuant to (b) above of the normal marketings for the farm, a number of pounds equal to or less than the smallest of (i) 2400 pounds, or (ii) the farm's three-year average, or (iii) 85 percent of the farm's base 1938 production. The minimum allotment for any such farm will be the smallest of (i) 2400 pounds, or (ii) the farm's three-year average, or (iii) 85 percent of the farm's base 1938 production, and such allotment, unless increased pursuant to subsection (h) shall constitute the farm marketing quota.

(d) The total of the normal marketings for all farms to which minimum allotments are so made will be deducted from the total of the normal marketings for all old farms in the State; and the total of such minimum allotments will be deducted from the State marketing quota.

(e) After such deductions, the balance of the normal marketings will be reduced to the amount of the balance of the State marketing quota. This reduction will be made by reducing the normal marketings for all old farms, to which a minimum allotment has not been made pursuant to subsection (c), by the percentage which the balance of the State marketing quota determined pursuant to subsection (d) is of the balance of the normal marketings. The amount of the normal marketings for each such old farm as so reduced will be allotted to the farm, and, unless increased pursuant to subsections (f), (g), or (h) of this section, shall constitute the farm marketing quota.

(f) If the amount allotted to any farm pursuant to (e) above is less than the minimum allotment which would have been established for the farm pursuant to (c) above, then the amount so allotted shall be increased by an amount sufficient to provide such a minimum. The total of all such increases for all old farms in the State will be deducted from the amount reserved pursuant to (a) above.

(g) There will be computed for each old farm in the State the difference by which the amount allotted pursuant to the foregoing subsections is less than the smaller of (i) 80 percent of the farm's three-year average, or (ii) 85 percent of the base 1938 production. The total of all such differences for all old farms in the State will be reduced to an amount equal to 2 percent of the State marketing quota. This reduction will be made by reducing the difference for each farm by the percentage which 2 percent of the State marketing quota is of the total of the differences for all farms. The amount of the farm's difference as so reduced will be added to the farm's allotment and the sum thereof will be the amount of the farm marketing quota unless further increased pursuant to subsection (h) below.

(h) The amount reserved pursuant to subsection (a), less the amount deducted therefrom pursuant to subsection (f), will be allocated by the State committee among the counties of the State upon the basis of (i) the relationship of the balance of the normal marketings (found under (d) above) for old farms in the county to the balance of the normal marketings for old farms in all counties in the State, and (ii) the relative needs of the counties for adjustments of the quotas established for old farms therein. The amount so allocated to a county shall be allotted upon the recommendation of the local committees among these old farms in the county whose marketing quotas, as compared with the marketing quotas for other similar farms in the county, are determined by the local committee to require adjustment in order to take into adequate account past marketings of tobacco, making due allowance for abnormal weather conditions, plant bed and other diseases; land, labor, and equipment available for the production of tobacco; crop-rotation practices; and the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco.

PART III.—ESTABLISHMENT OF QUOTAS FOR NEW FARMS

SECTION 1. Allotment of new farm reserve—Marketing quotas for new farms.—The marketing quota for a new farm will be that percentage of the normal marketings for such farm which the new farm reserve is of total normal marketings for all new farms in the United States.

SEC. 2. Determination of normal marketings for new farms.—(a) The normal marketings for a new farm shall, unless adjusted pursuant to subsection (b) below, be 75 percent of the number of pounds obtained by multiplying the community average yield by whichever of the following is the smaller:

(i) The 1938 tobacco acreage for the farm;

(ii) The county average tobacco acreage for old farms.

The community average yield shall be the simple average of the farm yields for a representative sample of old farms in the community. A representative sample shall include 20 percent or more of the old farms in the community and shall consist, as far as practicable, of alternate farms (i. e., every third, fourth, or fifth farm listed on the State listing sheet) in the community. If the local committee and State committee finds that the number of old farms in the community is too small to provide a reasonable representative sample, the average yield for the nearest community which the State committee finds to be most similar with respect to type of soil, topography, and productivity shall be used as the community average yield.

The county average tobacco acreage for old farms shall be the number of acres obtained by dividing the total of 1938 tobacco acreage of all the old farms in the county by the number of such farms; provided, that if the number of old farms in any county is less than the number of new farms in the county, the county average tobacco acreage for old farms in such county shall be the county average tobacco acreage for old farms in the nearest county (as determined by the State committee) in which the total number of old farms exceeds the total number of new farms.

(b) The number of pounds determined for a farm pursuant to subsection (a) above shall be increased if the capacity of the farm for the production of tobacco as indicated by the land (taking into account the crop-rotation practices customarily carried out on the farm), labor, and equipment available for the production of tobacco on the farm in 1938, is substantially greater than the tobacco production capacity of other farms in the county for which a similar number of pounds were determined pursuant to said subsection (a), and shall be decreased if the farm's capacity for tobacco production is substantially less than that of other farms in the county for which a similar number of pounds were determined pursuant to said subsection.

Any adjustment pursuant to this subsection (b) shall be in such amount as the local committee finds will cause the normal marketings for the farm to reflect adequately the difference in the capacity of the farm for the production of tobacco as compared with the tobacco production capacity of other farms in the county for which a similar number of pounds were determined pursuant to subsection (a) above; provided that the adjustment shall in no event cause the normal marketings to exceed the number of pounds obtained by multiplying the community average yield by the 1938 tobacco acreage for the farm.

In appraising the land (taking into account the crop-rotation practices customarily carried out on the farm), labor, and equipment available for the production of tobacco for the purpose of determining the capacity of a farm for the production of tobacco, the local committee shall proceed in the same manner as provided in section 3 (c) of Part II with respect to old farms.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 24th day of October, 1938. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

Secretary of Agriculture.

(a) That such preparation or treatment is a competent and adquate cure or remedy for stomach and duodenal ulcers;

(b) That such preparation or treatment will do more than produce a soothing effect on the irritations in the stomach caused by an excess acid condition or provide a temporary relief from the symptoms of distress caused by such condition;

(c) That such preparation or treatment will bring "definite relief", unless such statement is qualified by the phrase, "relief from symptoms of distress", in equally conspicuous terms in direct connection with such representation;

(d) That such preparation or treatment is "remarkable" or "marvelous";

(e) That such preparation is compounded from an "unique" formula;

(f) That such treatment is more dependable than any other treatment for correcting the aforesaid ailments and conditions of the human body.

TITLE 24—HOUSING CREDIT

FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK BOARD

AMENDMENT TO RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN SYSTEM

PERMITTING STATE-CHARTERED SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS, WHEN DULY AUTHORIZED BY THE LAW OF THEIR CREATION, TO MERGE OR CONSOLIDATE WITH FEDERAL ASSOCIATIONS

Be it resolved, That pursuant to authority vested in the Federal Home Loan Bank Board by subsection (d) of Section 5 of Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933, as amended (12 U. S. C. 1464 (d)), Section 104.001 of the Rules and Regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 104.001. Merger of Federal Associations.

PAR. a. Scope of section.—For the purpose of this section the word "association" means a Federal association and any building and loan association, savings and loan association, cooperative bank or homestead association incorporated under the laws of any of the States or Territories of the United States or of the District of Columbia, provided that any such institution under the laws of the jurisdiction of its creation is empowered to merge or consolidate with a Federal association.

PAR. b. Procedure: Effective date.—Two or more associations may merge in the following manner (the associations which will be absorbed upon the effective date of the merger being hereinafter referred to as the "merging associations"), provided, however, that if any one or more of the merging associations is not a Federal association, such merging associations shall, in addition, comply with all requirements of law of the jurisdiction of their creation, subsection (i) of Section 5 of Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933, as amended, and the pertinent provisions of these rules and regulations prescribed pursuant thereto; except that no Charter K will be issued to such association because such association is simultaneously merging into the Federal association resulting from the merger (hereinafter referred to as the "resulting association"):

The board of directors of each association by a majority vote of each of the separate boards of directors shall approve a plan of merger evidenced by a merger agreement. Such agreement shall specify (1) the name to be used by the resulting association, which may be the name of the resulting association, the name of any of the merging associations, or a proposed new name; (2) the charter under which the resulting association shall operate, which shall be a Charter K; (3) the location of the home office of the resulting association; (4) the basis of the issuance of the share accounts of the resulting association to the holders of share accounts; (5) the number of directors of the resulting association and the names and residences of those who are chosen to serve until the first annual meeting of the resulting association. Application for approval by the Board of the merger shall be made by filing, with the Federal home loan bank of which at least one of the associations, party to the merger, is a member, two copies of the merger agreement properly executed in the name of the respective associations and two certified copies of the minutes of all of the meetings of the respective boards of directors at which the plan of merger was considered and approved. The merger agreement shall state that it shall not be effective unless and until approved by the Board. Upon receipt of such application the Board will thereupon either approve or disapprove the plan of merger or recommend modifications of the proposed plan of merger, which, if accepted by the respective boards of directors, will make the plan of merger satisfactory to the Board. If the plan of merger as approved by the Board is approved by the respective boards of directors, the Board shall be promptly notified by the similar filing of two copies of an amended merger agreement properly executed which incorporates the modifications recommended by the Board, and by the similar filing of two certified copies of the minutes of all meetings of the boards of directors at which such modified plan of merger was considered and approved. If any of the merging associations is not a Federal association, it shall thereupon hold the meeting of its shareholders to vote upon conversion into a Federal association coincident with its merger under the plan, as provided in section 102.023 hereof. If the resulting association is to operate under a new name, its charter shall be surrendered to the Board so that the name may be amended by reissuance of such charter in the new name of the resulting association. If the location of the home office of the resulting association is to be different from the location of the home office set forth in its charter, the location of the home office of the resulting association will be set forth in the reissued charter of the resulting association. The charters of the merging associations, which are Federal associations, shall be surrendered for cancellation by being similarly filed. The last date on which any of such charters are cancelled by the Board shall be the effective date of the merger, except that if any of the merging associations is not a Federal association, the effective date shall be the date, as to each such merging association, upon which it ceases to exist under the laws of the jurisdiction of its creation. Membership in a Federal home loan bank of any merging association shall be cancelled and its stock subscription shall be refunded to the resulting association, after adjustment to the minimum number of shares required to be held by the resulting association under the provisions of the Federal Home Loan Bank Act, unless the resulting association desires to retain a larger stock subscription than the required minimum. The certificate of insurance of any merging associations which are insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation shall be surrendered for cancellation to the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation after adjustment by additional premium payment or premium credit, pursuant to the rules and regulations for insurance of accounts. The membership certificate and the insurance certificate of the resulting association shall be surrendered for reissuance in the new name of the resulting association, if the resulting association is to operate under a new name.

PAR. c. Assets transferred by operation of law.—Upon the effective date of such merger, all of the assets and property of every kind and character, real, personal and mixed, tangible and intangible, choses in action, rights and credits then owned by the merging associations, or which would inure to any of them, shall immediately by operation of law and without any conveyance or transfer and without any further act or deed, be vested in and become the property of the resulting association, which shall have, hold, and enjoy the same in its own right as fully and to the same extent as the same were possessed, held, and enjoyed by the merging associations prior to such merger; and the resulting association shall be deemed to be and shall be a continuation of the entity and identity of the Federal association, which absorbed the merging associations; and all of the rights and obligations of the merging associations shall remain unimpaired, and the resulting association, on the effective date of such merger, shall succeed to all of such rights and obligations and the duties and liabilities connected therewith.

Adopted by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board on October 25, 1938.

Secretary.

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE

[T. D. 4868]

ESTATE TAX REGULATIONS AMENDED

AMENDMENTS OF ARTICLES 18, 19 AND 26 OF REGULATIONS 80 (1937 EDITION)

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and Others Concerned:

Article 18 of Regulations 80 (1937 edition)[1] is amended to read as follows:

ART. 18. Transfers with possession or enjoyment retained.—Except in the case of a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, the gross estate embraces (section 302 (c), as amended) all property transferred by the decedent, whether in trust or otherwise, if he retained or reserved the use, possession, right to the income, or other enjoyment of the transferred property, and if the transfer was made—

(1) At any time after 10:30 p. m., eastern standard time, March 3, 1931, and such retention or reservation is for his life, or for such a period as to evidence his intention that it should extend at least for the duration of his life and his death occurs before the expiration of such period; or

(2) At any time after 5 p. m., eastern standard time, June 6, 1932, and such retention or reservation is for any period mentioned in (1) or for any period not ascertainable without reference to his death.

A reservation for a "period not ascertainable without reference to his death" may be illustrated by a reservation of the right to receive, in quarterly payments, the income of the transferred property where none of the income between the last quarterly payment and decedent's death was to be received by him or his estate; or by a reservation of a life estate following a precedent estate for life or a term of years.

The use, possession, right to the income, or other enjoyment of the property, will be considered as having been retained by or reserved to the decedent to the extent that during any such period it is to be applied towards the discharge of a legal obligation of the decedent, or otherwise for his pecuniary benefit.

If such retention or reservation is of a part only of the use, possession, income, or other enjoyment of the property, then only a corresponding proportion of the value of the property should be included in determining the value of the gross estate.

(See article 15.)

Article 19 of Regulations 80 (1937 edition) is amended to read as follows:

ART. 19. Transfers with right retained to designate who shall possess or enjoy.—The statute (section 302 (c), as amended) provides that, except in the case of a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, the gross estate shall embrace all property transferred by the decedent, whether in trust or otherwise, if there is retained by or reserved to him for his life, or for such a period as to evidence his intention that it should extend at least for the duration of his life and his death occurs before the expiration of such period, or for a period not ascertainable without reference to his death, the right either alone or in conjunction with any other person or persons to designate the person or persons who shall possess or enjoy the transferred property, or the income thereof.

This provision of the statute covers, in the main, transfers to which also apply the provisions of certain other subdivisions of section 302. Thus, to the extent that the enjoyment of the transferred property is subject to any change through the exercise of a power by the decedent alone or in conjunction with any other person or persons to alter, amend, revoke, or terminate, the provisions of section 302 (d), as amended, and of article 20 will apply. Or, if the decedent reserved to himself a general power of appointment and the property passed in his lifetime or by his will pursuant to the exercise of such power, the property may be required by section 302 (f), as amended, to be included in the gross estate, and in such case the provisions of article 24 will apply without regard to when such power was created.

A transfer of the kind dealt with in this article, when not also falling within the provisions of some other subdivision of section 302, requires the inclusion of the transferred property within the gross estate, if the transfer was made—

(1) At any time after 10:30 p. m., eastern standard time, March 3, 1931, and the right to so designate was retained by or reserved to the decedent alone for his life, or for such a period as to evidence his intention that it should extend at least for the duration of his life and his death occurs before the expiration of such period; or

(2) At any time after 5 p. m., eastern standard time, June 6, 1932, and the right to so designate was retained by or reserved to the decedent alone or in conjunction with any other person or persons for decedent's life, or for such a period as to evidence his intention that it should extend at least for the duration of his life and his death occurs before the expiration of such period, or for any period not ascertainable without reference to his death.

If the retention or reservation of the right described pertains to a part only of the transferred property, or to a part only of the income therefrom, then only a corresponding proportion of the value of the transferred property is includible in determining the value of the gross estate.

The right to so designate will be treated as having been retained or reserved if at the time of the transfer there was an understanding, either express or implied, that such right would later be created or conferred.

Article 26 of Regulations 80 (1937 edition) is amended to read as follows:

ART. 26. Insurance in favor of the estate.—The provision requiring the inclusion in the gross estate of all insurance receivable by the executor, without any exemption, applies to policies made payable to the decedent's estate or his executor or administrator, and all insurance which is in fact receivable by, or for the benefit of, the estate. It includes insurance taken out to provide funds to meet the estate tax, and any other taxes or charges which are enforceable against the estate. The manner in which the policy is drawn is immaterial so long as there is an obligation, legally binding upon the beneficiary, to use the proceeds in payment of such taxes or charges. If the decedent took out insurance in favor of another person or corporation as collateral security for a loan or other accommodation, the insurance is considered to be receivable for the benefit of the estate. The amount of the loan outstanding at decedent's death will be deductible in determining the net estate, and the interest thereon will be deductible in accordance with the provisions of article 36.

This Treasury Decision is issued under authority prescribed in section 1101 of the Revenue Act of 1926 and section 403 of the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended.

[SEAL] GUY T. HELVERING,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Approved, October 24, 1938.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

United States of America—Before Federal Trade Commission

[Docket No. 3633]

COMPLAINT

The Federal Trade Commission, having reason to believe that the Corn Products Refining Company and the Corn Products Sales Company, Inc., hereinafter called Respondents, since June 19, 1936, have been and are now violating the provisions of Section 2 (a) of the Act of Congress entitled "An Act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies, and for other purposes", approved October 15, 1914 (Public No. 212, the Clayton Act), as amended by Section 1 of the Act of Congress entitled "An Act to amend Section 2 of the Act entitled 'An Act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies, and for other purposes', approved October 15, 1914, as amended (U. S. C., title 15, sec. 13), and for other purposes", approved June 19, 1936, (Public No. 692, the Robinson-Patman Act), hereby issues this its complaint against respondents and states its charges with respect thereto as follows, to wit:

PARAGRAPH 1: Respondent Corn Products Refining Company is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of New Jersey with its principal office and place of business at 17 Battery Place in the City and State of New York. Respondent Corn Products Sales Company, Inc. is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey and has its principal office and place of business at 17 Battery Place, City and State of New York. Respondent Corn Products Sales Company, Inc. is a wholly owned sales subsidiary of respondent Corn Products Refining Company through which products manufactured by Corn Products Refining Company are sold and distributed. Corn Products Refining Company owns the entire capital stock of Corn Products Sales Company, Inc. and controls and directs Corn Products Sales Company, Inc.

PAR. 2: Respondent, Corn Products Refining Company, is a large and powerful corporation holding a dominating position in the field of the manufacture and sale of corn products. It has an authorized capital stock of $100,000,000. Corn Products Refining Company owns and operates plants at Pekin and Argo, Illinois; North Kansas City, Missouri and Edgewater, New Jersey. The Argo, Pekin and North Kansas City plants have a corn grinding capacity of 155,000 bushels per day, with complete facilities for the finished fabrication of all known corn starch products, both for household and industrial use, and including well equipped carton and can plants and printing establishments for use in producing the many packaged products of the company. The Edgewater plant has a reserve corn grinding capacity of 30,000 bushels daily. Respondent's production of corn products exceeds that of all of its combined competitors. When respondent reduces the prices of corn products its competitors conformably reduce the prices on the said commodities and when respondent advances the prices competitors make similar advances in their prices.

PAR. 3: At all times since June 19, 1936 respondents have been and are now engaged in the business of manufacturing, selling and distributing in interstate commerce products derived from corn. The principal products derived from corn are (1) Starch, both for food and laundry purposes; (2) Glucose or Corn syrup; and (3) Corn sugar. Starch is first manufactured from the corn, and glucose and grape sugar are made by treating the starch with certain acids, the resulting solid product being grape sugar and the resulting syrup being glucose. Glucose is largely used in the manufacture of candy, jellies, jams, preserves, and the like, as well as in the mixing of syrups. Grape sugar is used in the tanning, brewing and wine trades. Starch is used for laundry purposes, as well as in various articles of food.

The principal by-products of corn resulting in the corn products business are glutten feed, corn oil, corn-oil cake and corn-oil meal, and these by-products result whether the principal products manufactured be starch, glucose, or corn sugar.

The Corn Products Refining Company, in addition to bulk products, produces the following branded products;

Kingsford and Duryea Starches, Karo Syrup, Mazola Oil, Argo Corn Starch, Argo Gloss Starch, Kre-Mel Dessert and Linit.

PAR. 4: Since June 19, 1936, in the course and conduct of their business, the respondents have been and are now manufacturing the aforesaid commodities at the aforesaid plants and have sold and shipped and do now sell and ship such commodities in commerce between and among the various states of the United States from the states in which their factories are located across state lines to purchasers thereof located in states other than the states in which respondents' said plants are located in competition with other persons, firms and corporations engaged in similar lines of commerce.

PAR. 5: Since June 19, 1936 and while engaged as aforesaid in commerce among the several states of the United States and the District of Columbia, the respondents have been and are now, in the course of such commerce, discriminating in price between purchasers of said commodities of like grade and quality, which commodities are sold for use, consumption or resale within the several states of the United States and the District of Columbia in that the respondents have been and are now selling such commodities to some purchasers at a higher price than the price at which commodities of like grade and quality are sold to other purchasers generally competitively engaged with the first mentioned purchasers.

PAR. 6: The aforesaid discriminations in price referred to in Paragraph Four are generally effected through the employment of delivered prices. The delivered prices charged buyers, while identical in terms of dollars and cents as to those located at any given point of delivery, are discriminatory among buyers located at diverse points of delivery. The differences in price between buyers located at diverse points of delivery are often substantial. To illustrate:

A manufacturer of candy located at St. Joseph, Missouri, paid respondents a delivered price of $3.40 a hundred pounds for a tank car of corn syrup weighing 95,800 pounds net. The freight paid by respondents on the said shipment was 3½¢ a hundred pounds. The price per hundred pounds, exclusive of freight, was $3.365 to such buyer. A competing candy manufacturer located at Chicago, Illinois paid respondents at the same time, for goods of like grade and quality a delivered price of $3.04 a hundred pounds. The freight switching charge paid by respondents on the said shipment was 3½¢ a hundred pounds. The price per hundred pounds, exclusive of freight, was $3.005 to such buyer. The difference between $3.365 and $3.005 amounts to a discrimination in price of 36¢ a hundred pounds between the aforesaid buyers located at St. Joseph, Missouri, and at Chicago, Illinois, or $344.88 on the aforesaid car.

Respondents' customers taking delivery of corn syrup at Kansas City, Missouri, and supplied by respondents' North Kansas City plant are required to pay a price which is 36¢ a hundred pounds more than respondents' customers pay when taking delivery of goods of like grade and quality at Chicago, Illinois, which goods are supplied by respondents' Argo, Illinois, plant. This amounts to a discrimination in price of 36¢ a hundred pounds between respondents' customers, competing in the manufacture, sale and distribution of candy made from such corn syrup, who respectively take delivery at Kansas City, Missouri, and Chicago, Illinois.

PAR. 7: The effect of said discriminations in price made by said respondents, as set forth in Paragraph Five herein, may be substantially to lessen competition in the sale and distribution of corn products between the said respondents and other manufacturers of corn products and also between the said buyers of said corn products receiving said lower discriminatory prices and other buyers not receiving said lower discriminatory prices; and the effect of said discriminations has been, or may be, to injure, destroy or prevent competition in the sale and distribution of corn products between the said respondents and other manufacturers of corn products; and the effect of said discriminations has been, or may be, to injure, destroy and prevent competition in the lines of commerce in which those who purchase from respondents are engaged between the said beneficiaries of said discriminatory prices and said buyers who do not and have not received such beneficial prices.

Wherefore, the premises considered, the Federal Trade Commission on this 21st day of October, A. D. 1938, now issues this its complaint against said respondents.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given you, Corn Products Refining Company and Corn Products Sales Company, Inc., respondents herein, that the 25th day of November, A. D., 1938, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, is hereby fixed as the time, and the offices of the Federal Trade Commission in the City of Washington, D. C., as the place, when and where a hearing will be had on the charges set forth in this complaint, at which time and place you will have the right, under said Act, to appear and show cause why an order should not be entered by said Commission requiring you to cease and desist from the violations of the law charged in the complaint.

You are notified and required, on or before the twentieth day after service upon you of this complaint, to file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. If answer is filed and if your appearance at the place and on the date above stated be not required, due notice to that effect will be given you. The Rules of Practice adopted by the Commission with respect to answers or failure to appear or answer (Rule VII) provide as follows:

In case of desire to contest the proceeding the respondent shall, within twenty (20) days from the service of the complaint, file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. Such answer shall contain a concise statement of the facts which constitute the ground of defense. Respondent shall specifically admit or deny or explain each of the facts alleged in the complaint, unless respondent is without knowledge, in which case respondent shall so state.

* * * * * * *

Failure of the respondent to file answer within the time above provided and failure to appear at the time and place fixed for hearing shall be deemed to authorize the Commission, without further notice to respondent, to proceed in regular course on the charges set forth in the complaint.

If respondent desires to waive hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in the complaint and not to contest the facts, the answer may consist of a statement that respondent admits all the material allegations of fact charged in the complaint to be true. Respondent by such answer shall be deemed to have waived a hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in said complaint and to have authorized the Commission, without further evidence, or other intervening procedure, to find such facts to be true, and if in the judgment of the Commission such facts admitted constitute a violation of law or laws as charged in the complaint, to make and serve findings as to the facts and an order to cease and desist from such violations. Upon application in writing made contemporaneously with the filing of such answer, the respondent, in the discretion of the Commission, may be heard on brief, in oral argument, or both, solely on the question as to whether the facts so admitted constitute the violation or violations of law charged in the complaint.

In witness whereof, the Federal Trade Commission has caused this, its complaint to be signed by its Secretary, and its official seal to be hereto affixed, at Washington, D. C., this 21st day of October, A. D. 1938.

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS the preamble to Senate Concurrent Resolution 18, Sixty-ninth Congress (44 Stat. 1982), passed June 4, 1926, recites that November 11, 1918 "marked the cessation of the most destructive, sanguinary, and far-reaching war in human annals and the resumption by the people of the United States of peaceful relations with other nations, which we hope may never again be severed;" and

IN THE MATTER OF ASSOCIATED ELECTRIC COMPANY, CENTRAL U. S. UTILITIES COMPANY

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

An application pursuant to Rule U-12D-1 promulgated under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commision by the above-named parties;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on November 3, 1938, at 11:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declarations shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Lobingier or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before November 3, 1938.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the filing of an application pursuant to Rule U-12D-1 by Associated Electric Company and Central U. S. Utilities Company, both registered holding companies, in connection with the proposed pledge by Pennsylvania Investing Corporation, a direct subsidiary of Central U. S. Utilities Company and an indirect subsidiary of Associated Electric Company, of $7,256,600 of First and Refunding Mortgage 5% Bonds due May 1, 1954, of Kentucky-Tennessee Light and Power Company as security for a proposed $750,000, 4¼%, promissory note of that company to The First National Bank of Boston. It appears that the matters involved are intimately connected with those involved in a declaration heretofore filed by Kentucky-Tennessee Light and Power Company (File No. 43-159) in regard to the proposed issue and sale by it on or before November 14, 1938 to The First National Bank of Boston of its $750,000, 4¼%, promissory note on which a hearing has been ordered for November 3, 1938, at 11:00 o'clock before Charles S. Lobingier. It appears that it is desirable that both such declaration and the present application be heard together.

It is so ordered.

By the Commission.

TITLE 6—AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

1938 WHEAT CIRCULAR LETTER NO. 2

SUPPLEMENTAL INSTRUCTIONS

AUGUST 27, 1938.

The Instructions (1938 CCC Wheat Form 1)[1] issued by Commodity Credit Corporation for the 1938 wheat loan program are hereby amended and supplemented.

Commodity Credit Corporation will make loans on eligible wheat stored on farms in the following counties in New Mexico:

San Juan, Taos and Rio Arriba, and that portion of Colfax County lying west of the west boundary of Township 22 East, New Mexico Principal Meridian in the state of New Mexico.

Subsection (a) of Section 3 of said Instructions is hereby supplemented by adding the following basic loan value for wheat of the added grade and subclass at the terminal market indicated:

Market	Grade and subclass	Loan value per bushel
Minneapolis and Duluth, Minnesota, and Superior, Wisconsin.	No. 2 Hard White Wheat.	$0.75

Subsection (b) of Section 3 of said Instructions is hereby further amended by adding the following paragraph:

"The loan value of eligible wheat stored in approved subterminal warehouses which was shipped by rail may be determined by deducting from the appropriate designated terminal market loan value an amount equal to the transit balance of the through freight rate from point of origin for such wheat to such terminal market. Arrangements have been made for the railroads to indicate such balances on the inbound paid freight bills on a basis of 100 pounds. To obtain the loan value as determined above there must be attached to the warehouse receipts, representing eligible wheat, issued by approved subterminal warehouses, freight bills duly registered for transit privileges and bearing the stamped or typed notation over the signature of the station agent of the railroad as to the transit balance of the through freight applicable to such wheat to the appropriate designated terminal market. A notation substantially as follows will be sufficient:

"Balance through freight rate to ---------- is ---- cents per 100 pounds.
(Market)
(Railroad Company)
By ----------, Agent"

The foregoing shall apply to all approved warehouses that have executed the Terminal Warehouse Agreement (1938 CCC Wheat Form H) other than those situated in the designated terminal markets. Lending agencies may proceed with the making of loans on this basis. Information in regard to the appropriate designated terminal market may be obtained from the Loan Agencies of Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Due to the refusal of warehousemen to issue insured warehouse receipts in the Pacific Northwest, Commodity Credit Corporation has obtained primary insurance on wheat stored in public warehouses in the states of California, Idaho, Oregon and Washington, which is pledged as security to notes held by Commodity Credit Corporation on 1938 CCC Wheat Form B. This insurance covers the risks of fire, lightning, explosion and windstorm, cyclone and tornado and attaches only on the making of loans or the purchase of paper by Commodity Credit Corporation. Lending agencies must carry their own insurance and no allowance will be made for such insurance on the purchase of notes. Wheat stored by warehousemen issuing insured warehouse receipts in the above states will not be covered by the primary insurance of Commodity Credit Corporation.

Terminal and subterminal warehousemen are advised that Commodity Credit Corporation will accept only the original, official inbound inspection certificates, or duplicates thereof, under Section 9 of the Instructions (1938 CCC Wheat Form 1).

4. Classification of cotton.—Commodity Credit Corporation will accept as evidence of the grade and staple of cotton:

(a) The classification shown on the warehouse receipt of a warehouseman licensed under the United States Warehouse Act; or

(b) A Form A, Classification Memorandum of the United States Department of Agriculture; or

(c) A Form 1, Classification Memorandum of the United States Department of Agriculture; or

(d) A Federally Licensed Cotton Classifier's Certificate.

Section 9 of the Loan Agreement (1938 C. C. C. Cotton Form A) provides for a deduction of five cents per bale from the loan proceeds. The funds derived from this source will be used to supervise the classing of the pledged cotton. The payee named in the note should withhold an amount equal to five cents per bale for all pledged cotton, and such amount will be deducted by Commodity Credit Corporation at the time of purchase of notes from lending agencies.

5. Preparation of documents.—A producer desiring a loan upon eligible cotton may obtain the necessary forms from any county Agricultural Conservation Committee in the cotton-producing areas, also from the Loan Agencies of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation listed in section 16 of these instructions. Such forms may also be obtained from Commodity Credit Corporation, Washington, D. C. The forms are identified and no reprints or substitutes may be used.

All blanks in both the note and loan agreement must be filled in with ink, indelible pencil, or typewriter in the manner indicated therein, and no documents containing additions, alterations, or erasures will be acepted by Commodity Credit Corporation. Only the white copy of the note and loan agreement marked original is to be executed; the colored copy marked duplicate is to be returned by the producer.

6. Determination of cooperators or non-cooperators.—As evidence that the producer is a cooperator, Commodity Credit Corporation will accept the certificate of the payee named in the note as provided in the "Payee's Certificate" appearing on the reverse side of the note. Where notes are signed jointly by two or more producers the serial numbers of Form(s) Cotton 211 for all signatories to the note must be shown in the "Payee's Certificate." If such certificate is not signed by the original payee the applicable certificate of the County Agricultural Conservation Committee appearing in section 10 of the loan agreement must be completed. The certificate of the County Agricultural Conservation Committee must be completed on all notes tendered for direct loans by Commodity Credit Corporation pursuant to section 12 hereof.

7. Warehouses.—Commodity Credit Corporation will accept only insured warehouse receipts covering cotton pledged as collateral to notes on 1938–39 C. C. C. Cotton Form A issued by any warehouse approved by Commodity Credit Corporation. Warehousemen are advised to communicate with the Loan Agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation serving the district in which such warehouses are located, concerning approval. When warehouses are approved, notification will be given either by letter or published lists. All cotton pledged as security for a note must be in the same warehouse.

The warehouseman is required, as provided in the certificate and waiver in section 1 of the loan agreement, to draw representative samples from the bales and to deliver or forward such samples for classing. Warehousemen are also required to hold the identical samples used in classing for the account of Commodity Credit Corporation, except that provision is made to accept the samples returned by a representative of the United States Department of Agriculture as the identical samples.

8. Warehouse receipts.—Only negotiable insured warehouse receipts dated on or prior to the date of the producer's note and properly assigned by an endorsement in blank so as to vest title in the holders or issued to bearer, executed by warehousemen who are not owners of the cotton, will be acceptable. They must set out in their written or printed terms a description by tag number and weight of the bale or bales represented thereby, and all other facts and statements required to be stated in the written or printed terms of a warehouse receipt under the provisions of section 2 of the Uniform Warehouse Receipts Act. Warehouse receipts issued prior to August 1, 1938, which by their terms will expire prior to August 1, 1939, must bear endorsement of the warehouse extending the terms of the warehouse receipt for a period of 1 year from August 1, 1938. Block warehouse receipts will be accepted only when the tag number and weight of each bale is indicated on the block receipt.

9. Warehouse charges.—The warehouseman's charges are limited and his obligations defined by the form of warehouseman's certificate and waiver provided in section 1 of the loan agreement. This should be read carefully and must be executed by the warehouseman issuing the cotton warehouse receipts pledged as collateral to the producer's note.

10. Liens.—All cotton tendered to Commodity Credit Corporation must be free and clear of all liens except in favor of the lienholders listed in the space provided therefor in the loan agreement. The names of the holders of all existing liens on the pledged cotton such as landlords, laborers, or mortgagees (but not warehousemen), must be listed in the space provided therefor in section 2 of the loan agreement. If the borrower is a tenant, the landlord must sign the lien waiver whether or not he claims lien, unless the note is signed jointly by the landlord and tenant. A misrepresentation as to prior liens, or otherwise, will render the producer personally liable under the terms of the Loan Agreement (1938–39 C. C. C. Cotton Form A) and subject to criminal prosecution under the provisions of section 35 of the Criminal Code of the United States (18 U. S. C. A. 80). The waiver and consent to the pledge of the cotton and the payment of the proceeds of the loan and the proceeds of the sale of the cotton solely to the producer as contained in section 2 of the loan agreement must be signed personally by all lienholders listed or by their agents whose duly executed authority must be attached firmly; or, if corporations, by the designated officer thereof customarily authorized to execute such instruments, in which case the duly executed authority need not be attached. Notes in which the waiver and consent to pledge, as contained in section 2 of the loan agreement, are not signed by all prior lienholders listed by producers, will not be acceptable to Commodity Credit Corporation. The producer may direct in the Letter of Transmittal (1938–39 C. C. C. Cotton Form B) that the proceeds check for a direct loan from Commodity Credit Corporation be made payable to him and/or such other person or concern as he may direct thereon.

11. Liability of producer.—If the producer complies with the terms of the loan agreement, he will not be personally liable for any deficiency upon the sale of the pledged cotton. The note and loan agreement govern the liability of the producer and should be read carefully.

12. Direct loans.—It is contemplated that producers will ordinarily obtain loans from a local bank or other lending agency which, in turn, may sell the paper evidencing such loans to Commodity Credit Corporation. Arrangements, however, have been made for making direct loans to producers prior to May 1, 1939. In such cases the note must be made payable to Commodity Credit Corporation and must be tendered to the Loan Agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation serving the district in which the cotton is stored on a Producer's Letter of Transmittal (1938–39 C. C. C. Cotton Form B) in duplicate, postmarked not later than midnight of April 30, 1939, if tendered by mail. Upon delivery of all necessary documents properly executed and upon approval, payment will be made in accordance with the directions of the producer contained in said 1938–39 C. C. C. Cotton Form B.

13. Time and manner of loans and purchase.—Commodity Credit Corporation will purchase eligible paper, as defined above, only from lending agencies which have executed and delivered prior to January 1, 1939, to the Loan Agency to which notes are submitted Contract to Purchase (1938–39 C. C. C. Cotton Form D) obtainable only from Loan Agencies. Under the terms of this contract, lending agencies are required to report on 1938–39 C. C. C. Cotton Form F all payments or collections on producers' notes held by them, and to remit promptly to Commodity Credit Corporation, Washington, D. C., an amount equivalent to one and one-half percent per annum interest on the principal amount collected from the date of the note to the date of payment, and five cents per bale for all cotton released.

Notes must be tendered on Lending Agency's Letter of Transmittal (1938–39 C. C. C. Cotton Form C) in duplicate prior to July 1, 1939, to the Loan Agency serving the district in which the cotton is stored as indicated in section 16 hereof. The purchase price to be paid by Commodity Credit Corporation for notes accepted will be the face amount of such notes, plus accrued interest from their respective dates to the date of payment of the purchase price at the rate of two and one-half percent per annum, less five cents per bale for all cotton pledged as security to the notes.

14. Lending agency.—The lending agency may endorse the notes of producers as provided in the note, 1938–39 C. C. C. Cotton Form A. Care should be exercised by the lending agency to determine the genuineness of the signatures to the note and loan agreement and that the warehouse receipts are genuine. No provision is made for any deduction from the loan proceeds as a charge for handling the loan documents. Lending agencies must complete the "Advice of Loan" slip appended to the loan agreement, detach and mail same to Commodity Credit Corporation, Washington, D. C., as loans are made to producers. All blanks in the Advice of Loan and Schedule of Repayments (1938–39 C. C. C. Cotton Form F) must be filled in with ink, indelible pencil, or typewriter.

15. Insurance.—Holders of notes desiring insurance coverage in addition to the insurance coverage provided by the warehousemen as specified in section 1 of the Loan Agreement (1938–39 C. C. C. Cotton Form A), should obtain such coverage at their own expense. In addition to the insurance provided by the warehousemen, Commodity Credit Corporation has obtained a blanket insurance policy covering any differences between the market value of the cotton and the loan value plus interest and accrued charges, in the event that the market value of the cotton at the time and place of a loss is less than the amount of the note plus interest and accrued charges. This blanket policy protects the Corporation in the event the warehouseman fails to comply with the insurance requirements of the Corporation and also covers any losses or damage to the cotton to the amount of the loan, plus interest and charges, due to flood.

The premium under this blanket policy is 1⅓ cents per $100 per month on the daily average balance of the outstanding loans, with respect to the insurance of warehousemen, and flood. The premium for any difference between loan value and market value is at the rate of 6 cents per $100 per month on the actual amount of such difference, this premium to be reported and paid only in the event that the market value as quoted by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture, for middling seven-eights inch cotton on the New Orleans spot market, is less than the loan value plus interest and accrued charges.

Banks and other lending agencies may obtain such insurance coverage as they desire through the usual channels or they may secure coverage under the blanket policy carried by Commodity Credit Corporation. Banks and other lending agencies desiring to obtain this coverage should write Commodity Credit Corporation, Washington, D. C., and appropriate instructions will be issued together with the necessary forms for reporting thereunder. Upon purchase by Commodity Credit Corporation no allowance will be made to cover the costs of insurance obtained by lending agencies.

16. Loan Agencies of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.—The location of the Loan Agencies of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation previously referred to herein and the district served by each agency are shown below:

17. Repayments.—If the producer's note was made payable directly to Commodity Credit Corporation and he desires to obtain the return of the note and the release of the collateral upon payment he should notify the Federal Reserve Bank or branch thereof serving the district in which the cotton is stored as provided in section 16 hereof. If his note was made payable to a payee other than Commodity Credit Corporation the producer should notify the payee named therein. Warehouse receipts representing cotton held by Commodity Credit Corporation will be released by the Federal Reserve Bank or branch thereof holding the receipts upon the payment of the amount of the loan, the accrued interest, and proper charges. Upon written request of the producer, or the payee or the lending agency, the note and warehouse receipts will be forwarded to an approved bank to be released to the producer or his agent against payment. Where receipts are transmitted to a bank they will be sent, with a request to return them to the sender, if payment and release are not effected within 15 days. All charges and expenses of the bank are to be paid by the producer. Where notes are repaid to lending agencies prior to purchase by Commodity Credit Corporation the loan agreement should be detached and mailed to Commodity Credit Corporation, Washington, D. C., with the remittance as provided in section 13 hereof.

18. Partial releases.—Producers may obtain the release of a part of the cotton securing any note upon payment of the amount loaned plus interest and proper charges on the cotton to be released. Lending agencies should credit partial payments on the notes. Commodity Credit Corporation will purchase producers' notes on which partial releases have been made by lending agencies, paying therefor the amount of the loan on the cotton remaining pledged as security to the note as determined in accordance with these instructions, plus interest at the rate of two and one-half percent per annum on such amount less the deduction of five cents per bale referred to in sections 4 and 13 hereof. If the note is held by Commodity Credit Corporation, producers desiring to obtain a partial release of collateral should identify the cotton to be released by warehouse receipt numbers.

Evidence of the protein content of eligible wheat of the subclasses Soft White, Western White, White Club, and Western Red need not be submitted by terminal or subterminal warehouses approved by Commodity Credit Corporation for the storage of wheat.

In lieu of protein certificates issued prior to unloading of the wheat delivered by or for the account of producers to approved terminal and subterminal warehouses, Commodity Credit Corporation will accept warehouse receipts and protein certificates accompanied by a certificate of the warehouseman in the following form:

The undersigned warehouseman certifies that a protein analysis on wheat represented by warehouse receipt No. _____, dated _____, 1938, was not requested prior to the unloading of such wheat; that a protein analysis is not customary for the kind of wheat in question, in the market in which the undersigned warehouseman is located; that there is attached a protein certificate in form and issued by an outside laboratory customarily used by the trade of said market, setting forth the protein content of a bin-run sample of wheat of the kind, grade and equal quality of the wheat, represented by said warehouse receipt, which was inspected prior to unloading and that the protein content of the wheat delivered upon the presentation of said warehouse receipt will not be less than the protein content stated in said certificate, within one-half of one per cent.

Location: _____ (Warehouse Company)

_____ By _____

It is intended that warehousemen shall issue the foregoing certificates only in those instances in which the wheat delivered by or for producers was unloaded and binned prior to the receipt of the wheat regulations of Commodity Credit Corporation, or in those markets in which it is not customary to make a protein analysis upon the delivery of wheat.

1938-39 COTTON CIRCULAR LETTER No. 1

SEPTEMBER 20, 1938.

Due to the anticipated congestion of warehouse facilities in central areas in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, Commodity Credit Corporation will recognize liens for freight and compression charges in accordance with these instructions on cotton moved by or for the account of producers to approved port warehouses situated in Texas making satisfactory arrangements with Commodity Credit Corporation.

Such liens will be recognized only to the extent of the lowest possible rail transportation cost from shipping point to the port warehouse, based on the rate applicable to 65,000 pound minimum loadings except that with respect to irrigated cotton the rail rate based on 50,000 pound minimum loadings may be used. Liens will be recognized for high density compression charges with respect to cotton shipped by rail under the 65,000 pound minimum loading rate and for standard density compression charges, with respect to irrigated cotton shipped by rail under the 50,000 pound minimum rail rate. Freight and compression charges shall be based on receiving weights of the port warehouse. No leins for patching will be recognized. All liens shall be stated in the warehouse receipts and each note and loan agreement must be accompanied by the following additional certificate of the warehouseman:

The cotton securing the attached note of _____, dated _____ (Name and Address of Producer) in the amount of $_____ was moved by _____ from _____ to the (rail or truck) warehouse stated in said loan agreement and freight thereon in the amount of $_____ was paid by the undersigned as evidenced by signed duplicate freight bills or truckers' receipts attached hereto. Compression charges in the amount of $_____ were also paid _____, in accordance with the tariff of such warehouseman. (Warehouse Company and Address) The original freight bills covering such cotton will be held and kept alive, within statutory and tariff limitations for the benefit of the holder of said warehouse receipts. Notwithstanding the terms of the warehouse receipts lien will not be claimed for more than the amount stated in the warehouseman's certificate and waiver in said loan agreement plus the amounts shown herein for compression and the lowest possible rail transportation cost from the shipping point to any port warehouse in Texas or the amount paid for freight as stated herein, whichever is less as determined by Commodity Credit Corporation.

Date _____ _____ (Warehouse Company)

Location _____ By _____

Payment will be made of freight and compression charges recognized by Commodity Credit Corporation at the time storage charges are paid. No compression charges will be paid on any cotton moved by truck.

Under this arrangement producers will have the option of storing their cotton at port locations which will prevent any congestion at interior points.

Lists of port warehouses where liens for freight and compression of cotton will be recognized by Commodity Credit Corporation, will be made available by the Loan Agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation serving the district in which the warehouse is located.

1938 WHEAT CIRCULAR LETTER No. 6

SEPTEMBER 26, 1938.

1. Subsection (a) of Section 3 of the Instructions (1938 CCC Wheat Form 1)[1] is hereby supplemented by adding the following basic loan value for wheat of the added grade and subclass at the terminal markets indicated:

Market	Grade and subclass	Loan value per bushel
Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth, Minnesota, and Superior, Wisconsin.	No. 2 Hard Amber Durum Wheat.	$0.74

2. Due to the lack of approved warehouse space in the states of Michigan and Ohio under the wheat loan program, Commodity Credit Corporation will make advances on wheat originating in such states and stored in approved warehouses in Buffalo, New York, at the Michigan or Ohio loan values (depending on point of origin) plus the per bushel freight costs in carload lots as evidenced by paid freight bills registered for transit privileges. In lieu of the delivery of such bills Commodity Credit Corporation will accept warehouse receipts representing such wheat stored in Buffalo, on which a legend, signed by the warehouseman, has been typed or stamped substantially in the following form, or certificate of such warehouseman containing such an undertaking:

The wheat represented hereby was shipped from _____ and the original paid freight bill covering same has been registered for transit and will be held and kept alive, within statutory limitations, for the benefit of the holder hereof. The freight from said shipping point to Buffalo on wheat in carload lots is _____ cents per bushel.

_____ (Warehouseman)

3. Such legend or certificate will be accepted in lieu of the legend or certificate required under the last sentence of Section 9 of the Instructions (1938 CCC Wheat Form 1). Notes secured by such wheat stored in Buffalo may be submitted to the Cleveland, Ohio, Detroit, Michigan, or New York City Loan Agencies of Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Producers must arrange for the payment of all charges except freight up to the unloading of the wheat in an approved terminal warehouse in Buffalo. The advance of Commodity Credit Corporation will permit the reimbursement of any amounts paid or advanced for freight.

4. Section 5 of said Instructions (1938 CCC Wheat Form 1) is hereby amended to include the states of California and Nevada in the area in which the quantity of smut shall be determined on a percentage basis.

5. In accordance with the following procedure, Commodity Credit Corporation will permit producers to obtain the benefit of any premium value of high protein wheat and high quality Durum pledged as security to notes and loan agreements or mortgages on 1938 CCC Wheat Forms A and B. At any time prior to May 15, 1939, the producer may notify Commodity Credit Corporation of his desire to withdraw pledged or mortgaged wheat of a protein content in excess of 12%, or, in the case of Durum, wheat of a quality higher than ordinary and country run quality or equal Amber or Hard Amber Durum. If such producer has complied with the terms of the loan agreement or mortgage, Commodity Credit Corporation will advise the producer not later than June 1, 1939, of the terms under which such pledged wheat may be withdrawn. Such terms shall consist of one of the following and the producer shall have thirty (30) days from the date of such advice to comply therewith:

(a) The payment of an amount equal to the current market value at point of storage, as determined by Commodity Credit Corporation, of an equal quantity of wheat of the same grade and subclass and country run quality or equal as the wheat originally pledged but containing 12% protein, or Amber or Hard Amber Durum of the same grade;

(b) The delivery of warehouse receipts issued by an approved warehouseman, dated not earlier than the receipts to be released, at a point not less favorably located than the original warehouse point, representing an equal quantity of wheat of the same grade and subclass and country run quality or equal as the wheat originally pledged but containing not less than 12% protein, or Amber or Hard Amber Durum of the same grade. Such warehouse receipts must be in the same form and accompanied by inspection and other certificates required for obtaining the loan in the first instance and will be held in lieu of the wheat released.

6. The definition of eligible wheat, as set forth in Subsection (b) of Section 1 is hereby supplemented as follows: "Eligible wheat stored on farms shall include wheat of the class Hard Red Spring graded No. 4, solely on the factor of test weight per bushel, which wheat otherwise meets the requirements of the next higher grade for damaged kernels, foreign material and wheats of other classes."

7. Wheat of the classes Hard Red Winter, Soft Red Winter and White containing not more than 14½% moisture, if otherwise meeting the requirements of Commodity Credit Corporation, and in good, sound condition, will be eligible for a loan at a rate of two cents (2¢) per bushel less than the rate for such wheat testing 14% or less in moisture content, when stored on the farm in all counties in the state of Michigan and in the following counties in the states of Indiana and Ohio:

Indiana.—Adams, Allen, Benton, Blackford, Boone, Carroll, Cass, Clinton, DeKalb, Delaware, Elkhart, Fountain, Fulton, Grant, Hamilton, Henry, Howard, Huntington, Jasper, Jay, Kosciusko, La Grange, Lake, LaPorte, Madison, Marshall, Miami, Montgomery, Newton, Noble, Porter, Pulaski, Randolph, Saint Joseph, Starke, Steuben, Tippecanoe, Tipton, Vermillion, Wabash, Warren, Wayne, Wells, White, and Whitely.

SUPPLEMENTAL INSTRUCTIONS

OCTOBER 13, 1938.

1. The Instructions 1938 CCC Wheat Form 1) [1] issued by Commodity Credit Corporation for the 1938 wheat loan program are hereby amended to provide for a loan value of 50¢ per bushel for No. 1 Northern and No. 1 Dark Northern Spring wheat stored in the state of Utah and in all counties of Idaho south of Idaho county.

2. Commodity Credit Corporation will also make loans on the class MIXED WHEAT, consisting only of mixtures of those eligible grades of wheat on which loan values are established, provided such mixtures of wheat are the natural product of the field.

Wheat of the class mixed wheat (except mixed wheat graded amber mixed durum and mixed durum, on which basic loans are provided as noted below) will be eligible for loan at a discount of three cents (3¢) per bushel below the established loan rate for the comparable numerical grade of that class of wheat contained in the mixture which would take the lowest loan rate applicable to any sub-class thereof if it were not mixed.

3. Sub-section (a) of Section 3 of said Instructions is hereby supplemented by adding the following basic loan values for wheat of the description shown at terminal markets indicated:

Market	Grade and subclass	Loan value per bushel

	No. 2 Mixed Durum.	62¢

Valid inbound inspection of grade, including wheat stored on farms, as required under Commodity Credit Corporation regulations, with specific reference to all grades of mixed wheat, should show the approximate percentage of each class of wheat in the mixture, the total of all of which should equal 100%.

SUPPLEMENTAL INSTRUCTIONS

OCTOBER 25, 1938.

1. The Instructions (1938 CCC Wool Form 1) [1] issued by Commodity Credit Corporation for the 1938 wool loan program are hereby amended to authorize the acceptance of notes on 1938 CCC Wool Forms A, B, C or M, dated on or before December 31, 1938. This extends the time for making loans on wool for an additional period of two months.

2. Prior to January 1, 1939, Commodity Credit Corporation will permit the grading of wool pledged as security to notes on 1938 CCC Wool Forms A, B or C and will recognize the lien of the warehouseman for grading charges of not more than ½¢ per pound. Such grading may be done only with the consent of the producers or pool representatives. The wool securing any one note must be graded separately and each grade of the wool must be repacked separately. The original warehouse receipt or receipts evidencing such graded wool must have attached thereto a certificate of the warehouseman substantially in the following form:

The undersigned warehouseman hereby certifies that at the written request of the borrower, _____ lbs. of wool represented by warehouse receipt Numbers ____, ____, ____, pledged as security to CCC Note dated _____, in the amount of $_____, was graded and each grade repacked separately in bags. The quantities of each grade are as follows:

_____	_____
Total _____ lbs.

A lien is claimed for grading said wool at the rate of ____¢ per pound.

(Warehouseman)

Dated_____ By_____ (Title)

In the case of notes held by Commodity Credit Corporation, the foregoing certificate may be forwarded to the Loan Agency of Reconstruction Finance Corporation serving the district in which the wool is stored for attachment to the notes and warehouse receipts. In the case of notes held by lending agencies, the certificates must be attached to the warehouse receipts prior to the purchase of the notes by Commodity Credit Corporation.

3. In some instances, the quantity of wool securing one note will not be sufficient to justify the grading of such wool. Two or more producers desirous of having such wool graded may pay the notes and new loans may be obtained after the wool is pooled and graded, by utilizing the Graded Wool Note (1938 CCC Wool Form M). Commodity Credit Corporation will permit such wool to be reappraised and new loans may be obtained on such wool on or before December 31, 1938.

And it is further ordered, That the application by Republic Electric Power Corporation regarding the sale or other disposition of the securities and public utility assets be and the same is hereby approved, except that no authorization is given to Republic Electric Power Corporation to dispose of its interests in Apache Gas Company and Gas Transport Company by the sale of the securities of the latter companies, and if Republic Electric Power Corporation desires to make such a disposition of its interests the Commission reserves jurisdiction over such transaction. The authorization herein granted is subject to the condition that if the sale of Republic Electric Power Corporation's interests in Apache Gas Company and Gas Transport Company takes the form of a sale of assets and properties, Republic Electric Power Corporation must give this Commission twenty days' notice, in writing, of its intention to sell and of the terms of such sale, and if within that twenty-day period the Commission does not issue an order requiring Republic Electric Power Corporation to show cause why the terms and conditions of such sale, and the effect thereof, are not detrimental to the public interest or the interests of investors or consumers, and will not circumvent the provisions of the Act or any rules, regulations, or order of the Commission thereunder, then the sale may be consummated without further order.

By the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF UNION ELECTRIC COMPANY OF MISSOURI

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

An application pursuant to section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named party;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on November 16, 1938, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C. On such day, the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That Richard Townsend or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before November 11, 1938.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the application of the above named company which is a subsidiary of The North American Company, a registered holding company, pursuant to Section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, requesting that (1) the issue of promissory notes in the principal amount of $13,000,000 due nine months or less from date of issue, (2) the issue and sale of 130,000 shares of preferred stock without par value entitled to cumulative dividends of $5 per annum and (3) the issue and sale of interim receipts for such stock be exempted from the provisions of Section 6 (a) of said Act. There is also a request for alternative consideration of the application as a declaration under Section 7.

According to statements contained in the application the applicant proposes to offer such $5 preferred stock to the public through underwriters for the purpose of financing its business and out of the proceeds proposes to redeem the present preferred stock consisting of 90,000 shares with $100 par value entitled to dividends of 7% per annum, and 40,000 shares with $100 par value entitled to dividends at 6% per annum. The applicant further states that to accomplish this it is necessary, first, to issue the above notes to certain banks for the purpose of borrowing sufficient funds for such redemption and, second, to issue to subscribers to the proposed new preferred stock interim receipts for the purpose of evidencing their rights to certificates of the new preferred stock when issued.

It further appears, according to statements contained in the application, that the issue and sale of the new preferred stock and of the interim receipts therefor are subject to the approval of the Missouri Public Service Commission, but that the issue of the notes is not so subject.

By the Commission.

(b) Artificial limbs and other orthopedic and prosthetic appliances of a permanent type may be furnished persons entitled to the benefits of out-patient treatment under Sec. 6.6060, when in medical judgment deemed necessary as adjunct treatment for a disease or injury associated with and aggravating the disability from a service-connected condition under treatment.

(c) Artificial limbs and other orthopedic and prosthetic appliances, or special clothing made necessary by the wearing of such appliance, may, upon medical determination and authorization, be furnished beneficiaries hospitalized for treatment under the provisions of Sec. 6.6047, subject to these conditions: (1) when the disability requiring an artificial limb or appliance is service-connected; (2) when the artificial limb or other appliance is required as adjunct to a service-connected disability; (3) when the non-service-connected condition for which a patient is hospitalized itself requires a prosthetic appliance, or is associated with another non-service-connected disease or injury necessitating an artificial limb or other prosthetic appliance (auxiliary treatment). CIVIL AERONAUTICS AUTHORITY.

EXEMPTING BRANIFF AIRWAYS, INC., RELATIVE TO CERTAIN AIR TRANSPORTATION SERVICE TO BE RENDERED BY SAID AIR CARRIER BETWEEN DALLAS AND SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, VIA AUSTIN, TEXAS

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Authority held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 17th day of October 1938.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority, acting pursuant to the authority vested in it by the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, and particularly sections 205 (a) and 416 (b) thereof, and finding that such action is pursuant to and consistent with the provisions of the Act and that the enforcement of the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Act would be an undue burden on Braniff Airways, Inc., in so far as the provisions of said section are applicable to the air transportation service hereinafter exempted from said provisions, hereby makes and promulgates the following special order:

Braniff Airways, Inc., is hereby exempted from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, with respect to transportation by such air carrier of mail, passengers and property on one of its schedules known as Trip 7 to operate between Dallas and San Antonio, Texas, via Austin, Texas, until December 31, 1938, and, if before that time such air carrier shall apply to the Authority for a certificate of public convenience and necessity with respect to a route between Dallas and San Antonio, Texas, via Austin, Texas, as a new route (as distinguished from an application pursuant to clause (e) of section 401 of the Act), then and in that case this exemption shall continue until the Authority shall have issued such a certificate to such carrier or until it shall have entered an order denying such application, whichever of such events shall first occur. This exemption is granted, subject to the condition that, during all times while it shall continue to be in effect, said air carrier shall have a valid air carrier operating certificate issued by the Authority with respect to its operations between Dallas and San Antonio, Texas, via Austin, Texas, and that such air carrier, during all times while this exemption is in effect, shall comply with all applicable provisions and requirements of the Civil Air Regulations.

FILING, POSTING, AND PUBLISHING OF TARIFF REVISION BY UNITED AIR LINES TRANSPORT CORPORATION

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Authority held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 28th day of October 1938.

Application having been made by United Air Lines Transport Corporation under Rule 10 of Regulation 403–A–1 [1] for permission to file, post, and publish on less than the 30 days' notice of any proposed tariff change required by section 403 (c) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, first revision of page 71 of United Air Lines Transport Corporation Local and Joint Passenger Tariff C. A. A. No. 1; and

It appearing, That one-way fares were erroneously published in the table of round-trip excursion fares between Pittsburgh, Pa., and Portland, Oreg., and Seattle, Wash., such fares being published to be effective between the dates of 12: 01 a. m., November 1, 1938, to 11: 59 p. m., December 14, 1938; and that the new revised page 71 will show the correct round-trip excursion fare of $175.10 instead of the one-way fare inadvertently published of $117.20; and that correction should be made as soon as possible so that erroneous sales will not be made.

Now therefore, the Civil Aeronautics Authority finding that its action in such respect is desirable in the public interest, and acting pursuant to the authority vested in it by section 403 (c) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, hereby makes and promulgates the following special tariff permission:

It is ordered, That United Air Lines Transport Corporation may file, post and publish its first revision of page 71 of United Air Lines Transport Corporation Local and Joint Passenger Tariff C. A. A. [Special Order 401–A–10]

EXEMPTING TRANSCONTINENTAL AND WESTERN AIR, INC., RELATIVE TO AIR TRANSPORTATION SERVICE TO BE RENDERED BY SAID AIR CARRIER OVER A ROUTE FROM PHOENIX, ARIZONA, TO LAS VEGAS, NEVADA, VIA PRESCOTT AND KINGMAN, ARIZONA, AND BOULDER CITY, NEVADA

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Authority held at its office in Washington, D. C. on the 31st day of October 1938.

Upon consideration by the Authority of the application of Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., for exemption from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 in so far as the provisions of said section are applicable to the air transportation service to be rendered by said air carrier from Phoenix, Arizona, to Las Vegas, Nevada, via Prescott and Kingman, Arizona and Boulder City, Nevada, the Authority is of the opinion and finds that:

(1) The applicant was, prior to May 14, 1938, and is now an air carrier engaged in the rendition of an interstate air transportation service and as such air carrier is subject to the provisions of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, and the jurisdiction of the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

(2) Said air carrier, prior to, on and since May 14, 1938, was and has been continuously engaged in the rendition of scheduled air line transportation service and was then and still is possessed of a valid Scheduled Airline Competency Certificate therefor, issued by the Secretary of Commerce.

(3) On or about the 23rd day of June, 1938, and prior to the effective date of section 401 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, a contract for air mail service over a route from Phoenix, Arizona, to Las Vegas, Nevada, via Prescott and Kingman, Arizona, was awarded by the United States Post Office Department to Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc. authorizing said air carrier to engage in the transportation of mail over said route. By the terms of said contract the Post Office Department reserved the right to prescribe additional intermediate stops. Air mail service over said route was provided for by the Act of Congress making appropriations for the Treasury Department and the Post Office Department, approved March 28, 1938. Said route is specifically set forth in section 401 (e) (2), Clause (E) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938.

(4) On or about October 28, 1938 the Post Office Department authorized Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc. to include Boulder City, Nevada, as a regular intermediate stop on the route described in Finding (3).

(5) The present enforcement of the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, in so far as the provisions of said section are applicable to the air transportation service to be rendered by said air carrier over the route described in Finding (3), including the intermediate stop at Boulder City, Nevada, would be an undue burden on said air carrier by reason of the unusual circumstances affecting the operations of such air carrier, with respect to said air transportation service, and such enforcement would not be in the public interest.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority, therefore, pursuant to the authority vested in it by sections 205 (a) and 416 (b) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, hereby makes and promulgates the following Special Order:

[Special Order 401–A–10]

EXEMPTING TRANSCONTINENTAL AND WESTERN AIR, INC., FROM THE PROVISIONS OF SECTION 401 (A) OF THE CIVIL AERONAUTICS ACT OF 1938 IN SO FAR AS THE SAME ARE APPLICABLE TO THE AIR TRANSPORTATION SERVICE TO BE RENDERED BY SAID AIR CARRIER OVER A ROUTE FROM PHOENIX, ARIZONA, TO LAS VEGAS, NEVADA, VIA PRESCOTT AND KINGMAN, ARIZONA, AND BOULDER CITY, NEVADA

Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., is hereby exempted from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 with respect to transportation by such air carrier of mail, passengers and property over a route from Phoenix, Arizona, to Las Vegas, Nevada, via Prescott and Kingman, Arizona, and Boulder City, Nevada, during the period from the date hereof until such time as the Authority shall issue a Certificate of Convenience and Necessity for the air transportation service over such route to said air carrier or shall issue its final order denying the application of said air carrier for such certificate. This exemption is granted subject to the condition that during all times while it shall continue to be in effect, said air carrier shall have a valid air carrier operating certificate issued by the Authority with respect to its operations on such route and that such air carrier shall, during all such times, comply with all applicable provisions and requirements of the Civil Air Regulations.

By the Authority.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

DETERMINATION OF FARMING PRACTICES TO BE CARRIED OUT ON FARMS IN CALIFORNIA IN CONNECTION WITH THE PRODUCTION OF SUGAR BEETS DURING THE CROP YEAR 1939

Whereas, Section 301 of the Sugar Act of 1937 authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to make payments under specified conditions with respect to sugar or liquid sugar commercially recoverable from the sugar beets or sugarcane grown on a farm for the extraction of sugar or liquid sugar, and

Whereas, the condition with respect to farming practices, as stated in Section 301 (e) of the said act, is as follows:

"That there shall have been carried out on the farm such farming practices in connection with the production of sugar beets and sugarcane during the year in which the crop was harvested with respect to which a payment is applied for, as the Secretary may determine, pursuant to this subsection, for preserving and improving fertility of the soil and for preventing soil erosion, such practices to be consistent with the reasonable standards of the farming community in which the farm is situated."

Now, therefore, I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, do hereby determine that the conditions prescribed in Section 301 (e) of the Sugar Act of 1937 shall be deemed to have been fulfilled with respect to the production of the 1939 crop of sugar beets on any farm if there is carried out, during the crop year 1939, on land on the farm which is adapted to the production of sugar beets, not less than one acre of soil-conserving practices for each acre planted to sugar beets: Provided, however, That one-half acre of soil-conserving practices may be carried out for each acre planted to sugar beets on land which has not produced sugar beets since 1935 if a perennial legume was produced thereon in 1936 or if any legumes were produced thereon in 1937 or 1938, and three-fourths acre of soil-conserving practices may be carried out for each acre planted to sugar beets on land which has not grown sugar beets since 1936 if legumes were produced thereon in 1937 or 1938; and Provided further, That not in excess of 75 percent of the foregoing requirements in connection with rented acreage which would otherwise be part of another farm may consist of practices carried out on such farm in excess of any practices required thereon.

For the purposes of this determination:

(1) The term "crop year" means the calendar year, except where the grower requests that the crop year be the twelve-month period beginning 30 days prior to the planting date of sugar beets for the farm, in which case the crop year shall be such twelve-month period, if approval is given by the County Committee.

(2) Each of the following shall be deemed to be one acre of soil-conserving practices:

(a) Maintaining until after July 1, 1939, one acre of a protective covering of adapted perennial or biennial legumes, adapted perennial grasses or mixtures of such legumes and grasses; or

(b) Seeding during the crop year 1939 one-half acre of land to adapted perennial or biennial legumes, adapted perennial grasses, or mixtures of such legumes and grasses; or

(c) Seeding and maintaining until after December 31, 1939, one acre of an adapted cover crop or plowing under during the crop year 1939 one acre of a good stand and a good growth of an adapted green manure crop; or

(d) Applying during the crop year 1939 eight short tons of animal manure or the amount of manure normally produced in one year by any of the following: two head of cattle (of more than one year of age), two horses, two mules, four calves, four colts, ten sheep, or ten goats; or

(e) Applying during the crop year 1939, to land planted to sugar beets, 75 pounds

DETERMINATION OF ELIGIBILITY FOR PAYMENT WITH RESPECT TO ABANDONMENT AND CROP DEFICIENCY FOR FARMS IN THE DOMESTIC BEET SUGAR AREA

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 303 of the Sugar Act of 1937, I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, hereby determine:

1. That the County Agricultural Conservation Committee for each county in which sugar beets are planted for harvest shall ascertain whether the actual yield of commercially recoverable sugar from the acreage planted to sugar beets in any year on 10 per centum or more of all the farms on which sugar beets were planted for harvest in such year in the county, or any local producing area, as defined herein, was less than 80 per centum of the respective normal yields of commercially recoverable sugar because of drought, flood, storm, freeze, disease, or insects. A county or local producing area in which the actual yields on 10 per centum or more of the farms on which sugar beets were planted for harvest in any year are less than 80 per cent of the respective normal yields shall be designated as an "acreage abandonment and crop deficiency area."

2. That the County Agricultural Conservation Committee shall approve for abandonment and deficiency payments any farm in an acreage abandonment and crop deficiency area on which there was abandonment of planted sugar beet acreage or on which the actual yield of commercially recoverable sugar is less than 80 per centum of the normal yield of the harvested sugar beet acreage, provided (a) such acreage abandonment or crop deficiency was directly due to drought, flood, storm, freeze, disease, or insects, (b) the acres that were abandoned or the acres with respect to which there was a crop deficiency were suitable for the protection of sugar beets and were cared for, up to the time of harvest or abandonment, as the case may be, in a manner which could have been expected, under average conditions, to produce a normal crop of sugar beets, and (c) the farm has otherwise met the conditions of Title III of the said act. Such approval on the application for payment by a member of the County Agricultural Conservation Committee, on behalf of such committee, shall constitute determination that such farm is eligible for abandonment and deficiency payments.

3. That a "local producing area," for the purpose of paragraph one above, shall be all contiguous farms in the county which are found by the County Agricultural Conservation Committee to be similar with respect to types of soil, or with respect to topography: Provided, however, That farms separated from other farms by any natural barrier (such as mountains) or large area of land shall not be included within the same local producing area.

IN THE MATTER OF MILLARD H. BARD 310 OLSON BUILDING LOCKPORT, NEW YORK

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER SUSPENDING REGISTRATION

This is a proceeding pursuant to Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, to determine whether the registration of Millard H. Bard as a broker and dealer, effective January 1, 1936, should be revoked or suspended.

On July 8, 1938, at a hearing held pursuant to the Commission's order of May 24, 1938, at New York, New York, the registrant failed to appear personally or by counsel. Notice of the hearing had been sent to the registrant at two business addresses and his residence by registered mail on June 25, 1938, but had not actually been received by him because of his removal from those addresses. The trial examiner filed an advisory report in which he found that the registrant on December 3, 1937, had been permanently enjoined from engaging in the securities business in the State of New York and that the registrant had failed to apprise the Commission either that he had removed his office and residence from the places named in the application for registration or of the injunction mentioned above. On an independent review of the record we adopt the trial examiner's findings as accurate and further find that the registrant's failure to inform the Commission of the injunction and of the change of address through a supplement to the application for registration filed within 10 days after the occurrence of those events constituted a wilful violation of Rule X–15B–2 (referred to as Rule MB2 in the order for hearing but renumbered on October 1, 1938) of the Rules and Regulations under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

The sole remaining question is the effect of the failure to serve notice personally on the registrant. We follow our previous decisions in holding that, in the absence of personal service or service by registered mail based on previous consent to such service, we cannot order revocation. However, the registrant's registration should be temporarily suspended pending final disposition of the question of permanent revocation if and when the registrant comes in to be heard.

It is therefore ordered, Pursuant to Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, that the registration of Millard H. Bard as a broker and dealer be and is hereby suspended pending final determination whether such registration shall be revoked.

By the Commission.

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

CONDITION OF THE APPORTIONMENT AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS MONDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1938

Important.—Although the apportioned classified civil service is by law located only in Washington, D. C., it nevertheless includes only about half of the Federal Civilian positions in the District of Columbia. Positions in local post offices, customs districts, and other field services outside of the District of Columbia which are subject to the Civil Service Act are filled almost wholly by persons who are local residents of the general community in which the vacancies exist. It should be noted and understood that so long as a person occupies, by original appointment, a position in the apportioned service, the charge for his appointment continues to run against his State of original residence. Certifications of eligibles are first made from States which are in arrears.

TITLE 6—AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

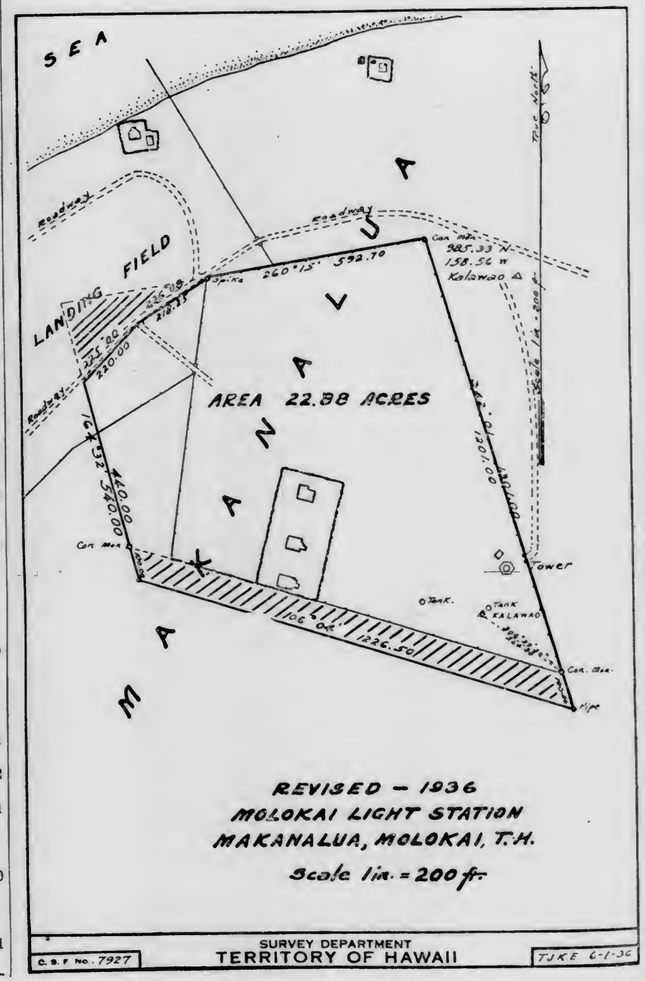
[1938 C. C. C. Corn Form 1—Instructions]



INSTRUCTIONS CONCERNING THE MAKING OF CORN LOANS BY COMMODITY CREDIT CORPORATION ON 1937 CORN

Commodity Credit Corporation has authorized the making of loans secured by corn produced in 1937, either husked and in the ear, or shelled, stored on farms in cribs or granaries. These instructions state the requirements of Commodity Credit Corporation with reference to making such loans on corn and the purchase of notes secured by corn.

1. Definitions.—For the purpose of these instructions and the notes and mortgages relating thereto, unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the following terms shall be construed, respectively, to mean:

(a) Eligible producer—

(a–1) For the areas named in Section 2 hereof an eligible producer shall be any person, partnership, association, or corporation producing or acquiring corn as landowner, landlord, or tenant who has received or will receive a payment in connection with his participation in the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program, and upon whose farm in 1938 the field corn acreage does not exceed 102 percent of the corn acreage allotment for such farm under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program.

(a–2) For the areas named in Section 2 (a) hereof an eligible producer shall be any person, partnership, association, or corporation who obtained a loan on corn under the 1937–38 corn loan program on corn produced or acquired as landowner, landlord, or tenant and who has received or will receive a payment in connection with his participation in the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program and upon whose farm in 1938 the acreage planted to soil-depleting crops does not exceed 102 percent of the farm acreage allotment for soil-depleting crops under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program.

(b) Eligible corn.—Merchantable field corn produced in 1937, either husked and in the ear or shelled, which grades No. 3 or better as defined in the Official Grain Standards of the United States, effective October 1, 1937, and containing not more than 13 percent moisture * when stored as shelled corn and 15½ percent moisture * when stored in the ear, on the basis of a sample taken from each crib or granary of corn offered to be sealed (each sample to be representative of the entire quantity of corn in the crib or granary from which the same is obtained), which was produced by an "eligible producer" on a farm in the areas hereinafter named, provided—

(1) the beneficial title to such corn is and always has been in the eligible producer; or

(2) such corn was purchased by one eligible producer from another eligible producer for feeding purposes only who has executed the Certificate of the Seller in Section 13 of 1938 C. C. C. Corn Form A.

(3) that the corn located in the area listed in Section 2 (a) hereof is pledged as security to a note on 1937–38 C. C. C. Corn Form A.

(c) Eligible storage structures.—Cribs, granaries, or bins which are of such substantial and permanent construction as to afford safe storage of corn for a period of 2 years and permit effective fumigation (in the case of shelled corn) for the destruction of insects, and afford protection against rodents, other animals, thieves, and weather, as determined by the County Agricultural Conservation Committees.

(d) Lending agency.—Any bank, cooperative marketing association, or other corporation, partnership, or person making loans in accordance with these instructions upon 1938 C. C. C. Corn Form A, which has executed the Contract to Purchase on 1938 C. C. C. Corn Form D (a Loan Agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is not included within this definition).

(e) Eligible paper.—Eligible paper shall consist of notes of producers with mortgages upon 1938 C. C. C. Corn Form A, or any form hereafter approved by Commodity Credit Corporation, secured by corn in existence and undamaged from the perils of fire, lightning, cyclone, tornado, windstorm and flood, dated subsequent to September 1, 1938, and prior to November 1, 1938, and executed in accordance with these instructions with State Documentary Revenue Stamps affixed thereto where required by law. (Notes executed by an administrator, executor, or trustee will be acceptable only where valid in law, and all such notes must be submitted for direct loan in accordance with Section 14 hereof.)

From the foregoing rate there shall be deducted an amount equal to one-tenth cent (1/10¢) per bushel of mortgaged corn. The funds derived from this source will be used to cover the cost of moisture-testing equipment and supplies. The payee named in the note should withhold an amount equal to one-tenth cent (1/10¢) per bushel for all mortgaged corn, and such amount will be deducted by Commodity Credit Corporation at the time of purchase of notes from lending agencies.

4. Maturity and interest rate.—Loans will be available from September 1, 1938, to October 31, 1938, inclusive. Loans on 1938 C. C. C. Corn Form A will mature on August 1, 1939, and will bear interest at the rate of four percent (4%) per annum. Producer-borrowers must agree to store the pledged corn until 60 days after maturity date of the loan.

5. Inspection of storage structures, sampling, measurement, and sealing of corn.—The County Agricultural Conservation Committees will supervise the inspection of storage structures, measuring, and sealing the corn by an inspector, and will arrange for moisture testing and grading of samples. Chattel mortgages covering the corn must be executed, and filed in accordance with the applicable State law. Producers may obtain information and assistance from the County Agricultural Conservation Committees in regard to the execution and filing of such chattel mortgages. Where the borrower is a tenant, the expiration date of the lease must be given in Section 2 (c) of the chattel mortgage. If the expiration date of the lease is prior to October 1, 1939, the landlord shall execute the Consent for Storage, Section 12 of 1938 C. C. C. Corn Form A. The Consent Agreement must also be signed by any other party or parties entitled to possession. Each producer must agree to shell, if not already shelled, and deliver the mortgaged corn to a shipping point designated by the holder which is reasonably convenient to the producer as provided in the mortgage.

6. Execution and filing of chattel mortgages.—All chattel mortgages must be executed and filed for record in accordance with the following requirements. The mortgage forms have been prepared in triplicate, and the following instructions provide for filing the duplicate copy of the mortgage on which the certification of true copy has been completed. The receipt of the recorder, register of deeds, county clerk, auditor, or similar county official, must be completed and executed on the original mortgage to indicate the date of filing or recordation. In those instances in which chattel mortgages must be filed in both the county in which the mortgagor resides and in the county in which the corn is stored, the triplicate copy of the mortgage must be used for this purpose and an additional receipt from the county official typed or stamped on the original mortgage. Except where required for filing, the triplicate copy of the mortgage should be delivered to the mortgagor. In case the triplicate copy is used for filing, the mortgagor should be given a copy of the mortgage which may be completed on any one copy of the form. A separate mortgage must be completed for corn stored on each quarter section. In States in which acknowledgments or affidavits are required, all copies should be completed in full. Unless acknowledged, all mortgages must be executed in the presence of one witness, except as stated otherwise.

All documents must be carefully examined as to compliance with the following requirements:

The duplicate copy must be filed for record within 10 days from the date of execution in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county in which the mortgagor resides, or if a nonresident of the State, in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county in which the corn is stored. MICHIGAN

The mortgage must be executed by the mortgagor. The mortgagor's Affidavit of Good Faith and Receipt on such mortgage must be completed by the mortgagor. The Mortgagor's Affidavit of Good Faith and Receipt must be completed by the mortgagor, and the Mortgagee's Affidavit of Good Faith must be completed by the Payee except in the case of direct loans, in which event it must be completed by a member of the county committee as agent of Commodity Credit Corporation. The duplicate copy must be filed in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the mortgagor resides or, if a nonresident of the State, in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the corn is stored.

SOUTH DAKOTA

The chattel mortgage must be executed by the mortgagor, either in the presence of two witnesses, or it may be acknowledged before an officer authorized to take acknowledgments. The Mortgagor's Affidavit of Good Faith and Receipt must be completed. The duplicate copy must be filed for record in the office of the register of deeds of the county in which the corn is stored.

WISCONSIN

The mortgage must be executed by the mortgagor and spouse in the presence of two witnesses. The duplicate copy of the mortgage must be filed for record in the office of the register of deeds of the county in which the corn is stored.

7. Liens.—The corn collateral must be free and clear of all liens except in favor of the lien holders listed in the space provided therefor in 1938 C. C. C. Corn Form A. The names of the holders of all existing liens on the mortgaged corn, such as landlord, laborers, shellers, or mortgagees must be listed in the space provided therefor in the mortgage. The Waiver and Consent to the mortgage of the corn and the payment of the proceeds of the loan and the proceeds of the sale of the corn, solely to the producer as contained in the mortgage, must be signed personally by all lien holders listed or by their agents, whose duly executed authority must be firmly attached; or, if a corporation, by the designated officer thereof customarily authorized to execute such instrument, in which case the duly executed authority need not be attached. In the case of mortgaged corn now represented by farm warehouse certificates which are pledged as security to notes held by Commodity Credit Corporation the producer should list Commodity Credit Corporation as lien holder and it will not be necessary for the waiver and consent to pledge to be executed by Commodity Credit Corporation. If the notes secured by such farm warehouse certificates are held by a bank or lending agency, Commodity Credit Corporation will expect the farm warehouse certificates to be released of record prior to the completion of the new loan. The producer may direct in the Letter of Transmittal (1938 C. C. C. Corn Form B) that the proceeds check for a direct loan from Commodity Credit Corporation be made payable to him and/or such other person or concern as he may designate therein. Producers should read carefully all real estate or other mortgages previously given by them in order to be certain that crops are not covered thereby. Any fraudulent misrepresentation of fact made in the execution of the note and mortgage and related forms shall render the producer personally liable for the amount of the loan and subject to the provisions of the United States Criminal Code.

8. Insurance.—All producers who obtain loans are required, at their own expense, to keep the corn collateral insured, so long as the loan is unpaid, against loss by fire, lightning, windstorm, cyclone, tornado, and with or without hail coverage, for not less than the amount of the loan with accrued interest to maturity. Producers must also obtain at their own expense any insurance coverage desired with respect to their equity in the mortgaged corn.

To comply with this requirement there must be attached to each producer's note and mortgage a certificate in the form printed at the end of these instructions, issued by a company or association licensed to do business in the State in which the corn is stored. This insurance coverage may be obtained through the customary channels and the form of certificate required will be furnished by the agent writing same.

In addition to the foregoing, Commodity Credit Corporation has obtained a blanket insurance policy which protects it in the event of any loss by or in consequence of damage to or destruction of mortgaged corn, arising from fire, and lightning; cyclone, tornado, windstorm and hail; theft and wrongful conversion and flood. This policy is in the nature of errors and omissions and excess insurance and the cost of this coverage is 1¼ cents per $100 per month on the daily average balance of loans outstanding. Banks and other lending agencies which have executed the Contract to Purchase (1938 C. C. C. Corn Form D) desiring insurance coverage in addition to the primary insurance carried by the producer, until the notes are purchased by Commodity Credit Corporation, should obtain such coverage at their own expense. Such coverage may be obtained through the customary channels or under the blanket insurance carried by Commodity Credit Corporation. Banks and other lending agencies desiring coverage under the Corporation's blanket policy should write Commodity Credit Corporation, Washington, D. C., and appropriate instructions will be issued, together with the necessary forms for reporting thereunder.

9. Certification by County Agricultural Conservation Committee.—The form 1938 C. C. C. Corn Form A contains a certificate which must be signed in each instance by a member of a County Agricultural Conservation Committee of the county in which the corn was produced.

10. Documents required.—

(i) Corn Producer's Note and Chattel Mortgage (1938 C. C. C. Corn Form A).

(ii) Original and duplicate of Producer's Letter of Transmittal (1938 C. C. C. Corn Form B), or Lending Agency's Letter of Transmittal (1938 C. C. C. Form C), whichever is applicable.

(iii) Certificate of Insurance.

(a) Lending agencies.—Banks or others acting as lending agencies must also obtain and use the following forms:

(i) Contract to Purchase (1938 C. C. C. Corn Form D).

(ii) Schedule of Repayments (1938 C. C. C. Corn Form E).

(iii) Assignment of Mortgage (1938 C. C. C. Corn Form F).

11. Source and preparation of documents.—Forms will be obtainable from any County Agricultural Conservation Committee in the areas designated in Section 2 hereof and any Loan Agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation listed in Section 17 hereof. All blanks in 1938 C. C. C. Corn Form A must be filled in with ink, typewriter; or indelible pencil, and no documents containing additions, alterations, or erasures will be acceptable by Commodity Credit Corporation.

12. Certificate of seller.—The certificate of seller, as contained in 1938 C. C. C. Corn Form A must be executed by the seller of the corn in connection with all loans in which any part of the mortgaged corn was not grown by the producer but was purchased from another eligible producer as outlined in subsection (b) of Section 1 hereof.

13. Conversion of old corn loans.—Outstanding loans on 1937–38 C. C. C. Corn Form A secured by farm warehouse certificates representing farm stored corn may be converted to new loans prior to November 1, 1938. It is expected that lending agencies desiring to carry the new loans will arrange with the producers for the completion of the new forms and the retirement of the old corn loans out of the proceeds of the new corn loans. Any old corn loan held by Commodity Credit Corporation may be converted by the producer completing new loan papers and forwarding the same to the Loan Agency of Reconstruction Finance Corporation with instructions in the Producer's Letter of Transmittal (1938 C. C. C. Corn Form B) to repay the old corn loan out of the proceeds of the new corn loan. If the producer contemplates mortgaging shelled corn under the new loan, the present loan must be repaid in full prior to the breaking of the seal and the shelling of the corn.

14. Direct loans.—It is contemplated that producers will ordinarily obtain loans from a local bank or other lending agency which, in turn, may sell the paper evidencing such loan to Commodity Credit Corporation. Arrangements, however, have been made for making direct loans to producers. In such cases, the note must be made payable to Commodity Credit Corporation and must be delivered to a Loan Agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation designated in Section 17 hereof. Paper for direct loans tendered by mail, in person, or otherwise, must be accompanied by a Producer's Letter of Transmittal on 1938 C. C. C. Corn Form B, in duplicate, and must be delivered or postmarked prior to November 1, 1938. The triplicate copy of this letter shall be retained by the producer as a memorandum. Upon delivery of all necessary documents properly executed and upon approval of the loan, payment will be made pursuant to the Letter of Transmittal.

15. Purchase of loans.—Commodity Credit Corporation will purchase eligible paper, as defined above, only from lending agencies which have executed and delivered to the Loan Agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to which notes are submitted the Contract to Purchase 1938 C. C. C. Corn Form D obtainable only from Loan Agencies of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation designated in Section 17 hereof. Under the terms of this contract, lending agencies are required to report monthly on 1938 C. C. C. Corn Form E all payments or collections on producer's notes held by them, and to remit monthly to Commodity Credit Corporation, Washington, D. C., an amount equivalent to one and one-half percent (1½%) interest per annum on the principal amount collected from the date of the note to the date of payment plus one-tenth cent (1/10¢) per bushel for all corn released. Such payments should be accompanied by the respective mortgages which shall be detached from the notes for this purpose. Such eligible paper must be tendered to a Loan Agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation prior to July 1, 1939.

The purchase price to be paid by Commodity Credit Corporation for notes accepted will be the face amount of such notes, plus accrued interest from their respective dates to the date of payment of the purchase price at the rate of 2½ percent per annum, less one-tenth cent (1/10¢) per bushel for all corn mortgaged as security to the notes.

16. Assignment of mortgages.—Each mortgage tendered by a lending agency to Commodity Credit Corporation for purchase must be accompanied by an assignment on 1938 C. C. C. Corn Form F. The duplicate copy of this assignment must have been filed for record in the office(s) of the recording official(s) of the county or counties in which the mortgage was filed or recorded. The original assignment must contain the executed receipt(s) of the recording official indicating the date of filing or recordation.

17. Reconstruction Finance Corporation Loan Agencies.—The locations of the Loan Agencies of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, previously referred to herein, follow:

Chicago, Ill., Cleveland, Ohio, Detroit, Mich., Kansas City, Mo., Louisville, Ky., Minneapolis, Minn., Omaha, Nebr., St. Louis, Mo.

18. Release of collateral held by Commodity Credit Corporation.—A producer may obtain the return of notes secured by corn upon his request in writing and payment of the principal amount due thereon with accrued interest and proper charges. The producer's note and mortgage will be transmitted to an approved bank with instructions to deliver the loan documents to the producer, or his agent, upon the payment of the full amount due thereon with accrued interest and proper charges. Where such paper is sent to an approved bank for collection, instructions will be given to return such paper to the sender if payment and release are not effected within 15 days. All charges and expenses of the collecting bank shall be paid by the producer. County Agricultural Conservation Committees will be requested to release the mortgage of record, after payment in full, either by the filing of an instrument of release or by a margin release on the county records. Partial releases of collateral will not be permitted.

If the producer's note is made payable directly to Commodity Credit Corporation and he desires to obtain the release of the collateral upon payment, as aforesaid, he should notify the Federal Reserve Bank or branch thereof located in the city to which the note was submitted. If his note was made payable to a payee other than Commodity Credit Corporation, the producer should notify the payee named therein.

TITLE 8—ALIENS AND CITIZENSHIP

IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE

[General Order No. C-6]

ABSENCE OF AN ALIEN FROM THE UNITED STATES DURING THE PERIODS OF RESIDENCE REQUIRED BY THE NATURALIZATION LAWS

NOVEMBER 2, 1938.

Public Resolution No. 128 of June 29, 1938, entitled "Joint Resolution To amend the Naturalization Act of June 29, 1906 (34 Stat. 596), as amended", provides as follows:

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the second paragraph of the fourth subdivision of section 4 of the Naturalization Act of June 29, 1906 (U. S. C., title 8, sec. 382), as amended by section 1 of the Act of June 25, 1936 (49 Stat. 1925), is amended to read as follows:

"Absence from the United States for a continuous period of more than six months and less than one year during the period for which continuous residence is required for admission to citizenship, immediately preceding the date of filing the petition for naturalization, or during the period between the date of filing the petition, and the date of final hearing, shall be presumed to break the continuity of such residence, but such presumption may be overcome by the presentation to the naturalization court of satisfactory evidence that such individual had a reasonable cause for not returning to the United States during such absence. Absence from the United States for a continuous period of one year or more during the period for which continuous residence is required for admission to citizenship immediately preceding the date of filing the petition for naturalization or during the period between the date of filing the petition and the date of final hearing, shall break the continuity of such residence, except, that in the case of an alien—

(a) who has been lawfully admitted into the United States for permanent residence,

(b) who has resided in the United States for at least one year thereafter, and

(c) who has made a declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States, who shall be deemed an eligible alien for the purposes of this paragraph and who thereafter has been sent abroad as an employee of or under contract with the Government of the United States, or who thereafter proceeded abroad as an employee or representative of, or under contract with an American institution of research recognized as such by the Secretary of Labor, or as an employee of a firm or corporation engaged in the development of foreign trade and commerce of the United States, or a subsidiary thereof, or any such eligible alien as above defined who has proceeded abroad temporarily and has within a period of one year of his departure from the United States become an employee or representative of, or who is under contract with such an American institution of research, or has become an employee of such an American firm or corporation, no such absence shall break the continuity of residence in the United States if—

"(1) Prior to the beginning of such absence, or prior to the beginning of such employment, contract, or representation on behalf of an American institution of research or an American firm or corporation as aforesaid, such alien has established to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that his absence for such period is to be on behalf of such government or for the purpose of carrying on scientific research on behalf of such institution, or to be engaged solely or principally in the development of such foreign trade and commerce, or whose residence abroad is necessary to the protection of the property rights abroad of such firm or corporation; and

"(2) Such alien proves to the satisfaction of the court that his absence from the United States for such period has been for such purpose.

"An alien who has been lawfully admitted into the United States for permanent residence, and who is the wife or husband of a citizen of the United States so engaged abroad within one of the above-mentioned categories, shall be considered as residing in the United States for the purpose of naturalization notwithstanding any absence from the United States.

"This amendment shall not affect cases of aliens who prior to the date of its enactment have established to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor, pursuant to an Act entitled 'An Act to amend the naturalization laws in respect of residence requirements, and for other purposes', approved June 25, 1936, that absence from the United States was to be or had been for the purpose of carrying on activities described therein."

Pursuant to the authority contained in Section 28 of the Act of June 29, 1906 (34 Stat. 606), as amended by Section 8 of the Act of March 2, 1929 (45 Stat. 1515; 8 U. S. C., 356), the following rules and regulations are prescribed for the enforcement of the aforesaid Public Resolution No. 128 of June 29, 1938:

Sec. 7.43, Title 8 of the Code of Federal Regulations (Rule 3, Subdivision B, paragraph 1 of the Naturalization Regulations of December 1, 1936), is amended by adding in the proper numerical order the following:

Form No. 2364.	Title Application for the Benefits of Public Resolution No. 128 of June 29, 1938.

Sections 7.113 through 17.116 of Title 8 of the Code of Federal Regulations (Rule 7, Subdivision E of the Naturalization Regulations of December 1, 1935), are amended to read as follows:

SEC. 7.113 (a) Residence; effect of absence from the United States not exceeding six months.—Where a petitioner for naturalization has been absent from the United States for not more than six months during the period immediately preceding the date of filing the petition for naturalization for which continuous residence is required, or during the period between the date of filing such petition and the date of final hearing thereon, objection to the granting of naturalization will not be made on that ground unless the facts and circumstances indicate a break in the continuity of the required residence, in which case objection shall be made. (*; Sec. 4 (4), 34 Stat. 598, Sec. 6 (b), 45 Stat. 1513, Sec. 1, 49 Stat. 1925, 8 U. S. C. Supp. III).

(b) Residence; effect of absence from the United States more than six but less than one year.—Where the absence from the United States during either of the periods described in paragraph (a) of Sec. 7.113 has been continuous for more than six months and less than one year, objection shall be made unless the evidence to be presented to the naturalization court satisfactorily overcomes the presumption raised by the statute that the required continuity of residence has been broken. (*; Sec. 4 (4), 34 Stat. 598, Sec. 6 (b), 45 Stat. 1513, Sec. 1, 49 Stat. 1925, 8 U. S. C. Supp. III.)

(c) Residence; effect of absence from the United States for one year or more.—Where the absence from the United States during either of the periods described in paragraph (a) of Sec. 7.113 has been for a continuous period of one year or more, objection shall be made, unless the case comes within the provisions of Sections 7.114, 7.115, 7.116 (A) or 7.116 (B), as otherwise the law itself declares that such absence breaks the continuity of the required residence. (*; Sec. 4 (4), 34 Stat. 598, Sec. 6 (b), 45 Stat. 1513, Sec. 1, 49 Stat. 1925, 8 U. S. C. Supp. III.)

(d) When objection overruled; procedure.—If objection made under this section is overruled, exception shall be noted and the facts reported immediately to the Central Office.

SEC. 7.114 Residence, when not affected by absence from the United States before June 25, 1936.—No period of residence outside the United States during the five years immediately preceding June 25, 1936, shall be held to have broken the continuity of residence required by the naturalization laws if the alien declarant—

(a) proves to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that during all such period of absence

(1) the applicant was under employment by, or under contract with the Government of the United States, or

(2) the applicant was under employment by, or under contract with, an American institution of research recognized as such by the Secretary of Labor, for the purpose of carrying on scientific research on behalf of such institution, or

(3) the applicant was an employee of an American firm or corporation, or subsidiary thereof, engaged in whole or in part in the development of foreign trade and commerce of the United States, or

(4) the presence of the applicant was necessary to the protection of the property rights of such firm or corporation in any foreign country or countries;

and if—

(b) at the hearing on the petition for naturalization the alien proves to the satisfaction of the court that the absence from the United States for such period was for the purpose which was established to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor. (*; Sec. 4 (4), 34 Stat. 598, Sec. 6 (b), 45 Stat. 1513, Sec. 1, 49 Stat. 1925, 8 U. S. C. Supp. III.)

SEC. 7.115 Limitation on effect of Public Resolution No. 128 of June 29, 1938.—Public Resolution No. 128 of June 29, 1938, has no effect upon the cases of aliens who, prior to that date, had established to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor pursuant to the Act of June 25, 1936, that their absence from the United States during the period for which continuous residence is required for admission to citizenship, immediately preceding the date of filing the petition for naturalization, was to be or had been for any of the purposes set forth in paragraph (a) of Section 7.114. However, proof that the Secretary was so satisfied in respect of that matter must be made by the applicant to the satisfaction of the court at the hearing on his or her petition for naturalization.

SEC. 7.116 Residence; when not affected by absence from the United States on or after June 29, 1938.—No absence from the United States on or after June 29, 1938, shall break the continuity of residence in the United States in the case of an alien—

(a) who has been lawfully admitted into the United States for permanent residence, has resided therein for at least one year thereafter, has made a declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States, who shall be deemed an eligible alien for the purposes of this section and—

(1) who thereafter has—

(i) been sent abroad as an employee of, or under contract with, the Government of the United States or

(ii) proceeded abroad as an employee or representative of, or under contract with, an American institution of research recognized as such by the Secretary of Labor, or

(iii) proceeded abroad as an employee of a firm or corporation engaged in the development of foreign trade and commerce of the United States, or a subsidiary thereof, or

(2) who has proceeded abroad temporarily and within a period of one year of his departure from the United States has become—

(i) an employee or representative of, or under contract with, such an American institution of research, or

(ii) an employee of such an American firm or corporation, if such alien

(b) prior to the beginning of such absence, or prior to the beginning of such employment, contract, or representation on behalf of an American institution of research, or an American firm or corporation as aforesaid, has established to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that his absence for such period is to be—

(1) on behalf of the Government of the United States, or

(2) for the purpose of carrying on scientific research on behalf of such institution, or

(3) for the purpose of engaging solely or principally in the development of such foreign trade and commerce, or

(4) necessary to the protection of the property rights abroad of such firm or corporation;

and if—

(c) at the hearing on the petition for naturalization the alien proves to the satisfaction of the court that the absence from the United States for such period was for the purpose which was established to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor. (*; Sec. 4 (4), 34 Stat. 598, Sec. 6 (b), 45 Stat. 1513, Sec. 1, 49 Stat. 1925, 8 U. S. C. Supp. III.)

The following new sections are added to Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations immediately after Section 7.116 (such added sections being addenda to Rule 7, Subdivision E of the Naturalization Regulations of December 1, 1936):

TITLE 16—COMMERCIAL PRACTICES

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

United States of America—Before Federal Trade Commission

At a regular session of the Federal Trade Commission held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 2nd day of November, A. D. 1938.

Commissioners: Garland S. Ferguson, Chairman; Charles H. March, Ewin L. Davis, William A. Ayres, Robert E. Freer.

[File No. 21-323]

PROMULGATION

Due proceedings having been held[1] under the trade practice conference procedure in pursuance of the Act of Congress approved September 26, 1914, as amended (Federal Trade Commission Act), and other provisions of law administered by the Commission;

It is now ordered, That the trade practice rules of Group I and Group II, as hereinafter set forth, which have been approved and received, respectively, by the Commission in this proceeding, be promulgated as of November 4, 1938.

STATEMENT BY THE COMMISSION

Trade practice rules for the Silk Industry, as herein set forth, are promulgated by the Federal Trade Commission under its trade practice conference procedure. The general purpose of the rules is to foster and promote fair competitive conditions and the protection of the purchasing and consuming public in the interest of both the industry and the public; to this end to provide for proper identification and disclosure of material content of merchandise containing or purporting to contain silk in whole or in part; to make provision for accurate designations and descriptions to be used in marketing such products; and to eliminate and prevent misrepresentation, deceptive concealment and other unfair methods of competition or unfair or deceptive acts or practices.

In the course of the proceedings an industry's conference was held in Washington, D. C., under the Commission's auspices, and proposed trade practice rules were submitted by members of the industry. Thereafter tentative action was taken by the Commission on the rules so submitted and a draft of proposed rules was made available upon public notice of at least fifteen days, in pursuance of which all interested and affected parties were afforded opportunity to present such pertinent facts, suggestions or objections as they desired and to be heard in respect to the proposed rules. Such hearing was held in Washington and all matters submitted orally or in writing were received and filed in the proceeding.

Thereafter, and upon consideration of the entire matter, final action was taken and the rules in the form appearing herein under Group I and Group II were respectively approved and received by the Commission.

Information received in the premises indicates that 57,815,573 pounds of raw silk, with a dollar value of $106,594,358, were imported into the United States in 1937. This raw product was converted by American mills and factories into more than 60 varieties of finished goods with a total retail sales value of approximately $600,000,000. Such American industry is reported to have a capital investment of more than $500,000,000 and to afford direct employment in the United States to approximately 250,000 persons.

As promulgated the Group I rules are intended to afford a helpful guide to the industry and the public in respect to the described unfair trade practices, which are considered by the Commission to be harmful and illegal. The requirements of law as expressed in such rules are binding upon all engaged directly or indirectly in promoting the sale or distribution or other marketing of the fiber, yarn, thread, strands, fabric, garments and products specified.

The rules for the Silk Industry herein promulgated supersede and replace prior rules published by the Federal Trade Commission on June 18, 1932, concerning the subject of silk weighting.

Said new silk rules are as follows:

Group I

The unfair trade practices which are embraced in these Group I rules are considered to be unfair methods of competition, unfair or deceptive acts or practices, or other illegal practices, prohibited, within the purview of the Federal Government, by acts of Congress, as construed in the decisions of the Federal Trade Commission or the courts; and appropriate proceedings in the public interest will be taken by the Commission to prevent the use, by any person, partnership, corporation or other organization, of such unlawful practices in or directly affecting interstate commerce.

Such provisions of the rules express requirements which are applicable to all sellers, whether importers, manufacturers, converters, distributors, dealers or other vendors. Each has the definite responsibility of seeing to it that the merchandise as it is advertised by him or as it is introduced by him into the channels of trade or commerce is properly labeled and represented in keeping with the requirements of such Group I rules.

The labeling and other requirements respecting the fiber, yarn, thread, strands, fabric or garment or other product covered by the rules apply to such merchandise in whatever form it may be sold or distributed.

In the case of finished garments or articles manufactured for distribution through the channels of trade to the ultimate consuming public without intermediate processing, it is deemed proper practice for manufacturers thereof not only to label the garment or article with proper disclosure of material content and other disclosure as is required by these rules, but also to cause the labeling (tagging or branding) to be done in such manner as to carry through the ordinary channels of trade to the ultimate consumer and be appropriate in the sale or resale of the garment or article to the consuming public, thereby rendering further or additional labeling as to material content unnecessary so long as the proper label, tag or brand affixed by the manufacturer remains on the garment or article and the material content of the product has not been changed. This shall not, however, be construed as relieving dealers or other vendors of any of their responsibility under the rules of seeing to it that the garment or article bears a proper and appropriate label, brand or tag disclosing the information required by these rules to be disclosed and that it is not falsely or deceptively labeled, nor otherwise marked, advertised, represented or offered for sale in a manner contrary to the provisions of these rules.

RULE 1. (a) Silk defined.—Silk is the natural fiber derived from the cocoon of the silkworm.

(b) Deceptive passing off of silk.—It is an unfair trade practice to cause any silk fiber, yarn, thread, strands, fabric, or garment or other product made therefrom, to be sold, offered for sale, distributed, advertised, described, branded, labeled or otherwise represented: (1) as not being silk; or (2) as being something other than silk; or (3) without disclosure of the fact that such material or product is silk, made clearly and unequivocally in the invoices, in labels, tags or brands attached to the merchandise, and in whatever advertising matter, sales promotional descriptions or representations thereof may be used, however disseminated or published, where such nondisclosure has the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving the purchasing or consuming public.

(c) It is an unfair trade practice to cause any fiber, yarn, thread, strands, fabric, garment or other product, containing or purporting to contain silk of any kind in whole or in part, to be offered for sale, sold or distributed under any conditions of deceptive concealment of the fiber content or under any other deceptive or misleading conditions or representations.

RULE 2. Silk noil.—(a) Silk noil is waste silk produced in the operations incident to manufacture of spun silk. The term "silk noil" as used in these rules, however, shall not be construed as including spun silk, except to the extent such spun silk is made of silk noil. For purposes of making disclosure, under these rules, as to content of product, such silk noil may be designated as "Silk Noil", "Noil Silk", "Silk Waste" or "Waste Silk".

(b) In offering for sale, selling or distributing, or promoting the sale or distribution of, any fiber, yarn, thread, strands, fabric, or garment or other product, containing silk noil either in whole or in part, full and nondeceptive disclosure of the presence of such silk noil should be made in labels, tags or brands affixed to the merchandise and in the invoices and in such advertising matter, sales promotional descriptions or representations as may be used in respect thereof, however disseminated or published; and it is an unfair trade practice to deceptively conceal the presence of such silk noil or to fail or refuse to make said disclosure, having the capacity and tendency or effect of thereby misleading or deceiving the purchasing or consuming public. In the use of the term "silk noil", "noil silk", "silk waste" or "waste silk", the words "noil" and "waste" shall not be misleadingly or deceptively minimized, obscured, remotely placed or rendered inconspicuous.

RULE 3. Pure silk.—(a) It is an unfair trade practice to use the term or phrase "Pure Silk", "All Silk", "Pure Dye Silk" or the distinctive term or phrase "Pure Dye" or the unqualified word "Silk", or any other word, term, phrase, designation or representation of similar import, as descriptive of any fiber, yarn, thread, strands, fabric, or garment or other product containing the same, (1) the fiber content of which is not silk exclusively; or (2) which contains any metallic weighting whatsoever; or (3) which contains any loading or adulterating materials or other foreign or added substance or material (except the necessary dyeing and/or finishing materials required to produce the color and finish of the product). Such necessary dyeing and/or finishing materials shall, however, in no case exceed 10% in the aggregate, except black, which shall not exceed 15% in the aggregate. These percentages shall be computed upon the weight of the silk in its finished state. Nothing in this rule shall be construed as permitting the use of dyeing or finishing materials, either within or in excess of such 10% and 15% limits, for the purpose or with the result of thereby deceptively loading the product with excess or unnecessary dyeing or finishing materials.

(b) Nothing in this rule shall prohibit the use of the term or phrase "Pure Silk", "Pure Dye Silk" or "Silk", in a truthful and nondeceptive manner, as descriptive of the silk content of a mixed fabric, provided said content meets the requirements of the foregoing paragraph (a) of this Rule 3 and the requirements of Rule 7 as to mixed goods; and provided, further, it is accurately and in immediate conjunction disclosed clearly and unequivocally that such term or phrase so employed is used as applying only to the silk content of such mixed fabric—such as, for example:

"Rayon and Pure Silk"
or
"Rayon and Silk"
or
"60% Rayon, 40% Pure Dye Silk".

RULE 4. Weighted Silk.—(a) Full and nondeceptive disclosure of the presence of metallic weighting, together with the proportion or percentage thereof, in any silk or silk product of any kind, shall be made in labels, tags or brands attached to the merchandise and in the invoices and in whatever advertising matter, sales promotional descriptions or representations may be used in respect thereto, however disseminated or published, to the end that misrepresentation of the merchandise or deception of the purchasing or consuming public may be avoided and prevented; and it is an unfair trade practice (1) to fail or refuse to make such full and nondeceptive disclosure through the means stated and in conformity with the requirements of this rule; or (2) otherwise to deceptively conceal the presence of such metallic weighting or the percentage or proportion thereof.

(b) The percentage or proportion of such metallic weighting to be disclosed under this rule shall be that proportion or percentage which the total weight of such metallic substance bears to the total weight of the silk in its finished state; subject, however, to the allowance of a tolerance of five points' variation from such stated percentage or proportion to the extent the variation is due to unavoidable variations in processing and not to lack of reasonable effort to state the percentage or proportion accurately. The following are illustrative examples of the disclosure provided for in this rule:

or
"Silk with 25% Metallic Weighting"
or
"Silk (weighted 25%) and Rayon".

(c) Nothing in this rule, however, shall be construed as prohibiting the making of such disclosure as to weighting and the percentage thereof by truthfully and nondeceptively disclosing that the weighting is not over a certain percentage, or that the weighting in such parts of the product as consist of weighted silk ranges from a certain minimum to a certain maximum figure, such as, for example:

"Silk, Weighted up to 50%"

"Silk, Weighted not over 50%"

"Silk, Weighted between 25% and 50%"

"Silk with 25% to 50% Weighting"

"Silk, Weighted from 25% to 50%".

(d) In making disclosure under these rules as to weighting, the disclosure of the fact that the product, or respective part thereof, is weighted and of the percentage or proportion of weighting, shall be made plainly and unequivocally, also in immediate conjunction with such representations of content as are used, and shall not be set forth in such manner as to be misleadingly or deceptively minimized, obscured, remotely placed or rendered inconspicuous.

(e) In case any such product so weighted with metallic substance is silk noil, the fact that such is noil shall also be disclosed in accordance with the requirements of Rule 2 and in addition to said disclosure as to weighting materials—such as, for example:

"Silk Noil, Weighted 25%"

"Noil Silk with 25% Weighting".

RULE 5. Special finishing materials, excess finishing materials, loading or adulterating materials.—(a) This rule applies to nonfibrous material other than metallic weighting provided for in Rule 4 and other than the necessary dyeing and/or finishing materials referred to in Rule 3.

(b) The presence of such nonfibrous materials which have been added to any fiber, yarn, thread, strands or fabric shall be truthfully and nondeceptively disclosed in accordance with the following requirements of this rule to the end that misunderstanding, confusion and deception of the purchasing or consuming public may be avoided and prevented.

(c) In the case where such nonfibrous material has been added to the product as special finishing materials, the product shall be designated and described in such manner as will clearly and nondeceptively disclose to the purchasing and consuming public that such added finishing materials are present in the product. The term "special finishing materials" as used in this rule means such finishing materials as are added to the product for the purpose and with the effect of thereby imparting certain useful properties to the product, such as water-repellant qualities, etc.

(d) In cases of fiber, yarn, thread, strands or fabric where nonfibrous materials have been added to or are present in the product as excess dyeing or finishing materials, loading or adulterating materials, full, clear and nondeceptive disclosure of the presence of such excess dyeing or finishing materials, or loading or adulterating materials, and of the maximum percentage or proportion in which such materials are present, shall be made in tags, labels or brands attached to the product, in the invoices and in whatever advertising or trade promotional descriptions or representations may be used in respect to the product, however disseminated or published.

(e) It is an unfair trade practice to fail or refuse to make such disclosure provided for in this rule, such failure or refusal having the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving the purchasing or consuming public; and it is an unfair trade practice to omit or fail to take such other steps as may be necessary to avoid the sale or distribution of such products in the channels of trade or to the purchasing or consuming public under false, misleading or deceptive representations or conditions.

RULE 6. Terms "Silk", "Wool", "Linen", "Flax", "Cotton", etc.—It is an unfair trade practice to use, or cause to be used, as descriptive of any textile merchandise, the word "silk", or word, term or representation of similar import, either alone or in conjunction with the words "wool", "linen", "flax", "cotton", "rayon" or other term or representation, such as, for example, "Silk Rayon", "Rayon Silk", "Silk Linen", "Linen Silk", etc., so as to import or imply that the product is silk or contains silk or has the properties of silk, when such is not the fact. However, nothing in this rule shall prohibit the use of the words "silk", "rayon", "wool", "linen", "flax", or "cotton", in any truthful and nondeceptive designation or representation made in conformity with the requirements of Rule 7 as to disclosure of mixed goods.

RULE 7. Mixed goods.—In the case of any yarn, thread, strands, fabric, or garment or other product made therefrom, containing a mixture of any kind of silk and other fiber or fibers, full and nondeceptive disclosure of the fiber content of such merchandise should be made in accordance with the hereinafter stated provisions of this rule, to the end that the purchasing and consuming public may be informed as to the contents of such merchandise and that deceptive concealment, misunderstanding, misrepresentation and unfair practices in the marketing of such merchandise in the channels of trade and to the public may be avoided and prevented. And it is an unfair trade practice to conceal the presence of any fiber constituent of such merchandise, or to fail or refuse to make said disclosure of fiber constituents, having the capacity, tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving the purchasing or consuming public. Such disclosure of the fiber content of said products, pursuant to this rule, shall be made by accurately designating and naming each constituent fiber thereof in the order of its predominance by weight, beginning with the largest single constituent, such as, for example, "Silk, Rayon and Wool", for yarn, thread, strands or fabric composed of silk, rayon and wool and containing silk in larger proportion than either rayon or wool and containing rayon in greater proportion than wool; subject to the following:

(I) Said disclosure shall be made in labels, brands or tags attached to the merchandise and in such advertising and sales promotional descriptions or representations of the product as may be used, however disseminated or published. Said disclosure shall also be made in such other documents, passing from seller to purchaser, as may be necessary to fully inform purchasers of the fiber content of the merchandise and to avoid and prevent the sale or resale of the merchandise under deceptive or misleading conditions.

(II) In setting forth a disclosure of the names of the fiber contained in any such mixed product of two or more fibers, the respective name of any such fiber shall not be set forth in type or manner so disproportionately enlarged, emphasized or conspicuously placed as thereby to have the capacity, tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving the purchasing or consuming public into the belief that a greater proportion of such over-emphasized fiber is present than is in fact true; such as, for example, in printing or otherwise setting forth said illustrative disclosure of "Silk, Rayon and Wool", the word "silk" or the word "wool" shall not be disproportionately enlarged or otherwise emphasized in such manner as to have the capacity, tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving the purchasing or consuming public in respect to the proportion or effective character of the silk or the wool in such mixed product.

(III) In case the product contains silk noil, weighted silk, special or excess finishing materials or loading or adulterating materials, the disclosure thereof shall be made in conformity with the applicable provisions of the other Group I rules, namely, Rule 2 respecting silk noil, Rule 4 respecting weighted silk, Rule 5 respecting special or excess finishing materials, loading or adulterating materials.

(IV) Where the fiber or fibers comprising at least 95% of the mixed product are disclosed not only by name as required by the foregoing provisions of this rule, but also with the percentage of each in the order of predominance by weight as recommended in Rule A, Group II, then the remaining 5% or less of the fiber content of such product may be designated and disclosed as "Other Fibers" or "Miscellaneous Fibers", provided such 5% proportion or less of one definitely known to be composed of one fiber or readily ascertainable as consisting of but one fiber, but on the contrary is composed of fibers which may be of various kinds, the percentages or quantities of each of which are not definitely known or readily ascertainable; and provided further, that such fiber content designated or disclosed as "Other Fibers" or "Miscellaneous Fibers" is not otherwise misrepresented. Illustrative examples of the disclosure provided for under this rule are as follows: "50% Silk, 46% Rayon, 4% Other Fibers" or "55% Silk, 40% Wool, 5% Miscellaneous Fibers" for products composed of the respective stated percentages of silk, rayon and wool and composed in the remainder of fibers the proportion or percentage of each of which is not definitely known or readily ascertainable, including such small additional amounts of silk or rayon as may be present due to unavoidable variations in manufacturing processes.

(V) In making disclosure of fiber content under these rules by choosing to specifically name any particular fiber in any such mixed product which is present in the proportion of 5% or less by weight of the entire content, the name of the fiber shall be accompanied in immediate conjunction therewith by accurate and nondeceptive disclosure of the percentage or proportion in which said specifically named fiber is present, such as, for example, "2% Silk", or "2% Wool", to the end that the purchasing or consuming public may not be misled or deceived into the erroneous belief that said fiber is present in a greater or lesser proportion than is in fact true. Nothing in this rule shall be construed as permitting the concealment of the percentage in which any fiber is present above 5% where conditions or circumstances misleading or deceptive to the purchasing or consuming public may be produced by reason of such concealment.

(VI) In setting forth any item, name, statement, percentage or other information required to be disclosed under this or any other rule hereof, the same shall be set forth clearly and unequivocally and not in type or manner so disproportionate, or so minimized, obscured or remotely or inconspicuously placed as to be misleading or deceptive to the purchasing or consuming public.

RULE 8. Passing off merchandise as and for silk.—(a) It is an unfair trade practice to offer for sale, sell, distribute, describe, brand, label, advertise or otherwise represent, directly or indirectly, any fiber, yarn, thread, strands, fabric, or garment or other product made therefrom, as being silk or as containing silk of any kind or as having any of the properties of silk when such is not the fact.

(b) In the case of fiber, yarn, thread, strands, fabric, or garment or other product, not containing silk of any kind but which has been manufactured or processed in such manner as to simulate silk or which purports to contain silk in whole or in part, the failure or refusal to make full and nondeceptive disclosure of the fiber content of such merchandise, in conformity with law and applicable rules and regulations thereunder, and so as to avoid and prevent deceptive concealment, confusion, misunderstanding and misrepresentation, is an unfair trade practice.

RULE 9. Deteriorated or damaged merchandise.—In any case of merchandise, composed wholly or in part of silk, the character, quality or value of which has become impaired through age, deterioration or damage, it is an unfair trade practice in the sale or distribution of such merchandise to conceal such impairment for the purpose or with the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving the purchasing or consuming public in respect to the character, quality, value or condition of such merchandise.

RULE 10. Encouraging or promoting misleading merchandising methods.—It is an unfair trade practice for any person, partnership or corporation to induce, aid or abet an importer, converter, manufacturer, distributor, dealer or other person to cause any fiber, yarn, thread; strands, fabric, or garment or other product, containing or purporting to contain silk in whole or in part, to be advertised, represented, offered for sale, sold or distributed through any means or devices or under any conditions which have the capacity and tendency or effect of causing, promoting or aiding the marketing of any such merchandise in the channels of trade or to the consuming public under false, misleading or deceptive circumstances or representations.

RULE 11. Word "Silk" as part of trade or corporate name.—(a) It is an unfair trade practice for any person, partnership or corporation to use the word "silk", or word, term or representation of similar import, as part of a trade or corporate name indicative of a silk business or silk products unless at least a substantial part of such business is devoted to silk or silk products and, as to any merchandise of said business which is not composed wholly of silk, full and nondeceptive disclosure is made, in immediate conjunction with such trade or corporate name, of the fact that such merchandise is not silk but is composed of or contains other named fibers.

(b) It is an unfair trade practice (1) to use the word "silk", or word, term or representation of similar import, in any trade-mark indicative of silk, when the merchandise which bears such mark, or which is advertised, offered for sale, sold or distributed thereunder, is not in fact composed of silk; or (2) to use said trade-mark in any other manner, or under any other condition, which is misleading or deceptive.

RULE 12. Misrepresentations as to being a manufacturer, producer or importer.—(a) It is an unfair trade practice for any person, partnership or corporation, by trade or corporate name or otherwise, to hold himself or itself out as being a manufacturer or producer of silk or silk products when such is not true in fact.

(b) It is an unfair trade practice for any person, partnership or corporation in the conduct of business to represent himself or itself, directly or indirectly, as having or operating a silk business in whole or in part, or a silk department or branch, or as being an importer of silk, when such is not true in fact; or in any other manner to misrepresent the character, nature or status of the business of such person, partnership or corporation.

RULE 13. Inducing or abetting violation of rules.—(a) It is an unfair trade practice for any importer, manufacturer, producer or organization to aid, abet, induce or coerce a dealer, distributor or other vendor to omit or refuse to make the disclosure as to content of merchandise required by the foregoing Group I rules, or to otherwise engage in any of the unfair trade practices specified in such rules.

(b) It is an unfair trade practice for any dealer or other vendor or organization to induce, aid, abet or coerce an importer, manufacturer, producer or other seller to omit or refuse to comply with the requirements of the foregoing Group I rules, or to otherwise engage in any unfair trade practice specified in such rules.

Group II

Compliance with the trade practice provisions embraced in these Group II rules is considered to be conducive to sound business methods and is to be encouraged and promoted individually or through voluntary cooperation exercised in accordance with existing law. Nonobservance of such rules does not, per se, constitute violation of law. Where, however, the practice of not complying with any such Group II rules is followed in such manner as to result in unfair methods of competition contrary to law, corrective proceedings may be instituted by the Commission as in the case of a violation of Group I rules.

RULE A. Disclosure of proportions of constituent fibers in mixed goods.—The practice of making full and accurate disclosure of the proportions or percentages of the constituent fibers in mixed goods is approved as a proper practice to the end that salespersons, dealers and other marketers of such products may have accurate information of the fiber content thereof and may in turn correctly inform the purchasing and consuming public, thereby avoiding confusion, misunderstanding or misrepresentation as to the nature or content of such products. Any action taken in following this rule should be consonant with the requirements of the foregoing Group I rules. In the case where all fibers present are listed and disclosed by name together with the percentage in which each is present, a tolerance of not to exceed 3% variation from the stated percentages may be allowed to the extent that such variation is due to unavoidable variations in manufacturing processes and not to lack of reasonable effort to state such percentages accurately.

RULE B. Terms descriptive of silk fabrics or relating to weavers of textures.—Subject to and in conformity with the requirements of the foregoing Group I rules, the practice of truthfully qualifying by the word "silk" all words, terms, phrases or representations which mean silk or are associated in the minds of the purchasing or consuming public with fabrics composed of silk is recommended as a desirable practice. For example: "silk chiffon", "silk crepe", "silk satin", "silk taffeta", etc.

RULE C. Information as to treatment and care of product.—The practice, by producers, manufacturers and distributors, of furnishing and disseminating, through tags, labels, advertisements or other publicity, accurate information as to the proper treatment, care and cleaning of the products covered by these rules, is approved and recommended as a desirable practice to follow in the interest of enabling consumers to obtain and enjoy full benefit of the desirable qualities and services of such products.

U. S. STANDARDS FOR QUALITY OF CREAMERY BUTTER[1]

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by the provision in the Act of Congress entitled "An Act Making Appropriations for the Department of Agriculture and for the Farm Credit Administration for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1939, and for other purposes," (52 Stat. 710), approved June 16, 1938, authorizing an inspection service for farm products, I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, do prescribe and promulgate the following standards for quality and creamery butter, that shall be employed for the grading and certification of creamery butter by official graders of the United States Department of Agriculture, to be effective on April 1, 1939, and thereafter unless amended or superseded by standards hereafter prescribed and promulgated under such authority. These standards shall supersede all standards for quality of creamery butter previously promulgated.

SECTION 55.41 Terms defined.—For the purpose of the United States standards[2] for quality of creamery butter:

(a) Butter.—Butter shall be the food product usually known as butter, and which is made exclusively from milk or cream, or both, with or without common salt, and with or without additional coloring matter, and containing not less than 80 per cent by weight of milk fat, all tolerances having been allowed for.[3]

(b) Creamery butter.—Creamery butter shall be butter manufactured in a commercial creamery.

(c) United States score grade.—The United States score grade of a lot of [1] Supersedes Service and Regulatory Announcements (Markets) 51.

[2] The specifications of these standards shall not excuse failure to comply with the provisions of the Federal Food and Drugs Act.

creamery butter consisting of packages of the same official United States score shall be expressed in terms of an official United States score using whole numbers only. The United States score grades shall be from U. S. 85 score to U. S. 93 score, inclusive.*

SECTION 55.42 United States grades for creamery butter.—The following United States grades for creamery butter are established:

(a) U. S. 93 score butter shall possess a fine flavor. It may possess a very slightly normal feed or slightly cooked flavor. It is made from cream to which a culture (starter) may or may not have been added. The total permitted defects in body, color, and salt are limited to a rating of one-half (tables 1 and 2).

(b) U. S. 92 score butter shall possess a pleasing flavor. It may possess a slightly normal feed, slightly storage, slightly heated cream (summer defect), slightly flat, slightly coarse-acid, or a definitely cooked flavor. The total permitted defects in body, color, and salt are limited to a rating of one-half unless the flavor rating is sufficiently high to permit the total ratings for defects in these factors to exceed one-half; provided, however, that the total ratings for defects in body, color, and salt must not exceed one in 92 score butter regardless of the flavor rating (tables 1 and 2).

(c) U. S. 91 score butter shall possess a fairly pleasing flavor. It may possess any of the following flavors if present only to a slight degree: Acidy, utensil, scorched, neutralizer, aged (butter), greasy, woody, bitter, and old-cream. It may possess any of the following flavors even when present to a definite degree: Storage, normal feed, heated cream (summer defect), flat, coarse-acid, and smothered. The total permitted defects in body, color and salt are limited to a rating of one-half unless the flavor rating is sufficiently high to permit the total ratings for defects in these factors to exceed one-half (tables 1 and 2).

(d) U. S. 90 score butter shall possess a fairly pleasing flavor. It may possess any of the following flavors if present only to a slight degree: Cabbage, turnip, potato, rape, weedy (ordinary-common), and musty. It may possess any of the following flavors even when present to a definite degree: Acidy, utensil, scorched, neutralizer, aged (butter), greasy, woody, bitter, and old-cream. The total permitted defects in body, color, and salt are limited to a rating of one-half unless the flavor rating is sufficiently high to permit the total ratings for defects in these factors to exceed one-half (tables 1 and 2).

(e) U. S. 89 score butter may possess any of the following flavors if present only to a slight degree: Fruity, yeasty, cheesy, oily, metallic, and barny. It may possess any of the following flavors even when present to a definite degree: Sour, scorched - neutralizer, scorched - old - cream, alkaline, cabbage, turnip, potato, rape, weedy (ordinary-common), musty, and stale-cream. The total permitted defects in body, color, and salt are limited to a rating of one unless the flavor rating is sufficiently high to permit the total ratings for defects in these factors to exceed one (tables 1 and 2).

(f) U. S. 88 score butter may possess a slightly obnoxious weed flavor or any of the following flavors even when present to a definite degree: Fruity, yeasty, cheesy, oily, metallic, cabbage, turnip, potato, rape, and barny. It may possess any of the following flavors even when present to a pronounced degree: Alkaline, musty, and stale-cream. The total permitted defects in body, color, and salt are limited to a rating of one unless the flavor rating is sufficiently high to permit the total ratings for defects in these factors to exceed one (tables 1 and 2).

(g) U. S. 87 score butter may possess a fishy, onion and garlic flavor if present only to a slight degree. It may possess an obnoxious weed and barny flavor even when present to a definite degree. It may also possess a yeasty and cheesy flavor when present to a pronounced degree and a stale-cream flavor when present to a very pronounced degree. The total permitted defects in body, color, and salt are limited to a rating of two unless the flavor rating is sufficiently high to permit the total ratings for defects in these factors to exceed two (tables 1 and 2).

(h) U. S. 86 score butter may possess any of the following flavors: Definitely fishy, definitely onion or garlic, and pronouncedly obnoxious weeds. The total permitted defects in body, color, and salt are limited to a rating of two unless the flavor rating is sufficiently high to permit the total ratings for defects in these factors to exceed two (tables 1 and 2).

(i) U. S. 85 score butter may possess a pronouncedly obnoxious weed, onion and garlic flavor. The total permitted defects in body, color, and salt are limited to a rating of three unless the flavor rating is sufficiently high to permit the total ratings for defects in these factors to exceed three (tables 1 and 2).

(j) No grade. Butter that is below the requirements of U. S. 85 score because of its flavor or other conditions or because of excessive defects in body, color, and/or salt shall be classified as "no grade"[].

SECTION 55.43 Basis for determination of quality of creamery butter.—The basis for determination of quality of creamery butter, except "no grade" butter, shall be the ratings given the flavor and the defects in body, color, and salt. The official United States score of individual samples of creamery butter shall be determined by the following general rule:

General rule.—The official United States score of an individual sample of creamery butter shall be determined by deducting from the flavor rating[§] of the sample the amount that the total ratings of the defects in body, color, and salt is in excess of the ratings for defects permitted in these factors for butter of the particular flavor rating (table 1), the official United States score to be expressed as a whole number by lowering any half score to the next lower full score; provided, however, that the total ratings for defects in body, color, and salt must not exceed one in 92 score butter regardless of the flavor rating.*

[1] See explanation of example 3 below for detailed information.
[2] "No grade".

Examples 1, 4, and 8 are given an official United States score which is the same as the flavor rating because the defects in body, color, and salt are not in excess of those permitted in butter of the particular flavor rating. The official United States score of all other samples is lower than the flavor rating because the defects in body, color, and salt exceed those that are permitted in butter of the particular flavor rating, the excess being in the amount of one-half or more.

In example 2, the flavor rating is 93. The defects permitted in body, color, and salt for butter of that flavor rating are limited to a maximum of one-half. The defects present in the sample amounted to 1, therefore the defects are in excess of those permitted by a total of one-half. The official United States score is lowered 1 below the flavor rating instead of one-half because the official United States score must be expressed as a whole number. In example 3, the official United States score is lowered 2 below the flavor rating instead of 1 because the total ratings for defects in body, color, and salt must not exceed one in 92 score butter. In example 10, the flavor rating is 88. The permitted defects in body, color, and salt for butter with a flavor rating of 88 are 1. The defects in this particular sample totaled 3 and are, therefore, in excess of those permitted by a total of 2. The official United States score, therefore is 2 lower than 88 or 86. In example 14, the flavor rating is 85. The total permitted defects in body, color, and salt for butter with a flavor rating of 85 is 3. This butter showed defects totaling 4, or 1 in excess of those permitted in butter with a flavor rating of 85. The official United States grade of this butter is indicated by "no grade" because the application of the general rule would give this butter a score of 84. Such butter is below the requirements of U. S. 85 score because of excessive defects in body, color, and salt. Therefore, it must be classified as "no grade." *

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed in the City of Washington, This 3d day of November 1938.

[SEAL] H. A. WALLACE,
Secretary of Agriculture.
